

WOMAN WEAK, DIZZY, NERVOUS

Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Jamaica, N. Y.—"I suffered greatly with my head and with backache, was weak, dizzy, nervous, with hot flashes and felt very miserable, as I was irregular for two years. One day when I was feeling unusually bad my sister-in-law came in and said, 'I wish you would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.' So I began taking it and I am now in good health and am cured. I took the Compound three times a day after meals, and on retiring at night. I always keep a bottle in the house."—Mrs. L. N. BURNHAM, 36 Globe Ave., Jamaica, N. Y.

Women who recover their health naturally tell others what helped them. Some write and allow their names and photographs to be published with testimonials. Many more tell their friends.

If you need a medicine for Women's Ailments, try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) for anything you need to know about these troubles.

within the next two weeks to rein-

Major Leigh. The draft is now about full strength and is composed of an excellent body of men of splendid soldierly bearing. The last recruit to enlist was an Indian from Lennox Island. There are now two members of the Micmac tribe in the draft. The Summerside officers are

AGED WOMEN

RUN DOWN AND FEEBLE—MADE STRONG BY VINOL.

So many people in Charlottetown and vicinity are in Mrs. Wickersham's condition we ask you to call at our store and get a bottle of Vinol and if it fails to benefit we will return your money.

In her eighty-second year Mrs. John Wickersham, of Russellville, Pa., says: "I was in a run-down, feeble condition and had lost flesh. A neighbor asked me to try Vinol, and after taking two bottles my strength returned, I am gaining in flesh, it has built up my health and I am feeling fine for a woman of my age, so I get around and do my housework."

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Wickersham's case was because it contains beef and cod liver peptides, iron and manganese pep-tides and glycerophosphates, the weakened run-down system and creates strength.

Right here in Charlottetown we have seen such excellent results from Vinol that it is a pleasure to know it is doing so much good for old people in other parts of the country.

IN MEMORIAM

DOROTHEA MARION WIGHT.

The angel of death visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Wight on March 29th and took from them their little favourite daughter, Dorothea Marion familiarily called Dotty, aged 3 years and ten months, but in God's Book He tells us in the midst of life we are in death. So it was with our darling playing in the morning as we thought in good health and in a few hours God had called her home to be with the pure and righteous. She leaves to mourn her heart-stricken father and mother (nee Miss Katie Davey) and one brother, Archie and two sisters, Ruth and Alice; also a number of relatives and friends who will always remember little "Dotty." The funeral service was conducted by their pastor, Rev. W. J. Donville. The service at the house was as follows: Hymn, "I Hear Thy Welcome Voice;" prayer, after which her little remains were removed to the church. While the pal-bearers carried her in, the choir sang, "Beckoning Hands;" hymn, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." A very impressive sermon was delivered, where he spoke of "Suffer little children to come unto Me, and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven;" hymn, "Asleep in Jesus." While the friends were taking their last look the choir sang, "Will the Circle Be Unbroken." The pallbearers were—Sterling Conrad, Fennel MacKinnon, Simon Rose, Richard Llewellyn, Woodley Westaway, and Edwin Conrad.

BATTERY OF GRAIN TANKS RESISTS GREAT HEAT

"In a really striking way, the destruction of a frame building at Coshocton, Ohio, recently demonstrated the fire and heat-resisting qualities of heavy concrete construction," says the May Popular Mechanics Magazine.
"A nest of five grainstorage tanks was erected a couple of years ago against one side of a flour mill. When the latter structure was demolished by fire not long ago, the concrete bins were enveloped in flames for more than an hour. The tank closest to the building was subjected to the most intense heat. It passed through the ordeal uninjured, however, and the ordeal uninjured within it was found to be in good condition when removed the following day."

PTE. DAN CLAREY WOUNDED, BUT CHEERFUL RETURNS TO HIS HOME

Bearing the outward signs of the great experiences through which he passed, Private Daniel Clarey, of Milltown Cross, a member of the 60th Montreal Battalion, arrived in the city by the car ferry steamer on Saturday.

No word had been received of the coming home of this gallant young son of Prince Edward Island, so that he received no official welcome as he landed.

As he was walking up the wharf, with the help of the crutches which he is obliged to use, Mr. Bruce Stewart's attention was directed to the wounded man, and after some enquiries he quickly had his car out and had him conveyed to the Victoria Hotel where he was given a room and made comfortable. Pte. Clarey was two days in Picton before sailing for Charlottetown, and it seems too bad that some one did not notify the military authorities here so that he would have received the welcome due to a man who has gone through what he has for his country.

Seen by a representative of the Guardian at the Victoria Hotel, Pte.
Clarey gave a brief outline of his career.

He is the son of Mrs. John Clarey of Milltown Cross, near Montague, his father being dead. He left the Island eighteen years ago. He went to Boston and thence to Vermont and Minnesota, and Ontario. He learned the trade of a paper maker after going to the States, and at the time the war broke out was working for the Spanish River Paper Company at Española, Ont. Just a year ago last June in company with a chum he left his work and proceeded to Montreal, where he signed up with the 60th Battalion of that city. He crossed over to England in October and in a short time was in France, where he spent eleven of the most momentous months of his life.

He first went to a place called Lokre and from there on to Ypres, participating in the memorable third battle of that name which lasted three days—the first, second, and third of Ypres—and escaped without a scratch.

Besides being engaged in the regular trench work Pte. Clarey was the of the division wires, which is as dangerous a job as one could undertake. Ten men are selected of each battalion to put up wire entanglements. They are kept constantly busy at night keeping them in repair and when a charge is about to be made on the enemy it is necessary for the wires to cut the entanglements. To give an idea of the dangerous nature of the work Pte. Clarey stated that one night he went out with seventy of the wires and out of that number only thirty returned. He main thing to do, and it is hard to do it is to remain as still as a can, especially when the German star-shells light up the whole surroundings. It is then that a fellow feels lucky if he can drop into a shell-hole and is privileged to hug mother earth with extraordinary fervor.

Pte. Clarey said that he has been out during the work while the bullets were spattering about on every side of him, but strange to say, on no occasion was he hit once, while still employed, during five months.

From Ypres he went to the Somme, where there was something doing all the time. It was at the hot action of Courcelette, on August 16th, where the Canadians made such a notable showing, that he received his first wounds. The Canadians were charging the German trenches at the time when he was struck on the side of the face and on the back of the hand by shrapnel.

He went back to the dressing station and the rest camp for the night wounded and soon after was back to the firing line again.

It was on the afternoon of October 6th, that Pte. Clarey received the wounds that put him out of action.

While in a supporting trench on sentry duty with no one near him at the time, a shell burst about five feet from him. Had the ground not been so soft as it is, there is no doubt but that he would have been killed. He received some sixteen wounds from six pieces lodging in the left foot and the rest scattering through both legs. All the pieces which entered his legs were removed and all the pieces were taken from his foot but one and he intends going to Halifax in ten days' time to undergo another operation—the top thence he was wounded—in order to have it extracted.

Pte. Clarey was not removed to the dressing station until night owing to the heavy bombardment. From there he was sent to Le Havre Hospital in France, where he remained for ten days and was then sent across to England. He was in the Bath War Hospital until March and from there entered successively the Broad-stairs Convalescent Hospital and Yarrow Convalescent Home for Soldiers.

Pte. Clarey is enthusiastic about the treatment accorded him by the people of England, especially perhaps those he met while in the Bath War Hospital. To use his own words, "The English people used us tip top."

He sailed from England on Saturday April 21st in company with 527 wounded Canadians, principally from the Upper Provinces, and reached Halifax after a voyage of ten days.
He left for his home in Milltown Cross by the afternoon train on Saturday.

THE NEW QUARTIER LATIN

Charles Phelps Cushing in Cartoons Magazine.

The European war has left the famous Latin quarter of Paris almost deserted; and a temporary paralysis lies, also, upon the art-bohemians of Munich, London and Rome. In default of competition, New York's "Greenwich Village" has thus suddenly become the new bohemian capital of the world.

We enclose "Greenwich Village" in quotation marks out of deference to the older villagers, who, for the most part, are respectable Tammany Hall Irish-Americans, plain Americans and American Italians—all, or nearly all, resigned to making their living by pretty much the same methods as the masses do anywhere else. "The bulk of the neighborhood," declares so reliable an authority as the director of Greenwich House (a community centre), "is made up of the conservative American working class—the clerk, the office cleaner, the teamster, and the day laborer."

The Greenwich Village of old was as famous for its dignity and quiet as the "Village" of today is noted for its "pagan revels." The Greenwich of a hundred years ago was a rural retreat two miles north of New York City, and was a stronghold of fashion
