Good work and speaks well for our new Carpet department manager Mr. J. C. Sprague. We have cut and matched, during the past few days, Brussels and 2 Velvet Carpets, in all over 300 yards. The waste on these Carpets was just one yard, or an average of 4 1-4 yards to a piece. Only one Velvet was pieced. We will all 3 rolls free of charge, and match them full by our ex. one need man, at cost prices.

Mercerites Will Retaliate Against DeBoucherville

The Count is Now a Prisoner.

[SPECIAL TO THE GUARDIAN.]

MONTREAL, April 21.—Yesterday morning High Constable Gale, of Quebec, arrived here and proceeded to Mercier's house, St. Denis street. The ex-Premier was in bed suffering from neuralgia when the High Constable served the summons ordering the Count to appear at Quebec on the 28th inst.

Mercier was interviewed immediately after the service of the summons. The reporter was taken into the bedroom where Mercier was lying. At the foot of the bed was suspended a large picture of the Virgin Mary, where Mercier could easily see it. Around the frame was arranged a row of wax candles, which illuminated that part of the room, the rest of the apartment being darkened. Mercier stated he would defend himself, and declared his innocence of the charges, and bitterly complained of being disturbed in his professional work. He denied he ever touched a cent of money. As to the specific charge he says: "I never conspired, I never demanded a cent and I never touched money which was deposited. I never knew till brought before the Royal Commission that Langlais had subscribed a cent, and I suppose the people will be surprised to see me accused of conspiracy in the Langlais matter when I was dismissed for having stolen $100,000 of Baie des Chaleurs railway money.

Langlais states that the suits brought against himself and Mercier are taken to make political capital. They were instigated by Caron to frighten the liberals from pushing the charges against him. Langlais also says the Mercerites will bring suits against members of the De Boucherville Government for being mixed up in the Whelan and other scandals.

Lumber Panic Feared.

MONTREAL, April 21.—A Kingston despatch says that if rain does not come soon there will be a panic in the lumber market. The streams are so low that logs cannot be got out. Thousands of men are idle. The railways and steamboats will also suffer.

New and Improved Management.

THANKING the public for the generous patronage extended to me for the past few years, I beg to inform them that I have secured the shop lately occupied by Mr. James Redmond, North Side Queen Square, where I purpose carrying on the BARBER business, with an eye to the comfort and satisfaction of all my patrons. The business at my old stand, C. B. Warren's corner, will be continued with the usual care and attention in the interest of and by my experienced workman, Mr. John Reardon, for whom I would respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

GEO. M. ROBINSON.
Ch'town, April 22, 1892.

House of Assembly.

THURSDAY, April 21.

House met at 11.30 a. m., Speaker in the chair.

Mr. Rogers asked the Commissioner of Crown Lands to lay on the table certain papers in order to show the correctness or incorrectness of answers given.

The Leader of the Government rose to a point of order, stating that Mr. Rogers could ask his question, but not speak on it.

Mr. Rogers then made an adjourment. Continuing he said the government were endeavoring to choke off discussion and the fist had gone forth to with-hold information. Hon. members were not allowed to examine papers in the Crown Lands Office without tendering a payment of 16 cents.

The bill to provide for temperance education in the the schools was read a third time and passed.

House went into committee of the whole to consider a resolution recommending the passing of a bill to restrict the sale of liquors in the City of Charlottetown. The resolution passed, and Mr. Peters presented a bill in accordance with the same; which was read a first time and ordered to be read a second time tomorrow.

An Act to amend an Act to incorporate the Presbyterian church at Montague, was read a third time and passed.

An Act to incorporate the Trustees of the Baptist Church of Charlottetown was read a second time, and ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

Mr. Peters introduced a bill to authorize the sale of lands in Princetown and Princetown Common, which was read a first time, and ordered to be read a second time to-morrow.

Mr. Peters laid on the table correspondence in relation to the claim of Scott Act Inspector McCaull of Summerside.

Mr. Shaw presented a bill to incorporate the Farmers' Trading Association of Three Rivers, which was read a first time, and ordered to be read a second time to-morrow.

Mr. McLeod moved the House into committee of the whole to consider a bill to amend the Water Works Act of the City of Charlottetown, Mr. McWilliams in the chair. The bill was agreed to without amendment, and ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

Hon. Mr. Forbes reported the bill to incorporate the Central Fire Insurance Company of P. E. I. to be a private one, with recommendation that a fee of $10 be charged. Report adopted.

An Act to incorporate the New London Hall Company was read a third time and passed.

Recess.

Water Comissimoners Bill.

To The Editor of the Guardian.

SIR,—The citizens are surprised to learn that the Legislature could be induced to give even a moment's consideration to the proposed amendments to the "Ch'town Water Works Act." In spite of the almost unanimous declaration of the citizens at a public meeting in the Market Hall, and in the face of several resolutions passed by the City Council, giving the Water Commissioners unmistakably to understand that the people of Ch'town want neither them nor their office, those men now have the effrontery to ask the Legislature to authorize another lean of $20,000 and to increase their term of office from three years to four years, and depriving the citizens of choosing their own candidate for 1893. The Chairman of the Water Commissioners is evidently well acquainted with the views of the citizens when he asks the Legislature to elect him to a position which he feel he has forfeited, and not likely to secure again at the hands of the citizens, or he would have framed his bill to have the election of one Water Commissioners annually as in the past, and as the bond holders have reason to expect.

There was a time when the peoples will had some influence upon Legislature, but in place of this, a measure for the abolition of this useless department is ignominiously set aside, and a subsequent Bill; opposed to the popular will is to be made law. Speakers in both branches of Legislature have been eloquent of late in denunciations of high handed tyranny. Let them now hurl their innendoes and cast their votes against one of the most disgraceful proposals even made to a Legislative body.

Drop in the Oat Market Abroad

Cable advices received here yesterday report a further decline in the price of oats in the English market—16s. per quarter of 304 lbs not being obtainable.

This is no doubt caused chiefly by the large stocks on hand and large quantities yet to go forward from the Western States and Canada, also to the general depression in trade, as a result, to a great extent, of the unprecedented labor strikes throughout the United Kingdom.

Tourists.

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effecually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, praventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 75c bottles by all leading druggists.

The Morning Guardian,

APRIL 22, 1892.

A Proper Measure.

In the House of Assembly on Thursday afternoon, Hon. Mr. Peters introduced a bill "to regulate, by police and municipal regulations, the sale of intoxicating liquors in the city of Charlottetown, and so to preserve therein public decency and repress drunkenness and disorderly conduct."

The act will be known as "The Charlottetown liquor regulation Act."

We cannot do better than give in full the most important sections of the bill.

Sec. 3. From and after the 30th day of June next, no liquor shall be sold in the said city except in a room or apartment, built and constituted as follows, viz: On a ground floor open to view in its entire exterior, without partition or screen, containing as fixed furniture therein nothing except a counter not exceeding three feet in height, having only one entrance or exit, and that one on and facing one of the public streets of the city, and having facing such street a window so built and constructed as to afford full view from without of the interior of such room or apartment, but nothing herein contained to prevent the warehousing of liquor in suitable warehouses, but no sale thereof shall be made as aforesaid, and in such room or apartment nothing shall be exposed for sale or sold except liquor, nor shall such room or apartment be used for any other purpose than for keeping and selling liquor therein.

Sec. 5. This Act shall not apply to the sale by druggists on the written prescription of a duly qualified medical practitioner.

Sec. 6. Any person in any of the characters in Sect. 4 of this Act, who sells, supplies, gives or delivers liquor to any person under the age of 16 years, of either sex, shall be guilty of an offence under the Act.

Sec. 7.—If any person in a state of intoxication assaults any person, or injures any property, the person who furnished him with the liquor which occasioned his intoxication shall be jointly and severally liable to the same action by the party injured as the person intoxicated may be liable to, and the husband, wife, parent, child 21 years or upwards, brother, sister, master, guardian, or employee of any person who has the habit of drinking intoxicating liquor to excess, may give notice in writing, signed by him or her, to any person who sells, or is reported to sell liquor, not to deliver intoxicating liquor to the person having such habit; and if the person so notified at any time within 12 months after such notice, either himself or by his clerk, servant or agent, delivers or suffers to be delivered any liquor to the person having such habit, he shall be guilty of an offence under the Act.

Sec. 8.—No sale of liquor shall be made in said city to any person from or after the hours of six o'clock on Saturday afternoon till seven o'clock on Monday morning thereafter; nor shall any sale be made on other days of the week from 10 o'clock at night until 7 o'clock in the forenoon of the next day.

Sec. 9.—No action shall lie to recover the price of liquors sold on credit in the city, nor shall the price of liquor so sold be allowed as a set off in any action, and any goods or things pledged or pawned therein for liquor shall be considered as pledged or pawned without value and may be recovered accordingly.

Section 10 provides for the describing of offences in laying imformation. It is sufficient to state the unlawful sale, without giving name of liquor, price or quality.

Section 11 provides for the serving of summons on defendant's or witnesses in any part of the provinces.

14.—Any person or persons, guilty of any infraction of any of the provisions of this act, shall upon summary conviction thereof, before the Stipendiary Magistrate of the said City of Charlottetown, be liable to a penalty not exceeding $100 for each offence exclusive of costs, and in default of payment thereof, forthwith, the magistrate shall by warrant commit the offender to the common jail of the said city for any period not exceeding three months, with or without hard labor, unless the said penalty and all costs and charges and all costs of the commitment and carrying of the offender to the said jail be sooner paid.

The fines go to the treasury of the city.

The friends of temperance and good order cannot but approve of the measure. It will off set, to a considerable extent, the evils of free rum. We hope to see it become law.

Artist Harris' Work.

The Montreal Herald contains a descriptive article on the Annual Spring Exhibition of the Montreal Art Gallery. A fac simile of Mr. Robert Harris' "Sands O'Dee," is given, with the following description:

Harris' "Sands O'Dee" (8) is a most pleasing picture. It is a relief to the eyes after having dwelt upon the works of pupils of the Parisian schools of Monet, just now the fashion, the prevailing tints of which are green and purple, with dashes of blue and red. One critic was heard to remark that those people whose "impression" is that of purple when regarding blue sky and green grass, must have some defect of vision. The subject of "The Sands O'Dee" is familiar to everybody:

"Oh is it weed, or fish or floating hair?
A drowned maiden's hair

The picture represents an old man sitting in a boat bare-headed, shading his face from the sunlight with his hand, and a young man on his knees beside him, both leaning over and gazing at the face of a dead woman floating the water. A soft sunlight permeates the mists and throws a rosy glow over sky and sea, the fishermen and the dead face with its trailing hair.

Does Not Consider Himself Worthy.

In an interview with the Montreal Herald, Mr. L. H. Davies said:

"We will never consent to his withdrawal. We are all loyal to Mr. Laurier, and will stand by him both in victory and defeat. Where could we find a better man than our silver tongued orator? He may not be personally ambitious, but contentment is not paralysis of the intellect. Naturally, he feels that our late losses possibly reflect upon him; but they do not. He did all he could. No one could do more. As to my taking his place, I need hardly say that I have never even contemplated such a step. I do not consider myself worthy of the position, and even if I did, how could I possibly take hold of the leadership, living, as I do, in Prince Edward Island? Moreover, I am not at all sure that I am going to remain in active politics. At a l events, while I am still a factor in the arena, I shall always follow the banner of my old leader, Wilfred Laurier."

Dissolution Probable.

An early dissolution of the Provincial Parliament may be looked for, with elections in the latter part of July.
