Inflation Becomes Public Topic In High; Low Places

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Inflation sometimes called a hateful harbinger of depression became a public topic for presidents as well as for housewives.

President Eisenhower told newspaper men that business and labor must show better sense for "their own long-range good" to slow the pace of wage and price increases.

"Any intelligent man can see the direction we will have to go unless there is some wisdom exercised" Eisenhower said.

The president said "controls of some kind" would be imposed unless restraint is shown by the men whose decisions guide the free economy. But administration spokesmen later took pains to make clear that the president is not yet thinking of price and wage controls.

VOICE FROM PAST

Eisenhower spoke only a few days after another president—a voice from the past in a sense—said the U.S. appears to be treading anew the disastrous path of 30 years ago.

Herbert Hoover U.S. president during boom and depression issued an appeal for governmental reform and economy and criticized heavy federal spending. Noting a statement by Treasury Secretary George Humphrey that repeated big federal budgets could produce a "hair-curling" depression the 83-year-old Hoover said:

"Mine has already been curled once—and I think I can detect the signs.

". . . You do not need to be told that unless inflation is stopped the end is a bump."

FRIENDS AGAIN

Britain and the U.S. appear ready to be friends again forgetting the coolness that arose over the Middle East crisis.

Defence Minister Duncan Sandys reported to the House of Commons that he found warmth in his reception at Washington recently.

Britain's financial worries and her determination to cut defence expenditures were understood by the Americans the minister said.

As a result of his Washington visit Britain is considering adoption of certain American weapons, apparently guided missiles capable of being equipped with atomic warheads.

TRADE FRONT

In another sphere, Britain moved toward a new concept of trade and closer ties with mainland Europe.

Prime Minister Macmillan's government officially approved a plan for a giant European economic unit—a plan that the prime minister personally has long favored.

The aim is to weld Western Europe into a giant economic body capable of competing with the U.S. and Russia. This would be done by wiping out tariff barriers among 17 Western European countries and joining 250,000,000 consumers into a free-trade area and common market for their manufactured goods.

MINE DISASTER

A telephone jangled at the pithead of the Bishop coal mine which lies under mountains at the Virginia-West Virginia border.

It was a message from a worried, puzzled miner in the coal deeps.

"Things don't look right down here, there's a lot of dust," he said.

That was the first indication of a gas explosion that took 37 lives the worst since the Springhill N.S. disaster that killed 39.

In Virginia there were the same stark scenes of grief and resignation as in Nova Scotia. But it appears the blast was not as violent in the U. S. tragedy.

One survivor said he heard it, "but it wasn't loud at all." Another said it was like a "big puff of wind."

UNEASY HUNGARY

Premier Janos Kadar admitted that the Communists have not been able to kill the spirit that set off the October rebellion in Hungary. He admitted, in fact, that another is being organized, timed to break out in March.

"We must proceed pitilessly against all who attack the people's democracy," he said.

The government accused Cardinal Mindszenty of fomenting trouble from his refuge in the American legation in Budapest.

DIEF SPEAKS

John Diefenbaker, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, advocated an overhaul of Canada's entire tax structure.

The time had come for an exhaustive survey of taxes—federaly, provincially and municipally. The proper development of natural resources by Canadians was being held back because the tax structure had not been brought up to date. Canadians had a tendency to invest in long-term savings rather than in risk projects.

"I believe that too-high taxation and antiquated and out-dated tax processes are responsible in large part," said Diefenbaker.

FIGHTING IRISH

The Irish are at it again, battling another election.

Prime Minister John A. Costello, beset by an economic crisis and the possibility of parliamentary defeat, called a general election for March 5.

Experts say the election may mean a comeback for Eamon de Valera, although he is 74 and almost blind. The Irish haven't lost their affection for "Dev," who was their premier for 21 years.

About 100,000 workers are idle in the nation of 3,000,000.

HOW TO LIVE

George A. Hemstreet of Milton, Ont., died at 103. His widow, 101, survived. They had been married 75 years.

On his birthday last year, Hemstreet gave his advice about how to have a happy marriage, advising against before-breakfast spats.

"It's easy to argue on an empty stomach but it's hard to forget it. It's a poor way to start a day."

Mrs. Hemstreet, with a woman's practical bent, said she and her husband had no real secret for their successful marriage.

"We were just too happy to wonder why. We just fell in love and stayed in love."

SUM-HI-NOTES

This past week has been a very busy one for the girls taking home economics in grades 11 and 12 of Summerside High. The girls have been sewing garments for themselves since September and Friday was the deadline date for all garments to be completed.

They were placed on hangars and racks around the home economics room and on Saturday, Miss Doris Anderson, head of the home economics department for P.E.I. will judge the garments on such items as stitching, choice of fabric, and the way the garment has been put together.

Next week the marks will be known and for the rest of the term the girls of 11 and 12 will devote their time to cooking. A big thank-you should be expressed here from all the girls whom Mrs. MacLean and Mrs. Lidstone have helped so much by devoting extra time and energy to help us with our sewing.

In the curling bonspiel for Prince Edward Island, the Charlottetown rink proved to be more skilled than our boys in curling, but our team from Summerside played their best and came away from the bonspiel as second best and runner-up for the championship.

The regular assembly program of Summerside High was opened by Lorraine Johnson, a commercial student, who sang "Bless This House".

Mr. Mercer introduced Brigadier Reid who is deputy minister of labour and welfare, as well as director of physical fitness for P.E.I.

Brig. Reid said that we have come a long way at S.H.S. in facilities for studying and sports. Our volunteer workers are giving a program second to none all over Canada. Because our sports instruction is done voluntarily in the schools we should show appreciation of the work being done.

He stressed the importance of not allowing boys to play on teams when their marks are down. The game of life needs a team, not an individual, by fair, play the game squarely, and play well whether you win or lose.

Roberta Shaw of Elementary School and Michael Loecks of the High School presented cards for the March of Dimes amounting to $87.20 to Mr. Charles Linkletter.

Mr. Linkletter said that it was a pleasure to represent the P.E.I. Polio institute and the money would be used to help get polio victims back to normal citizens again.

The Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Chaisson sang "Swing Low, 'sweet Chariot".

Next week Rev. W.O. Weale will entertain with vocal solos and trumpet selections.

On Friday night there will be a basketball game between a Charlottetown team and our "rep" team. Afterwards a dance will be held. The game starts at 8 o'clock, and admission to both the game and the dance will be 25 cents.

Ven. Archdeacon Addresses A. Y. P. A.

St. Marys and St. Johns branch of A.Y.P.A. met on Tuesday evening Feb. 5 at 7:30 p.m. in the parish hall with 14 members present. The meeting opened with prayers led by Ven. Archdeacon G.R. Harrison. It was decided by the meeting that a pantry sale will be held on Feb. 22 at Smallmans.

The guest speaker for the evening was Ven. Archdeacon Harrison, who chose as his subject The Sacramental Life of the Church".

Since the members were all in favour of a play a reading committee of Carrie Thompson, Marjorie Wall, Joan MacRae and Doreen Dennis was appointed to meet with the Archdeacon on Thursday night Feb. 7 to decide on a play. It was decided that an invitation be extended, to the Kensington Branch of A.Y.P.A. to join with St. Marys and St. John's group for a Valentines party on Feb. 14 in the parish hall.

The meeting then closed with the benediction. A short sing-song followed.

Breaks Leg In Traffic Mishap

Harold T. Arsenault, 37, of 122 Water St., Summerside, suffered a fractured leg and was taken to Prince County Hospital after a car in which he was riding skidded off the highway and struck an electric light pole near Travellers Rest, resulting in some lines in the area being temporarily without electrical power.

George Bell of Summerside, the driver of the 1939 Ford car, was taken to Prince County Hospital for a check on possible chest injuries.

Patrick McGuirk of Convent Street, Summerside, the third man in the car, escaped without injury.

The car, which is said to have skidded on ice, was practically demolished, and the electric light pole was also smashed and broken by the impact from the car.

P. C. Catholic Welfare Agency Makes Its Worker Mobile

The regular monthly meeting of the Prince County Catholic Welfare Agency was held on Wednesday evening in the Knights of Columbus Home with the President, Dr. Hubert MacNeill in the chair.

It was decided that the agency must have a car if its work is to be carried out effectively. It was apparent to the meeting that this is the only way in which the executive director and the other sisters of the agency can efficently get about the country to make their calls. Other means of transportation are expensive and to rely completely on volunteer help would only hamper the carrying out of the work. The meeting decided to order a car for delivery in the near future. It was also decided to make a special appeal for funds for this purpose trusting that the generosity of the people would provide the money to pay for the car as well as carry on the work of the agency

Disbursements during the month were $672.62 and receipts were $397.58.

The executive director, Sister Mary Eugene, reported that during the month two infants were taken into care and there are now 18 in boarding homes. Assistance was given to several unwed mothers and applications have been received for adoption from the United States and from several couples in this Province and three or four infants are now ready for placement.

She reported 94 home visits made, 90 office visits, assistance to 29 families and 19 individuals as well as five hospital visits.

It was decided that a letter of acknowledgement and appreciation be sent to Brigadier W.W. Reid, Deputy Minister of Welfare, for his co-operation in the matter of Direct relieve for emergency cases outside town.
