What is a babies life worth? We will not attempt to assess what is beyond our ability to value. Everyone agrees that every child should be given a fair chance. No one questions the right of the baby to protection from disease. Obviously it is of advantage to the infants and the nation that they have a proper start in life, so that they may grow up into strong and healthy adults.

The State Treasury ended the financial year with a deficit of £1,557,896, which was £331,523 in excess of the original budget estimate, but £2104 less than the revised one submitted to the Premiers' Conference in April. Despite a fall in revenue of £651,440, the leeway was only £137,357 greater than in the previous financial year, due to a saving of £514,083 in expenditure. Child welfare and outdoor relief cost £791,462, an increase of over £220,000; it included £653,031 for unemployment relief. Railway economies, which offset a revenue shrinkage of £223,000, and gave a working surplus of £179,696 in excess of that of the previous year, figured largely in stemming the drift.

Fellows' Syrup promptly reduces the coughing spasms and relieves respiration. It also builds up strength and vitality, and assists the body to throw off the disease. Fellows' Syrup is made in Canada and sold at all drug stores.

Badly Mauled, Heads for Halifax, Exhibition Star Just Can't Fear

New York papers recently carried pictures of Marion Knowlton and her narrow escape from death when her seven lions mauled her in a mad frenzy. It was one of the most tense spectacles seen since the Roman Coliseum.

Nova Scotia will have a chance to witness the same spectacle (it is to be hoped without the same near-tragedy) when the Eastern Canada Exhibition opens, October 17-22.

She comes with Schulz's circus and seven other remarkable amusement attractions. These, the very best on the continent, could never have shown in Halifax save for the new date of the exhibition which is late enough to set free such Four Star features from the most expensive circuits.

The new date of the exhibition makes other unique attractions possible. Thus this year for the first time there will be staged as part of the entertainment a Military and Naval tournament in which upwards of two thousands of Canada's finest defenders will take part.

prices have been reduced to record low prices, railway rates are down and special excursions are back to pre-war prices.

MOUNT MELICK W. I.

The regular monthly meeting of the Mt. Mellick W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. MacEachern on Sept. 8, with twelve members and ten visitors present. Meeting opened with President, presiding, by singing Ode followed by Creed in unison. Roll Call was answered by repeating a poem. Minutes of last meeting were read, approved and signed. Concerning concert, it was decided to hold same in Pownall Hall on September 26. Miss Elizabeth MacRae then gave a splendid report of Annual Convention. New committees are as follows: School, Mrs. W. J. Mutch and Miss Gertrude Villett (re-elected); Sick, Misses Viola Ballem and Laura MacQueen (re-elected); Programme, Mrs. W. H. Wood, Misses Hazel MacEachern and Elizabeth MacRae. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the President, Mrs. M. MacRae for the excellent programme she sponsored at local convention at Millview. Mrs. Laura MacQueen kindly invited next meeting. Convenor, Miss Hazel MacEachern on Canadian Industries; Roll call, a Canadian product and where manufactured. Business period closed by singing, "God Save the King." An enjoyable lunch was served by hostess and a programme followed consisting of instrumental music by Misses Charlotte Drake and Hazel MacEachern, reading by Mrs. Clapp, solo by Mrs. W. J. Mutch. A contest put on by Miss Winnie Robertson was won by Miss E. MacRae, second, Mrs. W. H. Drake, and booby prize, Mrs. J. Ballem.

The past few years have seen great progress made in the control of preventable diseases. A particularly notable achievement has been the saving of infant lives. There are in this country thousands of children alive and well who would have died as babies if conditions had not changed for the better.

The decrease in the number of infant deaths which has been recorded of late years, is satisfactory evidence that the efforts which have been made are bearing fruit. It also indicates that the work done has been along the right lines.

Mothers of today know more about the proper care of infants than ever before and so their babies received more intelligent attention. No matter how much we may admire mother love and appreciate the willingness of mothers to sacrifice themselves for their children, we should recognize the fact that affection and good intentions do not take the place of knowledge.

The fact that fewer babies die and that the death rate among pre-school children has been definitely lowered is the answer to those who scoff at what they call "mew-fangled ideas." Although we may respect our grandparents, we realize that they were not always wise in their care of babies. In these days many children died because their parents were ignorant of facts which today are common knowledge to intelligent parents.

In the midst of trying conditions we have before us a challenge, to continue and increase our efforts to save babies. We have gone far, but we can go much farther. Babies still die whose lives could be saved, and whose lives would be saved if their parents were better informed regarding infant care.

Progress is gratifying, but it should not satisfy us; rather it should serve as a spur to drive us on to added efforts toward the preservation of more and more lives. Saving babies is the result of the action of many forces, but the most potent force is the care given the child by a well informed mother.

Questions concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

Included in the covenant of God. They lived like unto Abraham, dwelling in tents, roaming as nomads, living on the milk of their flocks and the fruits of the earth, and they drank no wine. They stood firm not because they had taken any personal vow but because they felt a binding force of one whom they counted sacred.

St. John's word expresses the declaration of a general principle that if we do the will of God we shall not want for a man to stand before God, forever.

At evensong, Capt. Kelly spoke from 1 Cor. 3: 2-15. These words represent the Apostle's picture of the uprearing of the walls of the Church of Christ. The Church of Christ includes everybody who has accepted the Lord Jesus Christ and build upon Him as their foundation. We have a much divided Christendom today, and at present unity of denominations is being discussed.

Unity of Christendom will never come by voting, it will come only through true christianity as we see everything through the one mind of Christ Jesus, the foundation, then we shall have unity.

And though our hearts, the hearts of christians, sometimes grow faint because of our unhappy divisions and because of new structures which some would build in a day, not upon the foundation of Christ but upon the cold earth; our faith can still find rest in the vision which so cheered and strengthened the soul of St. John. He saw the church of the future of the Rebabites in the book of united. The length, breadth and the height equal, the walls garnished with all manner of precious stones and it rested upon that foundation in which were written the names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb and the headstones bearing the name of our Redeemer. Miss Edith Gordon, R. N., New York, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Fide Gordon, motored to Georgetown and were the guests of Misses Pearl and May Lavers, A.

RISING GOLD YIELDS

West Australia is viewing the rising gold yield with great satisfaction. Production for June was 50,079.87 fine ounces, an increase of 3571 ounces compared with that for June, 1931, and the highest for June since 1920.

The yield for the first six months of the year was 288,764 1/2 ounces, which was 63,480 1/2 ounces higher than for the corresponding portion of the previous year.

Gold mining, which has been a great help to West Australia in the past, promises to be so in the future. The Great Boulder has been able to double its dividend, and the Sons of Gwalia has restarted distributions which had been in abeyance since 1920. The Lake View and the Boulder Perseverance, which have been off the dividend-paying list for some time, expect soon to resume payments to shareholders. These and other companies have been encouraged by the enhanced price of gold to pursue intensive development on a large scale, resulting in the working of big deposits of ore that were formerly unpayable, and the discovery of new deposits, some of great width and high values. Options have been taken on several old and almost forgotten mines, and the industry is undergoing a revival, the like of which has not been witnessed for years.

Busy Batteries

The extraordinary increase in the quantity of ore crushed by State batteries is evidence of the renewed activity of prospectors. Revised figures for 1931, which have just been issued, show that 100,743 tons of ore was crushed at these batteries, representing an increase of 50,964 tons compared with the figure for 1930; and for the first six months of this year the total is 70,000 tons, an increase of 13,000 tons over that of the corresponding period of the previous year.

Employment in the mining industry has increased by 78 per cent, to 7,331 men in the two and a quarter years up to March 30.

EMPLOYMENT FOR 12,000

The £600,000 obtained through the Loan Council for the first quarter of the current financial year is expected by the Premier (Sir James Mitchell) to bring the number of men employed on relief works up to 12,000 from 6800, and with the resultant stimulus to trade and industry, to about practically the whole of the unemployed in West Australia. Without this financial help, he said, the Government could not have continued the works now in progress. Most of the expenditure on proposed new works will be for wages, and will be applied to sewerage, drainage (metropolitan and country), reconditioning of the water supply, storage at Fremantle Harbor, continuation of Geraldton Harbor works, reforestation, erection of schools, and land clearing (chiefly in the South-west). The employment of additional men on reproductive loan works should enable the Treasury to save £500,000 of the £600,000 now spent annually on relief.

Ample Rainfall

At the end of the second week of July, the agricultural areas received such good rains that farmers' anxiety about a reserve of moisture in the soil has been banished. Until then the rainfalls had just been sufficient for the time being. A bountiful season is now confidently expected. The area under crop is estimated by the Director of Agriculture (Mr. G. L. Sutton) to be from 10 to 15 per cent. greater than that of last season. The Co-operative Wheat Pool estimates that 3,500,000 acres are under wheat, which may yield 45 million bushels. The latest estimate of last harvest is 41,360,698 bushels from 3,158,888 acres, an average of 13.1 bushels.
