IN MEMORIAM

RONALD MacDONALD

On September 9th, 1957 for the second time in four weeks death entered the home of Mrs. James F. MacDonald of Bristol, and claimed the life of her beloved fifteen year old grandson Ronnie, Ronald Francis MacDonald, after but a few hours illness caused by an infected hand.

He was removed to the Souris Hospital on Sunday where he passed away Monday at noon. So sudden was the call that it saddened all hearts in the whole district. On August 12th, Ronnie as an altar boy had assisted at the funeral of his grandfather, who also passed away suddenly.

He was born in Halifax, N.S., a son of Frank and the late Mrs. MacDonald, when but two years of age he and his baby sister Linda, came to live with loving grandparents. He was a most lovable boy and a favorite with all who knew him. His short life was a happy one, sheltered in the fold of loving hearts and arms in a happy home.

His funeral on Sept. 12th was largely attended and was conducted by the Hennessey Funeral directors. Burial took place in the Little Flower Cemetery in Morell, from a Requiem High Mass sung by his pastor, Rev. Eric Robin.

Ronnie is survived by his father and two sisters, Joan in Halifax and Linda of Bristol besides his grandmother and several aunts and uncles.

Beautiful flowers surrounded the little form that only a few short hours before was such an active little boy, assuring his grandmother that he would work for her now and help her. Many messages of sympathy, mass cards, and telegrams were received by the family. R.I.P.

Plan Joint Mail Research

OTTAWA (CP) — Postmaster General William Hamilton announced Thursday that Canada, the United States and Britain this month will launch a joint long-term research program to improve machinery and equipment for handling mail.

He told the Commons the project will start in Washington Tuesday with meetings lasting two weeks. Five senior officials of the post office department, headed by G.A. Boyle, deputy minister, will make up the Canadian delegation

Mr. Hamilton said for some time Canada, the U.S. and Britain have been studying the development of new machinery and equipment, particularly in the electronic field, to improve mail sorting and other postal operations.

There had been discussions among the three countries on mail handling problems but no joint review of development work in each country.

After the Washington meeting, officials of the three countries would study mail-sorting methods now used in Canada, Canadian officials would visit Britain and the continent early next year for similar studies.

Mr. Hamilton said the conference and studies will result in closer co-operation by the three countries in the development of mail-handling equipment. The interchange of ideas would enable each to concentrate on those areas in which it was farthest advanced and to benefit from developments in the other countries.

"The net result will be a substantial forward move over the next few years in more effective and modern handling of mail in Canada and the other nations concerned."

NO WAR

BERLIN (Reuters) — Nikita Khrushchev Sunday night told an East German delegation in Moscow there will be no war in Europe unless Germany fights Russia. "because there are so many forces in Europe which could begin a war," the Communist newspaper Vorwaerts reported Monday.

BEN-GURION RELEASED

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier David Ben-Gurion was discharged from hospital Tuesday, two weeks after he suffered leg and arm injuries during the Knesset (parliament) bombing. Doctors said his condition is gradually improving but he still is leaving his limped left leg and walking unaided.

Central Presbytery United Young People Hold Rally

"God has freely given us blessings and talents and expects us to use them in service to Him and fellow men, stated rev. Douglas Earle of Tryon in addressing the Young people of Central Presbytery United Churches at their fall rally on Saturday in Rose Valley.

Basing his timely remarks on the 25th chapter of St. Matthew, the parable of the talents he pointed out how thankful we should be for healthy, complete bodies, the ability to learn, the choice of friends, our homes and our heritage.

"After the pattern of the parable we too must give an account of ourselves as stewards of the Master before Him." Mr. Earle concluded. He was assisted in the evening worship by Alberta Todd and Elaine Nicholson of the Rose Valley Union. Katherine Poole of Travellers Rest was organist.

Other features of the evening session were summaries of Presbytery activities at the A.C.T.C. summer leadership education course and weekend camp by Frances Craig of Bedeque, the island Y.P.U. weekend camp at Augustine Cove by Edward Pearson, Bedeque, and the annual fall Maritime convention in Halifax given by Vance Bridge, Ernest Murphy and Richard Veale of Summerside Union.

EDITOR

David Whiston, one of four retiring officers present, outlined his duties and responsibilities as convenor and editor of the Young Peoples Page in the United Churchman. He spoke of the need of each local union to contribute material which is useful in presenting a strong, interesting page. Earlier he clearly outlined the 1958 National Council Y.P.U. meeting plans for Mr. Allison, Sackville in August. He urged the rally to again have at least one delegate at council. This will be the first time that the meeting has been held east of Ontario. So it is hoped to see a large delegation from the Maritimes.

David MacDonald of Charlottetown, Maritime President, was a special visitor to the rally. In his address, he brought Christian greeting from conference and praised the work of local officers.

He was pleased to note that seven unions were represented at the rally, including the newly organized one in Cavendish, under the leadership of Rev. Allison, Bayley. He dealt at length with the Advance, its origin, meaning, and value, as a basis to our growing needs for spiritual enrichment and membership advancement. He urged each group to adopt the plan, noting the fact that "Young Peoples" should be alive, vital part in the life of every young person, not a hot dog stand, games corner, or a hotbed out club for a few as an excuse.

Other brief remarks were given by honorary president, Rev. G.A. Cowper-Smith, Bedeque. Rev S.H. Raynor pastor of the host church, Rev. Arthur Holland's home, from Nova Scotia, and Rev. Allison Haley of Cavendish. Local president Arthur Craig was the chairman for the evening session which began with a sing-song.

TOKYO

The afternoon sessions were conducted by vice - president Vance Bridges, and secretary - treasurer Katherine Poole. Minutes and financial statement were approved as presented. Ernest Murphy gave a preview of the 1958 World Christian education meeting to be held in Tokyo, stating the Y.P.U. had approved sending one delegate from the Maritimes and that applications were invited from this area. He also directed a demonstration of Bible baseball.

Several members took part in a role playing feature. They acted out make - believe situations in Y.P.U. meetings. Showing the advantages and disadvantages of prepared and unprepared worship services, programs and business meetings.

Congratulations were expressed to Bill Callbeck on his election as registrar of the Maritime Conference, and to Mona Mayhew for attending the current winter course at A.C.T.C. Both are Presbytery officers.

Dorothy MacKenzie and Audrey Cameron of Rose Valley acted as registrars. The open worship service was led by two members of the Summerside Union, Carl Millar and Sheila Bridges. Members of the Rose Valley Union served lunch at the supper hour.

The rally theme was "Freely Ye Have Received, Freely Give," from the national Y.P.U. Week, which ja to be held across Canada, November 17 to 24 this year.

Witnesses Hold Training Meet

The three-day training program held by Jehovah's witnesses in O'Leary was a great success. This was the opinion of the delegates as they returned to their homes on all parts of Prince Edward Island.

Long to be remembered was the thought-provoking address, "What are the Prospects for Lasting Peace!" delivered by Mr. Laurier Saumur, District Supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses.

"Strange world this! The civilized people to-day know more about killing than about living; more about war than peace." These stirring opening words let the audience realize from the start that they were in for a factual discourse. "The majority of men desire peace," he continued, "but a few do not. Powerfulmingly dictatorial quasi or real estate regardless of the cost, but common people have inborn desiruntil Worldwide peace." The audience made up of persons of good-will of mixed faiths were told the whole universe will yet realize lasting peace, for God has promised to bring it to pass. (Isaiah 45: 12-18). As a positive solution for the world's unrest, Mr. Saumur pointed out God's Kingdom to be the remedy. It is a heavenly government ruling as its king, Christ Jesus (Isaiah 32: 1). Not man's promises but God's word is the basis of the certain prospects for peace in our day "word sent." Mr. Saumur pointed out, "emphasize the nearness of God's mighty acts when God's kingdom government will remove all warmongers," and pointed to Jesus' prophecy at Matthew 24 for proof. Strong encouragement was given to the audience to investigate the message of the peaceful world now being preached worldwide by Jehovah's Witnesses.

The well attended assembly carried the theme 'Qualified to Teach' as it stressed the need for the good news of lasting peace the Bible promises to be delivered in a most effective way.
