INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly.

Sufferers from Eyestrain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect.

The motive power of the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.

Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eyestrain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body and produce ill health.

"EGGS IS EGGS"?

"Where did you get those eggs?" The question was asked by an Egg Inspector of the Department of Agriculture. The eggs were in a small retail store, and a quarter of the 30 dozen case had been sold. They were in an old import shell case and looked anything but appetizing.

The Inspector asked why the eggs were not graded and the grade marked on the case.

The retailer said he had bought them straight at 30 cents a dozen and was retailing them at 35 cents.

Finally he told the Inspector they had been bought on the market.

'They were not' replied the Inspector, 'every egg sold on the Ottawa market is graded before being sold, and purchasers are sure of getting the trade for which they pay. 'Where were the eggs bought?'

The retailer knew the man's name, but not his place of business.

The Inspector ordered the eggs taken to the grading room.

There were 275 eggs left in the case, and they graded, firsts 76, seconds 125, cracks 13, and rots 61, or on this basis the dozen case contained 99 firsts, 164 seconds, 17 cracks, and 80 rots. In addition a great many of the eggs were dirty

With the jobbers name and a previous address the Inspector finally located his man, carrying on a second hand business. On being questioned as to where he got the eggs, he stated he bought when going through the country, and paid 28 cents a dozen for them. The 30 dozen cost him $8.40 and he sold them for $9.

On the basis of the market price of firsts, seconds and cracks the retailer would have paid approximately $6.85 for the eggs that were saleable.

The 30 dozen sold to the consumer at 35 cents would have brought the retailer $10.50.

The jobber paid $1.85 for bad eggs.

The retailer paid $2.00 for bad eggs.

The consumer would have paid $2.34 for bad eggs, if the Inspector had not seen the case, and investigated.

The last purchaser is the loser, in this case the consumer.

The moral of this story is to buy only graded eggs. 'Eggs is eggs' doesn't hold today.

It might be a good thing to introduce into our schools a few problems in arithmetic that would show the value of buying according to grade. For instance

Mother buys 3 dozen 'eggs' at 40 cents a dozen. She finds 6 of the eggs are bad and cannot be used. How much money would she have saved by buying eggs graded 'extras' at 45 cents a dozen?

We cannot allow those who serve us well to labour under any privation or discomfort that is in our power to remove.

::A Prime Dressing for Wounds.—In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

REPORT

necessary for you to be a Washington or a Lincoln or a Roosevelt or a Lindbergh. The great services that have startled the world, indispensable as they may be, are not of that common service that makes people happy and makes life worth living. It is the hundred-and-one little things that you do every day in your family, in your business, and on the streets of your city as you come and go and pass your fellow men. These hundred-and-one seemingly small and unnoticeable things go to make up the great indea of practical service. Those are the things that will make Rotary. That is what will eventually bring peace in the world.

These extracts but partially express the powerful appeal made by Norman Black but time forbids me attempting to give it more fully.

Invitations from clubs desiring the next conference were presented by Arthur Burchell of the Sydney Club, and Will Orr of the Halifax Club. The decision will be made at the Presidents and Secretaries conference to be held later. Norman Black is not only a good speaker but he is a good singer and one of the pleasant features of the morning was his rendition of "The Bells of St. Mary's", which was enthusiastically applauded.

W. C. Kierstead Professor of Economics and Philosophy in the University of New Brunswick, Governor Elect of District No 32, then delivered an address on the Fundamentals of Rotary.

He emphasized the fellowship side of Rotary which he regarded as even more important than definite service. Service can be one sided fellowship is all embracing.

Will Orr, President of the Halifax Club, now took over the conduct of the meeting, and Dr. George Pinault of the Campbelton Club, had time to report on the best work his club had done during the year, when adjournment was taken to permit the gathering to attend the reception at the residence of Mayor and Mrs. Cook, Forest Road. Mrs. Cook graciously received her guests, and afternoon tea was served, a function in which lady friends assisted. A delightful and refreshing hour was spent, and then the party separated, many of the visitors enjoying motor trips to points of interest.

The evening was given over to the Conference Banquet which was held in the dining room of the hotel It was a big undertaking for the hotel management, some 280 covers being laid, but efficient service accomplished the task, and the function passed off most successfully. Governor Don Buckley presided. A gaily decorated room, bright music, hearty singing, a spirit of good fellowship and humourous and interesting speeches, all combined to make the ocassion a thoroughly enjoyable and memorable one. A special feature was the singing of the St. John's Octette, which was greatly appreciated. There were but two toasts: "Rotary International," proposed by Dr. Charles J. Howlett, President Designate of the St. John's Club, and responded to by by Norman C. Black; and "Our Visitors," proposed by Charles E Hunt and responded to by Wilfred C. Kierstead, Governor Designate of the 32nd District. The speakers were in happy mood, and their addresses were most entertaining. Shortly after 11 o'clock the Banquet ended, and dancing and other forms of amusements were enjoyed till the wee sma' hours of the morning.

On Friday morning June 29.—7.30 A. M. round table breakfasts were held.

Presidents and Presidents elect—Chairman A. R. Coffin President Truro Club.

Secretaries and Secretaries elect—Chairman Cyril C. Duley, Secy. St. John's Club.

Crippled Children Work—Chairman Will. McGratt Sydney.

Boys Work. Chairman Will. Woodbury Halifax Club many helpful suggestions resulted. At 9.30 Conference called to order. Reports of the individual Clubs covering the past years work were received. — Four addresses were given.

Importance of the boy, by Rod McDonald, past-President, Sydney.

International Understanding and Goodwill, by Judge S. D. McLellan, Truro.

Worthiness of Rotary in Modern Life, by Percy Pope, Charlottetown.

Spirit of Rotary in Business, by James A. Ramsay, Moncton.

A fellowship luncheon for Rotarians, Rotary wives and guests.

Friday afternoon was given over to sight seeing.—Everything was done to meet the tastes of every individual guest. Visits to the Golf Links, to a salmon stream or drives that offered a view of the many scenic advantages of the surroundings, including visits to one of Semance tea houses were eagerly offered to every individual guest.

In the evening there was a dinner dance. Saturday morning we spent sight seeing and at three o'clock we gathered and Norman Black on behalf of the Rotarians placed a wreath on the Soldiers Monument.

A large delegation gathered on the pier to bid us God Speed and we left St. John's feeling that the generous good-fellowship which had been offered so lavishly had deeply stirred us and done much to make one conference the unquestionable success that it had been.

Our trip home was uneventful, very pleasant, though somewhat marred by fog.—Owing to the skill and care of the Captain we reached Halifax some hours late but in time to connect with the Ocean Limited. H. M. S. Dauntless which sought to make harbour a few hours later, struck a reef as you know, was in great danger, but has since been salvaged—a matter for sincere thankfulness.
