

FLIT

KILLS FLIES
MOSQUITOES
BED BUGS ANTS
ROACHES MOTHS

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

One Insertion 10c per line of 5 words
Four Insertions 35c per line of 5 words
Eight Insertions 65c per line of 5 words

Agents Wanted

WANTED NOW—SALESMEN FOR unrepresented Prince Edward Island counties. Pay weekly, exclusive stock and territory. Represent a six hundred acre modern nursery growing choicest varieties and best stock. Established thirty years. Our agencies are valuable. Write, Pelham Nursery Co., Toronto, Ont. A. W. T. Aug. 15.

Teachers Wanted

TEACHER WANTED FOR POINT DeRoche School. Supplement $75.00. Mark McCormack, Secretary. 6356-28-1f

WANTED—A TEACHER FOR Spring Vale School. Supplement $150. John Stewart, Secy. 6866-7-17-4f

WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED second class teacher for Milburn School. Supplement $100.00. Mid-summer vacation. Fred Robbins, Secy. 6875-7-17-3f

FIRST CLASS TEACHER WANTED for Victoria School, District Number 60. Supplement voted $200.00. Apply E. Boswell, Secy. Trustees. 6519-7-4-1f

TEACHER WANTED—THIRD class teacher for Suffolk School. Supplement $50.00. John Arling, Secy. R. R. no. 8. 6806-7-14-4f

WANTED—FIRST OR SECOND class teacher for Pt. Prim School. Supplement $110. Apply to Daniel McLeod, Secretary of Trustees. 6808-7-14-3f

WANTED—FIRST CLASS EXPERIENCED teacher for Bedouque school. Supplement $200. Irving Toombs, Sec., Albany R. R. 6794-7-14-4f

WANTED—SECOND CLASS class teacher for Stanchel school. Supt. $100.00. Apply Wesley McNevin, Secy. Bradaibane, Box 51. 6789-7-14-3f

EXPERIENCED FIRST CLASS teacher for Ebenezer School. Supplement $175.00. Apply to Mrs. Chester McDonald, Wheatley River. 6810-7-14-4f

WANTED—FIRST OR SECOND class teacher for East Bideford School No. 165. Supplement $125. Foster Sharp, Secretary. 6861-7-17-3f

WANTED—TEACHER FOR NEWTON Cross School. Supplement $100.00 including minimum. Apply Chas. A. McKenna, Secretary. 6875-7-17-4f

WANTED—FOR RED POINT School, experienced first or second class teacher. Supplement $125. Apply to Albert Garret, Secretary, East Baltic. 6335-7-16-3f

TEACHER WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED second class teacher wanted for Victoria West School, District No. 47. Protestant preferred. Supplement $110.00. Apply to A. A. Moore, Secy., Northam R. R. 2 P. E. I. 6816-7-14-3f

Wanted

FURNISHED ROOMS—FROM two to five furnished rooms wanted. Apply Guardian. 6871-7-16-3f

Female Help Wanted
Strathcona Hotel. 6727-7-11-6f

WANTED KITCHEN GIRL, APPLY Strathcona Hotel. 6727-7-11-6f

RESERVE WEDNESDAY, July 18th for supper and bazaar, Montague United Church. 6-26-tu-3f

FOR SALE—AT MONTAGUE house and lot owned by Mrs. Leach, 1125 McLellan. For further particulars apply to J. W. Murdoch. 6826-7-14-3f

Card of Thanks
Mr. and Mrs. John J. Walsh and family of Elliptical wish to thank most sincerely those whose sympathy helped to lighten the heavy affliction they suffered, particularly their devoted pastor, Rev. P. D. McGuigan, and those who sent Mass Offerings, Spiritual Bouquets and Flowers.

They also desire to express their deep appreciation of the efforts of the gallant rescuers, and the untiring labors of those who recovered the bodies of the beloved victims, to whom they tender their grateful thanks.

They find it impossible to write to each of their many friends—May God reward their charity.

$25.00 REWARD
Twenty-five dollars reward for information that will secure conviction of party that broke open a carton of Bread and Pastry and stole therefrom at Lot 40 Station on July 3rd.

STEWART'S BAKERY, Charlottetown, P. E. I. 6822-7-14-3f

Wanted
At once, teamster for bread delivery. Must be strictly honest and sober. Apply
HYNES BAKERY, Grafton Street. 6848-7-15-3f

Central Guardian

A SPLENDID OUTING—Georgetown Tea, July 18th. 6833-7-16-2f.

A GRAND OLD TEA PARTY—Fort Augustus, Wednesday, July 18th. Bigger and Better than ever. 2f

LEAGUE OF CROSS PICNIC tomorrow at Suffolk. Trains leave 9:30 A. M. and 2 P. M. 6873-7-16-1f

FOR AUGUSTUS LADIES are noted for their good cooking. Come and sample it on Wednesday, July 18th.

HOCHELAGA DELAYED—The S. S. Hochelaga arrived in port yesterday afternoon at 2.45, over an hour and a half late due to her being held over in the morning for coaling.

STAGING CATHEDRAL—The interior of Saint Dunstan's Cathedral is being staged in preparation for redecoration. It is expected this work will be completed by the end of the week or early next. The work of cleaning and decorating will then commence.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH CHOIR PICNIC is to be held on Wednesday, 18th and not Friday as stated in yesterday's Guardian.

INDIAN RIVER TEA PARTY will be held on August 15th. See beautiful St. Mary's Church. Set of athletic games. Reserve the date. 6875-7-10-tufre.

THE LAW OFFICE of J. O. C. Campbell will be closed for the next two weeks, during the absence of Mr. Campbell from the province. 6872-7-17-2f

SPECIAL TRAIN with race horses and passengers will leave Charlottetown at 8.45 Wednesday morning for St. Peter's, returning same evening.

APPRECIATION—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pye and children would express their appreciation of, and gratitude for the help and comfort so freely given in their time of trial and bereavement, also, for the beautiful flowers.

POLICE COURT—A prohibition case adjourned last Saturday was further adjourned by His Honor at the Police Court yesterday morning until Wednesday. One drunk was fined $10.00 and costs, and a motor vehicle offender was awarded $30.00 and costs.

The Prince Edward Island Pharmaceutical Association examinations were held in Charlottetown yesterday. There was one candidate, Mr. Hubert Mahon of Montague. The Examiners were Messrs. J. G. Jamieson, H. L. Bethune of Charlottetown, and J. E. Dalton, Summerside.

ZION CHURCH—On Sunday evening last, Union services were held between St. James and Zion. Rev. Bruce Muir preached an effective sermon on "Worship," taking as his text "God is a Spirit, and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." Miss Lena McInerney sang the solo "Hear, O My People," by Frederick Stevenson, in a very pleasing voice, adding much to the musical service. The choir rendered the anthem, "The Sun Shall be no More," by Woodward. The minister, Rev. Scott Fulton, was also present and took part in the service.

STAGE SET FOR ST. PETERS.—The stage is now all set and ready for the big race meeting on Wednesday afternoon. The finishing touches will be put on the track this evening and Secretary Quigley expects to have it second faster than last year. The dining booths are all set up and stables completed and there is nothing now to do but wait for the opening gong at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. This year's races are the talk of the country and thousands are planning to attend by every kind of vehicle. A great many will go on the special train which leaves Charlottetown, Wednesday morning at 8.45 returning same evening. People are coming from west of Summerside to these races and as far in the other direction as East Point, so there will be some crowd on Wednesday.

MARRIAGES
MacPHAIL—CAMPBELL—At Charlottetown, P. E. Island, on July 14th, 1928, by Rev. Ewen MacDougall, B. D., John Donald McPhail, of Argyle Shore, to Miss Pauline R. Campbell of Medford, Mass.

DEATHS
CROKEN—At Emerald Junction, July 16th, Mrs. Michael Croken. Funeral from the residence of P. A. Driscoll, Wednesday, July 18th, at 9 o'clock to St. Mary's Church, Indian River.

MacKINNON—Died in the City Hospital, July 16th, Ernest A. MacKinnon, aged 44 years. Funeral from the K. C. Hall, Kent St., Wednesday morning at 8.45 to St. Dunstan's Cathedral thence to R. C. Cemetery.

DUFFY—At 17 Chestnut St., on Sunday, July 15, Annie Hartz, aged 79 years, widow of the late Richard Duffy. Funeral from her late residence on Tuesday, July 17th, service at 2 p. m. Funeral leaving 2.30. Interment at People's Cemetery.

Institution Moving

Into New Quarters
THE PROVINCIAL BANK OF CANADA TO CHANGE PREMISES BY END OF THIS MONTH

(Montreal Gazette July 14th.)
By the end of the present month the Provincial Bank of Canada will be installed in its new larger quarters, the old Royal Bank head office building, St. James Street. A visit of inspection to the premises was made by officials of the bank and newspapermen, who found that the repair and renovation work is proceeding rapidly. Noticeable on the ground floor to the rear is the ceiling—high cathedral glass, 12 colors—being used.

Chas. A. Roy, general manager, expressed pleasure at the progress. He said that the Provincial Bank of Canada would use all the basement space, the ground floor, and the first floor. Of the other two floors, he said, one had already been erected, the other being still for rent.

A visit to the safety deposit vaults showed that the bank intends to enter extensively into this field. Hitherto lack of space has prevented the creation of such a department, but in the new quarters there will be 600 safety deposit vaults available for the public. Some of these have been specially designed for brokers and others who have large numbers of securities to deposit. A box designed along the lines of a filing cabinet permits the immediate location of the securities.

The vaults have already been prepared for the Provincial Bank of Canada securities with massive time lock devices fit to safeguard the wealth of kings. One of the finest rooms in the new premises is the Board Room. The fine panelling has been retained, presenting an excellent appearance, mellowed as it is with age. From this room control over the 135 branches of the Provincial Bank will be exercised. The latest branch was opened yesterday at Cartierville, designed to meet the growing needs of that community.

The Provincial Bank of Canada has branches in this province, in New Brunswick and in Prince Edward Island.

REFLECTIONS ON PROHIBITION
Sir,—The peculiar mental attitude behind the imposition of prohibitory laws which invade individual liberty in the name of morality is illustrated in a famous utterance of Dr. Keats, of Eton. "Boys," he exclaimed one day after a searching discourse, "if you're not pure in heart—I'll flog you."

It is obvious, as P. Lyman Winthrop points out, that you cannot have a law to determine what conduct shall be because the stubborn fact is that, in a democracy, it is conduct which determines what the law shall be. If we are all in favor of finding the man who keeps his pigs in the parlor, it is because he keeps pigs in the parlor falls short of sanitary standards generally observed in the community. If we were all sincerely convinced that total abstinence is a virtue, and temperance in the use of liquor is a sin as deadly as drunkenness, then a law prohibiting the use of liquor would be a reasonable law. But in that case it would be a superfluous law. A superfluous law, however, is infinitely better than laws which are futile and foolish.

It is a noble purpose of good laws to protect the innocent against the selfish. It is an interesting article on the subject, that they "bring gifts unto men." All merely negative laws which interfere with personal liberty on moral grounds, are not merely ineffective, but they do more to the system than they make a vain appeal to men's souls. That is why sumptuary laws, laws against drunkenness, luxury, envy, avarice, games, plays, etc. are so ineffective and hurtful. Such laws are always bad, and they do longer with attempt to do something which they have no power to do, and thus, instead of helping to maintain the majesty of the law, they tend to make men think its violation a matter of course, and, therefore, of no real moment. Such laws are bad in general, because they simply forbid certain things, without furnishing the necessary positive countervailing motive which will make the citizens feel that they are simply giving up a lower satisfaction for a higher one, and that they are doing so in the strongest sense of the better life which the law secures to them. It is, therefore, not the "thrawnness" of human nature which makes it cling stubbornly to even such a wretched satisfaction as a large amount of money can afford, but rather the impulse which absolutely prevents any man giving up the poorest of what he thinks his joys, except for the actual possession of what appeals to him as a fuller joy. And it is not an "innate perversity" which forbids any "ever strive for what is forbidden" rather the divine law of human enlightenment.

I am, Sir, etc.

STUDENT.
Baptists At Tryon

(Continued from page 1)

attention while he spoke on "Some of the aspects of the work in India." Dr. Eaton declared that if we knew the people of India with all their splendid qualities as the missionary knows them, we should never withhold our sympathetic interest.

Dr. Eaton, speaking from the physicians viewpoint, told of the same medical and surgical treatment being administered in that far off land with which we are familiar here. The people of India, many suffering from the "treatment" of well meaning but ignorant friends, are people from all occupations and professions and classes of society.

"The people of India," said the speaker, are courteous, patient and sympathetic to a commendable degree, although they know the missionary's intention is to turn their world upside down. They sometimes lack in physical courage, but are often giants in moral courage. In time of epidemics they have been known to risk their own lives rather than leave afflicted neighbors, claiming God's protection during their time of exposure. It is a common thing for brothers to deny themselves education that one brother may have the advantage of a college training. Dr. Eaton spoke of visiting homes, where the children were taken from parents leaving their hearts broken with no knowledge of God and no vision of a paradise beyond. India needs the gospel of Christ, and the speaker closed with an earnest appeal for the people at home to give the gospel to that land. Dr. Eaton is a native of Nova Scotia, one of her brilliant sons who is saving his life by losing it in the interests of less favored peoples beyond the sea.

The next speaker was Rev. Arthur Matheson, of India, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Matheson of Dundas. Let all Island people take off their hats to one of Abegweit's sons of whom it may be said:

"The elements are so mixed in him that all the world may rise and say 'This is a man.'"

Mr. Matheson began his address in the Telugu language—but soon turned to English. (Those familiar with the language of Eden could detect the Gaelic influence on his tongue) and told of the Christian influences of his home, his call to India when but a boy and his response to that call when he became a man. "India," he said, "is a land of intense heat, torrid rains, a land of villages of peoples of culture."

In India religion permeates the whole life. When a Telugu becomes a Christian he is transformed, not only in soul, but in appearance, in manners and in speech, so that the low caste may be mistaken for the high caste. The people of India need the gospel, and they want the gospel, and are always respectful when they hear the story of Christ.

"Shall we retreat in the hour of opportunity?" asked the speaker. "We need purpose, prayer and a passion for souls if we are to be true to our trust."

On Saturday morning, student-pastor Emery Wallace conducted the devotional service. Emery is a brother of Russell, and they are proving themselves "workmen who need not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." At this session, Rev. Mr. Brinton gave an address on religious education that called forth much appreciative comment. Mr. Brinton's plea was to lead the children to Christ and righteousness and worldliness in later life.

This address led to the discussion of religious education in the schools all voicing the thought that our supreme task is the building of the characters of our girls and our boys.

On Saturday evening, the Association met to Bedouque to attend a pageant under the auspices of Bedouque Baptist Church. The visitors were warm in their praises of the quality of the pageant which the indefatigable Dr. Sides and his devoted congregation presented.

On Sunday morning, Rev. R. H. Morton of East Point conducted a devotional service. Mr. Morton brought a clear soul uplifting message from the life of Paul the Apostle.

The Association sermon was

GATE CRASHER

ARRIVES AT TUNNEY CAMP

SPECULATOR, N. Y., July 16—Though today is just another Friday to the outside world, it's a holiday here in Speculator, where Gene Tunney is training to defend his heavyweight title against Tom Heeney, the rugged New Zealand-er, on July 28, at the Yankee Stadium.

Tunney planned only a short hike along the roads which run about Lake Pleasant and postponed his ten-round session with sparring partners and punching bags until tomorrow. The champion has agreed to take a brisk workout on Sunday while Tex Rickard is here to witness the signing of the New York Boxing Commission contract for the coming battle.

One-Eyed Connolly arrived in camp today and after excusing his tardiness with the explanation that he had just walked back from the Democratic convention at Houston via Heeney's camp at Fairhaven, N. J., nominated himself as the guest of Billy Gibson, the champion's manager.

deavor which gives us no power to refrain from anything we like and desire, except as we gain the power to lay hold of something that we like better.

All wise men are as one on this point. The insistence of prohibition advocates on proof by statistics which may be manipulated cleverly to prove almost anything, is evidence that they recognize the weakness of their ground in logic. No prohibitionist ever yet cited the name of a great thinker as an authority for his own belief, or attempted a logical reply to his opponents. In his efforts to support prohibition on the higher ground of Christian theology, the prohibitionist is confronted at once with the first recorded miracle, at Cana, where water was turned into wine.

These things are so mixed in him that all the world may rise and say "This is a man."

Mr. Matheson began his address in the Telugu language—but soon turned to English. (Those familiar with the language of Eden could detect the Gaelic influence on his tongue) and told of the Christian influences of his home, his call to India when but a boy and his response to that call when he became a man. "India," he said, "is a land of intense heat, torrid rains, a land of villages of peoples of culture."

In India religion permeates the whole life. When a Telugu becomes a Christian he is transformed, not only in soul, but in appearance, in manners and in speech, so that the low caste may be mistaken for the high caste. The people of India need the gospel, and they want the gospel, and are always respectful when they hear the story of Christ.

"Shall we retreat in the hour of opportunity?" asked the speaker. "We need purpose, prayer and a passion for souls if we are to be true to our trust."

On Saturday morning, student-pastor Emery Wallace conducted the devotional service. Emery is a brother of Russell, and they are proving themselves "workmen who need not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." At this session, Rev. Mr. Brinton gave an address on religious education that called forth much appreciative comment. Mr. Brinton's plea was to lead the children to Christ and righteousness and worldliness in later life.

This address led to the discussion of religious education in the schools all voicing the thought that our supreme task is the building of the characters of our girls and our boys.

On Saturday evening, the Association met to Bedouque to attend a pageant under the auspices of Bedouque Baptist Church. The visitors were warm in their praises of the quality of the pageant which the indefatigable Dr. Sides and his devoted congregation presented.

On Sunday morning, Rev. R. H. Morton of East Point conducted a devotional service. Mr. Morton brought a clear soul uplifting message from the life of Paul the Apostle.

The Association sermon was paradise beyond. India needs the gospel of Christ, and the speaker closed with an earnest appeal for the people at home to give the gospel to that land. Dr. Eaton is a native of Nova Scotia, one of her brilliant sons who is saving his life by losing it in the interests of less favored peoples beyond the sea.

The next speaker was Rev. Arthur Matheson, of India, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Matheson of Dundas. Let all Island people take off their hats to one of Abegweit's sons of whom it may be said:

"The elements are so mixed in him that all the world may rise and say 'This is a man.'"

Mr. Matheson began his address in the Telugu language—but soon turned to English. (Those familiar with the language of Eden could detect the Gaelic influence on his tongue) and told of the Christian influences of his home, his call to India when but a boy and his response to that call when he became a man. "India," he said, "is a land of intense heat, torrid rains, a land of villages of peoples of culture."

In India religion permeates the whole life. When a Telugu becomes a Christian he is transformed, not only in soul, but in appearance, in manners and in speech, so that the low caste may be mistaken for the high caste. The people of India need the gospel, and they want the gospel, and are always respectful when they hear the story of Christ.

"Shall we retreat in the hour of opportunity?" asked the speaker. "We need purpose, prayer and a passion for souls if we are to be true to our trust."

On Saturday morning, student-pastor Emery Wallace conducted the devotional service. Emery is a brother of Russell, and they are proving themselves "workmen who need not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." At this session, Rev. Mr. Brinton gave an address on religious education that called forth much appreciative comment. Mr. Brinton's plea was to lead the children to Christ and righteousness and worldliness in later life.

This address led to the discussion of religious education in the schools all voicing the thought that our supreme task is the building of the characters of our girls and our boys.

On Saturday evening, the Association met to Bedouque to attend a pageant under the auspices of Bedouque Baptist Church. The visitors were warm in their praises of the quality of the pageant which the indefatigable Dr. Sides and his devoted congregation presented.

On Sunday morning, Rev. R. H. Morton of East Point conducted a devotional service. Mr. Morton brought a clear soul uplifting message from the life of Paul the Apostle.

The Association sermon was paradise beyond. India needs the gospel of Christ, and the speaker closed with an earnest appeal for the people at home to give the gospel to that land. Dr. Eaton is a native of Nova Scotia, one of her brilliant sons who is saving his life by losing it in the interests of less favored peoples beyond the sea.

The next speaker was Rev. Arthur Matheson, of India, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Matheson of Dundas. Let all Island people take off their hats to one of Abegweit's sons of whom it may be said:

"The elements are so mixed in him that all the world may rise and say 'This is a man.'"

Mr. Matheson began his address in the Telugu language—but soon turned to English. (Those familiar with the language of Eden could detect the Gaelic influence on his tongue) and told of the Christian influences of his home, his call to India when but a boy and his response to that call when he became a man. "India," he said, "is a land of intense heat, torrid rains, a land of villages of peoples of culture."

In India religion permeates the whole life. When a Telugu becomes a Christian he is transformed, not only in soul, but in appearance, in manners and in speech, so that the low caste may be mistaken for the high caste. The people of India need the gospel, and they want the gospel, and are always respectful when they hear the story of Christ.

"Shall we retreat in the hour of opportunity?" asked the speaker. "We need purpose, prayer and a passion for souls if we are to be true to our trust."

On Saturday morning, student-pastor Emery Wallace conducted the devotional service. Emery is a brother of Russell, and they are proving themselves "workmen who need not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." At this session, Rev. Mr. Brinton gave an address on religious education that called forth much appreciative comment. Mr. Brinton's plea was to lead the children to Christ and righteousness and worldliness in later life.

This address led to the discussion of religious education in the schools all voicing the thought that our supreme task is the building of the characters of our girls and our boys.

On Saturday evening, the Association met to Bedouque to attend a pageant under the auspices of Bedouque Baptist Church. The visitors were warm in their praises of the quality of the pageant which the indefatigable Dr. Sides and his devoted congregation presented.

On Sunday morning, Rev. R. H. Morton of East Point conducted a devotional service. Mr. Morton brought a clear soul uplifting message from the life of Paul the Apostle.

The Association sermon was

The Public Forum

REFLECTIONS ON PROHIBITION

Sir,—The peculiar mental attitude behind the imposition of prohibitory laws which invade individual liberty in the name of morality is illustrated in a famous utterance of Dr. Keats, of Eton. "Boys," he exclaimed one day after a searching discourse, "if you're not pure in heart—I'll flog you."

It is obvious, as P. Lyman Winthrop points out, that you cannot have a law to determine what conduct shall be because the stubborn fact is that, in a democracy, it is conduct which determines what the law shall be. If we are all in favor of finding the man who keeps his pigs in the parlor, it is because he keeps pigs in the parlor falls short of sanitary standards generally observed in the community. If we were all sincerely convinced that total abstinence is a virtue, and temperance in the use of liquor is a sin as deadly as drunkenness, then a law prohibiting the use of liquor would be a reasonable law. But in that case it would be a superfluous law. A superfluous law, however, is infinitely better than laws which are futile and foolish.

It is a noble purpose of good laws to protect the innocent against the selfish. It is an interesting article on the subject, that they "bring gifts unto men." All merely negative laws which interfere with personal liberty on moral grounds, are not merely ineffective, but they do more to the system than they make a vain appeal to men's souls. That is why sumptuary laws, laws against drunkenness, luxury, envy, avarice, games, plays, etc. are so ineffective and hurtful. Such laws are always bad, and they do longer with attempt to do something which they have no power to do, and thus, instead of helping to maintain the majesty of the law, they tend to make men think its violation a matter of course, and, therefore, of no real moment. Such laws are bad in general, because they simply forbid certain things, without furnishing the necessary positive countervailing motive which will make the citizens feel that they are simply giving up a lower satisfaction for a higher one, and that they are doing so in the strongest sense of the better life which the law secures to them. It is, therefore, not the "thrawnness" of human nature which makes it cling stubbornly to even such a wretched satisfaction as a large amount of money can afford, but rather the impulse which absolutely prevents any man giving up the poorest of what he thinks his joys, except for the actual possession of what appeals to him as a fuller joy. And it is not an "innate perversity" which forbids any "ever strive for what is forbidden" rather the divine law of human enlightenment.

I am, Sir, etc.

STUDENT.
Baptists At Tryon

(Continued from page 1)

attention while he spoke on "Some of the aspects of the work in India." Dr. Eaton declared that if we knew the people of India with all their splendid qualities as the missionary knows them, we should never withhold our sympathetic interest.

Dr. Eaton, speaking from the physicians viewpoint, told of the same medical and surgical treatment being administered in that far off land with which we are familiar here. The people of India, many suffering from the "treatment" of well meaning but ignorant friends, are people from all occupations and professions and classes of society.

"The people of India," said the speaker, are courteous, patient and sympathetic to a commendable degree, although they know the missionary's intention is to turn their world upside down. They sometimes lack in physical courage, but are often giants in moral courage. In time of epidemics they have been known to risk their own lives rather than leave afflicted neighbors, claiming God's protection during their time of exposure. It is a common thing for brothers to deny themselves education that one brother may have the advantage of a college training. Dr. Eaton spoke of visiting homes, where the children were taken from parents leaving their hearts broken with no knowledge of God and no vision of a paradise beyond. India needs the gospel of Christ, and the speaker closed with an earnest appeal for the people at home to give the gospel to that land. Dr. Eaton is a native of Nova Scotia, one of her brilliant sons who is saving his life by losing it in the interests of less favored peoples beyond the sea.

The next speaker was Rev. Arthur Matheson, of India, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Matheson of Dundas. Let all Island people take off their hats to one of Abegweit's sons of whom it may be said:

"The elements are so mixed in him that all the world may rise and say 'This is a man.'"

Mr. Matheson began his address in the Telugu language—but soon turned to English. (Those familiar with the language of Eden could detect the Gaelic influence on his tongue) and told of the Christian influences of his home, his call to India when but a boy and his response to that call when he became a man. "India," he said, "is a land of intense heat, torrid rains, a land of villages of peoples of culture."

In India religion permeates the whole life. When a Telugu becomes a Christian he is transformed, not only in soul, but in appearance, in manners and in speech, so that the low caste may be mistaken for the high caste. The people of India need the gospel, and they want the gospel, and are always respectful when they hear the story of Christ.