Alberton And All West Prince Area Is Hard Hit

Almost total destruction of the Maritime Electric Company's new power transmission line to Western Prince County and a similar amount of damage to telephone and telegraph lines throughout the area are a main part of the tremendous property loss caused by a 72 hours fall of freezing rain in Prince Edward Island.

In the Western part of Prince County damage to trees, telephone poles and power lines is beyond estimation. Several miles of the Maritime Electric Company's new power transmission line between Alberton and Tignish, built two years ago, was flattened by the terrific weight of ice formed Friday night.

From Alberton to Huntley every pole snapped off in a chain reaction effect which broke off the posts about half way up. Over seventy-five poles are down in the first four miles north of Alberton and a large number at Elmsdale and in O'Leary. On the other side of the roads the telephone lines are hanging in a tangled mess, mile after mile.

On the east side of Main Street at Alberton all posts holding the main telephone cables are down. Power lines on the west of main street were leaning dangerously Saturday and could fall at any time.

A car belonging to Steven Burke was damaged when a telephone pole fell across the hood Friday night.

With trees and poles falling almost continuously, travelling on foot is extremely hazardous. Although the destruction is considered without parallel in the memory of persons in Alberton, it will be added to tremendously should winds increase to any extent. Fuels of all kinds is becoming low at Alberton and it was reported that there was no coal available.

All Television Aerials in the area were hanging in grotesque shapes from their brace wires. An attempt was being made Saturday to hook up an emergency power system at the Western Hospital where patients and staff were undergoing considerable hardship with no heat.

Mr. Fred Millman reported that he and his family received a bad scare when over 30 large electric light poles leading past his house went down in one lump with a terrific roaring sound as they snapped off in succession.

Maritime Electric Company employees were busy Saturday cutting off loop and power leads in an effort to save the main poles from crashing, and in several places bracing 40 ft. poles in danger of falling on houses.

Without doubt the present storm can be considered the worst and most costly one ever experienced on the Island.

A large barn, at Alberton measuring 100 X 35 feet, belonging to Mr. Eric Corbett of Summerside, went down late Saturday night and is reported a total loss.

Hospital Is Memorial To B. C. Pioneer Doctor

QUESNEL, B.C. (CP)—An $800,000 memorial hospital here is named for Dr. G. R. Baker, a beloved legendary figure in the Cariboo country of British Columbia's interior.

The Quesnel Weekly Advertiser, in a special edition to celebrate the occasion, said:

"You wonder why the new hospital is called the G. R. Baker Memorial Hospital. Ask his friends, ask any of the one thousand Cariboo citizens he ushered into the world. Ask the Indians, the Chinese, the prospectors and trappers.

INFECTIOUS OPTIMISM

"Just to have Doc enter the room made you feel better to hear his brisk 'yes, nothing to worry about —you'll be better tomorrow,' was a more potent healer than many drugs.

"It would be hard to think of a finer memorial. Conversely, it would be hard to find any other man so worthy of such a memorial."

Dr. Baker was sent to Quesnel from Victoria in 1912 to amputate a man's leg. He had intended to take the next stage out, but stayed a lifetime.

There are many stories about Doc who, besides being a loved and trusted physician, was a hunter fisherman, placer miner and homesteader.

During the 1918 influenza epidemic his treatment included giant mustard plasters fitting from chin didn't work a special medicine to waist, front and back. If this which he had prepared usually did the trick.

The stuff came in two bottles labelled A and B. A was taken on the even hour and B on the odd.

How much of the treatment was straight psychology and how much medicine, he would never say.

DRUGGIST CARRIES ON

Finally, the doctor himself was stricken. He struggled into Allison's drug store hardly able to talk. "You know what I've been giving the. Charlie. Just carry on. I'm on my way to the hospital."

Charlie carried on and when he also got the flu', he had a whole shelf of A and B prepared ahead.

An intoxicated man with earache once came to his office. "He was awful drunk and I had a maternity case to go to, but he hung onto me. So I finally hit him an awful blow, knocking him out. Then I went to the maternity patient.

"Well, next week, this man came back, asked how much he owed and I said 'you don't owe me a cent.' But he said 'yes, I do; I have not had an ear-ache since you fixed it.'"

It is doubtful if Dr. Baker ever knew who owed him or how much. To him a sick person had to be healed.

Many patients worked off their bills clearing lands, building fences or cutting wood on the doctor's farm. Often they paid with a ton of hay, a cow, a horse or a hog.

CITY COUNCIL

fires within the City during the past few years has brought this situation forcibly to light, the latest an instance in which an apartment house owner might not only lose his property but would be obliged to go without heat from his tenants during the time the building was being repaired.

A resolution asking that the incoming Council to deal with this matter with a view to having the matter given legislation was passed.

PARK BEAUTIFICATION

Coun. Elmer MacDonald brought to the attention of the meeting the fact that plans were being made for the setting aside of a portion of the Victoria Park area as a public garden. He produced a plan which had been prepared by the Division of Horticulture at Ottawa following a survey at the instigation of Coun. Johnstone and himself.

The proposed public garden would include a bandstand, gravel walks, trees and shrubbery. The Council in a resolution, expressed their appreciation of Mr. R. R. Hurst and Mr. Gordon Warren of the Science Service Laboratory and Experimental Farm also to Mr. R.W. Oliver of Ottawa for their co-operation in preparing the plan.

Coun. Wright gave a brief report on the meeting of the Advisory Board of the Unemployment Insurance Commission which he attended as a member of the Council. He asked that the City donate $10 as a prize for the best letter stating "what can be done to relieve the unemployment situation in Charlottetown." A resolution covering Coun. Wright's suggestion later met with approval from the Council.

MAYORS PORTRAIT

In a formal resolution moved by Coun. Gaudet and seconded by G. Elmer MacDonald, the portrait of His Worship Mayor Stewart was accepted by the Council and the thanks extended to Mr. G. E. Hartlen, manager of Canada Packers Ltd., who presented it. The [illegible] as in the Council Chamber among those of past City [illegible].

A resolution moved by Coun. MacDonald and seconded by Coun. Gaudet requested that the salary of Miss Mary MacQuaid be raised from $2,280 to $2,500 was warmly approved by the Council. Several of the Councillors spoke highly of Miss MacQuaid's services. City Clerk James A. Fullerton added his words of commendation to those of the Councillors.

The annual meeting of the City Council will be held [illegible] the week of the end of [illegible].

LATE COUNCILLOR

The following [illegible] passed by [illegible] tribute to the late Councillor George R. Keefe.

I would like at this time to pay a brief tribute to a member of this Council, George [illegible] wise advise and conscientious stand on any matter involving his convictions as to the City's interest contributed in no small way to the betterment of the City of Charlottetown, of which he was so justly proud.

Councillor Keefe first served the City between the years of 1944-1946. However it was my privilege to serve with him from February 1950 until his passing. He was a most energetic and enthusiastic Councillor, and the work as carried on by the Public Property Committee under his Chairmanship, more especially in the work accomplished in our Victoria Park, will be a monument to his memory. The names Victoria Park and George R. Keefe will always be synonymous.

Truly, it can be said of Councillor Keefe, he served his City well.

I would ask that we stand and observe one minute of silence, in memory of our departed colleague.

When storms knock out electric power...

an ONAN Emergency Electric Plant supplies all the electricity you need!

Prevents losses from frozen plumbing, food spoilage. Protects your family from dangers and hardships.

When storms interrupt electric power you have no heat, refrigeration, lights or even water if you have your own well. Radio, sump pump, water heater and other electrical equipment cannot operate.

You can avoid losses, dangers and hardships by installing an Onan Emergency Electric Plant in your garage or basement. Very little space is required; installation is simple and inexpensive. When power outages occur, the Onan Plant supplies regular 115-volt A.C. electricity for as long as the emergency exists. Automatic controls start the plant when power is interrupted and stop it when power is restored to protect your home even when you're away!

Onan Emergency Electric Plants are built in capacities to fit the needs of any home or business . . . 1,000 to 50,000 watts.
