AUTO CRUSHED BETWEEN LOCOMOTIVES

This snarled wreckage is all that is left of an auto in which two men were crushed to death in Detroit Sunday. The car after being hit by a slow moving Grand Trunk switch engine was wedged in a four-foot space between the switch engine and another engine standing on the next track. The dead men were identified as Piotre Dormott, 50, and Alexander Szyzzlo, both of Detroit. (AP Wirephoto)

E. Germans Back Moscow In Quarrel With Chinese

By JACK ALTMAN

EAST BERLIN (Reuters) — Communist China's delegation to the East German Communist Party Congress starting Tuesday flew in here Sunday as the East Germans made their first direct public reference to the Moscow-Peking ideological conflict.

The East Gerham Communist party newspaper Neues Deutschland lines up behind Moscow, stirring speculation that East Germany's leaders may play a bigger role in ideological discussions at the six-day congress than heretofore expected.

Neues Deutsehland declares the Chinese Communists and their allies, the Albanians "are playing a dangerous game and must be opposed with all determination." The front - page editorial also says it is "unfortunate that our Chinese comrades are defending the Albanian dogmatists and sectarians."

K DELAYS ARRIVAL

Delegations from all over the Communist world poured into East Berlin for the congress starting Tuesday. But Soviet Premier Khrushchev, who has been having secret talks in Poland with Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka, appeared to be delaying his arrival until the last moment.

Gomulka is regarded as Khrushchev's closest ally in the ideological conflict with China over "peaceful coexistence." The 68-year-old Kremlin leader was thought by diplomatic circles to be co-ordinating his ideas with Gomulka on a practical presentation of the Soviet side of the controversy.

Meanwhile, the East German news agency ADN announced that Karl Mewis has been dismissed and replaced by Erich Apel as head of the East German Planning Commission.

The agency said the replacement was approved Saturday by a plenary session of the central committee of East Germany's Socialist Unity (Communist) party.

CRISIS GROWING

East Berlin Observers considered the move as probably the first of a series in a drastic reorganization in state planning in industry and agriculture that was expected as a result of East Germany's growing economic crisis.

The 45-year-old Apel is head of the Communist party's Politburo Economic Commission. He is recognized among Communist experts here as one of the coming men in the East German party leadership.

The dismissal of the 55-year-old Mewis, who became head of the State Planning Commission in July, 1961, with the rank of minister, seemed to observers here to mean that his commission would bear the main blame for not reaching economic plan targets in the last two years.

These failings are expected to be aired at the congress.

Some saw the unity of international Marxism at stake as the three-man Chinese delegation arrived under the leadership of Wu Hsiu-Chuan, the central committeeman who led Peking's delegations to the recent Bulgarian, Hungarian and Czechoslovak Communist party congresses.

TITO SENDS ENVOYS

In a historic trip, a two-member Yugoslav delegation left Belgrade by train for East Berlin to attend the congress. It will be the first delegation to represent the Tito regime at a Communist party congress of the Soviet bloc since Yugoslavia's explusion from the bloc in 1948 during the Stalin era.

Communist diplomatic sources here continued to express the belief the congress might put the Moscow-Peking tussle on a "more practical level" with Khrushchev perhaps disclosing a major new Berlin proposal for the West as a positive demonstration of his "peaceful coexistence" policy.

There was speculation Khrushchev might elaborate on his recently expressed willingness to agree to troops in West Berlin if they served under the United Nations flag. One suggestion was that he might propose a UN role in Berlin that would include control over access routes to the East German-surrounded divided city from West Germany.

COULD WIN APPROVAL

Communist sources said that this move, coupled with a declaration of solidarity with East Germany's claims to international recognition of its sovereignty and national boundaries, could win Khrushchev a gesture of approval from the congress that would strengthen his hand against the Chinese.

East Berlin mayor Friedrich Ebert, a Communist Politburo member, said today a German peace treaty removing West Berlin's "occupation regime" of American, British and French forces and making West Berlin a "free city" was a precondition for the rapprochement between East and West Germany.

(In London, the British Communist party called on Russia and China to "end their squabbling" and asked for an international conference to restore unity in the world Communist movement.)

Angus Beef Breeders Invited To Meet Here

The Canadian Aberdeen Angus Beef Breeders Association will be invited to hold its annual meeting here in 1964 as part of Centennial celebrations, it was learned last night from Leo P. McIsaac, who was elected president of the Maritime Angus Breeders Association at the annual meeting held Saturday in Fredericton, N.B. The Maritime breeders will definitely hold their meeting here next year, he said.

Mr. McIsaac also said that a Maritime futurity sale of choice Angus breeding stock will probably be held here next autumn, although no definite decision has been reached.

Enthusiastic about his breed, Mr. McIsaac said that the Aberdeen Angus has expanded to become the second-largest beef breed in Canada at the end of 1962.

Dr. Alex George, Antigonish, is vice-president of the Maritime association and Mrs. Flora MacEachern, Maugerville, N.B. is secretary-treasurer. Directors include Borge Wilson, Brookfield, N.S.; Herb Gill, Fredericton, N.B.; Edward Chown, Collins, N.B., and Erool Stetson, O'Leary, P.E.I.

Alex Lacombe, Bedford, N.S., and Hazen MacEachern of Fredericton, N.B., were nominated for the post of Maritime director, and one of them will be chosen by a mail vote.

Maritime Show To Be Discussed

The executive of the Maritime Championship Show will meet here Jan. 22 to discuss with the directors of the P.E.I. Exhibition Association the staging of the first Maritime Show which will replace, temporarily at least, the Maritime Winter Fair which was held at Amherst until the buildings were destroyed by fire in 1958.

Livestock Director L.W. Roper and Allison Profitt, Freetown, who is vice-president of the exhibition association, attended an executive meeting in Fredericton, N.B., on the weekend, when the decision was made to meet here next week.

The show would bring together a maximum of 720 cattle, with 30 from each province in each of five dairy breeds, including Dual-Purpose Shorthorns, and the four beef breeds.

There will also be an exhibition of sheep and swine from the three provinces.

DIVERSITY

reached between the two countries.

The statement said the Canadians headed by Justice Minister Fleming "explained that the rapidly-growing labor force in Canada must largely find employment opportunities in secondary industries . . ."

And Japanese ministers, on the other hand, "stressed the importance to Japan of expanded foreign trade."

The Japanese want to export to Canada more manufactured goods such as machinery and sundries while Canada wants to expand its own industries in the same field.

These discrepancies are chiefly responsible for Japan's heavily-unfavorable trade balance with Canada. Japan imported $266,000,000 worth of Canadian goods in 1961 while exporting $117,000,000 worth to Canada.

SAID STRIKING SUCCESS

Fleming, reiterating that the conference was designed for exchange of views and information and not for negotiations of any specific problems, told a press conference he thought the meeting was "a striking success." Japan's chief delegate Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira said he agreed with Fleming.

The conference was the first of an annual two-country consultation on economic affairs born out of a meeting between Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda in July, 1961.

The next session was decided to be held in Ottawa, but no date has been set, Ohira said. Kyodo News Agency, however, stated that the session would be held in September.

The Canadian delegates were scheduled to leave for home Monday after an inspection trip to camera and electrical equipment plants in the Tokyo area. They will travel aboard an RCAF plane.

Toovey, 35, is married and has a baby son.

The picture was chosen from a London photographic agency. Next to it on the page is a picture of christening.

"The page is meant to be eyecatching," he said. "The church cannot stand aloof on the question of glamor."

Gunnar-McNamara Battle May Be Decided In Court

By GREG MacDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

After 46 days and two meetings the Gunnar Mining Ltd.-McNamara Corporation Ltd., battle was settled by shareholders Friday, although the courts may have the final word.

Gunnar shareholders voted 2,198,058 shares in favor of their company acquiring McNamara, compared with 450,100 against it.

The vote overwhelmingly defeated an oppposing faction led by Gunnar director Charles LaBine, who had been fighting to stop the move.

However, J. H. Wainberg, counsel for Charles, said he challenges every vote cast by Gunnar management and McNamara indirectly and "ask for them to segregate for consideration by the courts. . . ."

The meeting climaxed a fight begun Nov. 27 when Gunnar announced it planned to acquire McNamara for $16,000,000 and which split wide open Gunnar's LaBine family with Joseph, Gunnar president and a nephew of Charles, fighting to see it approved, and Charles determined to block it.

Shareholders were called to Toronto Wednesday to consider the matter but the meeting was adjourned to Friday when Mr. Wainberg made a motion to adjourn to April 16 until after the 1962 McNamara financial report was disclosed.

He demanded a poll be taken on the motion, and the meeting was adjourned until Friday so the count could be completed and each vote checked against an up-to-date shareholders register.

That motion was also defeated by shareholders on Friday.

1962 GOOD YEAR

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in its monthly issue Industry, says 1962 was a decidedly good year for Canada and most Canadians "in terms of economic growth and general prosperity."

It says the national economy demonstrated its strength and soundness by taking in its stride a stock market slide, a foreign exchange crisis, a stalemate election and the imposition of austerity measures.

"As a people, we earned, spent and saved more in 1962 than in any previous year. . . . All this provides a pretty healthy foundation for 1963 and, in truth, the outlook is bright."

COAL OUTLOOK

The outlook for the Canadian coal industry for 1963 is also brighter, says the chairman of the Canadian Coal Board.

C. L. O'Brian says developing energy demands make "virtually certain" an upturn in the industry this year.

He says the increasing demand for coal for thermal power generation is a factor of major importance in the industry's improving position.

"The growing feeling in the industry that the worst is over is reflected in a greater interest in improved efficiency of operation, in investigations into new markets and into research into new saleable products from coal."

The federal government announced Friday it is planning two new short-term bond issues totalling $350,000,000, with details of the new borrowing to be announced today.

The loan will be used to refund a $250,000,000 government-guaranteed issue for CNR bonds maturing Feb. 1, with the rest being used for general government purposes.

STRIKE HURTS

The New York newspaper strike is hurting Canadian pulp and paper producers.

Ontario Paper Co. Ltd. announced last week it is curtailing production to five from six days a week at its Thorold mill.

Quebec North Shore Paper Co. Ltd., an associated company, also announced a similar move at its Baie Comeau mill.

Company officials said inventories are building up because of the newspaper strike in New York where much of their newsprint is exported.

The curtailment affects about 1,100 works at Thorold and about 800 at Baie Comeau.

The address was delivered by Rev. H.L. Estabrooks pastor of Central Bedeque United Baptist Church. The theme of his inspiring address was "One Lord". Rev. Dr. Archibald pronounced the Benediction.

Mrs. Robert Affleck has been engaged to teach at the Central Bedeque school for the ensuing term, succeeding Mrs. Earle Leard who has resigned.

Arthur Murray and Harold Leard have returned to Mount Allison University to continue their studies. Mr. Leard had previously attended P.W.C. for four years and is to graduate with his B.A. in May. Mr. Murray is on his second year.

Eastern Conference Grabs Pro Bowl Tilt

LOS ANGELES (CP) — The long - overdue Eastern Conference frittered away a two-touchdown lead, then struck back for 17 points in a wild fourth period Sunday and whipped the Western Conference 30-20 in the 13th annual Pro Bowl All-Star Game of the National Football League.

The victory, watched by 61,374 in the sun-drenched but chilly Memorial Coliseum, snapped a three-game losing streak for the East and gave the men of New York's Allie Sherman, former Winnipeg Blue Bomber coach, a measure of respectability again in the series that began in 1951.

The Western Conference stars still lead 8-5 after having won five of the last six games until Sunday.

Ten points in a 10-second span actually made the difference for the Easterners. They had appeared ready to run the West off the field when a bruising ground game, triggered by player-of-the-game Jim Brown of Cleveland, took them to a 13-0 lead in the first quarter.

Later they were behind 20-13 and struggling to get up some kind of momentum against Vince Lombardi's fired-up Westerners.

New York's Y. A. Tittle, who generally had a rough afternoon with his passing, got the East back even early in the fourth quarter on a 19-yard scoring pass to Preston Carpenter of Pittsburgh.

The lightning struck with about four minutes left in the game.

A fumble by Johnny Unitas was recovered by Big Daddy Lipscomb. It gave the East the ball on the West 25. On fourth down, Lou Michaels kicked a 27-yard field goal that snapped a 20-20 tie.

On the kickoff Abe Woodson of San Francisco fumbled when he was hit hard by Cleveland's Galen Fiss and Don Bishop of Dallas grabbed the ball on the 20 and raced in for another East touchdown that wrapped it up.

Brown, who gained a record 141 yards, had scored the first two East touchdowns on a one-yard plunge and a 50-yard burst up the middle.
