Senators Change Style of Play To Baffle Bruins in Second Game

BOSTON April 13—Ottawa Senators got the jump on their Stanley Cup rivals, the Boston Bruins by scoring a 3 to 1 victory here last night in the second game of the series after initial contest had ended in a scoreless draw.

The Senators will therefore enter the final stages of the series hot favorites to capture the coveted and historic trophy as the remaining games will be played at Ottawa where the men of Dave Gill will have the advantage of familiarity with the psychological effect produced by a rabid home town crowd.

Last night's game was a fast and thrilling encounter. The Senators showed a vastly different style from that which they displayed in the opener and with the initial whistle started on a brilliant attack which netted them two goals in the first session, enough to win the game.

In the second period they paid more attention to defensive play, but still their attack did not suffer.

DEFENSIVE SYSTEM

In the third they went to the four and five-man defensive system. This, however, did not prove absolutely successful, and despite much stalling and shooting of the puck the length of the ice, Oliver managed to push the rubber past Connell during a scramble for what proved to be the only Bruin goal of the game.

Five seconds before the final bell, with all the Bruins rushing to the attack, Hooley Smith and Dennny managed to break away to allow the veteran left-winger to score on the practically helpless Winkler, and thus make an Ottawa victory a certainty.

Both Ottawa counters in the first period were scored when Boston had men in the penalty box. However, Ottawa fully deserved the victory, and on the night's play proved themselves the better team and better all-round exponents of hockey. The partisan crowd, like any home town crowd, found fault with the officials, Billy Bell and Jerry Laflamme, who to an unbiased spectator gave an impartial display. But the crowd did not think so and several times the game had to be held up while the ice was cleared of paper and missiles which no doubt were directed at officials or just as an expression of disgust.

Notification Suspending M.P.B. Is Received by Nova Scotia Members

Copies of the official notification suspending the Maritime Provinces branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, sent to Secretary Louis B. MacMillan at Charlottetown by Dr. J. S. Lamb, arrived in Nova Scotia yesterday. The Herald herewith publishes for the first time in the provinces, Dr. Lamb's letter:

"The president, after consultation with the executive committee, and in addition, a considerable number of the board of governors, has instructed me to notify you, that the Maritime Province branch has failed to conform to the constitution by-laws and regulations of the Union, and has not been able to satisfy the governors concerning their action in reinstating a number of professional athletes in the amateur ranks; would you therefore please accept as official notification of the suspension of your branch. Any athlete in the Maritime Provinces who hereafter competes with or against any athlete who was reinstated by the M. P. B. since Dec. 11th, 1926, is liable to suspension.

"The executive regrets exceedingly that it finds it necessary to take this action, but cannot under the circumstances, do otherwise, because of the flagrant violation of the fundamental principles under which the union is endeavoring to foster and promote amateur athletics in this country. We sincerely hope that those men in the Maritime Provinces who understand the aspirations and ideals of this union and regulations under which it operates, will realize this action is only being taken after very mature and serious consideration on the part of those whose sole object is the promotion and preservation of clean, wholesome amateur sport."

Veteran Dundee Gets Big Offer

NEW YORK, April 13. —Johnny Dundee and Benny Bass will clash in Philadelphia at Shibe Park on June 10th, in a bout to be billed as for the featherweight title, it was learned here today. Joe Jacobs, manager of Dundee, was in communication by telephone with Taylor and Gunness, Philadelphia promoters, who have the privileges at Shibe Park, and subsequently announced an offer of $50,000 for the match, which he said he would accept. Jacobs will go to Philadelphia this week to close the articles for a ten-round bout to a decision.

Jacobs declared that the terms of the deal were $25,000 in escrow when the contracts are signed and the other $25,000 posted two weeks before the fight. Dundee will start training at once and will engage in a few tuneup fights for the Philadelphia match.

Jacobs previously had an offer for $35,000 for Dundee to meet Sammy Fuller in Boston, but he said yesterday that this would be thrown into the discard in view of the bigger offer from Philadelphia.

Toronto Talks Of Great Swim

TORONTO, April 13. —Directors of the Canadian National Exhibition are considering the advisability of holding a $50,000 Marathon swim during this year's Fair late in August in which it is hoped George Young winner of the Santa Catalina Channel swim and other leading swimmers will compete.

William Wrigley, Jr., backer of young, warmly approved the proposal. Among possible competitors are Georges Michel of France, who holds the record for the English Channel, having swam the treacherous sheet of water on September 10th last in eleven hours, five minutes and Norman Dereham, England, another Channel swimmer.

Record Crowds At Ball Games

NEW YORK, April 13. —Despite the postponement of the St. Louis-Detroit game because of rain the out-pouring of fans for today's major league opening contests exceeded the inaugural attendance for 1926 and came within 3,000 of the high mark for the past five years.

The turnstiles registered a total of 230,660 spectators for the seven initial battles, as compared with last year's figure of 214,000 for eight games and the record mark of 233,000 set in 1925.

Here are the attendance figures:

American League: New York 65,000; Washington 30,000; Cleveland 21,902! St. Louis, rain. Total 116,902.

National League: Boston, 12,000; Philadelphia, 22,000; Chicago, 15,000; Cincinnati, 34,758. Total 113,758.

Nova Scotian in Hockey Play-off

AMHERST April 13—Two local athletes are carrying championship honors on their shoulders in professional hockey company. While R. Stuart is striving with the Boston Bruins, for the world's hockey tide, Stanton Jackson, of Amherst and of Dartmouth, is one of the leading figures on the London Panthers, champions of the Canadian Professional League, in the combat against Springfield, Mass., for the minor professional league title. Jackson was instrumental in putting London into the championships, and in the series scored two goals.

The former Nova Scotian started his hockey career in Amherst, playing on the ponds and marshes. He broke in with the Independents in 1921, playing with Twaddle, Red Stuart, George Stuart, Lester Lowther, Vernon Doncaster and others. He made good to such an extent that he received a professional try-out in the latter part of the 1922 season, but returned to Amherst and played here in 1923, when he was recalled by St. Patricks, used for a season and then sent to Boston.

He was a rugged player with the Bruins—with an abundance of stamina. This year he was sold to Ottawa, and in turn was sent to New Haven for more seasoning, but was eventually bought outright by the London Panthers. He started as a forward but has been playing sterling hockey on defence.

Jackson was well known as a half miler and if he remained as an amateur it was predicted that he would have set a new half mile record for the Maritimes.

A "VICTORIAS" WINDOW

The show window of the Campbell jewellery store is attracting more than ordinary attention these days, where several group photographs of Victoria hockey team are on exhibition, also the beautiful shield emblematic of the Intermediate Hockey championship of the Maritime Provinces donated by the Herald and Mail, Halifax, a splendid photograph of the present champions contrast very much with the other groups, namely, the Victoria Intermediate Champions of 1903-04, and the Starr Trophy champions of 1912-13. In the first mentioned, taken twenty-three years ago the following make up the line-up: John Rattenbury, goal; W. Dawson, point; Edward Blake, cover point; F. Rice, centre; Chester Greggory, Capt. Rover; J. S. McLeod, right wing; P. C. Pope, left wing. The officers were V. Blake, H. S. McLeod.

In the 1912-13 photo are the following: Carl Milford, Jack Ingram, Percy Rodd, Dom' Cheverie, Anthony McAskill, Charlie Burns, Emmett Dougan, Jack Prowse. The officers were: Allan McCabe, Pope Beer, Dr. Reid, Frank Fraser, W. B. Prowse. The above mentioned team were the holders at that time of the Maritime Amateur Hockey title and were considered to be one of the fastest hockey machines in the Provinces then and now of the original team but three are left amongst us, namely, Prowse, McAskill and Rodd. Milford passed away a few years ago, while Burns, Cheverie, and Dougan, the latter now the Rev. Father Dougan have been located for some years in other provinces.

On being asked as to why the Starr Trophy was not included in the display, Mr. Campbell replied that although it is the property of the Victoria Club, he feels sure it is not on the Island. He thought the famous old Trophy was somewhere in Nova Scotia. If so an attempt should be made to locate its whereabouts and have it returned to the Island.

THE PLAY-OFFS

Ottawa and Boston are still battling for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's professional hockey championship. To date there isn't much to choose between either team, except that Ottawa has won one game out of the three so far played; the first and third fixtures being over time scoreless draws. Ottawa, having a reputation as one of the greatest defensive machines in the hockey world, seemed to have met foemen worthy of their steel in Art Ross' Bruins. The Senators are favored to win the title, but as the writer predicted some time ago, the going will surely be hard and tough.

There may be another Stanley Cup Series after this one. If Duluth sends in a regular bona fide challenge and wants to play with the N. H. L. champions, they will, according to a Montreal exchange, be accommodated. This is the dictum of Stanley Cup Trustee Foran, who however had no intimation officially that the Hornets want to get a whirl at either Ottawa or Boston. It looks as though the hockeyists won't be out of the trenches before May. In regard to the present embroglio that is causing such a commotion in Boston, Mr. Foran states that it is purely a matter for President Calder to handle.

It is rather late perhaps to talk hockey, locally, but hockey talk is bound to monopolize the picture until the World's Series is over.

The writen listened to an interesting conversation the other evening with reference to speed skating among the hockeyists in the National Hockey League. One individual who has been following and in fact witnessed hundreds of games in the "big show," piped the following. "You can talk about speed and hockey players, but you can't name a player who has the speed and consistency of Clancy. (Clancy plays with Ottawa). Can you name any time he ever played a bad game?" Coming to think of it King Clancy never did play a bad game of hockey. Read any report of a game in which Clancy participated, and the refrain is always the same, "Clancy starred for Ottawa." Look him over for displaying his boundless energy, sweeping aside forwards and taking rushes with the full force of his body, and try and recall when he failed when as some other players play on occasion. Clancy sure has speed and consistency. He is conceded to be the greatest defence player in hockey by opposing players and managers as well. In New York, where they have a tough, unsophisticated band of rooters, there is always a continual roar for Clancy.

In Toronto they acclaim him. Maroons would give half their regular team to get him. Any of the other clubs would give half his weight in gold to get him.

"You can have all your hockey players in the world; but I'll take Clancy. He is game, speedy, and the best clearing defence man I ever saw. He can get rid of a loose puck faster than any man in the game," said Charles Querrie this winter, discussing defence stars.

With regards to King Clancy the writer remembers a paragraph which suits King Clancy in every respect. This writer said, "believe it or not, Clancy is the greatest defence man in hockey. Put him alongside anybody and he would make an ordinary player look good. Add to this his sunny disposition, his always trying reputation and his grit, and you have a player that commands respect all over the hockey world."

Starts Ball Rolling

The Anchor Baseball Club has started the ball rolling. If they haven't led in title honors the past few years, they've certainly showed a good example to the other clubs in getting an early start by way of meetings and organization. However the "fever" is contagious and it is expected that the Stars and Rovers will meet in annual conclave within a few days to talk over over the past year's activities and to discuss ways and means of carrying on in the present.

A general meeting of the City League is also in order, and it is expected that said meeting will be called shortly after the club meetings are held.

This year ball followers are looking forward to one of the greatest seasons in the history of the game in this province. The City League is bound to flourish and draw even larger crowds than in the past.

With reference to the Island League it is opined by many that it will comprise three teams this year with a longer schedule of games. The Victorias, it is rumored will enter a team in the Island series this year.

Here and There

Up until Friday last there were 95 entries for the Boston marathon. It is probable that over 150 will enter the classic racing event.

The betting on Johnny Miles in Boston now stands 10—8. This is a wonderful showing considering the field stacked up against him.

P. Blakeney of Moncton now says he is in favor of reinstatements but constitution must be adhered to in the process of getting them. McVicar advises him to sit tight.

Sammy Doyle also will sit tight until he is officially notified of the suspension of the Maritime Provinces branch. Watch this fracas smoothed over.

It is rumored that a certain official of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union received a polite calling down by letter the other day.

Parking space will be at a premium at the Branch's meeting in Amherst on Friday night, April 22nd. Representatives from all the Clubs in the Maritime Provinces will be there.

The Maritime officials are all calm and "collected."

A Poor "Sheik"

An Exchange has this to say: George Young, the first Catalina Channel hero, is one sports hero who hasn't made a big hit with Hollywood's movie magnates.

The 17-year-old boy may be good to his mother, but he is something awful in a camera test. Over-developed, shambling, stooping, and stolid of expression, Young proved to be the poorest prospect to capitalize in drama.

He—You know you love me better than you do him, even if he has more money.

She—Yes, but I think it better to become engaged to him while you're making your fortune. Think of the expensive presents he will give me.

ALEXANDER GETS BUMPED HARD AS CARDINALS LOSE

NEW YORK, April 13. — The St. Louis Cardinals, world champions of yester-year, were snowed under when they met the Cubs in Chicago for their first regular scheduled National League game of the season. The score was 10 to 1.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran hero of the championship series of 1926, was driven from the mound in the third inning when the Cubs got five runs, and Earl Webb, new outer garden man of the Cubs, smacked two circuit drives. First baseman Charley Grimm, a former Pirate, made a third homer for the Cubs. Charley Root held the champions to seven hits and did not seem in peril.

Forty-two thousand persons, included Baseball Commissioner Landis, saw Hal Thompson, Chicago's new Mayor, hurl the sphere into action.

GIANTS HIT HARD

In Philadelphia the vaunted attack of the New York Giants brought down the Phillies 15 to 7 while 22,000 fans looked on silently. Bill Terry, George Harper and Rogers Hornsby made one home run per man and the New Yorkers made 17 hits against Hal Carlson and Arthur Decatur. Al Tyson smacked a triple, two doubles and two singles in six times up.

Barnes and Fitzsimmons for the Giants allowed leven safe blows but kept them scattered.

The Pittsburgh Pirates scored two runs in their first inning at Cincinnati and that was all they needed, the Reds failing to do better than one. Three hits and a sacrifice fly nailed their first formal appearance for the Pirates; Grant, Hall and L. Waner got on, Cuyler sacrificed and P. Waner drove a clean hit for the necessary tallies. Hargrave made the sole run for Cincinnati in the fifth on an error.

The borough of homes and churches gained an initial advantage at Boston, where the Brooklyn Robins licked the Braves, 6—2.

Harvey Hendrick and Max Carey figured in the batting rallies which clinched Brooklyn's victory.

Reece Leads In Billiard Match

LONDON, April 13. —Tommy Reece was leading Melbourne Inman by 665 points at the first interval in the professional billiards championship match of 8,000 points, which commenced in Thurston's Hall here this afternoon.

The scores at the end of the first block were: Reece 2,002; Inman 1,347.

Reece had unfinished break of 1,148 including 568 consecutive cannons.

Reece evolved a new stroke, which was later christened the "pendulum cannon" in getting out of a curious situation during today's play. He got the balls jammed in the jaws of the right top pocket, and evaded, in effect, the rule prohibiting more than 25 ball-to-ball cannons by playing the first off the cushion and skimming each ball.

In the course of play Reece ran up a thousand points in an hour, but lost position at 1,095.

Reece's ingenious shot today recalled his record break of 499,135 points in 1907, when he used the cradle cannon almost throughout.

McLellan Brilliant In Trial Run

BOSTON, April 13. —Silas McLellan, that runner of prominence from Windsor, N. S., who "also ran" in the Cathedral Young Men's Catholic Association ten mile run yet received great applause from the tens of thousands that lined the course, is making every effort for the running of a perfect race in the coming Boston marathon. Though McLellan along with the great Clarence DeMar, the two featured entrants in the race, was forced to bow before the great handicaps conceded to the younger lads, it can be correctly stated that he was merely testing himself for the coming marathon of April 19th. McLellan's corrected time was a second only to that of Barbato, 55 minutes 8 seconds. Barbato, who hails from the Stoughton, won the tome prize offered by District Attorney William F. Foley. Both he and McLellan started from scratch. For a time it appeared that the Windsor representative would take the time prize for midday in the race Barbato suffered terribly with cramps, and it was feared he would be forced to quit. McLellan finished 19th in the race with a burst of speed which brought a great hand from the crowd. He was fresh and strong at the end, ran steadily and smoothly from start to finish, and crashed the finish line with a well-satisfied smile on his face, one of the most popular runners to cover the course. DeMar finished 24th.

Rovers Meeting Tonight

The Rovers Baseball Club will have their annual meeting this evening in the Y. M. C. A. at 8.30 and all the players and fans interested in the Rovers section are asked to attend.

Terry in Homer

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 13. —The honor poling out the first run in the National League this season today fell to Bill Terry, of the Giants, who smashed out a circuit drive with the bases full in the fifth inning of the game between New York and the Phillies. The blow scored Tyson, Roush and Hornsby ahead of him and drove Hal Carlson from the box.
