RIPLEY'S BELIEVE IT OR NOT

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

You are the dealer, both sides vulnerable, and have opened One Heart. Partner has responded Two Clubs. What would you now bid with each of the folowing four hands?

1. ♠KJ7 ♥AQ984 ♦KJ3 ♣63
2. ♠10 ♥AKJ762 ♦3 ♣KJ863
3. ♠AKJ4 ♥KQJ953 ♦J ♣Q6
4. ♠AQ ♥KQJ6 ♦KJ53 ♣K72

1. Two hearts. Since an opening bid of one in a suit may have a point-count range of 12 to 21 points, the opener is under obligation to identify as soon as possible whether his hand is of minimum, medium, or maximum proportions. This he can usually do on his first rebid by making a signoff bid with a minimum hand, a strong (invitational) rebid with a medium-sized hand, and a foreing bid with a maximum hand.

The signoff bid usually takes the form of a simple repetition of the suit previously bid. In the hand on view, the two heart rebid reflects the values held—a hand of the minimum class . A two no trump rebid would show greater strength—16 or 17 ponts — and could lead to an unmakable contract.

2. Four clubs. This is a distinct underbid, considering the distributional values and the excellent trump fit, but there is method to the madness. Blackwood cannot be used because partner may have only one ace and would have to bid five diamonds to show it, which would make a five club which wuld make a five club contract impossible to reach. By bidding only four clubs instead of five, we permit partner to use Blackwood and allow him to investigate for aces if that is the key to the best final contract.

3. Two spades. Although there is clearly and strongly a preference for hearts as trump, the possibility of finding a spade fit should not be ignored. Partner will know that the longer suit is hearts since it was named first.

At the same time, partner will also learn that we have considerably better than a minimum opening because the suits were bid in reverse order. A better picture of the nature of the distribution is drawn by bidding two spades than by jumping to three hearts.

4. Three notrump. This is the perfect bid to describe the balanced distribution as well as the highcard content of the hand. There is not much point to showing the diamonds or raising the clubs.

A two notrump rebid would show only 16 or 17 points. Partner is not compelled to bid over two notrump, though he is being urged to do so. The jump to three notrump is usually based on 18 or 19 points. It has the merit of not only assuring that a game contract is reached but also of alerting partner to the possibility of a slam.

Cannons Sound Salute To Phillip

LONDON (CP) — London unfurled its flags while cannon fire on land and sea saluted Prince Philip Wednesday on his 38th birthday.

The Royal Navy particularly took note of the day. His ship and shore batteries fired salutes at noon, and naval vessels in harbors broke out their pennants. Philip is an admiral of the fleet.

It was a no - appointment day for the prince, who remained within Buckingham Palace with the Queen. Many of the messages of congratulations made reference to the fact that his real birthday falls this year in the same week as the Queen's official birthday on Saturday, when she will be the central figure of the annual ceremony of trooping the color. The Queen's real birthday was April 21, when she became 33.

British newspapers, extending congratulations, refer approvingly to the lusty vigor the sailor prince brings to his task as escort and assistant to the queen.

POMP WITHOUT POWER

His, says the Evening Standard, is "the most contradictory position in the world," since he has "pomp without power."

But while no specific functions are assigned to him it was agreed that his lively interest in science, industry and youth welfare, and the uninhibited nature of his speeches, have made the monarchy a live force in the Commonwealth.

He and the Queen will start their six-weeks, 15,000-mile Canadian tour in a fortnight.

The prince Wednesday received an unusual birthday present—a portrait of his grandfather, Prince Louis of Battenberg, which has been hanging for the last four years in a London public-house.

The portrait was handed over to Prince Philip's treasurer, Rear Admiral C. Bonham - Carter, at Buckingham Palace by the publican, John Hussey, and Harry Hodgson, the "regular" who first became interested in the gold-framed oval portrait hanging in the saloon bar.

BACK STAMPED

Hodgson said that when he found stamped on the back Windsor Castle, Inventory 1872 and Queen's Personal Property, he took the matter up with the palace.

Later "we were told that Prince Philip has been pleased to accept back the painting."

Hussey said he bought the picture about five years ago for £30 from an intique shop.

Prince Louis was first sea lord when war broke out in 1914. Suspicion fell on him because of his German origin and he voluntarily resigned.

By royal request he gave up his overseas titles in 1917, assumed the surname Mountbatten, and entered the peerage as the Marquess of Milford Haven.

WELLINGTON

The death of Joseph J.B. Arsenault of Abram's Village occurred recently at Beach Grove in Charlottetown.

Mrs. Dan MacLeod is a patient in the Prince County Hospital.

Mr. Roy MacCausland has been confined to his home with pneumionia.
