Doug Harvey Has New Idea To Settle Hockey Demands

MONTREAL (CP) — A small olive branch was offered Tuesday in what may prove the first step in ending an impasse between the National Hockey League Players Association and club owners.

Doug Harvey, association vice-president, said he though a player council might be the means of an approach to the owners and he felt members of the six NHL teams felt the same way.

"The main purpose of the league's players has been to meet with the owners to settle our demands and get all problems straightened out," said the Montreal Canadiens all-star defenceman in an interview.

"That was one of the reasons for the association's suit when our members were denied a meeting and recognition."

Harvey made it clear he thought the Players Association should continue as an organization within which the players could formulate their demands. These then would be presented to the owners through a player council.

When he spoke, Harvey said he had not been informed of the withdrawal by the association of charges against the league and club owners of engaging in unfair labor practices.

The announcement was first made in Montreal by NHL President Clarance Campbell and confirmed later in New York by Milton Mound, lawyer for the Players Association.

WORD FROM NEW YORK

Campbell said advice of the withdrawal came from the New York regional director of the U.S. National Labor Relations Board. The board had approved withdrawal of the charges.

Later Mound announced the NHLPA is filing before the board a petition for certification as bargaining agent for NHL teams.

Mound said the petition substitutes for the charge of unfair labor practices and the association is also filing a petition with Quebec authorities for certification as bargaining agent for the Montreal Canadiens team.

An application is already pending in Ontario to have the Ontario Labor Relations Board name the NHLPA as bargaining agent for the Toronto Maple Leafs. Filing of a petition in New York would ask the same for the four teams in the United States —Detroit, Boston, Chicago and New York.

The Detroit Red Wings last week dissociated themselves from the anti-trust action of the association last September and broke with the association but said the Detroit players were favorable to the original aims of the association.

Two Basketball Tilts Tonight

Two basketball tilts are scheduled tonight at Prince of Wales College Auditorium. In the first game St. Dunstan's University still looking for their first victory of the season will tangle with the Trotters. In the second game of the night Prince of Wales College will play host to the winless Y.M.C.A. club.

The game between the Trotters and St. Dunstan's should provide all the thrills and excitement anyone could wish for. The Trotters got off to a flying start this season, defeating Summerside 53-48 last Saturday evening, while the red and white team from St. Dunstan's were upset by Prince of Wales College in their first game of the year.

Prince of Wales on the other hand are still trying to show the public that they are as good as any other team in the league and will be trying to down the Y. M. C. A. to prove it. The Y.M. C. A. who have lost one game this year don't want to repeat that defeat and are in high hopes of sending their college opponents down to their first defeat of the season.

Here are the probable lineups for the games:

TROTTERS—Lodner, Maclean, Howatt, Ready, Perry, Gills, MacKinnon.

ST. DUNSTAN'S—Linegar, Kelly, Ledwell, Hengan, McGonnell, MacNeil, Denny.

Y.M.C.A. — H. Phillips, G. Phillips, Atkinson, Lavers, MacDougall, Turner, Thompson, MacLean.

P.W.C. — MacKenzie, Storey, H. MacLean, R. MacLean, MacNutt, White, Flack, Radditz.

DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Elwood Shaw, James MacGregor and Andrew Perry will leave this week for Delaware, Ohio, to attend the 10th annual Half Speed Sale at Delaware County Fair Grounds on November 25-26-27. They will make the trip in Mr. Perry's large, mobile horse van, which is right up to date and has been over the same route before. Delaware sale is next in importance to the Harrisburg sale, which is the largest auction of harness horses in the world. This fall's catalogue lists 311 trotters and pacers and some of them are the best racing stakes in the western United States. We are indebted to the management for the cataglogue, which arrived last night and is an excellent one, giving all the necessary particulars to enable one to form judgement of the capabilities of the horses.

Here are a few that we like: Sycamore, P. 2.05, a brown pacing gelding 9 years old that has won over $35,000 and is still going strong.

LOOK GOOD

Victory Gong, P. 3. 2.02. 1 212 3-5 this year. He was also the winner on the pace this year in 2.04 3-5 and is only five years old.

Sporan, t. 2.07, p. 2.05 2-5, is a five-year-old by Hoot Mon, 3.2.00 sire of Scott Frost, 3.1.59 3-5, and considered the present world's greatest sire. Sporan took a win race record this year of 2.05 2-5 on the pace, and last year took a win race record of 2.07 1-5 on the trot. He would be a mighty handy horse down this way.

Bright Enlign, p. 2.05 1-5, by Enlign Hanover, out of Soaking Waters by Volomite; this horse looks as though he would be good over our raceways.

Stalag Hanover, P. 2.06, is by Nibble Hanover, 1.58 3-4, dam Sister Hanover, 3. 2.04 3-4, he will be eligible for the 2.22 Pace, and won a lot of races in 1957 and was timed in better than his record.

Miss Titan, t. 2.03 3-5, is a seven-year-old bay mare that, after her racing days are over, should be an exceptional brood mare.

Senator Pete, 2. 2.04 3-5, 2.03 3-5, is a three-year-old pacer by Hal Senator, he started 28 times, was five times first five times second and seven times third, earning over $2,000, he is eligible for the 2.18 Pace.

Sydney Gallon, t. 2.05 1-5, a trotter by Bill Gallon, sire of Galophone, 1.58 1-5, and numerous others, he has winnings of more than $45,000. Irishway, p. 2.00 1-5, a seven-year-old brown pacer that has done a lot of racing in fast company, but could pick up quite a bit of money here.

Atomic Pick, p. 2.03, winner of 11 races this year and has total winnings of $16,237; this looks to be one of the picks of the catalogue.

Mighty Brewer, p. 2.01 3-5 has winnings of $82,000. Excellut, t. 2.02, by His Excellency, is a 2.12 trotter with perfect manners and would be a nice horse for our tracks here.

BRING THEM BACK

The above are just a few that we have picked out at random from the catalogue. Horsemen will be leaving from Saint John, N. B., and from other parts of the province, and from Nova Scotia, and no doubt will bring back well-bred trotters and pacers that will make things interesting in 1958.

It seems that long period, in which there were many debutants, and great fast racing, has been forgotten, the waning years and being in harmony with the selection of Dr. Seaman as president.

was horse racing, and no doubt, he is following the news of the turf just as he has always done. We hope to be occupying a seat with him near his stable when the training season of 1958 rolls around.

Our Islanders are not or at least our horsemen are not given to throwing bouquets at those who serve them, and the writer was as guilty as the rest in not paying tribute to secretary-treasurer W. G. Gillespie for the immense amount of work he did for the association the past season, which is just part of 25 years of endeavour in interest her emen in breeding cattle and developing and racing them. If ... e spark which keeps the life of colt racing burning, and apparently the 1958 season will find that flame burning brightly. His report, which appeared in this paper Tuesday, was one of the best we have since the association was formed.

The sale of the trotting stallion "Demon Hanover" for $300,000 — a world's record for a trotter-is taken as an indication of the confidence which leading owners and breeders have in the future growth of harness racing. John R. Gaines, a young man who is son of Clarence F. Gaines, the inventor of Gaines Dog Food which he sold for half a million dollars, states that he experienced little trouble in talking nine other prominent harness horsemen into investing in the 12-year-old stallion, which was owned by Robert Critchfield, an attorney of Wooster, Ohio.

"I simply advised a number of friends I had been authorized to make the deal, and there was no difficulty at all in syndicating him", said Gaines, whose Gaine way Farm at Lexington is one of the shareholders.

ONE OTHER

Only one other harness horse has ever sold for the same money. It was "Adios" that Hanover Shoe Farms bought three years ago; he was a pacer. What prompted the above men to invest such a large sum in Demon Hanover was the way he got are racing this year, particularly the three-year-old trotter, Demon Rum, this season's champion. Also Buckeye Demon, Demon Hanover will make the 1958 season at Gay Acres Farm, Ohio, but will move to Walnut Hall Farm at Lexington, Kentucky, in the beginning of 1959.

HOME OF CHAMPIONS

Lexington, Kentucky, can well claim to be the home of the champions. It is there that, this fall, when horsemen gather for the oldest of all Grand Circuit meetings they can look for new world's records. This year it was Yankee Lass that on a cold, windy day won the $16,000 Hanover Filly Trot in 1.59 4-5, which was a new world's record for trotting fillies and she became the first filly in history to trot faster than 2.01. "Stenographer" did that in 1953, and Princess Rodney also at the same meet. Here are other world's record horses of the past at Lexington: Uhlan 1.58 (1912) Peter Manning, 1.56 3-4 (1922)-Greyhound, 1.55 1-4, (1938) and his record still stands-Dan Patch, 1.55 1-4, (1905)-Billy Direct, 1.55 14-(1938), both pacers.

Those of us who were present at the annual meeting of the Prince Edward Island Harness Racing Club in the Chamber (City) on Monday evening, felt the deepest regret that the beloved president, Dr. R. F. Seaman, could not attend. The association was formed 28 years ago, and the writer has a distinct recollection of it and the unanimous selection of Dr. Seaman as president.

Leo Dandurand Is Retiring

MONTREAL (CP) — Leo Dandurand, one of Montreal's most widely known sportsmen, said Tuesday he will retire as president of Montreal Alouettes football club next March.

Dandurand, 68, said he thinks younger shoulders should take over the load.

He said he will still retain some connection with the club but at present doesn't know just what it will be.

Dandurand has twice headed the Alouettes. He was president when the present Big Four league club was formed in Montreal in 1946 and had a hand in giving the club its new name—Alouettes. The club immediately preceding it was known as the Hornets.

Dandurand reorganized the set-up and remained as president until 1951, when Montreal businessmen took over. Dandurand was back again in 1954, when another reorganization came about and Ted Workman, young Montreal businessman, bought controlling interest and became vice-president. Dandurand was named president.

In his earlier days Dandurand was a prominent figure in the National Hockey League as owner of Montreal Canadiens. With Joe Cattarancik, Dandurand bought Canadiens in 1921 for $11,000. They sold out in 1935 to the Canadian Arena Company, present owners, for $165,000.

NOT AS ACTIVE

"I haven't been as active with the Alouettes in the last year or so, particularly since we took Gorman Kennedy into the organization as managing director," said Dandurand. "This took much of the load off my shoulders."

Dandurand said there is no disagreement between him and his Alouette associates. He recalled that last June in Toronto he told newspaper men he would be stepping out as Alouette president next March, when the club's fiscal year ends.

"Even last January I told vice-president Ted Workman: 'You should take over the presidency. It belongs to you.'"

Shearwater Looking For Win Over Fort William

By RUSSELL ELMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX (CP) —A gritty crew of naval airmen, who hail from six provinces and model their play after Edmonton Eskimos, will carry the colors of Eastern Canada in the Canadian intermediate football final here Saturday.

Blending their loyalties to their hometowns, the navy and the Maritimes, Shearwater Flyers seek to put the seal on their most successful season by defeating Fort William Redskins, western champions.

We represent the naval air service but we are proud to be able to bring the Canadian championship game down to the Maritimes," said Harvey (Moose) Mills, cigar - chewing Shearwater coach, in an interview.

"We now know we're on the same level as the rest of Canada in intermediate football," he added, referring to Flyers' 12-7 victory over defending champion Hamilton Tiger-Cats for the eastern title last Saturday. Flyers earlier won the Nova Scotia and Maritime crowns.

Chief Petty Officer Mills, 30-year-old native of Moose Jaw, Sask., keeps a relaxed but disciplined hand over his players, most of whom learned their football under him and former coach Don Loney. Loney, a member of the 1951 Ottawa Rough Riders Grey Cup team, now coach of St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S., has assisted in the scouting and coaching chores for the final.

EVERY TRADE

The team has representatives of nearly every trade, including technicians, radar operators, clerks, fitters and medical assistants. None is a commissioned officer.

The majority were born in Ontario but a sprinkling are from British Columbia, Manitoba, Quebec and Nova Scotia. Many of them now are married and live in Dartmouth across the harbor from Halifax.

Star player is Bob Hayes, 24-year-old team captain from London, Ont., who shares the Nova Scotia League individual scoring record of 114 points with teammate halfback Buck Taylor of Toronto.

"We pattern our attack on a modified split - T offence patterned after Edmonton Eskimos," said Hayes. "We have 15 standard defensive alignments which we adjust to the style of the team we are playing."

Mills, who goes over plays with his men in a noon conference daily and in a three-hour pre-game session Friday, said he was greatly influenced by Edmonton coach Frank (Pop) Ivy at a clinic at Dalhousie University this spring.

FORMER ALTO

One of the few players with Winnipeg Weston Wildcats of the Manitoba - Saskatchewan League after five years with Flyers and now about to be discharged from the navy, he said "the calibre of football here has improved 200 per cent."

Starting spring training in June, Flyers took July off and got into full swing in August. During training they carry on regular service duties, work out about two hours a day, watch their diets carefully, are allowed to smoke moderately and go to bed about 10 or 10:30 each night. Saturdays, after games, the regulations are temporarily relaxed.

Smallest player is quarterback Don Lilley, 23, of Montreal, who stands five feet seven and weighs 139.

Youngest is Ed Reiger, 18, also of Montreal. The oldest is Danny McCowell, 30-year-old defensive backfield from Hamilton, in his ninth season with Flyers.

Although Canadian football has only recently emerged as a major attraction in the Maritimes, the only player with English rugger experience is Al Caulier, a native of Stellarton, N.S.

Several players have been approached by professional clubs and one, Dale Klassen, a six-foot-four defensive tackle, is undecided to be seeking a spot with a club in the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Royals Capture Opening Game; Defeat S'side 8-7

The Charlottetown Royals won the first game of the Maritime Senior Amateur Hockey League by defeating the Summerside Aces last night 8-7 in a thrilling hockey game played at Civic Stadium in Summerside.

With 33 seconds to go in the game, and the score knotted at 7-all, Donald MacLeod, standing on the red-line, took a long clearing pass from Spy Ready which caught the Summerside team all up ice, and Junior coasted in unopposed on Sheppard to score the winning counter for the Royals.

A large crowd of about 900 watched a very thrilling well-played contest.

Paul Schurman, who played both defence and forward for the Aces, led all snipers with three goals. Allie Carver and Merrill Pineau scored two each. The home boys outshot the visitors 42 to 34. Sheppard, last year's SDU goalie, substituted in the Ace net for goalie Dillon who was injured in a car accident coming to Summerside and is in the Prince County Hospital with a cut over his eye.

The Royals got a quick jump on the Aces, Carver and Pineau scoring two goals within three minutes of the opening whistle. Pineau added a third at the half-way mark combining with Jim MacLeod to out-manoeuvre the Ace rearguard. Schurman scored his first on a forward pass from Reeves with about 4 minutes to go in the first frame, and the period ended 3-1 for the visitors.

Schurman cut it down to 3-2 with a sizzling slap-shot from just inside the blueline 22 seconds after the second period started. Jim MacLeod backhanded one to regain their 2-goal margin, and Kip Ready was trigger man on a three man relay with Whitlock and Pineau around the Ace net and the score was 5-2. Vance Harris scored a neat tally, splitting the Royal defence to backhand one past Doyle. Lloyd Sheppard for the Royals and Wallie Sheppard for the Aces scored within 7 seconds of each other, and the period ended 6-4.

The Aces had a wide margin of play in the final canto, outshooting their opponents 15-3. At the four minute mark Coke Grady Steered the puck into an open corner after a passing bout with Hughes and Howatt. Allie Carver got that one back 4 minutes later. Schurman banged home Harris's rebound after another 4 minute interval and Ron MacArthur shot the tying tally on a screened shot which never left the ice. The teams battled to break the deadlock and Junior MacLeod was sent in to the penalty bench for hooking. The Aces buzzed around the Royal net until Doyle and Harris started a rushing play which sent Harris and Dunn (serving for Doyle) to the sin bin. The Aces skated 4 on 3 for one minute but could not break the ice. They were still trying when MacLeod, back on the ice only 15 seconds, scored the winning goal.

Before the game there was a minute silence in respect to the late Dave McInnis of Kensington who had been Ace goaler three years ago.

Mayor W. A. Currie started the game by dropping not first puck.

Whitlock Gives Brief Run-Down On Ch'Town Royals

With three complete forward lines, two sets of defensemen and two goaltenders, playing coach Roy "Buck" Whitlock of the Charlottetown Royals feels that the newly formed Charlottetown team will give a good, honest, colorful account of itself in the Maritime Senior (Amateur) Hockey League.

In a brief interview yesterday morning about 12 hours before the Royals took to the ice last night in Summerside Whitlock made these facts known but hesitated to make any definite predictions about what his team would do in the league.

He made it clear however that the Royals have been working plenty hard in practice (Whitlock himself has lost 10 pounds) and his players will continue to work hard throughout the year.

As the season starts he has Willie Dunn at centre between Allie Carver and Jack Ready and this unit has been quite impressive. On the second string Whitlock plays between Merrill Pineau and Kip Ready while half a dozen players are trying out for the third line.

Johnny Squarebriggs, who played so well last season with the B. Y. C. looks like the regular centreman with a selection of wingmen from Lloyd Sheppard, Jim MacLeod, Jackie Burke, Dick Carroll and maybe Joe Mahar.

An defense is Junior MacLeod, Art Perry Sterling MacLure and Ralph Josey. To their ranks Whitlock would like to add Ray Hache of St. Dunstan's but study may make this impossible.

The Royals play their first game in Charlottetown tomorrow night at the Sports Arena against the Summerside Aces, on Monday night they play in Amherst.

The fourth team in the League is Mount Allison University. They will play all their games after Christmas.

Whitlock sees Amherst as a strong club and a good competitor. They have Lou and Dave Kiley in their lineups along with several pretty good players from Moncton in addition to their own home brew athletes.

Bathurst Wins Over Miramichi

NEWCASTLE, N. B. (CP)—Bathurst Papermakers took a lopsided 10-1 victory over Miramichi Beavers Monday night in a North Shore Hockey League fixture. Kenny Babin and Dicker MacDonald with two goals apiece sparked the winners.

Bathurst also whipped the Beavers Saturday night by a 10-3 count.

Bombers Hold Last Workout

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers worked out for the last time Tuesday before they take on Edmonton Eskimos again in the Western Interprovincial Football Union final and coach Bud Grant said the main thing we have to do is get well."

Grant and assistant coach Wayne Robinson held a morning practice in a wind cold enough to acclimatize the team to any thing Edmonton's Clarke Stadium can offer.

The Bombers left in the afternoon by plane for Edmonton. They hoped assorted wounds would heal in time for more overnight and Wednesday. They won the opening game of the best-of-three final 19-7 here Saturday night.
