SEE RYUN RUN, RUN RYUN RUN

By KEN MACPHAIL

In the Spring of 1963, a hitherto unknown highschool boy ran a mile in 4:08.2. At 17 years of age, this same lad became the first highschooler to crack four minutes in this same event, and also made the Olympic team. At 18, he defeated Australia's fabulous Peter Snell, then the world record holder, in a 3:55.3 mile, the fastest ever by an American.

The boy's name was Jim Ryun, and this year saw him put the crowning touch on all of his fantastic achievements. On June 4th, knowing he had not put forth all that he knew he was capable of, he ran the mile in 3:53.7, only one tenth of a second off the record held by France's Michel Jazy. On June 10th, he set a new world's record in the half mile of 1:44.9, and a little over a month later, he broke Jazy's mile record by almost two and a half seconds, going the route in an astonishing 3:51.3.

By way of comparison, if Roger Bannister, the man who first broke the four minute barrier for miles, had run his record time in the same race as Ryun, he'd have finished about 60 yards astern of the new track hero. Ryun, who is now attending the University of Kansas, was named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated Magazine recently, and certainly nobody deserves the honor more.

All this brings to our mind the question of just how fast the human race is going to be able to move on shank's mare, as time goes on, and training and conditioning methods improve even more, as they no doubt will do. There will, of course be a record set someday that will stand forever, but when is that time going to come? This particular event's best times have been broken often over the past few years, and many of those who have accomplished the feat have sank into obscurity, it being the gruelling, demanding, body-beating thing that it is.

We trust that there'll be no white jacketed people with nets hiding behind our filing cabinet in the morning, but as we sit here pondering the question, we are conjuring up visions of homo-sapiens lining up behind the starting gate on the backstretch with the hay burners. Maybe the nags will be good sports, and to give their upstart rivals a chance, possibly they'll run the last lap on their hind legs.

Hey, perhaps that's what's going on! Some blighter is feeding these amazing people hay and oats, with snacks on salt licks and sugar cubes. Oh well, we didn't profess complete sanity when we came to work here.

HULL RETALIATES

According to a story in the latest available issue of the Hockey News, Bobby Hull has started to dish it out, as well as take it, or maybe instead of taking it. This reverse in strategy has been a long time coming, and it is most certainly welcome, as the great star has had everything in the book used on him to dull his scoring edge, and a lot of things that aren't in the book either.

Bobby's production is away down this season, relatively speaking, of course, and one reason for it seems quite obvious. He's taking some of the time he used to use to pot goals, and using it to pot players. It's too bad that it had to be done, but looking realistically at the situation, there seems no other alternative. The leeches who were burrowing themselves into his brawny back were simply getting too much for even the even tempered Hull to bear, and if he didn't commence to claw them out in short order, they would've resulted in a hockey infection that might have ruined his mental aproach to the game, and given him a sort of "what can you do" type of attitude.

And certainly the leeches couldn't be faulted. They were given strict orders by the king of their nests to attach themselves and cling tenaciously, and they did this, and the Golden Jet put up with it, even though at times the urge to m-u-r-d-e-r someone must have been most difficult to contain.

If you remember last year's playoffs, you'll remember that Bryan Watson of Detroit was one of the little beasties who got in Bobby's hair. Not long ago, Watson was found horizontally immersed in a pool of blood behind the Detroit net. Up went the chant, "dirty Hull, big meanie, Bitterbug," and other terms of endearment, not so printable.

But, amazingly enough, most of the Wing fans lauded Bobby's show of muscle, of which he has much, as anyone who saw him stripped to the waist in that profile of him a couple of weeks ago will vouch for. He had reached the end of his hemp, and we wonder, even though Watson took 18 stitches over his eye in the short scrap, whether the theme song in the various NHL rinks will be "Catch a Falling Body," when Robert Marvin Hull decides to flex his biceps to their fullest extent.

Canadiens Top Leafs 6-2; Boston, Detroit Defeated

By AL McNEIL

MONTREAL (CP) — Yvan Cournoyer, Canadiens' power-play scoring ace, registered the first three-goal game of his young National Hockey League career to lead Montreal to a 6-2 win over Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night.

Cournoyer now has 10 goals this season and all have come while the Canadiens held a manpower advantage. Montreal has scored 19 goals with a manpower advantage.

Ralph Backstrom marked and passed an NHL milestone as the hard-skating centre scored the 150th and 151st goals of his career for the Montrealers.

Jim Roberts got his first goal this year in the final period to round out Canadiens scoring.

For the Leafs Larry Jeffrey with his sixth and defenceman Kent Douglas with his second were the sum total of the Toronto offence.

Goaltender Charlie Hodge stopped 24 shots in the Montreal nets, while the combination of Bruce Gamble and Gary Smith allowed six of the 31 fired at them to enter the net.

SUMMARY

First period—1. Toronto, Jeffrey 6 (Ellis, Pronovost) 0:30; 2. Montreal, Cournoyer 8 (Richard, Rousseau) 1:57; 3. Montreal, Backstrom 2 (Ferguson, Larose) 5:23. NEW YORK (AP) — Bernie Geoffrion, making a comeback after two years as a minor-league coach, scored twice Wednesday night as New York Rangers trounced hapless Boston Bruins 5-1 in a National Hockey League game.

But the veteran right winger had to share star billing with netminder Ed Giacomin, who electrified New York fans by stopping Dallas Smith of Boston on a third-period penalty shot.

It was the third time this season a penalty shot has been called in the NHL and the first time a goal has not resulted.

Giacomin's improved play in goal has been a major reason why the Rangers, last a year ago, now are battling for top spot in the team standings this year. The victory will ensure New York of at least a share of top spot after Wednesday's play.

SUMMARY

First period—1. Boston, Stewart 8 (Oliver, Bucyk) 7:20; 2. New York, Geoffrion 6 (Hadfield, Kurtenbach) 19:29. Penalties—Fleming 5:57, 10:21, Westfall 13:04, Woytowich 19:24.

Second period—3. New York, Neilson 3 (Hillman, Kurtenbach) 1:37; 4. New York, Nevin 7 (Goyette, Marshall) 11:34; 5. New York, Geoffrion 7 (Ingarfield, Howell) 15:45. Penalties—None.

CHICAGO (CP)—Bobby Hull scored twice and set up two other goals Wednesday night as Chicago Black Hawks defeated Detroit Red Wings 6-4 and remained tied with New York in top spot in the National Hockey League.

By extending the Wings' winless streak on the road to 14 games it kept Detroit in last place.

Goals by Hawk defenceman Pierre Pilote and Wings' centre Norm Ullman left the teams deadlocked in the first period but a tally by Stan Mikita, the league's scoring leader, and Bobby Hull's pair got the Hawks out front by three goals before Detroit's Dean Prentice scored the first of his two at 17:36 of the second period.

SUMMARY

First period—1. Chicago, Pilote 4 (Wharram, B. Hull) 9:02; 2. Detroit, Ullman 8 (Howe Delvecchio) 13:44. Penalties — Boivin 2:00, Jarrett 13:02, Vas Impe 14:09.

Basset Accuses Davey Of Blackmailing The Argos

TORONTO (CP) — Senator Keith Davey says he will not be a figurehead commissioner for the Canadian Football League and John Bassett, head of Toronto Argonauts, says his club will not be pushed around.

These developments evolved Wednesday when Bassett, chairman of the board of the Argos, called a news conference and criticized several statements attributed to Davey in an article last Saturday in the Globe and Mail magazine section.

Two hours later Davey, who becomes commissioner of the CFL Jan. 1, issued a statement in which he said he does not intend to be a figurehead commissioner and refused to believe Bassett and Sam Berger, president of Ottawa Rough Riders, want one.

Berger Sunday rapped Davey for what he termed "premature statements" about the state of Canadian football.

Bassett said the Argonauts would not be threatened or blackmailed into changing their stand on gate equalization within the CFL.

SAYS ARGOS THREATENED

"We have been threatened, say we have been warned, by Mr. McPherson (Don McPherson, executive of Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Conference) and the commissioner-elect that if we do not change our position the concept of one football league will fail and it will be the responsibility of the East and especially of the Argos."

Bassett said this was an attempts to "backmail the Argos" into changing their position. The team, last in the East this year, has urged that a $50,000 ceiling be placed on any gate equalization plan evolved under the proposed single league.

The CFL now is divided into Eastern and Western conferences with teams in each playing a partially interlocking schedule with clubs in the other.

The existing limit on gate equalization for any one club in the East is $25,000.

Davey was quoted in the Globe and Mail article as saying:

"We are having trouble getting Toronto Argonauts to give all the way. The CFL will remain balkanized until the eastern cities, with their bigger revenues, realize they must share equally."

McPherson was quoted as saying refusal to increase the gate equalization "could kill the interlocking schedule. We're all partners or we're not."

REMARKS 'UPSETTING'

Bassett criticized other remarks by Davey. He said he found it "upsetting that the commissioner-elect feels defensive football is garbage" and said he would like to be present at any meeting when the senator told coaches how to operate their teams.

Commenting on a suggestion by Davey that the CBC should be induced to carry more football games, Bassett said the commissioner has nothing to do with television.

"The rights are sold by each conference separately. . . . Surely he knows the rights in the East have been bought and paid for in 1967 and 1968—the first two years of his three-year contract."

Bassett said the Argos wanted the gate-equalization ceiling decided because, as a private corporation, they had to know their fiscal responsibilities. He said McPherson "ignores the fact that eastern teams are privately owned and must pay hefty corporation taxes. This is not true in the West where the teams are community owned."

Davey said:

"I simply refuse to believe that Mr. Bassett and Mr. Berger want a figurehead commissioner."

'Boots' Frame Resigns Office

SUMMERSIDE — A man who has contributed much to the sport of harness racing in Summerside, Laird "Boots" Frame has resigned as race secretary and manager of the Horsemen's Club.

It is reported that his decision was made because of personal matters, and followed serious consideration over a long period of time.

Springfield Advised To Return To Ice Wednesday

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (CP)—Springfield Indians players returned to the ice for practice sessions Wednesday and prepared to meet their lawyer in hopes of settling a dispute with owner Eddie Shore in time for a game Friday night.

Alan Eagleson of Toronto, retained by the players, left for Springfield Wednesday night and a meeting with the players.

Eagleson said he advised the players to resume practices and would discuss what action they should take regarding an American Hockey League game scheduled for Springfield Friday night against Providence Reds.

Eagleson said he will probably advise them to play the game.

"I will point out to the players their legal rights under their contracts and their moral obligations to the fans."

REVOLTED MONDAY

The players revolted Monday after Shore suspended four of them, three for indifferent play and the other for acting as a spokesman.

Shore and his coach, Barry Pidhirney, ignored Wednesday's practice session.

"We have six players coming in and we will have a hockey team Friday night," said Shore, a former all-star defenceman with Boston Bruins of the National League.

Defencemen Bill White, Dave Amadio and Dale Rolfe were suspended for what Shore termed indifferent play following a 5-4 loss Saturday to Quebec Aces.

That sparked the strike of the 23 players. Forward Bryan Kilrea was suspended after he acted as a spokesman Sunday. The remaining players refused to work out Monday afternoon and Tuesday.

Gerry Foley, another player spokesman, said the players retained Eagleson to negotiate their return to the club.

"We have been advised to fulfill our contract obligations by practising," Kilrea said.

"If they want to play under our contract and our rules and regulations, they can tell the coach and play," Shore said.

Earlier, it was learned Shore obtained three players from Tulsa Oilers of the Central Professional League, a farm club of Toronto Maple Leafs of the NHL.

Ray Miron, Tulsa general manager, said he was loaning centre Jean Payette, defenceman Doug Dunville and left winger Jim Davidson to Springfield for two to three weeks. All are first-year professionals.

"I don't want to take sides in the argument between the players and Shore, but Springfield has been helpful to us in the past two seasons," Miron said. "Springfield asked us for help and we gave them what we could."

Shore, meanwhile, scoured other sources but it could not be learned if he has obtained additional players.

Official League Statistics Have Royals Far In Front

SUMMERSIDE — Five Charlottetown Royals players continue to lead the individual point race and their goalie is far ahead in goals against averages, latest Island Intermediate Hockey League statistics—released by the league today—reveal:

Gord Whitlock, who led the race a week ago, still holds a slim one-point edge over his four Sandy's Royals team-mates. Whitlock picked up six points in the last two games to boost his point total to 21—12 goals and 9 assists.

Three team-mates, Stan Pearson, Alfie Flanagan, and Dave Lawlor, are all a point behind, with 20. Pearson has 10 goals and 10 assists, Flanaghan eight goals and 12 assists, and Lawlor five goals and a league leading 15 assists.

Darrell Doyle, the fifth Royal to pace the rest of the pack, has nine goals and five assists for 14 points.

Summerside's Pope Motor Aces' shifty Dave Martin still has sixth place in the point totals with his accumulated total of 13, while Elton Ellis of Borden is tied with Royal's Angie Carroll, each with 12 points.

Willie Gallant of Aces has 11, and Gabe Keough of Borden, out of action the past two games, is next with 10.

Donnie Frizzell of the city squad is maintaining a fairly effective pace to lead the goalie statistics. He has allowed 22 goals in six games, an average of 3.67 per game. Summerside totals of goals against per game has improved with their two wins in two nights. With Gerard Smith between the pipes for all but one period, the team average is 6.83, while Borden's Gary Campbell (MacLean in for two periods) has a goals-against average of 9.00.

Charlottetown have the best points record with 132, on 57 goals and 75 assists. Summerside have 33 goals and 37 assists for 70 points, and Borden have 27 goals and 36 assists for 63 scoring points.

Summerside still hold the top mark in penalty-time, with 235 minutes served in the sin-bin, including individual badman Gerry Smith's total of 72 total minutes.

Charlottetown are not far behind in the dubious honor, with 188 minutes, including 67 by Gerald Noonan. Borden's top penalty man is Wendell Grady, ex-Aces player, with 30 minutes served, which doesn't include eight minutes served while with Summerside.

The statistics include all games played up until Wednesday of this week. Next league action is tonight when Borden Legion Nationals meet Sandy's Royals at Charlottetown.

Sum-Hi Meets PVI Today

SUMMERSIDE — The Provincial Vocational Institute will be the visitors here this afternoon at five o'clock against Summerside High School.

The game is the second exhibition for the locals this season. They were blanked 2-0 when they faced Charlottetown Rural last week. This time, they hope to turn the cards the other way around.

In the P.V.I. lineup will be former Sum-Hi player, Paul Gallant, and coach Charles Morrison is looking for a close, hard-hitting hockey game.

The game is a preliminary to the holiday centennial hockey tournament, scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. Morrison yesterday released the lineups of the two grads teams that will be facing each other in a 20-minute period Wednesday night. Blues coach will be Francis MacNeil, supervisor of schools in Summerside, while David Linstone will be handling the Whifes.

Mr. MacNeil coached the school team from 1955 to 1960, and looked after minor hockey here in 1957. Mr. Flinstone, supervising principal at Sum-Hi, coached the school team from 1937 to 1947.

Lining up for the Blues will be Pete Pope, Vance Harris, Edgar MacDonald, Layton Schurman, Greg Deighan, Garth Harris, Ron MacArthur, Grant Grady, Maynard Schurman, Mel Campbell, Ulric Gallant, Benny Grady, Don MacNeill, Don Schurman, and Ross LeFurgey.

Game time is 8.30 p.m. on Wednesday.

Warriors Shade Pistons; Open League Lead To Five

Youngster Brian Peters sank 32 points as the league leading Warriors shaded the third place Pistons 60-56 in the first game of a basket ball twin-bill staged at Jack "Spy" Ready"s sweat-house last night.

The Warriors have moulded rookies Peters and John White and veterans Art Strang, Don MacLean, and Peter Grant into a smooth working team that has lost only one game in nine starts. The win last night, their sixth in a row, maintained their five point first place lead over the Celtics who won the night's finale over the cellar-dwelling Lakers.

Peters, who has scored over 200 points since the season began, again was the big gun for the Warriors with 32 points, while John White and Art Strang swished the twines for 11 points each. Grant and MacLean played key defensive roles for the winners and picked up 4 and 2 points respectively.

Veteran Joe Cummiskey spear-headed the losers offensively bagging 17 points. Hard-working Dennis Taylor and Dave McAulay also picked up 14 points each in a losing cause.

Line-ups:

Warriors: B. Peters 32, J. White 11, P. Grant 4, D. MacLean 2, A. Strang 11, G. Campbell 0. Total 60.

Pistons: D. Taylor 14, D. McAulay 14, M. Smith 3, J. Cummiskey 17, A. Cullen 4, E. Chandler 4. Total 56.

In the night's second game, Dave Hyndman returned after a two-game layoff and sank 22 points to pace the second place Celtics to a 77-59 victory over the last place Lakers. Fred Ripley and Emmett Ellsworth, the league's second and third highest scorers, collected another 19 points each for the winners.

Don Baker who played a strong two-way game for the Celtics managed 13 points also for the winers. Diminitive Lea Sirois made his strongest showing of the season as he sank 20 points for the losers. Sirois, former S.D.U. star, sank most of his points on long jump-shots and played his season's best game after a colorless start. Len Morrissey picked up another 1. points for the losers while 20 Clair Ellsworth picked up eigh, and Wendell MacLean six.

Line-ups:

Celtics: F. Ripley 19, E. Ellsworth 19, D. Baker 13, K. Balser 4, D. Hyndman 22. Total 77

Lakers: L. Sirois 20, L. Morrissey 12, S. Ellsworth 6, W. MacLean 6, K. Squarebriggs 4. Total 59.

BASKETBALL

Following are the times and locations of the Profincial basboards for all those wishing to obtain certification for the 1966-67 season.

Examinations for Prince County will be written in Summerside High School Auditorium, on Thursday, December 22, 1966, at 4 p.m.

Examinations for King's and Queen's Counties will be written in Charlottetown at the YMCA on Thursday, December 22, 1966 at 7 p.m.

This will be the only examination date for the 66-67 season.

Since the P.E.I. Interscholastic Athletic Association, as well as other organized leagues, will accept only those so provincially rated, it is necessary for all those who wish to referee to write the examinations.

The successful applicants will be given a floor test in early January, and those achieving a combined 75 per cent or more, will be listed as officials on our P.E.I. referees listing for the 1966-1967 season.

Nats Travel To Face Royals On Home Ice

The Charlottetown Royals meet Borden Legion Nationals tonight at the Charlottetown Forum in the first Island Intermediate Hockey League game to be played on the Royals' home ice.

A game had been scheduled by the league for the Forum last Thursday but it had to be cancelled by the Royals' owner Sandy Frizzel once it became apparent that his team had a commitment to play the Halifax Junior Canadiens. The match with the Juniors had been set for the night before but the Canadiens had balked at flying to Prince Edward Island that evening due to a storm warning.

The Royals, unbeaten up to the meeting with Halifax, lost the game 11-4. This defeat ended the impressive record of the Charlottetown club. Upon their next appearance in Intermediate play, they lost to the second place Summerside Pope Motor Aces.

The Nationals are coming into the game at the Forum tonight hungry after dropping out of second place. Trailing the other two clubs, they have yet to achieve the prestige of defeating the first place Royals. Their chances of coming away from the Forum with the win this time are very slim as the Royals are bent on re-establishing themselves as the Island power, especially after the first of the week loss.

Game time is set for 8.30 p.m.
