NEW YORK — While prices continue to soar, women are sewing their own. The home dressmaking movement has grown up leaps and bounds until the National Needlecraft Bureau estimates that there are now 23,000,000 home sewers.

Sewing has been called the nation's number one hobby. As the caterers study the needs of these 23,000,000 women and persuade more of them to try this money-saving hobby, manufacturers of "little things" have been hard at work.
