Has Unusual Hobby

Miss Theresa Gaudet of Miscouche who has a unique collection of four-leaf clovers, symbols of good luck.

This 23-year-old girl has been most adept at locating these comparatively rare clovers, and has had, with a measure of real success a casual interest in making a search for unusual clovers since the age of ten.

This summer for the purpose of being able to substantiate her claim, and to preserve her discoveries, Miss Gaudet began to file each unusual clover in an album, in a manner which classifies each of them as to date of discovery and number.

At the present time her collection which was begun eight weeks age consists of 545 four-leaf clovers, 11 with five leaves, and one with six.

Neatly arranged in one of her five clover albums each one is pasted down with transparent tape which clearly reveals each leaf and every detail of these beautiful clovers.

Miss Gaudet believes that Thursday must be her lucky day as she has found most on this day of the week, although on Friday, July 24, she located 60, which was the greatest number to be found on any one day.

Most of her unusual collection has been found in and around Miscouche during occasional searches.

Miss Gaudet jokingly suggests that her ability to locate these clovers might not prove so successful if they were rare enough to be worth a price, but her pleasure and enjoyment in this unusual hobby makes her collection well worth whatever time she has given to it.

Miss Gaudet is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Gaudet, Miscouche. —S.

She advanced with a 6-0, 6-0 win over L. Jobin, Quebec City. Miss Saganski is also playing in the juvenile girls' singles. She defeated Anne Irwin of Ottawa by the same score in the second round of that event.

Friendly Officer Praised By Tourists

—Police officers are frequently sought by tourists visiting Prince Edward Island but fortunately only for directions and information and the courtesy and assistance of the friendly officers in Island towns is much appreciated by the visitors.

Officers who make efforts to assist tourists in finding accommodations and eating places are ambassadors of good will and add to the visiting pleasures of our guests.

Officer Joe Linkletter, who has been on the Summerside police force for 27 years, has assisted many tourists during his long years on the force and has made many friendships and the acquaintance of people who make it a point to visit him when they return to Summerside in later years.

Constable Linkletter received his third letter in recent weeks from visitors expressing their appreciation of his kind services and assistance to them when recently visiting Summerside as strangers. This letter, from a retired police officer in Quincy, Mass., also extended the invitation to the Summerside police officer to visit him if ever travelling in that area, and expressed the hope that he might, in turn, be able to make Constable Linkletter's visit as pleasant as his own was to P. E. I. —S.

mond break was even more helpful.

While mentioning these facts, however, is is nevertheless true that one notrump is not an ideal opening bid for the South hand. The hand is too strong. Granted, it contans only 18 high-card points, which seems to make it a conventional maximum one-notrump opening, but point-counters are not in a different position from honor-trick bidders—they must use their heads and take note of the texture of a hand. The fact that South holds ten honor-cards, and the 10-9 combination of diamonds, really puts him over the logical (as distinguished from the purely formal) limit of a notrump opening.

In all probability, to repeat, three notrump would not be reached anyway, but the best approach is for South to start with a one-bid in diamonds or clubs and then jump to two notrump.

Kinkora In 16-5 Victory Over Legion

—The Kinkora softball team staved off elimination in their best-of-seven semi-final series with the Summerside Legion by defeating the Vets 16-5 in Kinkora yesterday.

Zeke Roberts went the route for the winners, pitching a fine ball game, giving up nine hits and striking out two. For Legion Mort Grover started but suffered a painful cut between the first and second finger of his throwing hand in the second inning and was forced to retire in favor of Tanton MacNeill who finished the game. Tanton gave up nine hits in the eight innings he worked.

The Kinkora boys had a single bingle off Grover in the initial frame. Des Roberts led the Kinkora attack with three hits in six tries. A. Johnson, E. Taylor and A. McAtee each had a brace of safe blows. Stew Grady was the big gun of the Legion batting with three hits in five trips. Tanton McNeill and Willie Ness had two hits apiece.
