THIS WEEK AT SDU

Unofficially This Tabbed As 'Go Get 'Em Saints' Day

By Charley McMillan

Today has been unofficially declared as "Go get'em Saints" day at St. Dunstan's, for this is the one day in the hockey season upon which all else depends.

This is the day that the highly rated St. Francis Xavier X-men invade the snow covered campus of SDU to play a four-point Intercolleigiate Hockey League game that will decide the "have team" and the "have not" team. The MIHL is having its closest race in years, and so far, St. Dunstan's is right smack-dab in the middle of things. After tonight's game with the X-Men, the Saints will either still be on top, or will be struggling for a third place standing. A win is that important.

For sophomore coach Jack Kane, the season has been a long, uphill struggle. It all began when the optimists talked in terms of a Maritime championship even before there was any ice in the rink. When the season started, the rink was packed with students and other interested spectators hoping to get a bird's eye view of a championship contender in the making. Then came the two losses at the end of November to U.N.B. and St. Thomas.

PATCH JOB BEGAN

After the holidays, Jack started to patch up his hockey machine. He did a good job, because it had been in high gear since: six wins in six games. Above and beyond the publicity and fame that the team has brought to St. Dunstan's, it has engenerated a college "espirit de corps" that has rarely been equalled. When the team enters the refectory after a game, it receives an ovation that shakes the building. Just why the team has done so well is a difficult and complex question. At times the Saints play like world champions; at others they leave a lot to be desired. However the key to the treasure chest is that every player has at a certain opportune time produced the little extra that makes a winner. "From now on, we'll play each game a period at a time," explained the general Coach after Christmas, "and let the rest look after itself. Every man works and hustles on this team," he added.

These factors, plus a potent commodity called desire, have put the Saints where they are. It's a rare combination but it's sure-proof. No matter what happens, the players and coach can look up with pride at a team that has done its best. For the students, it's a matter of cheering for a team that we know can't lose. Tonight will hear us out.

SECOND LINE JUGGLED

Coach Kane has juggled the second line around in an effort to produce a little more scoring punch. He has moved Dick Tingley, last year's scoring champion, to the left wing position while inserting George Mac Millan at centre. Tingley scored 12 goals last year, many of them with his booming slap shot. Marrie Roy, the other player on this line, has been hampered lately by a sore jaw, injured against St. Mary's. X-rays showed no fracture, but the Frehman right winger must wear a helmet with a face protector added.

Red and White Editor Paul D. Foster says that he expects his first issue will be at least ten pages long. "We have a much bigger staff now," he said, "there are about fifteen new students writing articles for the paper. We are going to have a column for each of the classes so as to create more interest in the paper. The trouble all along," he continued in his Boston accent, "is that too few have been writing the articles. I think we have changed that." He said that the next issue would be out on Friday, Feb. 28. "We should get a paper out every two weeks from then on," he added as he continued to type his editorial.

The Varsity Basketball team attempts to get back on the winning path this afternoon at 3 p.m. against U.N.B. Red Devils. The Saints won their first and only victory back in the first week of January against Dalhousie, but in the next four games, the team fell apart at the seams. Twice they had what seemed to be sure victories, only to have an almost insurmountable lead cut down. In their game last week against St. F. X., the Saints were never in contention. However, there is still time to make good showing this season. There are three games left after this weekend, and a good strong drive in these games, coupled with double victories tonight and last night, would put the Saints in the first division.

Billy MacMillan's SDU Jayvees moved into a first-place tie with The Legionaires Thursday, courtesy of a 5-2 victory over the PWC Welshmen. The Saints only loss came at the hands of the classy Legion squad, but the teams have split in their two engagements. George Monaghan, Bob Gallant, and Dick Flynn make up one line and Andre Gelinas, who scored three goals Thursday, Jacques Duger, and Marcel Belanger comprise the other. On defense, Arthur LeClair and Jim Molyneaux play together, and Yvon St. Arnaud and Dave O'Brien are the other due. The Saints have big George Power in goal. George has been a tower of strength all year, and is one of the chief reasons for the Saints being in first place. Their next game is Sunday afternoon against North River at the Forum.

DRAMA SOCIETY PLANS

Reverend Adrian Arsenault, French and Fine Arts professor, returned from a three-day sessions of the Canada Council Thursday in Quebec City. Father Arsenault said on his arrival that the plans on starting immediately the Drama Society's latest endeavor: "The Tempest." This play will commemorate the 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare. "There will be about twenty-five students in the play," he said, "not to mention the set designers, stage hands, etc. We have to start immediately on the sets, so there is no time to spare. We hope to have the play ready by late March." Two years ago the Drama Society staged the broadway production of "Carousel," and last year ran off with almost all the awards with the brilliant production of "The Merchant of Venice."

"The SDU rink has a new clock for the hockey games, at least it almost had. The powers-to-be thought it was high time that a clock be purchased, so a big time-piece was ordered. A box was constructed at the end of the rink with a manual score board added. However, when the clock arrived at the college this week, it was found that the face was made for only 5 minutes instead of the necessary twenty. The result, of course, is that it must be shipped back to be exchanged for the correct size. It is very doubiful that the new one will arrive in time for the last two Varsity games of the season, February 26-29.
