THE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Rev. Harvey L. Denton B. D took as the subject of his morning sermon "Giving Christ the Pre-eminence" in Saint Paul's epistle to the Church at Colosse he had a phrase that in all things He might have the pre-eminence in the same letter he says "let the word of Christ dwell in you RICHLY" Throughout the word of God we have the story of man. Many individuals are given prominence, there are great leaders, soldiers, statesmen, prophets and Kings. Above all is the Master, preeminent in his humanity, preeminent in his divinity. In him are fulfilled all the inarticulate prophecies which God has hid in the hearts of men from the beginning. Through him one day shall come a universal pentecost. He is preeminent in his message, never man spoke as this man. He is preeminent in his purpose, Kings and leaders, prophets and warriors had greatness of purpose, but as in the dawn from "darkest" "Everest" catches the sun first" so the purpose of the Divine Son is supreme. The word of God reaches its pre-eminence in Christ. Through Christ the word of God is preeminent in its portrayal of the Love of the Father and in its message of eternal life.

For fitness and glory of our own lives, let us make him preeminent and to that end it is ours to let the word of Christ dwell in us richly.

Miss Pearl Burns sang with fine expression "Beside Still Waters"

At the evening service Mr. Denton delivered a sermon of notable eloquence and thoughtfulness under the subject of "An Umbrella for a Dry Day" Miss Mary Lawson sang effectively "Oley Speaks" "Prayer Perfect" The Communion of the Lord's Supper was observed at the close of the service. The flowers on the Communion Table at the morning service were placed by Mrs. D. K. Doble in memory of departed relatives.

At the morning service the Rev. Harvey L. Denton who has completed four notably successful years as minister of this congregation, presented his resignation to take effect December 15th, next. Mr. Denton has been invited to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church, Halifax, N. S.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

The sermons of both morning and evening services at Trinity Church, were preached by Rev. Hugh Miller. Rev. Donald C. Boothroyd, B.A., presided and assisted in the worship, assisted in conducting the worship. The morning address was on the theme, "Playing Into the Hands of the Enemy". In this address, the minister said that if we do not know clearly the great principles of freedom, honor, virtue and faith in God and in His Son Jesus, which are at stake in this war, we are assisting an enemy who seeks to destroy the slowly accumulated civilization of the centuries.

The choir, under the direction of organist and choir-director A. E. Kendall, sang the fine anthem "Consider and Hear Me" in which Miss Berna Huestis was the soloist. In the evening the choir's contribution was the selection "Beneath the Cross of Jesus" by Honkins.

The evening sermon based on the theme "Ways of Escape" expressed the conviction that there is no escape from the deeper sorrows of life by fleeing from them, but that the true and only escape is to confidently entrust our lives to God's keeping.

Hitler, Ciano Confer in Berlin

BERLIN, July 7.-(AP)-Hitler and Count Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, conferred for two hours today, presumably mapping the course of the Rome-Berlin axis.

There were no details of their conversations beyond a short comment, which said Foreign Minister Ribbentrop, of Germany, was present.

Ciano was believed to be particularly interested in the new situation created by hostilities between British and French fleet units and new signs of tension in southeastern Europe. That his mission was diplomatic rather than military was assumed from the fact that he was accompanied by political advisers. Ciano came to Berlin on the German government's invitation. Arriving amid the trappings of Hitler's home-coming from France Saturday, he was taken to Bellevue Castle, the official residence for state guests, and was closeted with the Fuehrer little more than an hour later.

Salvation Army Commissioner In Inspiring Talk

"Britishers would rather have King George VI, Defender of the Faith, ruling over them than Hitler, Despoiler of the Faith," Commissioner B. Orames, Territorial Commander of the Salvation Army for Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda and Alaska, said yesterday in an inspiring address delivered at the Charlottetown Baptist Church.

Commissioner Orames accompanied by Lt.-Col. Ham, Field Secretary for the Canadian Territory, and Major E. Green, Divisional Commander for N. B. and P. E. I., Saint John, were in the city over the week-end.

He was accorded a civic welcome by Mayor B. Roy Holman and the City Council in the band stand at Queen Square Saturday night. He spoke at the Salvation Army Citadel yesterday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., and in the afternoon delivered an address entitled "Beneath Two Flags," in the Baptist Church at 8 o'clock.

His Honour Lieut.-Governor B. W. LePage was chairman of this public affair. He was supported by Mayor Holman, Rev. H. L. Denton, pastor of the Baptist Church, and Mr. N. D. MacLean.

Commissioner Orames has travelled extensively with the Salvation Army and told of experiences in connection with his work in Australia, New Zealand and North China. He was chaplain with the Expeditionary Forces in France and Egypt during the Great War. He is a native of Australia.

Introducing the speaker, Lieut.-Governor LePage welcomed him on behalf of the Government and people of the province. He paid tribute to the members of the Salvation Army for the wonderful work they have done in this province.

Commissioner Orames in his address "Beneath Two Flags," compared the Union Jack with the Salvation Army flag, pointing out the similarities in the meaning of both. The Union Jack stands for liberty, and the Salvation Army flag also stands for liberty—freedom from the shackles of evil, he said. Both emblems fly over many nations and the sun never sets on either, he added.

Privileged People The people of Canada are a privileged people and with that privilege comes responsibility. The liberties enjoyed in this country were purchased at a great price, the speaker reminded his listeners. The freest people on the earth, are those living in the British Empire, and there are few countries possessing this freedom, he said. He pointed out that happenings in Europe would bound to affect this continent as nations are brought closer together by modern methods of communication.

Commissioner Orames spoke with feeling on the present conflict in Europe. He served three years in the Great War and had always hoped that this generation would not be called upon to witness the terrible scenes of war. He had hoped that in a civilized age the nations of the world would "settle their differences at a conference table with the point of a pen rather than on the battlefield with the point of a sword." When people become incensed with the lust for power they overturn the rights of civilized people, and think that fighting is more important than rights, he said.

The Salvation Army Commissioner spoke of the disappointment he felt when hostilities were commenced in Europe. He had hoped this would be averted. He mentioned the Munich Agreement and said that people were asking at the time if it was the right man in the right place. The speaker continued. He claimed France and England were not prepared to fight and Chamberlain was able to save the enemy off unprepared. He paid high tribute to Prime Minister Churchill, whom he described as "a vigorous man."

Canadians Loyal He spoke of the wonderful loyalty of Canadian people, but reminded them that they should be prepared to give everything they had as this war is being fought for the privilege of enjoying liberty of thought, action and worship.

Commissioner Orames also outlined the work of the Salvation Army in organizing for the present conflict. Many of the best members of the Army have already been sent overseas, he said. Huts and institutions for carrying on war work have been established across Canada.

In his concluding remarks, he said that the Salvation Army had been started in England 75 years ago and had grown rapidly since. The Army is two-fold in its purpose, social and evangelical. He claimed as he outlined some of the work carried on by it in different parts of the world.

Mayor Holman welcomed the Commissioner on behalf of the citizens of Charlottetown, and moved a vote of thanks to him, which was seconded by Mr. N. D. MacLean.

Major E. Green introduced Lieut.-Col. Ham, who gave a scripture reading and additional remarks also spoke a few words. The music was supplied by the Salvation Army band.

Major Pitt, of California, an officer of the Salvation Army, was a member of the audience.
