Premier's Presentation Of P.E.I. Disabilities At Ottawa Conference

Official text of address of Premier J. Walter Jones at Dominion-Provincial Conference at Ottawa, August 16, continued from yesterday's Guardian:

World Welcome Experiments

I might eloquently urge that the Federal Government could make a point of using us better, or at least use us as well as other provinces, for we contribute a good deal in man and material which are valued in other provinces. It might be that because of our insular position, because we are small, because we have a really well-bred and homogeneous population, we could be used as an experimental area to try out new ideas in health, public welfare and education. The province is willing to be a pilot plant for such trials. The Family Allowance plan was first tried on Prince Edward Island. I suggest more extensive experiments be undertaken.

Hillsborough Bridge

In 1905 a railroad bridge across the Hillsborough River was built. It was an old bridge transported from the Miramichi River in New Brunswick. It was desirable to use it also as a traffic bridge and an agreement between Prince Edward Island and the government of Canada was made that the province pay $9,750.00 a year for the use of it for traffic. All traffic expenses, such as planking and providing guards were to be paid by the province. We suggest that after forty years the province has paid more than the original cost of the bridge, and payments should cease, and a refund made.

Confederation Terms

In the Confederation Treaty on which the British North America Act is based, clause 2 states: "The system of government best adapted under existing circumstances to protect the diversified interests of the several provinces and secure efficiency, harmony and permanency." This was the plan outlined for a Federal government. Also in paragraph 2 is "provision for the admission into the Confederation on equitable terms of Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island, North-West Territories and British Columbia."

CLIP AND SAVE!

Norman Rogers to the "Jones Commission" in Nova Scotia. The brief is fully endorsed by us and is available for any committee.

I might have expressed the opinion that conference, such as this one should be more frequently held and suggest that a permanent secretariat should be set up. The central office could handle the general questions which are advanced from time to time on Dominion-Provincial Agreements, and could also deal with questions advanced by the provinces.

Now, Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen, I wish to deal, briefly, but specifically, with the proposals of the government of Canada as they affect my province. I do this against the background of statements appearing on pages 8 and 48 of the "Proposals," as read to us in this Conference. On page 8, it is stated:

"It is with these considerations in mind, and in search of common ground for agreement, that the Government presents its proposals. These proposals assume a broad federal responsibility, in cooperation with provincial governments, for establishing the general conditions and framework for high employment and income policies, and for support of national minimum standards of social services. They also assume that provincial governments should be in a financial position to discharge their responsibilities adequately."

On page 48, the following appears:

"The third requirement of post-war financial arrangements is that they should make possible at least an adequate minimum standard of services in all provinces while not denying to any province the advantages which its resources give to it nor the freedom to establish its own standards."

Island Would Lose

Let us look now at the case of Prince Edward Island under the proposal to pay 12 dollars per capita annually.

Under the five points mentioned on page 51, of the Proposals, we receive $1,000,000.00. We are also saved $125,000.00 for Old Age Pensions.

On the other hand we lose our present subsidies and subventions. We lose also $30,000 in succession duties, and our share of the 65-69 years old age pensioners will amount to $180,000.00.

To sum up we shall have on the credit side $1,215,000.00 and on the debit side $1,235,000.00, a net loss to the province of $20,000.00.

One more quotation from the "Proposals" on page 52:

"Specific proposals may be modified in the light of the discussions which take place, or may have to be modified if agreement on other proposals proves to be impossible."

It is therefore quite obvious that the financial disadvantage to my province calls for a new proposal, or a modified proposal. We are ready now or later to consider the whole matter. We have our case prepared.
