Howard Waite Named President Of S'side Loop

SUMMERSIDE — Howard Waite was elected president of the Summerside Baseball League at a meeting held at CJRW last night. The retiring president is Dr. Hilland Clark. Gordon Kelly was elected vice-president, and Greg Deighan secretary-treasurer.

Noel Houle and Pete Green were appointed to attend the softball meeting at CJRW tonight and request that they lay aside the rule forbidding players to play both softball and baseball for one month on a trial basis

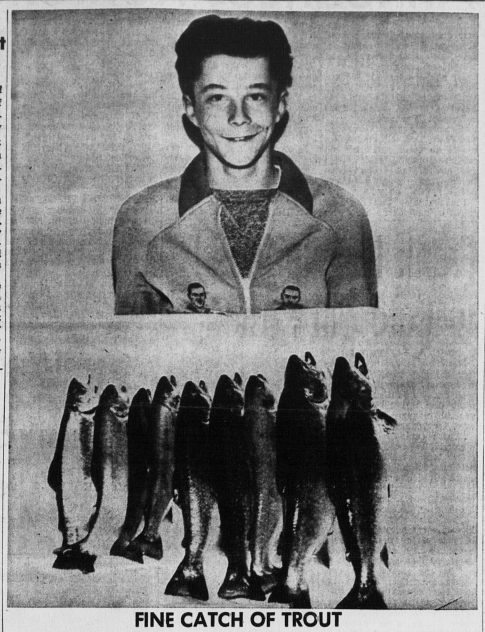
It was suggested that some baseball representatives from Summerside should attend a Charlottetown meeting to get their views on the possibility of an Island league or an interlocking schedule between the two centres.

N.S. Jockey Has Two Winners

TORONTO (CP)—Eric Walsh, 23 - year - old apprentice jockey from North Sydney, N.S., rode both halves of Wednesday afternoon's daily double races at Greenwood here to record the fifth and sixth victories of his riding career.

He won the first on Parkway Stable's Foxy Reward and the second on Bill Beasley's Hootenany Annie.

The young Bluenoser, who last year shared an apartment with another young rider from the Maritimes, champion jockey Ron Turcotte, now his fiery winner last July 18 at Finger Lakes, N.Y. He is under contract now to Beasley.



FINE CATCH OF TROUT

David Shepherd proudly displays the trout caught by his father, J.D. (Dellie) Shepherd, at North River causeway yesterday. Dellie landed nine trout with the two largest ones each weighing close to three pounds. Asked what he used for bait to attract these beauties, his answer was "gudgeons."

Arnie Palmer Gets Advice From Pappy Wednesday

By WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer got some advice from his pappy Wednesday—"Forget those outside interests and buckle down to golf."

The counsel had an implied warning tacked on: "Or Jack Nicklaus will get you."

"There's nothing wrong with Arnie's golf—he just has too many darned irons in the fire," Milfred (Deac) Palmer said in a telephone conversation from Latrobe, Pa.

"He's got to decide whether he wants to play golf or make television films with Bob Hope. With this boy Nicklaus coming along the way he is, Arnie can't do both.

"I think he's got all the money he needs. He ought to concentrate on his golf."

TAUGHT ARNOLD

Deac Palmer is professional of the sporty nine-hole Latrobe Country Club course where Palmer, the recognized king of the tournament pros, learned and developed his game.

"Pap," as Arnold calls his father, has been the golf star's only teacher. When his game starts going sour, Arnold always returns home and has his father put him back on the beam.

This happened after the Masters, in which Palmer's bid for a fourth title was thwarted by young Nicklaus, the imperturbable 22-year-old heavyweight who repeated the victory last week at Las Vegas. Now the game's two outstanding stars are at grips again in Colonial Invitation at Fort Worth, Tex.

"At the Masters, Arnie was using too closed a stance and wasn't getting his distance," Papa Palmer said. "We straightened him up some and turned him around more so he could get more whip in his drive. He was hitting the ball well when he left.

BOTHERED BY OUTSIDERS

"But Arnie's trouble is not his golf, it's all these outside interests. There's always a business deal that has to be completed or a television show that has to be made. Somebody's always on his back.

"Before, Arnie could do these things and win tournaments. He got by with it. But it's different now. Nicklaus is eager and wants to win. Also, he's young, strong as an ox and good. Nothing bothers him. He seems to get better when the pressure gets tougher.

"I don't think he's a better golfer than Arnie. In fact, I know he's not. But he just doesn't have as many distractions-not yet, anyhow."

Arnold Palmer, besides his golf, is director in a score of corporations and has business interests which reportedly gross him between $500,000 and $600,000 a year.

Rhodes Scholar Track Coach Dies Wed. At 31

HALIFAX (CP) — Rhodes Scholar William Walter (Bill) Haley, an outstanding sprinter and track coach, died in hospital here Tuesday night after a brief illness. He was 31.

Born in Halifax, Haley attended Dalhousie University and graduated with an engineering degree from the Nova Scotia Technical College. He was selected Nova Scotia Rhodes Scholar in 1954.

Credited with boosting track and field in Nova Scotia, Haley in his school days was a top sprinter.

He served on the British Empire Games selection committee and was one of six Canadians on the staff of the Royal Canadian Legion's school for student coaches at Guelph, Ont.

At the time of his death, Haley was president of the Halifax Track and Field Club, which he founded, and chairman of the track and field committee of the Nova Scotia branch of the Athletic Union of Canada.

Last month he was named supervisor of engineering for the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone company, where he began working after graduation. He is survived by his wife.

With an important role to play in the defence of Canada and the preservation of peace, the new ships, new weapons and new equipment of the Royal Canadian Navy offer new opportunities for young men to serve Canada in the Uniform of the RCN.

Navy life has its rugged aspects. But it also has its compensations and rewards: travel, good companions, first-class training in useful trades, free uniform and free medical and dental care.

To join the Navy you must be between 17 and 25 years of age, physically fit, with grade 8 education or better.

A Visit To Remember

FRANK Mahovlich has come and gone but those who saw and heard the Big M will not soon forget him.

He made a great impression on everyone and his visit to the province will surely be long remembered by all sportsminded folks. He displayed a mighty fine personality and his patience with the younger folk was the thing that really impressed us.

FRANK was never in a hurry when the kids gathered around him for autographs. He realized that it was a great moment for these lads and he never for a moment tried to spoil it. During the reception Tuesday night, they were crowding around him continually but he never came close to chasing them away. He was here for this very purpose and he fulfilled his job in the finest manner.

He was in great form during the question and answer period which followed the dinner. Here a great many youngsters fired good questions at The Big M and he answered all of them in a straight forward manner. The younger folk didn't hesitate one bit to get on their feet and let the questions go and we feel that Mahovlich's splended attitude at the reception made this come about.

The boys figured by this time that Frank was just a regular guy after all, despite the fact that he had won berths twice on the NHL all-star team.

THE SDU Boosters Club was indeed fortunate in procuring the service of the Maple Leafs' star for this first sportsmen's dinner. He proved an excellent selection and got things away for the club on a high plane.

Mahovlich surely did everything that was asked of him and nobody could ask for anything more. He left the province yesterday afternoon and he must have felt a real satisfaction about his task in Charlottetown.

As he looked back on Charlottetown from the air Wednesday he could indeed say with real justification: "Mission accomplished."

And indeed it was.

Red - Hot Race

IF your team was only two games off the pace, you figure your boys were right with the leaders.

Well, Los Angeles Angels found themselves yesterday exactly two games back of first place Boston Red Sox, yet they were 'mired' in seventh spot.

This gives you some idea of what kind of race is being waged in that American League. It's really fantastic the way things are going and the Red Sox and Kansas City Athletics refuse to fall apart.

Although the Athletics lost a tough one Tuesday night to Chicago White Sox, New York Yankees failed to go ahead of them. That came about when the floundering Detroit Tigers stopped floundering and beat the Bombers 6-2.

OF course, we aren't predicting that this kind of a race will continue for long in this junior circuit. It's too good to be true. You can't expect to hold these New Yorkers in check indefinitely but the other teams can't be blamed for hoping.

Even those Washington Senators, in the league basement, are a mere five games behind the frontrunners. Detroit Tigers, losing ball games with monotonous regularity, trail by only four and one-half lengths.

Naturally owners are hoping that the closeness continues for quite a spell yet. It's surely good for the clicking of turnstiles and you can't blame the money spenders for wanting to get at least some of the green stuff back.

And In The National

THE situation in the National League is also healthy. Eight place Cincinnati Reds are just five games back of the league leading San Francisco Giants and by the time you read this column that situation may be changed.

There are a whole lot of hopefuls in this circuit and we'd be hesitant about putting any money on any particular team. There are at least six clubs in Warren Giles's loop that have the license to go all the way and gain a world series berth.

It shapes up like a terrific race.

Early Closers Prove Popular

Fifty-four owners have nominated 148 horses for early closing events this season at Charlottetown Driving Park.

This information was released last night by E. Frank Acorn, race secretary and classifier at the local raceway.
