GOOD NEWS FOR ISLAND FOX MEN

Mr. J. D. Forbes Managing Director of the London Fur Sales, Ltd., brings reassuring news to Island foxmen that there is every prospect of a good demand for silver fox skins this winter. The war in Ethiopia will not materially affect the fur industry and there is every indication that a peaceful settlement of the trouble will be reached in the near future.

Mr. Forbes arrived in Summerside from Halifax on Tuesday evening direct from London, with a stop at Newfoundland. He was connected with the Hudsons Bay Fur Company for 27 years and is well informed on every phase of the fur industry.

Speaking of the recent sale in London, he remarked that the quantity of skins offered was 10,000, as compared with 24,000 last year, and these have been practically cleaned up so that there will be a clean slate to start this season's sales. Prices at the recent sale were 5 to 10 per cent higher than in the spring and the average price was $35,000 for ordinary skins. The market is steady and with last season's crop cleaned up ranchers can rest assured that there will be a great demand for pelts.

Reference is given in English and European markets to the darker skins as they are more suitable to the trade. Neck pieces are in more general demand in England and on the Continent and the half and three quarter silvers are more favored for this trade. Uarter silvers are used for trimmings and are also in good demand. The silver fox fur still holds preeminence in the fur trade.

Mr. Forbes says there is no need to worry that the trouble in Italy will reduce the demand for pelts as Italy is a very small factor in the fur business. England and France can absorb most of the market while other nations taking the remainder.

Speaking of general conditions in England Mr. Forbes says British industry has come back very fast within the last two years. Liberals and Labour are solidly behind the government in connection with the trouble with Italy and Ethiopia. The British people are quite calm and in accord with the firm stand that the British Government has taken. Everyone feels that a peaceful settlement will be reached; but should that not be the case, the trouble will be only local, and will not materially affect business.

Mr. Forbes was agreeably surprised to find a new permanent highway between Summerside and Charlottetown, which makes travelling on the Island a pleasure, especially at this time of year when the foliage is so beautiful—S.

BESSBOROUGH PAYS TRIBUTE TO BENNETT

(By Guardian's Special Wire)
LONDON, Oct. 24.—The Earl of Bessborough, speaking at a dinner tendered him by the Canadian Club, urged that more people travel between Great Britain and Canada and paid warm tribute to Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and Prime Minister-elect Mackenzie King.

The Earl, who has just completed a term as Governor-General of Canada, recalled with approval the suggestion made by Premier Baldwin at the Ottawa Imperial Conference of 1932 for exchange of civil servants between Whitehall and Ottawa.

Referring to the question of mutual understanding between the peoples of Britain and Canada, the Earl said he thought it would be of great advantage if many more people undertook the journey between the two countries. Mentioning the occasional organized visits of young folk to Canada, he said their youth and enthusiasm made them ambassadors of goodwill.

The former Governor-General paid tribute to the goodwill shown to him by Canadians. He owed a great deal to the assistance of Lady Bessborough.

"If any of the many kind things said about us in Canada are true, the credit is due entirely to my wife," he said.

Mr. Bennett, he declared, was respected by people of all political parties in Canada. The Earl described Mr. Bennett as a prodigious worker, of phenomenal memory and great ability, with a particular knowledge of financial and legal questions.

"During my time in Canada—one of unexampled depression—difficult problems presented themselves continuously, some of them of great urgency. However burdened or exhausted by the care of office, I always found Mr. Bennett in our personal relations most patient and considerate, ever ready to give his best in any question that arose—a staunch and loyal friend for whom no pains were too great to help his friends."

The former Governor-General recalled that when he arrived in Canada "the first thing that Mr. Mackenzie King said to me was that if there was anything the opposition could do to assist me he was entirely at my disposal. In the year that followed he was as good and better than his word. Our personal relations at all times were of the most delightful character."

Ovation to Mr. Ferguson
Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in London, was given an ovation by the gathering. He paid tribute to the great public services of the Earl of Bessborough in Canada.

"He lived up to the highest ideals of British public service and exercised an influence steady in effect and helpful in guiding Canada through one of the most depressing periods in history."

He also paid tribute to Lady Bessborough and said "the crowning achievement of the Bessboroughs was the production of a young Canadian" (A son was born to their Excellencies at Montreal in 1931).

J. H. Thomas, Dominion Secretary, likewise commended the Earl for his remarkable public service and devotion.

Referring to the ovation paid Mr. Ferguson, he said: "We are not unmindful of the changes which must necessarily occur, but I would be
