Reforming the Saloon.

Dr. Rainsford's idea that the worst influences of the saloon can be destroyed by giving facilities for the sale of beer and light wines in respectable places is not new. We have had the beer and wine controversy in this country. On the one hand it is urged that men can be weaned from whiskey and other heady liquors to light and wholesome alcoholic beverages. On the other hand it is argued that beer-drinking is a stepping-stone to whiskey-drinking. It is a controversy which may be prolonged indefinitely without either party convincing the other. What is new is the appearance of a clergyman as the advocate of the beer and wine theory, and his proposal that places for the sale of these beverages shall be opened as a measure of philanthropy and social reform. These features have given rise to much newspaper comment, largely of a humorous kind. A recent issue of the New York Herald contains a cartoon representing one of the "church saloons." The bar-room contains the usual collection of seedy and hilarious gentlemen; but behind the bar are such legends as "A Tract Goes With Every Drink," "We Believe in Practical Piety and Pure Whiskey," "Patronize Christian Saloons Only." The humor is somewhat coarse, but the prelude is likely to represent wrongly the popular view of the proposal. Dr. Rainsford is, no doubt, sincerely in earnest in his desire to better the condition of the masses in New York, but the attempt to reform the ways of the saloon by selling beer and wine in respectable places, is an experiment fraught with peril. Beer is not so innocuous a beverage as the brewers would have us believe, and, whatever they may say, it does frequently create the taste for stronger compounds. It would be a disastrous thing if the reformed saloons should become training schools for the old fashioned ones. The coffee-house idea, of which Dr. Rainsford is an extension, is a good one; and where the coffee-house has failed to be a successful rival to the saloon, it has probably been because it has degenerated into a mere restaurant. What is wanted is a place where, on payment of a very small sum, a man may get some light refreshment, chat with a friend and read the papers and magazines. —Globe.

Plot to Blow up a Railway Station.

LONDON, May 31.—What is supposed to be an attempt to blow up the railway station at London Fields, in North West London, was discovered today. A policeman on duty in the vicinity, observed a gang of men acting in a suspicious manner near the station. He watched them unseen for a time, and became convinced that they were engaged in some unlawful operation. He made his way towards them, but just before he reached the place where the men were, he was seen by them. At the sight of the policeman the men threw something away and dashed off at the top of their speed. The policeman pursued them a short distance, but they were too fleet-footed for him, and succeeded in making their escape. The policeman returned to the place where he had first seen the men, and looked around to discover what it was they had thrown away. He found four powerful dynamite cartridges to which fuses were attached, and it is believed that the men were arranging to place the explosives in the railway station. The affair has caused the deepest indignation. It is thought that the men whose nefarious scheme was frustrated by the vigilance of the policeman were foreign Anarchists. Many of them have flocked to London since the authorities in continental cities have stated their crusade of extermination against them. There is absolutely no clue to the identity of the men, but every effort will be made to discover and punish them. Several of the recent alleged discoveries of dynamite outrages and bombs in various parts of London have turned out to nothing, but the discoveries of today leave no doubt that mischief was intended.

THE LEGISLATURE.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL DEBATES

Hon. Mr. LAIRD.—We know of sheriffs who prostituted their position in order to aid the Conservative party. I can prove that statement in black and white. This is not a new system—the Dominion Government, which the hon. member supports, have the privilege of choosing their returning officers, and if it is right for them, why not apply the same principle to the Local Government? It may be the case that the sheriff for the time being would be incapable of performing his duties. The old gentleman who now occupies the position in Queens County is past his days of usefulness. I know of an instance in which a deputy sheriff offered a person the position of presiding officer if he would support a certain candidate. He indignantly refused, and the position was given to a servile Tory. If the sheriff is qualified and is known to be a conscientious man he can be left to do the duty, this amendment simply leaves the power in the hands of the Government to put a proper person in the position. The present Government have more regard to right and justice than the Opposition have. I challenge the hon. member to show anything improper the present Government have done to keep themselves in power. Does not the hon. member believe there are many men in all the counties just as well qualified to perform the duties as the sheriffs? Can he find a more extreme partizan than the present sheriff of Kings County? He talks about the Government appointing returning officers to favor our party—he must be measuring our corn in his own half-bushel.

Mr. CAMPBELL.—God forbid.

Hon. Mr. LAIRD.—I would scorn to gain an election by the favoritisms of a partizan sheriff. This is simply a safeguard. It allows the Government to appoint a suitable person if the sheriff is incapable. Does the hon. member believe all the wisdom and justice and equity of the province is in the Conservative party? If I ever contest a district against the hon member while the present Government are in power, he will get ample justice, and that is more than we got from the sheriffs under the late administration.

Mr. CAMPBELL.—The hon. Leader of the Government said the sheriffs perjured themselves to further party interests; that they prostituted their office in violation of their oath for party purposes.

Hon. Mr. LAIRD.—They prostituted their official position to further party interests.

Mr. CAMPBELL.—The hon. member challenges us to show where they ever prostituted themselves for party purposes. Did not he state that it was expediency that induced them to introduce this Bill?

Hon. Mr. LAIRD.—I said it was in the interests of economy.

Mr. CAMPBELL.—When the House met, the abolition of the Council was not the policy of the Government, they had another policy but they had not the courage to carry it out. They introduced a Bill to abolish the Council which was right, but in order to suit party purposes they support the amendment proposed by the hon. member from Cardigan, and now they put in a provision to oppress the people and thwart their wishes by introducing the mortgage vote. We see men prostituting their position for party purposes. This mortgage vote is introduced at the demand of one member in the House of Assembly.

Hon. Mr. ROGERS.—The hon. member accuses supporters of the Government of being servile followers of party, but I would like him to point to a single instance during the last twelve years where a supporter of the Conservative party voted against a Government measure, but here to-day we see supporters of the present Government moving amendments to the present Bill. Can hon. members point to a single instance of a Conservative in this House moving an amendment to a Bill introduced by the Government they supported?

Mr. CAMPBELL.—We had no men here to move amendments.

Mr. KICKHAM.—It is no compliment to the hon. member from Eldon who sat at the head of this Table for a number of years to say they had no men to move an amendment.

Mr. KACKENZIE.—I would place full confidence in the present Sheriff of Queens County in regard to election matters, but it is well known his health is failing and that he is probably physically unfit to perform the duties. This leaves it optional with the Lieutenant Governor-in-Council to appoint another person if they see that it is necessary. I would not like to see any Government in power for ever, but while we are here we should enact laws which would recommend themselves to posterity. It is only about two years ago that we consolidated the laws which cost the country about $10,000, and, as I told you before, I am informed by gentlemen of the highest legal attainments that the book is not worth the paper it is printed on. This will no doubt be one of the laws which will be consolidated properly in a very short time. I can state that I have had no outside pressure brought to bear on me to induce me to vote for the Bill. I vote to give fair play to the people of King's County, it was very unfair that Georgetown should send two representatives to the House of Assembly and this will equalize the districts in that County.

Dr. Talmage on Political Action.

The two great political parties will soon assemble to build platforms for the presidential candidates to stand on. A committee of each party will be appointed to make the platform. After proper deliberation the committees will come in with a ringing report, "Whereas" and "Whereas" and "Whereas." Pronunciamentoes all shaped with the one idea of getting the most votes.

All expression in regard to the great moral evils of the country ignored. No expression about the liquor traffic, for that would lose the rum vote. No expression in regard to the universal attempt at the demolition of the Lord's day. No recognition of God in the history of this nation, for that would lose the vote of the Atheists. But "Whereas" and "Whereas" and "Whereas." Nine cheers will be given for the platform. The dumb devil of the text will put one wing over the Republican platform and the other wing over the Democratic platform.

There is nothing involved in the next election except offices. The great conventions will be opened with prayer by their chaplains. If they avoid platitudes and tell the honest truth in their prayers, they will say: "Oh Lord, we want to be postmasters and consuls and foreign ministers and United States district attorneys. For that we are here, and for that we will strive till the election next November. Give us office, or we die, for ever and for ever. Amen."

Undoubtedly many diseases might be prevented if the blood is kept pure and the general health-tone sustained by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. When this is done, the germs of

La Grippe, Diphtheria

Pneumonia, Scarlet and Typhoid Fevers, Malaria, etc., cannot lodge in the system. After all such prostrating diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found of inestimable value in restoring desired health and vigor and purifying the tainted blood.

For example, read the following from Miss Mattie A. Cobb of Providence, R. I., and her mother. Miss Cobb is a young lady of 19, and is and is in the front rank in her studies at High School. Her father is a well-known police officer:

"Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co.:

"I write to tell how much good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. Sometime ago I had diphtheria and was sick for a year afterward, being Weak, Blind and Helpless.

I used one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it made me real strong." Mrs. [illegible] South Chester Avenue, Providence, R. I.

"As my daughter wants to write how much she liked Hood's Sarsaparilla, I think I would say a few words. I think it is the ever brought before the public. Some of my friends say 'go away with your medicine,' I said the same once, but since my daughter has taken

Hood's Sarsaparilla

My opinion has changed considerably." MRS. GEO. N. COBB, Providence, R. I.

HOOD'S PILLS do not weaken the system like other cathartics, but actually tone up and give strength to the patient.

WONDER IN WELLAND!

A Representative Farmer Speaks.

MR. C. C. HAUN.

The following remarkable facts are fully certified to as being undeniably correct in every particular. Mr. Haun is well known in the vicinity, having resided here over fifty years, and is highly respected as a man of the strictest honor, whose word is as good as his bond.

As will be seen from his letter, four physicians had attended him, and it was only after he had given up hope of cure that he decided to try Burdock Blood Bitters on the recommendation of a neighbor who had been cured of a similar disease by its use. Mr. Haun writes as follows:

DEAR SIRS,—I think I have been one of the worst sufferers you have yet heard of, having been six years in the hands of four of our best doctors without obtaining permanent relief, but continually growing worse, until almost beyond hope of recovery, I tried your Bitters and got relief in a few days. Every organ of my body was deranged, the liver enlarged, hardened and torpid, the heart and digestive organs seriously deranged, a large abscess in my back, followed by paralysis of the right leg, in fact the lower half of my body was entirely useless. After using Burdock Blood Bitters for a few days the abscess burst, discharging fully five quarts of pus in two hours. I felt as if I had received a shock from a powerful battery. My recovery after this was steady and the cure permanent, seeing that for the four years since I have had as good health as ever I had. I still take an occasional bottle, not that I need it but because I wish to keep my system in perfect working order. I can think of no more remarkable case than what I have myself passed through, and no words can express my thankfulness for such perfect recovery.

C. C. HAUN,
Welland P.O.

In this connection the following letter from T. Cumines, Esq., a leading druggist of Welland, Ont., speaks for itself:

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto.

GENTLEMEN,—I have been personally acquainted with Mr. C. C. Haun for the last 20 years, and have always found him a very reliable man. You may place the utmost confidence in anything he says with regard to your medicine. He has on many occasions within the last four years told me that it was marvellous the way the Burdock Blood Bitters had cured him, and that he now felt as able to do a day's work as he ever felt in his life. Although quite well he still takes some B. B. B. occasionally, as he says, to keep him in perfect health.

Yours truly,
THOMAS CUMINES,
Welland, Ont.

The steadily increasing sale of B. B. B., the length of time it has been before the people, and the fact that it cures to stay cured, attest the sterling merit of this monarch of medicines, the people's favorite blood purifier, tonic and regulator.
