President Johnson's Aide Arrested In Morals Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter W. Jenkins, an aide to President Johnson for 20 years, was arrested at the Washington YMCA Oct. 7 on a morals charge, police records snow. His resignation was announced by the White House Wednesday night.

The announcement in New York was made a few hours after Jenkins had been taken to hospital in Washington with what was described as "extreme fatigue."

Jenkins' arrest came to light after Republican national chairman Dean Burch had telephoned a statement to news media which said: "There is a report sweeping Washington tonight that the White House is desperately trying to suppress a major news story affecting the national security."

George Reedy, White House press secretary, said then, when asked about Burch's statement: "I don't know what he's talking about."

Reedy, travelling with Johnson on a campaign foray into New York, said that Jenkins "who has been suffering from extreme fatigue for some time, was sent to George Washington University Hospital by his physician, Dr. Charles Thompson."

In Washington Thompson confirmed that he had put Jenkins in the hospital.

According to records at the morals division of police headquarters Jenkins was arrested on a charge of being "disorderly (indecent gestures)." Jenkins gave his occupation as "clerk" and elected to forfeit $50 collateral. There were no details of the incident.

JENKINS RESIGNED

In New York, White House sources said Johnson first learned of Jenkins being in hospital as a result of questions from reporters. Reedy said Jenkins had submitted his resignation as special assistant to the president in writing, Johnson had accepted it and Bill D. Moyers, another White House aide, was appointed to take Jenkins' place.

An army major in the Second World War, Jenkins is a 46-year - old soft - spoken Texan who joined the White House staff when Johnson became president. He had been administrative assistant to Johnson when he was vice-president.

Jenkins married the former Marjorie Whitehill in 1945. They have four sons and two daughters.

At the morals division, an earlier arrest is recorded under Jenkins' name. Dated Jan. 15, 1959, it said he was arrested that day at the YMCA on a charge of "disorderly conduct (pervert)." Jenkins forfeited collateral on this occasion.

At the FBI a spokesman declined comment when asked if that arrest was noted in the customary security check made of White House personnel.

QUESTION ASKED

Asked if Jenkins had sat in on meetings of the National Security Council, Reedy told reporters: "I'd have to rely on memory in a case like this. I'd not want to rely on memory."

Reedy also said he had not seen Jenkins' letter of resignation.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Clifton White, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Goldwater - Miller, issued this statement:

"The exposure of arrests on morals charges of one of the president's closest advisers represents both a personal tragedy and a national misfortune.

'Certainly human feelings of compassion for Mr. Jenkins and his family and community will be the first thought of millions of Americans tonight.

"The fact that this situation involves the White House official family, however, make it more than a personal tragedy.

"The effects upon America both nationally and internationally can only be surmised at this time."

Thompson told The Associated Press he had been trying to get Jenkins to slow down for two years.

TWO HURT BY GRENADE

SAIGON (AP)—Two American soldiers escaped with slight injuries Wednesday night when one of them picked up a grenade thrown at them and pitched it into a ditch. Pfc. Gerald D. McMenonin of Philadelphia, said the grenade bounced off him and landed in the seat of the tricycle-shaw in which he was riding with Pfc. Walter Sayaya of Detroit, in Sadec, 85 miles southwest of Saigon. The grenade was tossed by one of two men on a motorcycle which passed the shaw. The men escaped.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. JAY BECKER

QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

| North | East | South | West |
| | ♥ 2♣ | | |

What would you bid now with each of the following five hands?

1. ♠KJ96 ♥4 ♦K972 ♣K1085
2. ♠J765 ♥Q82 ♦KQ963 ♣4
3. ♠KQ872 ♥7 ♦J963 ♣Q82
4. ♠A9 ♥J53 ♦QJ854 ♣KQ7
5. ♠KJ842 ♥AQ63 ♦KQ95 ♣—

1. Double. Game is doubtful at this point and the best thing to do is double for penalties. You are likely to take four tricks on defense and can expect partner to provide enough power to produce a penalty of 500 or 800 points. East is probably in trouble and we shouldn't let him get away.

2. Two hearts. Of course, it is tempting to bid two diamonds instead, but this could lead to a bidding dilemma if partner's rebid were two hearts. To pass the two heart bid at this point would amount to concealment of the heart support, while to raise to three hearts would in effect be bidding more than the hand is worth. Bidding two hearts directly places the decision of how far to go right where it belongs —in partner's lap.

3. Pass. Two spades would be a forcing bid and could lead to serious complications if partner were short in spades. It is tempting to bid over two clubs, but it is much better to resist the impulse in the face of an already established misfit in hearts. Partner still has a bid coming and nothing much will be lost if he is unable to take further action.

4. Two notrump. The chief bids to consider are two diamonds, two notrump or double. The double is not recommended in this case because there is a strong likelihood of a game and the penalty collected might be insufficient to compensate for it.

The potential game lies in hearts or notrump. One advantage of bidding two notrump directly is that the balanced distribution is shown right away and partner is presented with an immediate choice between a notrump and a suit contract. Another advantage is that possible club ruffs in a suit contract may be avoided.

The alternative bid of two diamonds would produce a problem if North's rebid were two hearts. We would then have to choose whether to play for game in hearts or notrump, without knowing which one was right.

5. Three clubs. A small slam or grand slam is very likely, and the best way of informing partner of the good news is by the immediate cuebid. The cuebid shows club control and strongly implies good heart support. How far we will go with the hand depends largely on what partner does next.
