Can Take Away Net

Okay, boys, you can take away the net! Ivan Doherty is scrambling off that shaky limb and, by jove, he's going to make it. A lot of Island fans thought the Penguins were behind the 8-ball after that slim 6-5 win they took in their own back yard. But one of the characteristics of a championship team is that they are gutty when they hit the road. Bucko's boys have certainly shown this. They held their one-goal margin and added two more in Fredericton, and now they've trounced Dartmouth 8-3. Looks as if Ivan's dream of the Ottawa Valley is coming true! This boy is a promotional genius, and everything he touches gets up and dances a victory polka. Linked with a coach of Bucko Trainor's ability, and a group of boys who fight till the last ditch, Ivan must be particularly happy with his present promotion.

Boys in this age group are often pretty temperamental, and flair-ups can be expected, but we've never seen a team more even-tempered than those same Penguins. All season they were in a league where they were outweighed and outhumped, but they held their tempers surprisingly well and stuck to hockey. Coach Trainor must be delivering some sermonettes in the dressing-room. Fredericton fanfans got pretty ruffled at Lloyd "Toy-Toy" Gallant, but all Lloyd had done was hand out a stiff check to a boy who had charged him. The boy hit the ice hard and suffered a concussion. This was unfortunate, but hardly called for a lynching party.

The Penguins will have played their second game with Dartmouth before this column hits the streets. On Tuesday evening they will be in Charlottetown. Ivan Doherty called us from Halifax today (Sunday) and we also talked with "Toy-Toy" Gallant, Dave Martin, Ronnie Gallant, and Willie Gallant. The boys naturally felt good about their 5-3 win and had high hopes of continuing their victory march.

This Team Partly Ours

Don't forget, Summerside fans, this team is partly ours, and we should all be proud of them. They represent the one and only successful hockey team that Summerside has had this year, so let's get together and take a large delegation of Summerside fans to Sports Arena on Tuesday night. The Summerside boys on the team have every right to expect a lot of fans from their home town to be in the crowd at Sports Arena cheering them on to victory. Come on, you car drivers, organize your groups and we'll make it a cavalcade.

May we offer some criticism on how the minor games are being conducted. We'll never have a better opportunity than this because the supremacy of the Charlottetown teams is so pronounced that no changes in procedure could possibly have made any difference, and so, we hope you'll understand right away that we're not creating alibis for the defeat of the Summerside teams. Our Bantams were soundly outplayed. The local Midgets held their own, perhaps at a little more than that territorially, but the boy in the Abbie cage hung up the biggest "no trespassing" sign in the home-and-home series. Maybe we shouldn't have come right out and said this in the abrupt North American way. We could have discussed it politely over a spot of tea, didn't you know. We vulgar colonials have a habit of calling a spade a ruddy spade. The boys across the puddle instead of hurling insults says "is that cricket, old boy?" But there is danger in this. The repressed insult festers and makes trouble later on. These fellows kick each other in the shins playing soccer which helps a little, but not enough. Repression breeds war. That's why two European nations could never live on either side of a 5,000 mile frontier over 100 years without one border incident. Never anything worse than insults and innuendoes.

Now For Criticism

Now for the criticism. We don't know how other people feel, but we don't like the playing of minor hockey with no time out. We should imagine it would encourage delaying tactics on the part of the team that was ahead." We didn't notice any of this, but it's a possibility. Instead of 20 minutes and no time out, why couldn't we have 14 or 15 minutes (whatever is judged to consume approximately 20 running minutes) with time out. Also, we were told that the periods were 25 minutes in Sports Arena and 20 minutes at Civic Stadium. When we made further inquiries, we were informed that there was less time in Charlottetown. But why is the time not exactly the same? These are supposed to be home-and-home games, not home-and-4/5 home affairs.

Last Week's Bouquet

Some words of praise for Midget goaler Reid
Whose work in nets let Abbies hold the lead.
But Davy Martin blinked the blinkin' light
To get a "hat trick", so it seems but right
That he should get the blooms for that—agreed?

Last Week's Brickbat

We'd like to throw a brickbat at Tee Blake.
For each defeat he's got a bellyache;
The soft Toronto ice beat Montreal at first, he shouts
And now the fairness of the referees he doubts.
Please, Tee, don't be a heel, for heavens sake.

Morissette, Howatt Praised For Victory

SHERBROOKE, QUE. (CP)—"Jean Guy won the game", was jubilant Moncton Hawks playing coach Doug McPhee's opening remark following Hawks come-from-behind victory over Sherbrooke Beavers here Sunday attenoon.

Hawks' goalie Jean Guy Morissette stopped 33 shots, many of them on the brilliant side in the game.

"Morissette played a tremendous game," he said.

The win gave Hawks a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five eastern Canadian Allan Cup semi-finals. The winner plays Windsor Bulldogs in the eastern finals.

"I guess we're in the drivers seat," added McPhee.

McPhee praised Doug Howatt who besides scoring the winning goal played a fine two-way game.

"I wish that we didn't have to play the first five minutes of a game. We always seem to spot the opponents one or two goals and then have to fight back," said McPhee. "We did it against Prescott . Kemptville Combines who Hawks defeated in the quarter-finals and we did it against these guys."

Norman Red Mullins who is enjoying a fine series said of Howatt: "Mister man that Howatt did everything. He backchecked, forechecked, kept the puck out of our own end and scored the winner. Man what a game he played.

He was the difference in the ball game. Him and Jean Guy," concluded Red.

Phil Doiron, star leftwinger said of Howatt "He was just great."

Georges Roy was the centre of teaming from the rest of the team. He scored the insurance goal from centre ice after Oscar Gaudet missed the open net. He was being ribbed and being called eagle eye.

"When they don't go in they don't go in," was Sherbrooke coach Gilles Dube's comment after the game.

"We had enough chances to win eight or nine games. Roger Picard, Rene Pepin and Real Roussean hit the post. And when things go that way there is not much you can do about it."

Royals Enter Mar. Finals By Defeating Capitals 6-2

Sandy Frizzell's Parkdale Royals are in the Maritime intermediate "A" finals.

The Frizzellmen face Bridgewater Hawks for the three-province crown in a best-of-five series scheduled to open in Bridgewater Tuesday night.

Royals made the final round by downing Fredericton Capitals 6-2 at The Sports Arena Saturday afternoon. It gave 'Buck' Whitlock and company the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island crown three games to one.

The Capitals made a much better game of it than they had on Friday. They actually outskated the Royals for two periods and it was only great goaltending by 'Butch' Ward that had Parkdale nursing a 2-1 edge.

However Sandy's boys broke it open in the third, outscoring Fredericton 4-1 to coast into the Maritime finals. Their passing plays, sadly lacking in the first 40 minutes, began clicking and goalie McTavish was a busy net-minder in that closing chapter. Capitals' only third session marker was supplied by former Charlottetonian, Billy Hughes.

Once again, Constable 'Apps' Arsenault led the Royals attack. He squared matters at 1-1 in the first after Nash had sent the visitors in front, and it was Arsenault again who made it a 3-1 game early in the third.

Jim MacLeod, Eustace Reeves, Stu McLure and Angie Carroll were the other marksmen for the victors.

Referee Don Whelan had an easy afternoon as the boys decided to stick to hockey. Only nine penalties, all minors, were called. The locale collected five in the lack lustre contest.

SUMMARY

First Period: 1.—Caps, Nash 6:40; 2.—Royals, Arsenault (A. Carroll, Josey) 15:29. Penalties: D. Carroll, McTavish, Reeves, Baun.

Bathurst Team Sidelines Abbies

Bathurst Papermakers, looking like shoo-ins to retain the Maritime Juvenile hockey crown they captured last year, scored an easy 8-2 victory over Juvenile Abbies at the Sports Arena Saturday night. This was a sudden-death game for the N.B.-P.E.I. title.

The visitors, a much heavier and more experienced team, had little trouble in defeating the local Abbies, and were leading 4-0 after the first 20 minutes of play.

The teams each scored once in the sandwich session and in the final frame the Papermakers beat Charlottetown goalie Tommie Monaghan three times while the Abbies could manage only one goal.

Lulu Ouellette paced the Jack Boland coached New Brunswickers with four goals. Don Moses scored twice and Bob McKinnon and Murray Branch added singles.

Jack MacEachern and Alan Flood were the Charlottetown goalgetters.

Bathurst goalie Willard MacKay, who was recovering from an attack of the flu, was outstanding in the Bathurst cage, foiling the local team on numerous occasions.

Referees Gerald Chaisson of Bathurst and Art Perry of Charlottetown handed out a total of twenty-two penalties, fourteen of them going to Bathurst.

Jose Gonzales Wins By TKO

NEW YORK (AP)—Jose Gonzalez, a 4-to-1 underdog from Puerto Rico, chopped out a sixth-round technical knockout over hard-hitting Rubin (Hurricane) Carter of Paterson, N.J., Saturday night in a fight from Madison Square Garden.

Referee Pete Della, following the instructions of Dr. Sam Swetnick stoopped the fight because of a deep cut over Carter's right eye. Since the bout was halted between rounds it went into the books as a sixth-round TKO under New York rules.

Carter, who had shaken his out-gunned rival several times, was ahead when the fight was ended.

Gonzalez weighed 160¼, Carter 158.

It was the first time Carter, a ranking middleweight contender, had been stopped. The loss also snapped his latest victory streak at five. His record is 15-3.

Gonzalez, an unranked 23-year-old club fighter, racked up his third straight triumph. His record is 24-7.1.

Wings Pick Up First Win; Whip Black Hawks 4-2

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Sports Editor

DETROIT (CP)—Dn-roll Red Wings came from behind twice Sunday night to defeat the injury-cripped Chicago Black Hawks 4-2 in the third game of their Stanley Cup semi-final. The Hawks, who received tremendous goal-keeping from old pro Glenn Hall, lead the best of seven set two games to one.

Hall, who beat the Red Wings 5-4 and 5-2 in the opening games at Chicago, was fantastic at times at he made a total of 44 saves against only 19 for Terry Sawchuk in the Red Wings net.

Hall kept the Hawks in the game for two periods but yielded a pair of goals in a space of 41 seconds in the third session that broke a 22 deadlock.

Stan Mikita, the hard-skating Black Hawk centre, scored both Chicago Goals that put the Hawks ahead 1-0 in the first period and broke a 1-1 deadlock late in the second.

Gordie Howe, who slipped away from his convoy, Eric Nesterenko of the Hawks, had a big 35th birthday. He scored Detroit's first goal, assisted on two others and generally had a big night.

Parker MacDonald, Alex Faulkner and Bruce MacGregor scored the other Detroit goals.

FIRST PLAYOFF GOAL

The counter for Faulkner, the only Newfoundland-born player to make it a regular in the National Hockey League, was his first in playoff competition.

It was the winner and came at 6:02 of the third period.

MacGregor got his at 6:43 and the Hawks, who had pushed the Wings around in Chicago but 7-1 earlier and Thursday nights, didn't have a chance from there in. As a matter of fact, they were lucky to escape with only four goals scored against them, and they have Hall to thank for that.

The Hawks, badly depleted by the absence of three injured regulars, couldn't do much against the powerful skating Detorit club that hammered away at them from the opening faceoff.

The Hawks were minus Bobby Hull, their big gun who suffered a broken and badly lacerated nose Thursday night, left winger Ron Murphy, out with an infected ankle cut, and defenceman Al MacNeil.

MacNeil, of Sydney, N.S., suffered two cracked ribs, also on Thursday when the two clubs staged a bit of a brawl.

MISSED GUNS

Coach Rudy Pilous of the Hawks called for help from the farm and defenceman Ron Ingram from Buffalo Bisons of the American League and Murray Hall, 29-year-old centre and right winger from St. Louis Braves of the Eastern Pro circuit, played fairly regularly but the Hawks were refused without their big guns, particularly Hull.

The Red Wings swarmed all over Hall, forcing him to make 17 saves in each of the first and second periods and 10 in the last 20 minutes.

But, while Detroit did all the shooting, the Hawks clicked first on the scoreboard—at 2:41 of the opening period—and on their first shot on the Detroit net.

Mikita beat Sawchuk with a knee-high shot from the blueline that appeared to be partially screened. Ed Joyal of the Wings was off for tripping and the goal marked Chicago's seventh off the power play in this series.

Howe scored his third of this year's playoffs at 10:36 of the middle period. He was sent into the clear on a pass from Doug Barkley and banged a low whistler between Hall's legs.

Mikita put the Hawks ahead 2-1 at 17:32 when he picked up Ken Wharram's rebound from just outside the goal crease.

THE SCORE

Thirty-two seconds later, the Red Wings made it 2-2 while Ab McDonald was off for hooking Howe who had stickhandled through the Chicago defence and was dumped as he was about to shoot. Defenceman Howie Young, appearing for the first — and last — time in the game, blazed a shot from the point and MacDonald batted in the rebound.

The crowd of 13,541 went wild early in the third period when the 26-year-old Faulkner, a native of Bishop's Falls, Nfld., smacked the puck past Hall as it bounced off a Black Hawk defenceman's body. MacGregor's counter came when he tipped in a low 40-footer by defenceman Warren Godfrey.

The fourth game will be played here Tuesday with the fifth in Chicago Thursday. A sixth, if necessary will be played here next Sunday.

"Now, we're moving," enthused coach Sid Abel in the Detroit dressing room. "Our kids (Faulkner and MacGregor) came up with the big ones for us."

Faulkner said he "sure liked that goal — it's the first in Stanley Cup for me. Of course, that Gordie Howe helped me."

SUMMARY

First period: 1. Chicago, Mikita 5 (Pilote, McDonald) 4:31. Penalties — Turner 1:32, Joyal 3:38, Pilote 6:34, 11:27.

Second period: 2. Detroit, Howe 3 (Barkley) 10:36; 3. Chicago, Mikita 3 (Wharram, McDonald) 17:33; 4. Detroit, MacDonald 1 (Young, Howe) 19:40. Penalties — Hay and Gadsby 3:35, McDonald 18:08.

Leafs Notch Third Win; Return To Toronto After

MONTREAL (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs, riding the payoff touch of Bob Pulford and tight goaltending by Johnny Bower, shut out Montreal Canadiens 2-0 Saturday night and spurted ahead 3-0 in their Stanley Cup semi-final series.

Attendance was 14,773.

Although the fourth game in the best-of-seven set is to be played here Tuesday night, the defending cup champions flew home to Toronto right after Saturday night's game.

"Why shouldn't they have Sunday at home?" said coach Punch Imlach.

His club was outshot 32-22. But the Canadiens squandered a flock of opportunities with errant play in close. When they were on target there was Bower to blunt the attack.

Pulford, who celebrated his 27th birthday Sunday, exploited a couple of Montreal misplays to set up Eddie Shack for Toronto's first goal and score the second himself.

FIRST CLUB SHUTOUT

It was the first shutout in Stanley Cup play for Bower who was making his 38th appearance in the post-season playoffs. The setback left Montreal winless in seven consecutive cup games. Last season the Canadiens blew four straight to Chicago Black Hawks in a semi-final.

Shack scored at 13:14 of the second period in the wake of a breakaway by Pulford and the hard-driving centre put the finishing touch to it with an unassisted goal at 14:16 in the third period.

Pulford blocked a shot by Jean Gauthier at the Toronto blueline to shake loose and set up Shack. He swept around the Montreal defenceman to pick up the puck and drove in alone on Montreal's masked goalie Jacques Plante.

Instead of shooting, Pulford tried to deke Plante. But the goalie wasn't fooled and sprawled to knock the puck away when Pulford directed it toward a corner.

No one was there to cover and Pulford pounced on the rebound and whipped a pass to Shack, coming up on the play. Eddie almost fell when he took it. He went to one knee, recovered and rifled a high shot into an open side from 10 feet out.

A drop pass by Montreal's Donnie Marshall while the Canadiens were trying to organize in their own end led to Pulford's goal. No Montreal player was there to take it. Pulford moved in and belted a low 15-footer that caught a corner.

CHECK WITH VIGOR

The Leafs, backchecking with vigor, stopped off Montreal the rest of the way although yielding a wide edge in play.

"We just stayed on top of them," said Imlach. "We checked them into the ice. They couldn't get untracked."

Bower's finest movements came in the opening period when a five-minute major penalty to Shack for high-sticking Ralph Backstrom and a minor penalty against Carl Brewer for holding gave Montreal a two-man advantage for 68 seconds.

In succession he blocked close-in thrusts by Jean Beliveau, Gilles Tremblay and Bobby Rousseau, scrambling for his balance while making the stops. Coach Toe Blake of Montreal called it the turning point in the game. A penalty to Rousseau for holding Tim Horton eased the pressure later.

In the two opening games in Toronto, the Leafs won 3-1 had 3-2.

A win here Tuesday by Toronto would make it a complete reversal of the 1960 final series between the two clubs, the last time they met in cup play. The Canadiens swept that one four straight for their fifth consecutive cup title.

SUMMARY

First period: No scoring. Penalties — Shack major 9:37, Brewer 12:20, Rousseau 13:28.

Second period: 1. Toronto, Shack 1 (Pulford) 13:14. Penalties — Bauthier 7:11, Brewer 19:44.

Third period: 2. Toronto, Pulford 2 14:16. Penalties—Brewer, Richard 19:31.

"I ought to fine you both $500 for scaring me to death," Rigney told them.

"They got here at 12:30 in the afternoon. We're used to having the ballplayers show up at 10 in the morning.

Pulford Can't Explain Change In Playoffs

By BRUCE STOVEL

MONTREAL (CP)—Bob Pulford can't explain what comes over him in the playoffs.

But from his happy grin in Toronto Maple Leafs' dressing-room Saturday night, it was clear he isn't losing sleep over it. Pulford scored an unassisted goal and alertly recovered from a blind breakaway to set up the other by teammate Eddie Shack in Leafs' 2-0 win over Montreal Canadiens.

"I don't know what happened tonight," said the husky, crew-cut centre, who celebrated his 27th birthday Sunday.

"Maybe it was because it was a defensive game, where the centres have more breaks. Maybe it's the incentive, the money."

Pulford, a steady but not spectacular scorer in season play, is becoming known as one of hockey's best "money players."

His performance Saturday made him the highest scorer in the semi - final series, which Leafs lead 3-0, with four points. Last season he was a leader in Leafs' drive to the Stanley Cup, scoring seven times in 12 games.

PRAISES PLANTE

"But Plante played both goals perfectly," said Pulford of Montreal goalie Jacques Plante.

"I tried a shot to the far corner on the breakaway, but he didn't go for it and I was lucky getting the rebound.

"On the second goal, I grabbed the puck and fired for the far corner. Plante's got to hold the near post on a wide angle like that—any goalie does —and I told it just inside the far post."

In the silent Montreal room, Plante agreed with Pulford's description of the goals. He said on the first he had come out to stop Pulford, and then stayed down on the ice because he thought he had the rebound covered.

"He got that shot away on the second goal so fast I couldn't get back. I have to leave three inches between and it was too, so I got my glove over, but it was too late.

"But we were all right tonight. Except for the power play. That's no good."

BLAKE MOROSE

Montreal coach Toe Blake slouched morosely against a table in the busted room. Asked about Canadiens failure to get an organized attack going while they had a two-man advantage for 68 seconds in the first period, he said:

"Yep, that was the turning point all right."

Asked if he planned any changes for Tuesday's game, Blake said, "Nope. I don't even want to think about it." He then walked away.

Coach Punch Imlach of the Leafs was enthusiastic about his team's performance.

"It was our best game of the series. We were checking better than Tuesday night. . . ."

He said 38 - year - old goalie Johnny Bower had done "a routine job" in earning the shutout

"He didn't have that much to do. And besides, my theory is that the goalie should stop all the shots, and that's all Johnny did."
