Irish Folk Group Returns For SDU Alumni Weekend

The Clancy Brothers and Tommy Makem are returning to Charlottetown. This is the word from the organizing committee of the St. Dunstan's University Alumni Weekend, which is being held Saturday and Sunday, November 19 and 20.

The Clancys made their Island debut last January at the S.D.U. Winter Carnival, and despite horrendous weather, sold out to a capacity crowd with hundreds turned away at the door.

The Alumni Weekend committee felt the Clancys should be brought back, and as a result, they will appear in Charlottetown, Sunday night, November 20.

The alumni weekend, planned for students, alumni, and friends of the university, includes a number of events throughout the two days, and climaxes with the feature entertainment on Sunday night.

Passes for the weekend are being distributed by the committee in charge, and sell for five dollars per person. Events include a hockey game, hootenanny, and an informal dance on Saturday, a tour of the campus and Duffy Science Centre, banquet and reception, and the feature show on Sunday.

Tom, Liam, and Pat Clancy hail from Carrack-on-Suir, County Tipperary, and Tommy Makem from Keady, County Armagh, Ireland. They have appeared at almost every major night club in the United States, and are a regular feature on big name television shows.

Since their last performance at St. Dunstan's, they have appeared in New York, Toronto, Boston, Dublin, Edinbourg, and San Francisco.

Last summer, they did a special tape for B.B.C. which is scheduled to appear this fall. A week after their show during the Winter Carnival, they appeared at Carnegie Hall, where they taped their newest album.

Admission to the show is open to the public on a first-come-first-served basis. Tickets for the show will go on sale in Charlottetown and Summerside starting on Monday.

Sea Rangers Enrolled At Summerside

SUMMERSIDE — District guide commissioner, Mrs. Eric Jones, enrolled ten sea rangers at a special ceremony here last night. One of the other highlights of the evening was the commissioning of the ship Athabaskan by George Olscamp.

The local group have just completed their pre-enrollment training after being formed a year ago.

A wire was read to those present from the commanding officer of the HMCS Athabaskan in Halifax.

The minutes of previous meetings were read by Louise Gifford and approved. Mrs. Wilfred Burns read the financial statement at the meeting of the local association of girl guides. Mrs. Harold Magee gave the badge report and told that 389 awards had been made to brownies and guides in the past nine months.

Mrs. Magee presented a gift to past district commissioner of guides and brownies, Mrs. Orville Phillips, in recognition of her past services to the guide movement.

The opening prayer in sea ranger enrollment was by Mr. Eric Jones, and Eleanor Peters, skipper, introduced the sea rangers.

Rangers enrolled were president Melva Buell, vice-president Hanny Landry, secretary Barbara Holt, treasurer Dianne MacLean, Anita Bernard, Heather Muttart, Linda Craig, Margaret Cairns, Beryl Craig, and Sandy Ramsay.

Festival Canada: Travelling Shows

A 3-million dollar Federal programme — Festival Canada — is a plan to send all forms of showbusiness shuttling back and forth across the country weaving Canadians closer through a common experience of music, drama and dance. No country has ever tried a national entertainment programme as ambitious.

To ensure that the programme is available to everyone, it is designed to fit the average pocket-book. A generous Federal and Provincial ticket subsidy offer makes it possible for the box-office prices to be kept at a minimum.

Basically, there are four divisions in the programme: Festival Canada at Home; Festival Canada Grants and Commissions; Festival Canada in the National Capital Area and Festival Canada On Tour.

The fourth component represents a once-in-a-lifetime chance for Canadians to see and hear the greatest national and international performing groups of today. Some of the major groups involved include:

From Halifax, the Neptune Theatre, Don Messer and His Islanders. From the Charlottetown Festival, the musical Anne of Green Gables. From Montreal: Le Theatre du Nouveau Monde, Le Theatre du Rideau Vert (playing in Charlottetown Oct. 2), and Les Feaux-Follets (Canada's national folk dance company, playing here April 10).

From Ontario: the Stratford Festival Company (performing "Twelfth Night" here on March 11 and "The Government Inspector," March 10), the National Ballet of Canada (performing "The Nutcracker" on February 9), and the National Youth Orchestra.

From British Columbia, Vancouver's famous Holiday Theatre (playing here October 6). Also playing here will be the Montreal Symphony Orchestra with Charles Munch conducting, on September 16.

All performances in Charlottetown will be given at the Confederation Centre.

Much of the credit for this ambitious programme rests with the Centennial Commission and particularly with its Programme Development Committee, which has come up with a double challenge. The initial challenge was to arouse enthusiasm, and that has been easy. Excitement has been generated for the performing arts as never before to the extent that the most difficult challenge to be faced may simply be — where does the overflow go when shows sell out?

ISLAND

The Woods showed the reserve grand champion male.

Judge Bill Smith, Galt, Ontario was deeply impressed by the type and strength of the cattle he saw in the ring.

Mr. Smith had warm praise for most of the classes. He actually raved about the MacPhee cow that went grand champion, and the Barrett cow that was reserve. "an excellent pair of cows", he repeated several times as the rosette winners were leaving the ring. He was just as high on the Armstrong bull and with good reason.

Other Island herds making a good showing—a summary follows—included Daniel P. Jewell and Sons, East Wiltshire; Stanley Hurry, Winsloe and Keith Dixon, Clyde River who sent only two animals to the fair.

Mr. Jewell and Mr. Hurry are shipping some of their cattle to the Royal and George MacMillan, Cornwall is sending a Jersey heifer to the sale of stars.

BULL MAKES IMPRESSION

One bull that impressed cattlemen here tremendously is the white Scotch Shorthorn animal that took the grand championship in his class. The owner George Phelan, Morell.

The show judge told me this bull definitely belongs at the Royal. Many of the breeders in the big cattle barn tried to persuade Mr. Phelan to send his animal, which indicates just how much of an impression this tremendously strong bull has made at this major fair.

Other Island winnings included:

Bull calf — 1. Sterling Wood and Son; 3. Waldron MacPhee and Son; 4. Keith Barrett, Belmont, Lot 16; 6. Daniel P. Jewell, East Wiltshire.

Yearling bulls — 2. Sterling Wood and Sons; 3. Keith Barrett.

Heifer calf — 1. Sterling Wood and Son; 3. Waldron MacPhee and Son; 4. Keith Barrett; 6. Daniel P. Jewell.

Yearling heifer — 2. Sterling Wood and Son; 3. Keith Barrett.

Two-year-old heifer — 1. Keith Barrett; 3. Stanley Hurry; 4. Daniel Jewell; 5. Sterling Wood and Son.

Three-year-old heifer — 1. Sterling Wood and Son; 2. Keith Barrett; 3. Daniel P. Jewell; 5. Stanley Hurry; 6. Keith Dixon, Clyde River; 7. Waldron MacPhee and Son.

Four-year-old cow — 1. Keith Barrett; 2. Sterling Wood and Son; 3. Waldron MacPhee.

Mature female — 1. Waldron MacPhee and Son; 2. Keith Barrett; 3. and 7. Sterling Wood and Son; 4. Daniel P. Jewell; 5. Stanley Hurry.

Four animals bred and owned by exhibitor — 1. Sterling Wood and Son; 3. Waldron MacPhee and Son; 4. Daniel Jewell.

Best uddered Class — 1. Waldron MacPhee and Son; 3. Keith Barrett; 3. Sterling Wood and son.

Progeny-of-dam — 1. Sterling Wood and Son.

Allison Stewart, Dunstaffnage brought the only Prince Edward Island animal to the Holstein show at the Atlantic Winter Fair, and he placed second in the two-year-old heifer class, which is a good showing.

HOLSTEIN SHOW

The Holstein show was the smallest since this fair got underway, but the nation's most popular breed of dairy cattle will be back strong in another year, boosters here say.

A number of other Islanders had animals entered but were unable to be here for various reasons. A car accident suffered by his father, Oswald Newson, and illness of his brother Freeman prevented Parker Newson, Kingston from coming. Others had to cancel plans for various reasons.

The exhibit was the smallest dairy one at the show and that's most unusual, indeed its unprecedented.

Premier breeders were Dickie Brothers, Truro, N.S., the premier exhibitors banner went to R.R. McCain, Florenceville, N.B.

The grand champion female was shown by McCains, the reserve grand by Edward Dickie, Truro, RR 4.

The grand champion bull was shown by McCains and the reserve bull was from the Dickie Brothers herd.

WESTERN FUNERALS

PINEAU FUNERAL — The funeral of Mathias Pineau was held Wednesday afternoon from the Rooney Funeral Home to St. Anthony's Church, Bloomfield, where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Clarence Pitre. Rev. Emmanuel Richard was seated in the sanctuary. Pallbearers were Leo Gallant, Albert Saunders, James Rooney, Reginald MacAusland, Sheridan Corcoran and David Horne. Flower bearers were Marcel, Phillip and John Pineau, nephews. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Arraigned On Charge Of Robbery With Violence

James Carl MacCallum and Thomas Joseph Larter, both of Charlottetown, were arraigned on a charge of robbery with violence in Queens County Judges Criminal Court yesterday. They are charged with the robbing of $140 from Earl McLellan on June 16. C. St. Clair Trainor is the presiding Judge.

Counsel for MacCallum is Allison M. Gillis and counsel for Larter is John J. Holmes. Crown Prosecutor is John P. Nicholson, QC.

Following the reading of the charge by County Court Clerk T.L. Fitzgerald both accused pleaded not guilty.

CROWN WITNESS

The first witness called for the Crown was Earl McLellan of Charlottetown. He stated that on the evening in question he met three boys on the corner by Carter's Feed Store on Queen Street, one of w.m asked him for a cigarette. He told the court that he ignored them and walked across to the other side of the street and turned west on Syd Street.

"The first thing I knew I was jumped on. They pushed me down on the ground and picked my wallet out of my pocket." said Mr. McLellan. The witness testified that he had being going for a walk after coming from the Canadian Legion where he had a couple of beers.

Under cross-examination by Mr. Gillis, Mr. McLellan stated that it was "pretty hard" to identify the men who attacked him.

The second Crown witness was Herbert Saunders. North River, Colchester County, N.S. Mr. Saunders testified that he saw three men crossing Queen Street behind Mr. McLellan. "One of the men was about 30 feet ahead of the others. He caught up to McLellan and knocked him down Mr. Saunders said that he went with Mr. McLellan to the police station.

WITH ACCUSED

Francis Quinn, Charlottetown, testified that he was with the two accused on the evening in question. He said that when they were standing on Queen Street they saw a man standing across the street from Dillon and Spillets. He said MacCallum walked towards the man and asked him for a cigarette. He went on to say that the man moved away and kept walking up Queen Street to Sydney. "Larter went ahead of MacCallum and I towards the man. I am not sure if the man stepped or was shoved off the sidewalk, or was shoved onto the street and knocked down. MacCallum and I kept walking towards Larter and MacCallum stepped off the sidewalk toward Larter and McLellan. McLellan was lying on the street and Larter was standing over him."

The witness went on to say that MacCallum gave $100 to Larter when they reached a wood pile by MacDonald and Rowe. Quinn said at no time he recieved any money. The witness then stated he walked towards home. He said he was arrested the next morning at 10 o'clock.

The case was adjourned till this morning at 10:30 following the testimony of Quinn.

Pep Rally Precedes Game At S'side

SUMMERSIDE — A giant pep rally, with the highlight of crowning the "football queen" is scheduled for the Summerside High School gym this afternoon at 3:30 p.m.

The student rally will include a sock hop, and is planned to help create additional enthusiasm for Saturday's important football game against Souris High Spartans.

Souris Spartans virtually clinched a spot in the potato bowl with a win earlier this week. Their record is 4-1, compared to 3-1 by St. Dunstan's High and 2-2 by Summerside.

The two o'clock contest on Saturday at Queen Elizabeth Park, then, is another "must" game for Summerside. In order to remain in contention, they must win against Souris and then beat St. Dunstan's in their final game.

Also scheduled to play Saturday are St. Dunstan's High and Montague, at Montague.

Poppy Sales Underway At Tignish

The Poppy Campaign got underway in Tignish during the past week, and all indications point to one of the most successful campaigns ever carried out.

Edward Tremblay, poppy chairman for the community reports poppies have been distributed to all school districts and local stores. Car poppies are much in demand.

A house to house canvass of poppies is carried on by the Ladies Auxiliary of Royal Canadian Legion. It is the hope of Legion president Hubert Handrahan that every citizen will purchase a poppy that provides help for disabled veterans and their families, that helps us also to remember that thousands of Canadians died in two world wars and in the Korean conflict that our freedom may be preserved.

9,000 More Americans Arrive In S. Viet Nam

SAIGON (AP) — American military strength in South Viet Nam surged toward the predicted year-end total of about 382,000 as the U.S. command announced Thursday an increase of 9,000 troops last week, almost double that of the previous week.

The new troops, additions to units already in the country, put total American strength in Viet Nam at 345,000, not counting about 30,000 navy men offshore in vessels of the 7th Fleet.

North Viet Nam took another pounding Wednesday from American aftack bombers as clearing weather permitted 165 missions, 10 short of the daily record of 175 flown Oct. 14. Pilots said they spotted three enemy MIG fighter planes northwest of Hanoi, but that none came closer than three miles and there was no exchange of fire.

No large-scale ground fighting in South Viet Nam was reported, but units of the U.S. 196th Light Brigade, which ported killing 13 Viet Cong guerrillas who apparently made arrived here Aug. 14, reported killing 13 Viet Cong guerrillas who apparently made an attempt to recover hundreds of tons of rice the American troops captured recently. The fighting was 60 miles northwest of Saigon in Tay Ninh province near the Cambodian border. American casualties were reported light.

U.S. CASUALTIES UP

The relatively static war situation was reflected Thursday by figures released by the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands showing that American and enemy casualties increased slightly last week while the number of South Vietnamese killed in action dropped sharply.

Escapes Injury In Accident

SUMMERSIDE — Leo Joseph Provost escaped uninjured yesterday, when the car he was driving was struck by a freight train at New Annan, four miles east of Summerside.

Provost apparently didn't see the slow moving train and it struck the front end of his 1959 Pontiac car about 4.30 p.m., causing about $600 damage.

The accident was investigated by the Summerside detachment of the RCMP.

Crew Error Seen Aiding Sub Loss

BONN (AP) — The crew's mistaken assumption that the West German submarine Hai had sprung a massive leak apparently was one cause of the sinking of the submarine Sept. 14 with loss of 19 lives, the defence ministry reported Thursday.

The ministry said that if the crew had taken steps to counter severe flooding through an air intake the boat could have been kept afloat.

The Hai sank in the North Sea near Dogger Bank while on a surface trip to Scotland for a goodwill visit. Only one man survived in the stormy sea.

The primary cause of the sinking appeared to have been the flooding of the engine-room bilge through the intake halfway up the sub's conning tower.

The buoyancy of the boat also was lessened by a leaky valve in one of its diving cells, the report said. Leakage into another diving cell was a result of the sinking and not its cause, it added.

Regina Mayor Is Returned

REGINA (CP)—Henry Baker was returned as mayor for his fifth consecutive term Wednesday polling the largest majority of his career in civic government.

Official figures released Thursday gave Mayor Baker 25,428 votes compared with 13,502 for Alderman A. E. Perry, who resigned his council seat to contest the mayoralty.

Mr. Baker, who also represents a Regina seat in the legislature, had a majority of 11,926 votes, the largest ever received by a mayoralty candidate in the city.

Egg Bonus Not Needed

OTTAWA (CP) — No federal deficiency payment to egg producers is necessary for the 1965-66 support year because of good prices, the agricultural stabilization board announced Thursday.

The national average price to egg producers for the year ended Sept. 30 was 42.4 cents a dozen for Grade A large. It's the highest since the egg support program began in 1960.

In the last support year, the federal government guaranteed a floor price of 34 cents a dozen for the first 4,000 dozen eggs sold by a producer. This dropped to 31 cents for the next 6,000 dozen.

The high prices were attributed to a production decrease allied with an increase in demand caused by population growth.
