MONCTON, N. B., July 8.—Messrs. W. D. Robb, Vice-President in charge of telegraphs, colonization, etc., C. N. R. system, Montreal, and W. G. Barber, General Manager of C. N. R. Telegraphs, Toronto, were in the city for a brief visit yesterday afternoon enroute from Saint John to Nova Scotia and P. E. I. on an inspection trip of the telegraph facilities and offices of the Western Union Telegraph Company, recently acquired by the C. N. Telegraphs. They were travelling in official car 97.

Mr. Robb said they were making a visit to the Maritimes to go over the whole situation. They expected to carry on the same as the Western Union and expected to give equally good service and naturally wanted to satisfy the people of the Maritimes. They now had a complete telegraph system from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Following inspection in the Maritimes, the company will then decide on its future policy here. He said they expected business to grow and if such growth took place expansion would be necessary.

In the acquiring of the Western Union in the Maritimes, Mr. Barber said they had decided to establish their plant superintendent's headquarters at Moncton. Under the Western Union management the headquarters was located at Truro.

(Mr. Robb is expected in Charlottetown on Thursday, July 11th.)

Nothing Heard of "Untin" Bowler

(Canadian Press) OTTAWA, Ont., July 8.—Nothing further was heard of the Chicago Tribune's giant Sikeraki amphibian sesquiplane "Untin" Bowler after 2:10 Eastern Standard Time this afternoon. Port Burwell and Cape Hopes, advance radio stations of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, both reported that they had heard nothing further. It was presumed here that the machine was up for the purpose of getting weather reports, or that it had taken off and been forced down somewhere on its journey towards Port Burwell by bad weather. Dense fog was reported at Burwell this morning with visibility nil.

KING'S MESSAGE

(Special to the Guardian) LONDON, July 8.—King George, through his secretary, Lord Stamfordham, tonight sent the following message to the Archbishop of Canterbury: "The King returned from Westminster with feelings of thankfulness and satisfaction that his earnest desire to join with his people in an act of thanksgiving has been accomplished."

"To the Archbishop of Canterbury, to the dean and chapter of Westminster and all who were responsible for compiling and carrying out the special service, His Majesty desires to express his heartfelt gratitude. The whole ceremony displayed reverence, dignity and a beauty of holiness which, with the setting of the glorious Abbey, seemed to complete that sacrifice of thanksgiving offered by the king and his people for all the benefits received at the hand of God."

AMERICAN FLYERS OVER ATLANTIC

(Canadian Press) OLD ORCHARD, Maine, July 8.—Two American flyers twice prevented from starting across the Atlantic by the wrecking of their plane as they attempted to take-off, tonight were believed to be over the ocean driving the monoplane Pathfinder towards Rome.

Roger C. Williams, pilot, and Lewis A. Yancey, navigator, determined on the take-off even though heavy fog covered the beach and visibility was restricted to less than a quarter of a mile.

The only report of the plane, which took the air at 7.49 p. m. (E. S. T.) was Lieutenant L. M. Melka, of the coast guard who accompanied the Pathfinder in an amphibian. He lost sight of the Rome-bound plane an hour later, 75 miles off Portland Light ship. She was then going fine. Lack of reports of the progress of the silver and green plane did not discourage friends nor Mrs. Gertrude Yancey, wife of the navigator. The fog was general all along the coast.

SENT TO THE SUPREME COURT

Preliminary Hearing of James Gormley Charged with Robbery and Violence, Was Held at Police Court Last Evening.

The preliminary hearing of James Gormley, charged with beating and robbing Mr. Charles J. Miller, Victoria, of the sum of $84.00 on the night of Thursday, July 4th, was held last evening at the police court. Stipendiary Magistrate K. J. Martin, K. C., presiding.

After evidence for the prosecution was heard His Honour remanded the prisoner to the Supreme Court. No witnesses appeared for the defence, and Gormley answering to the charge against him, pleaded "not guilty."

Mr. J. O. C. Campbell represented the Crown and Mr. J. D. Stewart, K. C., for the prisoner.

The Evidence.

Watson Higgins, Police Constable, (Sworn)—I remember night of July 4th. I was on duty that night. Was with Constable Jay in Police car. Stopped at Duffy's store. It was 11.45 p. m. I called Jay's attention to the time as we were going to report off duty. We got in the car; I switched on the lights and then drove west on King Street. Before doing so, I noticed a man near Welsh's alley on King Street. When I drove up, the man proceeded west on the same street and stopped at a door. He then turned back towards the alley. I pulled to the left hand side of the street. I saw the man as he passed the headlights which were shining, and recognized James Gormley—there is no question about that. He was moving fast at the time. He noticed the car and straightened up, walked fast and then broke into a run when I reversed the car. I left Jay out of the car on the north end of the alley and followed with the car around to Water St. I stopped at the south end of the alley, jumped out and followed him in. He was about half way through, when he turned to the left between a barn and fence. I heard him climbing and then lost sight of him in the darkness. There is a light about midway in the lane. Coming from the lane I picked up his cap, (cap identified) and went back to the car and then to the Station. It was 11.55 when we arrived there. I saw Gormley the next morning in the Station. He was identified that morning by Mr. Miller as the man who assaulted him. Mr. Miller said, "there's the man that robbed me—I'd know that face among a thousand."

Constable Jay (sworn), corroborated the evidence of that of the previous witness.

Mr. Charles F. Miller (sworn). I am a lobster packer and fisherman. I was in the city on July 4th. Late in the evening I visited King Street about 11.30. I was alone. "I met that gentleman," (pointing at the prisoner) off the alley on King Street. I offered to buy him a drink. Previous to that I was with him a few minutes. He started in the alley saying, "you'll get one in here." The first thing I knew I was knocked down and robbed of what money and other articles I had about me. I had between $84.00 and $88.00. He then tried to dig my eyes out, saying, "if your eyes are out you won't be able to identify." I didn't remember afterwards until I regained consciousness. I then crawled until I came to two or three doors where I rapped for aid. Some person got me a taxi, and I was driven to the Revere Hotel, where Doctor Ledwell attended to my injuries. When the man was arrested I came to town as quickly as possible, and identified him.

At the conclusion of the hearing, His Honor, as above mentioned, sent the prisoner to the Supreme Court.

Abbey Scene Of Impressive Service

King And Queen Join With Their Subjects In Praise To Almighty God For The King's Recovery From His Recent Illness.

LONDON, July 8.—Westminster Abbey was the scene of a most impressive service yesterday, which will have its place in history. The King and Queen joined with their subjects in thanksgiving to Almighty God for His good providence, whereby our most Gracious Sovereign has been delivered from severe illness to the comfort of the whole realm, and for the signal love and loyalty of his people made manifest in the time of trouble.

Probably there was never a more simple Royal program on a great occasion than yesterday. Their Majesties went to the Abbey with an entourage of only two carriages, each with two attendants and flanked by but half a dozen mounted constables.

Save for a few rows of gilt-chairs in the presbytery, the furnishings of the Abbey were hardly different from the scene which may be beheld on almost any Sunday of the year. The choir members were disposed on the screen around the organ console, so that their annual places might be available for official personages. In an inconspicuous aisle was the famous band of the Grenadier Guards, which under the direction of Captain G. J. Miller made a notable contribution to the music.

The waiting congregation had little to distract their attention, for following His Majesty's express wish most well known persons, except those holding official positions, attended their usual places of worship. The Government was represented by Premier Ramsay MacDonald, Lord Thomson, Lord Passfield and Captain Wedgewood Benn, who awaited the arrival of Their Majesties at the west door. The band played an elaborate programme while the congregation assembled. When their music ceased for a space the bells could be heard pealing.

Finally, inside the Abbey, was heard the cheering of Their Majesties approaching. They were received at the west door by the Dean of Canterbury. A procession was immediately formed, led by the Abbey Canons vested like the Dean and Archbishop in rich robes, and preceded by the great gold cross of the Abbey. This procession included Lord Salisbury, High Steward of Westminster, and Lord Muir MacKenzie, High Bailiff.

The King was in morning dress with a white flower in his buttonhole, the Queen wore a toque hat, with a dress of the palest shade of lavender. Immediately following Their Majesties walked the Prince of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, Prince George, Princess Victoria and other members of the Royal family.

FIGHT WILL BE RESUMED

(Special to the Guardian) VICTORIA, B. C., July 8.—The long fight to secure a complete overhaul of British Columbia freight rates will be resumed before the privy council of Canada in September or October according to plans discussed between members of the cabinet and Leon J. Ladner, provincial government rates counsel Saturday.

Rate questions will go before the privy council in the form of an appeal against the railway commission's last judgment, which granted some rate reductions to British Columbia, but not enough to satisfy the provincial authorities.

MONCTON, July 8.—Through the derailment of 18 cars attached to an eastbound fast freight train at Rioux some 30 miles east of Riviere du Loup, early Saturday, the Intercolonial main line of the C. N. R. was tied up for traffic for nearly 20 hours. No person was injured and the accident is believed to have been caused by a broken rail.

The eastbound Ocean Limited which left Montreal Friday night for Halifax was the only train that was seriously delayed, having been blocked for about 20 hours at the scene of the run-off. The westbound Acadian of Saturday from Halifax for Montreal, was also held up some two hours.

The former train which was due here at 4.15 Saturday afternoon did not reach the city until 11.10 yesterday forenoon, after which it proceeded through to Halifax.

Ocean Limited Tied Up 20 Hours By Derailment

(Special to The Guardian) OTTAWA, Ont., July 8.—A place in the vicinity of Portsmouth penitentiary is proposed as a location for the new institution which the dominion government will erect for the segregation of young offenders. At the recent session an initial vote of $200,000 was made for the preliminary operations.

The erection of the building will give effect to a reform that has long been advocated, the segregation of first offenders from the atmosphere and influence of the hardened criminals.
