Withheld Tax Files Probed By Committee

OTTAWA (CP)—Deputy Revenue Minister Gear McEntyre said that income tax files of three individuals withheld last year from Parliament's auditor-general contained "personal and confidential" correspondence by former revenue minister Nowlan.

He told the Commons public accounts committee that this was one factor in his department's refusal—later backed up by Mr. Nowlan's instructions—to let officials of Auditor-General Maxwell Henderson see the files.

Mr. McEntyre said that Mr. Nowlan, now finance minister, "seeme concerned that the auditor-general should see this correspondence."

The committee was also told by Mr. Henderson that the three cases were the only ones in 16 years where access to tax files had been refused to his audit inspectors.

Mr. Nowlan—not at Tuesday's committee hearing—told reporters last week that some of the files involved members of Parliament.

However, Committee Chairman Alan Macnaughton (L—Montreal Mount Royal) Tuesday ruled out a direct question by Reid Scott NDP—Toronto-Danforth) as to whether the three cases involved MPs.

Mr. Macnaughton said the question can be put to Mr. Nowlan when he attends a later committee meeting. Mr. Scott protested that Mr. Nowlan's statement to reporters put all MPs "under a cloud."

The 2½-hour committee hearing Tuesday was spent in probing into the background of the statement in the auditor-general's report last week that he had been denied access to three files involving income taxes owed back to 1954.

In the three cases, the cabinet's treasury board had approved a move to collect taxes due by withholding other payments owing to the three taxpayers.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	4♣	5♦	Pass
6♦	Pass	7♠	Pass

Opening lead—queen of clubs.

Any time your side has as many as 33 high - card points, the chances are good that you can make a small slam. With as many as 37 points, you can probably make a grand slam.

Of course, many slams can be made with less points, provided there is unbalanced distribution and the cards fit well. Such hands usually require greater bidding skill, however, since point count assumes a relatively minor role in these cases and good judgment takes over.

Look at this hand from a team match in which both North - South pairs adequately met their obligations.

At the first table the bidding went as shown. South bid a diamond and West preempted with four clubs in an effort to disrupt enemy communications. North, with a fine diamond fit, jumped to five diamonds.

South, making use of the grand slam force convention, bid five notrump. This requested North to bid seven diamonds if he had any two of the three top trump honors. South was willing to undertake a grand slam if this was the case. North dutifully bid seven diamonds, which was made with ease, and North-South thus scored 2,140 points.

The grand slam was not reached at the second table—but for a peculiar reason. The bidding started this way:

South	West	North	East
1♠	2♣	3♦	3♥
3♠	Pass	4♠	Pass
4♥	Pass	6♦

At this point East doubled. It wasn't a good double, especially in view of South's euchid in hearts, which showed a probable void. East apparently counted on West to have a better hand for his vulnerable overcall of two clubs.

South, who had planned to bid seven diamonds ever six now redoubled instead. As a result, North-South didn't reach the laydown grand slam, but it did them no harm whatever. They made the redoubled contract with an overtrick and scored 2,180 points, thus gaining 40 points on the deal.

Joey Expects Nfld. Power Will Be Used In New York

By ED WALTERS

HALIFAX (CP) — Premier Smallwood of Newfoundland has said he would be "greatly surprised" if in five years electric power from Labrador's Hamilton Falls was not driving subway trains in Manhattan.

Addressing more than 400 delegates from 10 provinces attending the National House Builders Association annual convention here, Mr. Smallwood predicted that in five years electric power from Hamilton Falls would be in use in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario and New York.

He said the falls would produce 4,000,000 horsepower of electricity and a further 3,000,000 horsepower could be produced from other watersheds in Labrador.

The premier said if the 7,000,000 horsepower of electricity were sold for four mills (four-tenths of a cent) a kilowatt hour the daily income would be $500,000.

The 305-foot Hamilton Falls with its watershed could turn out to be Canada's richest asset, he said. The watershed covers 22,000 square miles, about the same size as Nova Scotia.

Mr. Smallwood said the potential riches in Labrador power, iron and timber would give Newfoundland an opportunity to contribute to Canada's welfare.
