By LOGAN & BRYAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Decrease in security loans of $116,000,000 reported by the Federal Reserve Board was accepted as evidence of increase in outright buying of stocks.

MORNING STOCK LETTER

Financial Service says—The market today is following a similar pattern to that of the previous week.

WALL STREET MIRROR

If stocks were not bought on Monday they should be picked up today for the rally which will carry through the week.

FORECASTS AND FACTORS

As a continuation of the rally is expected today in spite of weakness in few individual issues.

OPINIONS

HUTTON AND CO. SAY—It is our opinion that until a broad bull market is established in both stocks and bonds, the market will continue to be a very short term trader and seller will have better opportunities than those buying stocks to hold.

HORNBLLOWER AND WEISS

A sustained rally is overdue, it appears to have gotten under way and it is quite possible that with a little more consolidation the market will have digested the adversity in the past few days.

WALL STREET ADVISORY SERVICE

Again the market has shown a pronounced disposition to reflect other individual factors which have caused it to fluctuate.

SUMMARY

T. S. Steel earnings and dividends after close today. Daily average crude oil production in United States in week ended October 25th totalled 2,262,288 barrels, decrease of 100,000 barrels from previous week.
