Annual Report Of the Y. M. C. A.

We have just finished a year in which the word re-construction has been very prominent in all the various realms of society and business and we can consider it also a fitting word to apply in relation to our work. We have had a most successful year in many ways and right in the beginning of this report we wish to offer thanks to God for his guidance and for the measure of prosperity which we have enjoyed.

FINANCIAL

As the financial statement will show, we have, owing in a large measure to the Campaign of May and June last, gone away beyond any amount ever raised before; in fact more than doubling the amount laid down in the budget for the year.

THE BUILDING

Extensive repairs have been made in the building during the year. Aside from the new heating plant which was installed in 1919 and paid for in this year, a new hardwood floor was laid in the gymnasium by the ladies auxiliary and paid for by them. In October and November the building was completely gone over, minor improvements and repairs made and a new locker room built.

PHYSICAL WORK

Under the direction of W. E. Scantlebury the physical work has been well looked after, large classes and increasing interest being shown. A printed schedule of classes was distributed to all members. We might mention especially the Church League started in October, which has so revived the interest in Basketball that our gymnasium would not hold all the spectators on many of the nights during the last three months.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

Our Educational Work has been confined mostly to the splendid reading room and library of books. A supply of the best in newspapers and magazines are always on hand and the reading room is in daily use by a large number of members. Special educational talks were given at the schools by visiting National Secretaries Fowler and Smith during November. The largest part of our Educational work has been in the list of splendid addresses given by leading business and professional men of the city to our Tuxis and Trail Rangers groups.

RELIGIOUS WORK

The whole of our work is religious in spirit. Our name Young Men's Christian Association indicates its real character and the ultimate aim and object of all our activities.

We might mention particularly under this head, however, Bible and mission study meetings led by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clarke at which there was an average of 90 students every Saturday during the first three or four months of the year. Bible study exams given in the C. S. E. T. work. A mass meeting in the Prince Edward Theatre on May 2nd addressed by Mr. L. A. Buckley on "The Boy and The Community."

The contribution made by Mr. J. H. Fowler's visit in October, when he occupied two pulpits on Sunday and addressed several meetings of students.

A Sunday morning Bible Study class for students led by the general Secretary.

THE CO-OPERATIVE BOYS WORK PROGRAM

We have been able to continue the work in a co-operative way with the churches in the promotion of the C. S. E. T. program for Tuxis and Trail Rangers classes. These classes meet in their own Sunday Schools on Sunday and at the Y. M. C. A. on Tuesday and Friday nights. We can only summarize the program and activities which cover the four-fold life of the boy.

Meeting held for Trail Rangers 30.

Meetings held for Tuxis Squares 31.

Approximate number of boys reached 90 consisting of 5 Trail Rangers Camps and 3 Tuxis

No. writing Bible Study exams in April '20, 59.

Socials and suppers held 6.

Summer Camp held for Tuxis Boys (in attendance) 30.

Delegates sent to Montague Boys Conference 12.

Practical talks debates etc. 25.

Participation in the National Athletic Contest.

We owe thanks to the following men for their interest in the program and for addresses given. This list does not include the mentors.—Revs. G. W. F. Glendenning, S. C. Taylor and Porter, Dr. Dewar, Col. R. H. Campbell, Ex-Governor McKinnon, Lts. Keith Rogers and Ronald Stewart, Messrs J. A. McMillan, A. A. Pomeroy, Percy Pope, Albright, L. A. Buckley, A. M. Gregg, J. F. Smith, Hammond Johnsin, J. P. Gordon, R. T. Jenkins, Mr. Hum, chinese secretary from Montreal and the General Secretary.

THE STAFF

Early in the year the Board decided that the work was important enough to keep a Secretary on full time busy. Negotiations were started which resulted in the securing of the present Secretary Mr. G. H. Gorbell who started work on the first day of September.

Mr. J. A. McDougall who has been assisting with the building work for the past three years in still on the staff and is to be commended for his faithfulness and the geniality of his spirit.

Mr. W. Scantlebury who has been Physical Director for part time during several years past is once more on the job and is conducting the regular classes in the gymnasium.

THE LADIES AUXILIARY

As mentioned above the Ladies Auxiliary have assisted greatly by laying of a new floor in the gymnasium and also in the renovation of the Reading room. The ladies have also contributed $200.00 to the current funds of the Association and have been ever ready to furnish suppers or refreshments at social times. The Physical Committee appreciate their efforts in giving the Church league teams a splendid banquet and in the supplying of refreshments on two or three nights to the players after the games.

THE MEMBERSHIP

The membership of the Association today is bigger than at any time in its history as the report of that Committee will show. We have lost several valued members thriugh removal from the city. We regret to have to report the death of Mr. E. Rice and of a junior member Chester Curtis.

As an Association we feel that we should express the most sincere thanks to the Rotarian Club for their support during the Campaign of last May and June and the fine way that they have worked for the interests of the Boy life of our city.

We cannot close this report without expressing our grateful thanks to all who have helped us during the past year. To the Directors who have stood so loyally behind all the work, to the press and pulpit and to all our contributors who have so generously supported the work of this Association.

Respectfully submitted

G. H. Gorbell, W. S. LOUSON.

Comb Sage Tea in Hair to Darken it

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO KEEP HER LOCKS DARK, GLOSSY, BEAUTIFUL

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening grey, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the grey hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.

MRS. YOUNG COULDN'T WALK UP THE STAIRS

HALIFAX WOMAN SUFFERED TEN LONG YEARS AND WAS ALMOST BEYOND HOPE --- TANLAC COMPLETELY RESTORES HEALTH

"I have overcome ten years of trouble and gained ten pounds in weight by taking Tanlac" said Mrs. Edward Young, who lives at 199 Grafton Street, Halifax, N. S.

"My experiences show there can be no mistake about Tanlac being a wonderful medicine. When I began taking it I was almost beyond hope. When I would lie down something would rise in my throat and choke me so I would have to get up at once. What little sleep I got by night or by day was while I was sitting in a chair. I ate scarcely enough to keep alive, and even then I suffered tortures almost beyond description, from pains in the chest and under the shoulder blades. I also had attacks of palpitation of the heart and shortness of breath.

"I grew so weak I had to hire a woman to help me about the house as I couldn't walk up or down stairs. I was nervous and miserable all the time and finally went to the country and stayed six weeks but it did me no good. My husband had been helped by Tanlac so I took it too and the result was simply a revelation to me. I don't feel like the same person, now. I have a splendid appetite and my digestion is perfect. I am so strong I am doing all my own work again and can actually run up and down the stairs.

"I don't dread to see night come like I used to and drop off to sleep almost as soon as I lay my head upon the pillow, and sleep all night long. My health is entirely restored and Tanlac deserves the whole credit. It certainly must be the best medicine in the world."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. . Mabon, J. P. White, Murray River, H. M. Chisholm, North Tryon, R. H. Coohon, Murray Harbor Lord's Company, Borden, Lord's Company, Cape Traverse and Lord's Company, Carleton, J. W. McEwen, Bristol, A. J. McNevin, Bonshaw.

Sunday School Lesson

but the king's compassion, is the reason for the gift surpassing the narrow limits of human hopes. The undeserved exuberance of God's mercy, which shames our small petitions by its overlapping abundance, and delights to surprise with the excess of its answers, and to blot out all debts, is the great lesson of the second part of this picture as the unmeasurableness of man's sin is the first.

Note the change of the forgiven debtor into an unforgiving creditor (vv. 28-30.) The transformation is instantaneous. He dries his tears, gets up from his knees, forgets his agony, and goes out to take his fellow-servant by the throat. If he had cared to stay beside the king, he could not have done it The picture is painted in few, but most significant, strokes. Notice the brutal truculence of the half-throttling grasp, and of the brusque demand, "If you owe, pay." Notice the smallness of the debt. The parable sets a rule-of-three sum: as is twelve million pounds to seventeen and a half pounds, so are our offences against one another. We can do woefully unkind things to men, but they are all nothing in comparison with what we do to God.

Many real and imperfect Christians have got the length of looking to the forgiving love of God in Christ as their only hope, but not of looking to it as their imperative example. Their minds are like ocean-going steamers, built in water-tight compartments, and the gospel which is stored in one has not reached all the rest. There is no real forgiveness without previous experience of God's. There should be no real experience of God's without immediately subsequent imitation of it; but though there should not be, there is. The forgiven, unforgiving servant, has his successors to-day.

Of course, there is forgiveness for every sin, and [illegible] sin too; but if truly forgiven, it will be abjured. Of course, the meaning of the parable is not that one such act forfeits the kingdom; but that the tendency of every such act is always towards losing the grace bestowed. Forgiveness received is a condition precedent to Christian exercise of forgiveness to our debtors, and forgiveness to our debtors is a condition of retaining the blessedness of forgiveness received. Many a professing Christian has but little conscious grasp of the blessing of God's love, because he does not make that love his pattern, and hence loses the joy of it as his hope.—From "The Gospel of St. Matthew."
