Light, wholesome flaky pie-crust—

for the toothsome green apple or pumpkin filling is obtained by using the right proportions of other ingredients mixed with Diamond Flour. Let any woman who has had trouble with her pie-crust, just give Diamond Flour a trial, and it will be strange if she is not pleased with the improvement it will make. There is no secret about it. Diamond Flour is a well-proportioned blend of the choicest Ontario soft wheat and Manitoba hard wheat, and grandmother will tell you there is nothing better for making mouth-watering pastry; yes, and bread and biscuits, too.

FORMER RESIDENT OF MURRAY HARBOR DEAD—The Sydney Post records the death at his home Whitney Pier of Laughlin McFadyen, after a lingering illness. Mr. McFadyen was born at Lake Ainslie in 1850 but the family moved to Murray Harbor, P. E. I., when he was but a boy of four. He lived there until his coming to Sydney in 1900. In 1919 he married Miss Pansy McLeod of Murray Harbor who survives him. Five sons and one daughter also survive him. He was an active member of several fraternal societies. He became an Orangeman when only nineteen years of age, being the scarlet degree thirty-six years ago. He was a member of the I. O. Foresters for the last twenty-three years. In all the relationships of life he will be much missed.

A GREAT SWIMMER—Probably the greatest lady swimmer that P. E. Island has ever produced is Miss Evelyn Dewar, daughter of Mr. R. B. Dewar of this City. To her a swim from the Park bathing house to the black buoy at the entrance of the harbor and back is a very simple feat. She made this trip on a number of occasions recently. On her last swim over this route this week she was without any escort whatever and against a slight ebb tide. She was quite a relief to her friends when she finally appeared in view and came in as fresh as the proverbial daisy, not only is she a splendid long-distance swimmer but is also an expert at fancy swimming of every kind. Her younger sister Olive is also an exceptionally fine swimmer.

Mr. Colin J. Campbell, Lakeville, has received the following letter from Major W. B. Prorowse, O. C., 98th Battalion. Mr. Campbell had naturally been anxious about his son as he had already lost one son, Lieut. Plus J. Campbell, who was killed in action in Belgium. His many friends while sympathizing with him are pleased to know that Colin's wound is not serious and hope to hear shortly of his complete recovery.

France, July 20th, 1916.

From O. C. 98th Canadian Siege Battery, B. E. F., France.

To C. J. Campbell Lakeville, P. E. Island, Canada.

Dear Mr. Campbell:—

I am very sorry to have to inform you that your son, 92884—Gunner Joseph Michael Campbell, was wounded on July 19th by shrapnel. A shrapnel bullet struck him just above the left hip but the Doctor says the wound is not serious, and I expect to have him back with me within a month or so. He was working with 30 other men clearing a new battery position; they had been shelled rather heavily and had gone into their dug-outs for safety, coming out after they thought the shelling was all through, when a single shell exploded in the air and wounded three. He has been a splendid man in the battery and I hope to have him back within a month or so.

Wishing you all good luck.

I remain,
Yours truly,
W. B. PROROWSE,
Major,
Commanding 98th Canadian Siege Battery.

Pleurisy Pains Vanish!
Chest Colds Cured!

NERVILINE HAS NEVER FAILED TO CURE

Don't suffer! Nerviline is your relief. Nerviline is rubbed in, lots of it, will ease that drawn, tight feeling over your ribs, will destroy the pain, will have you smiling and happy in no time.

"I caught cold last week while motoring," writes P. T. Mallery, from Linden. "My chest was full of congestion, my throat was mighty sore, and I had the fiercest stitch in my side you could imagine. As a boy I was accustomed to have my mother use Nerviline for all our minor ailments and remembering what confidence she had in Nerviline, I sent out for a bottle at once. Between noon and eight o'clock I had a whole bottle rubbed on, and then got into a perspiration under the blankets. This drove the Nerviline in good and deep, and I woke up next morning fresh as a dollar and absolutely cured. Nerviline is now always part of my traveling kit, and I will never be without it."

The large 50c. family size bottle is the most economical, or you can easily get the 25c. trial size from any dealer.

Relatives here have recently heard from Private William Alley, son of the late Charles Alley, Cardigan, saying he was wounded on June 6th and is now in Gordon Castle Hospital, Forth, Scotland. To quote from his letter: "I was wounded on June 6th; had all of the muscles torn off my upper right arm is crooked and the hand paralyzed. I think the hand may get all right, but I doubt if the arm will ever be right straight again. I am having a fine time now, living in an old castle, belonging to the Duke of Richmond and Gordon. It is a grand old estate with lovely drives and walks. We are about four miles from the sea, but are taken there in motors quite often. Yesterday we were taken out there to a picnic; some of the boys went in swimming, but I could not, until my arm is healed." Private Alley enlisted in the West, and is another name to add to P. E. Island's roll of honour.

Mrs. H. McKinnon, 110 Green St., Charlottetown, has received the following letter from Sergt W. Lewis Gifford, 16th Platoon, Belgium, in connection with the death of her brother, Jerome Gallant, which was included in the casualty list some time ago:

Dear Mrs. McKinnon—Just a word of sympathy about your recent loss. You have heard long before this about it, officially, but a few particulars perhaps would be appreciated. I was with Jerry the last few minutes, and although we did our best he died about twenty minutes after he was hit. It was in the recent heavy fighting. He was hit in the afternoon by shrapnel. We buried him with seven other men of our pals up there, which was the best we could do for them, and a little wooden cross marks the spot. We miss Jerry very much. He was of a cheerful disposition, and is missed by all who knew him. You may rest assured that he always did his part like a man. I wish to convey my deepest sympathy to you and his people.

Millions of Dollars Given— Millions of Belgians Fed— Yet Millions More Are Needed

Nothing else has ever so roused the indignation and practical sympathy of the English-speaking world as the fate of Belgium.

At the first call for help some of the leading business men of neutral United States organized the Belgian Relief Committee, arranging with the British Government to co-operate, and with the Germans to keep their hands off—and the work of feeding the starving Belgians began.

Since then many million dollars have been contributed to the Belgian Relief Fund, chiefly in the British Empire and the United States, about half of it coming from Belgians living in these countries. The wonderfully efficient Relief Committee have spent this money so carefully that an average of $2.50 has fed each dependent Belgian family a month. Thus the nation has been saved alive—so far.

But only so far! The number of Belgians dependent on the Fund is steadily growing as their little hoards of food and money run out. Help is needed now more than ever before—and will be till the Germans are driven out. If it is not supplied, all that has been done cannot save the country from wholesale starvation for two weeks!

If you have been contributing to the Belgian Relief Fund, and so keeping some woman, child, family or families alive, don't leave them to starve! If you have not done much yet, spare a little of your plenty for some of the hundreds who are daily forced to join the bread lines at the Relief stations. The Relief Committee appeal particularly for regular monthly contributions sufficient to feed one, or better still, several Belgian families!
