LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

PARLIAMENT will meet on Tuesday next, thinst.

MAILS.—A foreign and colonial mail—the first for a week—was received in Charlottetown on Sunday evening.

DIOCESAN CHURCH SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this Society, it is announced, will take place on Wednesday evening next.

BUILDING SOCIETY.—The Patriot reports that the leading business men of Charlottetown are about forming a Building Society. Good.

PROHIBITION.—Petitions to the Dominion Parliament, for the enactment of a Prohibitory League Law, are being circulated among the people of this Island

WAITING FOR THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.—The Herald has not yet informed its readers that the 'Land Purchase Act, 1874,' has been disallowed. Is he waiting for the golden opportunity to express his views on 'proprietor's forcible reasons?'

LECTURE.—Mr. Fletcher of the Argus, will deliver a lecture before the Y. M. C. A., on Wednesday evening next—Subject, 'The World's Theatre.' This lecture has been very favorably critized by the press of St. John. It will, doubtless, attract a large audience.

ANOTHER INVENTION.—The Summerside Journal says:—"Our ingenious townsman Mr. Thos. Heustis, has been at work again. This time he has produced a force pump, for the purpose of filling jars &c., with molasses that has become thick. One of our merchants who has given the pump a trial says that it works admirably."

THE FASTEST YET.—We learn by telegraph from Port Hill, that the Barkentine May owned by the Hon. John Yeo, arrived at Swansea, G.B., after a passage of thirteen days, from Port Hill. The Brig Lucille, owned by the same gentleman, also arrived at Bedford, G. B., after a passage of 20 days from Cascumpec.—Summerside Journal.

NOVELTY IN THE NEWSPAPER LINE:—The Daily Advertizer—a paper recently established in Toronto, announces that in addition to other accomodations a novelty will be introduced every Saturday afternoon in the shape of a newspaper blotter. Upon those afternoons the Advertizer will be printed on the finest toned blotting paper, and will thus be constituted an instrument of usefulness as well as of instruction."

IMPROVEMENTS.—H. C. Green, Esq., our obliging postmaster, has made several improvements in the Post Office lately. Sixty new boxes have been placed in the office to the great convenience of the public. The boxes let at $1.20 per year, and parties who thus invest, can get their letters at all times without waiting. The office presents quite a creditable appearance.—Summerside Journal.

GRAND DIVISION.—The meeting of the Grand Division of P. E. Island, on Thursday last, at Alexandra, passed off very pleasantly. There were three new members initiated. The Report of the Grand Scribe was recommended for publication. The public meeting in the evening was quite a success. G. W. A. Sampson occupied the chair. Pointed addresses were given by P. G. W. P. Cooper and Miller, Rev. J. DeWolfe, C. T. Harris, C. Full, J. J. Chappel, W. Hayden and H. Backem. Excellent and appropriate music was furnished by the ladies of Blooming Hope Division. The members of Grand Division were highly pleased with the kind and hospitable reception they there met with.

ST. PAUL'S PENNY READINGS.—The Penny Readings in St. Paul's Schoolroom were well attended on Tuesday evening last. The programme was lengthy and consisted of songs by Miss Gertude DesBrisay, Miss Dunn, Lieut. Boulton, Geo. Peake and G. McLeod, Esqs., and three Choruses; Instrumental music by Mrs. Pope, Miss E. DesBrisay, Miss E. Palmer, Miss Newbery and Mr. Vinnecombe; and Reading by Messrs. R. F. DeBlois, L. H. Davies, T. S. Longworth, Robert Shaw and George Peake. Miss DesBrisay's Song 'Believe me! if all those endearing young charms,' and Miss Dunn's Song 'Good-by Sweetheart, Good-by,' were sung with much expression, and were loudly encored; but, owing to the length of the programme, an encore could not be given. Mr. L. H. Davies' Reading 'A tale of Christmas eve' contained many really beautiful passages. It was, we believe, written by a native of this city. An Instrumental duett 'The Train Galop' and 'Fairy Queen Galop,' was beautifully executed by Miss E. Palmer and Miss Newbery, and was much admired. The entertainment was brought to a close with 'God Save the Queen.'

PENNY READINGS—The programme of the Readings in St. Peter's Schoolroom, on Tuesday evening last, was one of the best presented this season. The audience though not large was appreciative, and all pesent appeared well pleased with the entertainment afforded. The opening reading was The flight and Pursuit of Sykes, (from Oliver Twist) by Rev. Mr. Ellis, who, it is needless to say, did full justice to the author. A song, Mother says I must'nt, was well sung by Mr. Eustace Haviland, and elicited a hearty round of applause. Mr. W. C. DesBrisay read A Story of a Faithful Soul, and was followed by Mrs. Peake, who sang I've been to the Woods with very ood taste. The Queen's Waltz, was given as a Piano and Violin Duett, by Messrs. Earle and Vinnicombe, in a masterly style that called forth the plaudits of the audience. A reading, The Mountain Grave, by Hon. T. H. Haviland, and a song, Merrily, Merrily over the Snow, by Mr. Robert Harris, were next in order. Both were efficiently rendered. An instrumental duett, Ocean Waves Galop, was played in excellent manner by Miss Stewart and Miss Lottie Watson. Miss Dunn then sang Shades of Evening, with much taste and expression. Selecting from The Gilded Age, Mr. P. S. Macgowan gave an amusing view of the vast speculations and visions of untold wealth of Colonel Eschol Sellars, whose poverty was only equalled by his pretensions. Mrs. Strickland came next with a popular Irish song Barney O'Hay, which she rendered in her usual pleasing manner. Rev. Mr. Ellis followed with a reading Ici on parle Francais, the several characters in which he ably sustained. Frequent explosions of laughter greeted his graphic delineations of the ludicrous situation of those who depend too much upon French before breakfast. The entertainment concluded with a Piano and Violin duet by Prof. Earle and Vinnicombe, Fairy Steps Galop, which was executed in superb style. This galop is the latest and best composition of Prof. Earl, and on the occasion of this, its first production in public, received such an oration as enables us to predict that in popular favor the Fairy Steps Galop, will out-rival all of Mr. Earle's former compositions.

The "Last Readings of the Season" were announced for Tuesday, the 9th inst., and as the programme will be somewhat longer than usual. The entertainment will commence at half past seven, instead of eight o'clock. We bespeak for the last Reading of the season a bumper house.

CORRESPONDENCE.

ALBERTON.

LETTER FROM THE COLLECTOR—BUSINESS AT THE WEST.

To the Editor of the Examiner

MR. EDITOR,—In responding to your enquiries, it affords me much pleasure to be able to state that, during the past season, the trade at this port has been largely in advance of that of any former year. Between the 1st of May and 24th December, 1874 120 arrivals of vessels were reported,—not including fishermen—and an equal number cleared at the Custom House. The total value of exports to all quarters—new vessels included—was at least $132,000. I have not yet obtained an accurate estimate of the imports; but from what I do know, I feel warranted in asserting, that the same trade outside of Confederation, would have yielded over $18,000 of Revenue. Nor does the value of exports above given cover the whole trade. Merchants import from Great Britain, the United States, St. John, Montreal, and other business centres in the Dominion. To these latter remittances are made in cash. And judging from the large addition made to the number of registered letters, which passed through the Alberton Post Office, within the past six months, compared with any similar former period, the inference favors the impression that calls from those quarters were very well responded to. Hence, it is clear, that shipments made by vessels do not afford as correct a data from which to estimate the trade at this Port, as it did before we became an integral part of Canada. The same reason renders it also more difficult to ascertain the value of imports from all sources. The merchants, however, have very kindly promised me their aid in this direction, and if I find that I have over-estimated the trade, I shall promptly apprise you of it.

Wholesale houses in Charlottetown and Summerside, have also supplied large quantities of merchandize, which, with a quantity of fish, meat, produce, etc., sent forward by Rail, late in the fall, are, of course, not taken into account.

ROBERT GORDON, Collector.

MASONIC.

THE MASONIC TEA AND ENTERTAINMENT, UNDER THE AUSPICES OF ST. JOHN'S LODGE.

I hate tea fights. To be obliged to sit with a crowd of strangers, among whom may be "superior people," who take no pains to conceal their disgust at being obliged to endure the disgrace, and drink slops and eat cake, is to my mind not as enjoyable as stretching ones legs under his own table in company with friends.

So I omitted this part of the programme. At about 8 o'clock the entertainment commenced, by Mayor Rankin taking the chair and the brethern the platform, looking quite scrumptious in their regalia. The tables had been cleared away, and no reminescence remained of the feed, except an occasional clink of a plate or fork in the distance. His Worship then gave a short speech, and finished by reading an extract from the "Craftsman," describing why women are not admitted as Masons—after which the Brethern sang the opening ode. Bro. Rev. Mr. McLeod followed the chairman's strain, and got somewhat mixed up in explaining why masonry did not embrace ladies in the order. He said that Masonry or Masons (I forgot which) did or ought to embrace ladies. I should like to be clear on this point. Had the gas gone out at this particular juncture no doubt the Rev. gentleman's opinion would have been tested. Mrs. Strickland sang "Katie's Letter" deliciously, and the enunciation was perfect (rather rare among singers). George Peake read his piece "bully," as was remarked by some one near. Jeunesse Dore, was done excellent justice to, by Miss F. Rankin and Bro. Earle, although the piano scarcely did justice to them. Justice was not done to the Galop, by Mr. Vinicombe and Bro. Earle. There appeared to be a lack of rosin on Mr. Vinicombe's bow, and also the violin did not sound very cremonish. Mr. V. will not be offended at this, as he has delighted Charlottetown audiences too often for his reputation to suffer on this account. And the galop itself,—as many people remarked when the 87th band was here, that Galbraith's was good enough for them, so I would say that Strauss, D'Albert, Verdi, Wagner, &c., &c., are good enough for me. A new song called "The Englishman," was sung in excellent style, by Bro. Johnston, with Bros. Hermans, Baldwin and Batt as chorus. In this chorus Bros. Hermans and Baldwin had the assurance to tell us that they were Englishmen, and that they were awfully proud of it. But why go on with the whole of the Programme. It is enough to say that every one concerned, did his or her part well, and a good proof is that everybody was encored. The song by Miss Rankin, the reading by Miss McNeill, the recitation by Bro. McLean, the reading by Bro. MacGowan, were all such as a person would like to sit and listen to for hours. Perhaps it would not be invidious to say that "Matrimonial Sweets," by Miss Trenholm and Bro. Johnston was the nicest thing on the Programme. In referring to the programme, I would advise the Committee in future to be more careful about the rotation, as last year Bro. Rev. Mr. Currie had to follow a nigger song and dance and this time the "Hen Convention." And talking about Bro. Johnston, it is my opinion that he is necessary to the welfare of every well conducted Masonic entertainment. Who among the Committee was competent to usher the lady singers and readers from the hall to the stage, and conduct them back, but D. J. His genial smile of itself is enough to make an audience feel good. I must not forget to say that Galbraith's band played very softly, and in excellent taste during the evening. It is a pity that Mr. Galbraith does not organize a string band, as it would be more appropriate for a hall. A word for the Committee. Bros. Crabbe, Fraser, Collins, McLarren and a few more, (I forgot their names) as an executive Committee have never been equalled, in this town at least, and the Lodge has shown their appreciation of their services, by always re-appointing them to conduct their entertainments. The decorations of the Hall were very tasty and elaborate. One thing deserves special mention—the flags borrowed were returned, and next day too. Doubtless, some who have been connected with affairs of a similar nature may say that this is "too thin," but it is true.

In conclusion, let me say, that many a Mason's widow and orphan have reason to bless the institution of Masonry, and particularly the annual festivities given by St. John's Lodge, 397 R A. Long life to the Committee, who have for several years so successfully managed the most enjoyable, and consequently, the best patronized entertainment ever organized in Charlottetown.

LATEST DESPATCH.

By Telegraph to Examiner.

OTTAWA Jan 29—Writs were issued for London and South Huron yesterday. Nominations for both places take place on the 4th February.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The electors of Greenwich last night adopted a resolution expressing confidence in Mr. Gladstone, and regretting his retirement from the leadership of the liberal party.

In the French Assembly yesterday, another exciting discussion on the Constitutional Bill occurred, and developed the fact that there is a division in the Republican ranks, such as is likely to defeat an amendment in favor of the formal proclamation of the Republic.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The United States' House of Representatives adjourned at 11 o'clock to-day, after a continuous session of 48 hours, until noon Saturday. The Republicans yield and will adopt a new Rule on Tuesday, forbidding Delatory Motions.

The freight train on the Erie Railroad collided to day. The Engineer and Fireman saved their lives by jumping. A large amount of Petroleum freight took fire, and both trains were burned. Loss heavy.

CARAQUET, Jan. 29.—Information was laid before the Coroner's Jury, that the parties in Alberts house had assembled for the purpose of resisting the constables, and had armed themselves and resolved to shoot the officers rather then surrender. Five guns were captured. Brigade Mayjor McCully and 40 Volunteers are expected at Caraquet to-night When information was communicated to the rioters that the Volenteers were coming, they at once decided to surrender. Gervie Lauter, one of the ringleaders, gave himself up to the constables, it is reported others will do the same.

NIGHTFALL IN THE WOODS.

[WRITTEN FOR THE EXAMINER.]

Slow the western sun declines;
Darkness deepens in the wood;
Shadows wrap the sombre pines:
Summoned by her solemn mood,
Nature's vaulted temples wake
Thoughts which poet never spake.

In the forest hollows dark,
Plainingly the streamlet flows,
Where the birch, with ghastly bark,
Spectre-like, its branches throws,
And the lonely owlets cry
Breaks the silence mournfully.

High on yonder blasted trunk,
Strikes the sun's departing ray;
Now in purple distance sunk
All his splendors fast decay:
While the rising wind of night,
Moaning, knells the dying light.
