Assembly-Line Production Planned By Furniture Plant

By GORDON GRANT

TORONTO (CP)—"Order out of chaos" could be the motto of Stancor Ltd., a newly organized company that has served Canada's $300,000,000 a year furniture industry and found it lacking.

Stancor's aim is simple: Set up an operation run on efficient assembly-line principles and do away with what its founders see as the out-moded basis on which the industry has worked for decades in both Canada and the United States.

"The assembly line has been known for more than half a century, but even in the U.S. it's only within the last year or so that the idea has been applied to furniture on a large scale," says Stancor President William Stack.

"In Canada, however, the small shop usually family owned, with comparatively little capital and mostly old-fashioned equipment — still is the rule.

"For example, despite the size of the industry as a whole, only five companies have annual sales of more than $3,000,000. That shows—to us, anyway—that no one is making use of modern techniques."

BUILDS PLANT

As part of its program to tackle this, Stancor now is building a $2,600,000 plant in the small town of Hanover, 30 miles south of Owen Sound, Ont. Industrial experts from the U.S. already have studied its layout, Mr. Stack says.

Stancor hopes to have the 250,000-square-foot plant, with a production potential of $5,000,000 a year, completed by March.

Heart of the operation will be a production line moving at 14 feet a minute, capable of turning out a bedroom or dining room suite every 12 minutes.

Stancor plans initially to go after that portion of the Canadian market now taken up by imports from the U.S. imports in 1963 totalled $6,300,000 and increased about 34 per cent in 1964. No figures are available for 1965.

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock splits by International Business Machines and other companies heightened the speculative atmosphere on Wall Street and the stock market posted its second straight day of recovery.

Volume totalled 9,320,000 shares compared with 8,820,000 Monday.

A number of analysts mentioned inflationary psychology as a factor in current market strength. A continued strong advance by aerospace issues underlined the defence spending boost in the United States budget.

Airlines, electronics, specially situated issues and an assortment of lower-priced stocks were in the spotlight.

The top steels and motors took minor losses. Some of the selling in these groups was linked with a drop in new car sales in mid-January.

DOW INDUSTRIALS UP

The Dow Jones industrial average rose .22 to 991.64. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 1.0 to 368.4.

IBM declared a 3-for-2 stock split and the issue advanced 14½ to 508½. This cast a glow over the market, since IBM has been a darling of the institutional investors most of the time.

Further excitement was added by stock splits for Crompton and Knowles, Schering and Burndy Corp. Crompton and Knowles spurted 2 points but the split news seemed to have been anticipated Monday by sharp gains in the two other stocks. Schering slipped 1½ and Burndy ¾.

After the close came word U.S. Steel reported higher earnings for 1965 but a decline in final quarterly earnings as compared with a year ago. The stock was off ¼ at 53 in advance of publication of the news.

Among Canadians, Dome Mines lost ⅝, Hudson Bay Mining ½ and International Nickel ⅝. Aluminium Ltd. was up ⅝. On the American Exchange Canadian Marconi was up ⅝ and Brazilian Traction ¼.

TAGGED FOR STUDY

Prior to being crated for shipment to Vancouver, all ducks captured in Calgary for Canadian Wild Life Service experiment are banded. Biologists hope to discover first whether the birds will fly south next autumn from Vancouver. This picture shows Bill Thurlow (LEFT), Wild Life Service biologist assisted by Don Hanlow putting tag on a captured bird. The ducks, refusing to leave Calgary for the south, were creating a danger at the airport. (CP Wirephoto)
