JOHN SMITH.

To the Electors of the Second Electoral District of Queen's County.

GENTLEMEN;

IT is not without much diffidence that I comply with the Requisition which I have received to offer myself as a candidate for this District.

A call from such a large number of intelligent and respected Electors, unanimously desiring the aid of so many friends whose opinions I highly esteem, is one which I think I ought to accede to, and I only regret that my humble abilities to discharge the duties of a Representative of the people are far short of what are to be desired, especially at a crisis like the present, when one of the fundamental principles of a System of Government, which, three years ago, we supposed was guaranteed to us by the Mother Country, has been openly violated by the act of a partizan Governor.

As a native of the Colony, familiar with many, and personally known to most of you, I leave the estimation of my character entirely with yourselves, feeling conscious, that from what you have experienced of my conduct in life, you will not fear that I would betray the trust you propose to confide in me.

It is true, and it may not be out of place here to notice, that in an address to his former Constituents, Mr. George Coles, in which he alludes to the events, which in my late official capacity, I was under the necessity of making to a Writ of Election, under which he was a Candidate, he considers me as one "Corrupt and partizan Sheriff;" but as you must all be aware of the facts connected with that Return, and of the intimate relations which existed Mr. Coles, as well as that irresistable propensity for lying which has characterized him from the earliest period of his political career, I should hope, that in your estimation, I suffer nothing by his attacks. You may remember, that in the Session of 1847, he was a member of the Committee of the House of Assembly, appointed to enquire into and report on a question of a contested Election then decided by the House, and after having voted in opposition to evidence of the most decisive nature, he was asked how he could do so, his reply was, that it would never do for him to vote against his party.

Being at present, and having been for many years past, engaged in practical Agriculture as the substantial business of my life, I feel a lively interest in this the principal branch of our Colonial industry; and should I obtain your Election you may rest assured that the interest of the Farmer in whatever respect it can be promoted shall ever be uppermost in the part I shall take in Legislation.

I have not, Gentlemen, ventured to come before the public as a speculator for any personal aggrandizement to be obtained by party contests or struggles in political life; I have done so simply with the kind and confiding manner in which so many of you have requested my humble services; and should your suffrages accompany your wishes, you may rest that I will independently give my support to every measure which the welfare and prosperity of the Colony and your local interests in particular require at the hands of a Legislator.

I am, gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,
May 29th, 1854. JOHN. C. BINNS.

To the Electors of Charlottetown and Royalty.

GENTLEMEN;

HIS Excellency the Lieut. Governor, having on his own Responsibility, and in my opinion contrary to the fundamental principles of a Responsible Government, dissolved the House of Assembly; you are now for the third time, within the short period of two years, called upon to elect Members to represent you in Colonial Parliament.

I again respectfully offer myself as a Candidate for your suffrages.

My conduct as your Representative for the last seven years, is before you, and my political principles known to you all; and with the assurance in my own mind, that I have during that extended time, advocated and supported to the best of my humble abilities, every measure introduced into the House of Assembly, that had a tendency to advance your interests, and that of the Island in general, I rely with confidence for your favour and support at the ensuing election.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your most obedient servant,
FRANCIS LONGWORTH.

To the independent Electors of the Third District of Queen's County.

FRIENDS AND FELLOW COLONISTS—

YOUR late faithful representative, Benjamine J. Davies Esq., having declined my solicitations to put him again in nomination at the ensuing Election of members for the representation of your district, I have subsequently been induced by flattering preffered support from many of you, and the assured interests of Mr. Davies also, to accede to your wishes, and I now offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages, in the independent sense of the elective franchise privileges, which you are called upon to exercise on the 20th instant.

A residence amongst you of twelve years has afforded a sufficient time and test to know and judge of me, both in my liberal political opinions, and in my private relations of life; and this acquaintance precludes the necessity here of a detailed avowal of the one or any further mention of the other.

My desires and aims have ever been in honesty of purpose, to advance the interests of the island in which I move, and generally, such sound measures of political reform and of local improvement as came within the compass of my power, and as in my judgment calculated to benefit this my native land —to ameliorate the condition of its people—to elevate the character of its inhabitants in moral worth, and raise them to the standard of British freemen. These, my political and social views, aims and desires, are still unchanged, and I believe are unchangeable.

Electors, I am one of yourselves—one with you in every day life—our feelings are mutual, and our interests are identical,—your prosperity is interwoven with my own—your welfare and the acquaintance precludes the necessity here of a detailed avowal of the one or any further mention of the other.

Charlottetown, June 6th.

To the Electors of the First District Queen's County.

GENTLEMEN:

AT the earnest request of a considerable number of you, I am again induced offer myself as a Candidate for you suffrages at the ensuing Election.

During the short time I had the honor to represent you, the House of Assembly and Government have had to contend with pl schemes and conspiracies, to bring about overthrow. We have had no chance, no play—having a one-sided partizan Governor, an obstructive Legislative Council to contend during the whole Session. Responsible Government no longer exists in Prince Edward Isl The first blow was struck by Mr. Cundall very introduction, by appointing Capt. Swe to a seat in the two Councils, without the cessary qualification required by the R instructions, and giving him a lucrative after he had sought a constituency, and had rejected by the People. The second blow struck by Mr. Coles; in retaining Mr. Jo Stanley, as Attorney General, and getting appointed to a seat in the Legislative Council after he had offered himself as a candidate with the People for their suffrages and had also rejected. The finishing stroke was given by the Governor, acting on an assumed pr and gative, and refusing to be guided by his responsible advisers, preferring the advice of Representatives of Boroughs, and getting the House of Assembly, in direct opposi to those whose counsel—if we had Respons Government—he was bound to receive: an the Governor's object is to be a precedent future guidance, we have retrograded at le a century at three strides, and are about cringe again under the iron bondage of a Ro Proprietary. I ASK YOU, shall it be so? —No! We will not submit to that. Our fathers suffered too much to induce us to co tenance despotism. If such are your sen the Government, give your votes for Coles, tenancing the party who has brought expense, turmoil and strife upon you.

They hypocritically tell you, that you will have the privilege of electing your own officers; while, at the same time, it is notorious, that a great effort is being made by them, to put nearly all the principal offices in the gift of the Executive Council, who are not responsible to you; three of whom, the new family compact, is believed, hope to divide some £1200 yearly among themselves. But, remember, you have a voice in the Government. One member of the late House of Assembly (Mr. Whelan), has been encouraging the Legislative Council in their obstructive policy, by giving them, at least, assurance promises, that should his party come again into power, he will still further tax the country to pay the Salaries of Officers, who, if he little but obstruct the business of the House of Assembly. Can this be true? say some of you. It is true, and cannot be denied or evaded. Mr. Whelan's notice may be found, in black and white, in the Order Book of the House of Assembly—that he will, at the next Session of the House, bring in a Bill to authorize the Government to pay the Legislative Council. A nice way this to squander your money! Were the Council abolished, we would save some £1000 each year by it, or more, if we chose to do it, there would then be some reasonable ground for their being paid. But Mr. Whelan, no doubt, sympathizes with those who are seeking to abolish offices. I find, on examining the Public Accounts, as published in the Journal of the House of Assembly, for the years 1847, 1848, 1849, and 1850, that Mr. Haszard received, as Queen's Printer, the sum of £428 0s. 10d.; on further examination, I find, that Mr. Whelan received, as Queen's Printer, for the last two years alone, £1791 18s 7 1/2d. It is no wonder that Mr. Whelan, hoping to gain between Seven and Eight hundred Pounds a year by it—should print and circulate hundreds of Petitions, Bills and Resolutions, praying for a Dissolution of the House of Assembly. When his party succeeds in getting a majority again, I suppose we shall be ruled, as Mr. Whelan threatened, in a letter to the Temperance Hall, "with a rod of iron!" Mr. Coles was present at that meeting, and it is well known, that Messrs. Coles and Whelan join in all measures, for whatever they may seem to say to the contrary. But Gentlemen, the only way to get an end put to this sort of work, is, to elect Members to the House of Legislators altogether of office-holders. I voted for a bill last Session, positively excluding every one holding an office of emolument from the Legislature, with the exception only, the Attorney General and the Colonial Secretary; but this would not suit the Council, who wanted many of the offices themselves, and consequently threw out the bill. I am now determined to go farther, and I pledge myself, that if returned again, I will bring in a bill to exclude every Officer from both Branches of the Legislature, the same as in the United States, and no country in the world thrives, or "goes a head," faster than the United States of America, so far I am willing to follow their institutions; and if the Legislative Council will not pass the bill, we will memorialize the home Government for leave to remodel that body.

Gentlemen; Since the Dissolution, I have visited a great part of the District, and I feel greatful for the kind manner in which I have been received, and the very general promises of support that have been given to me. Mr. McLeod is also in the field with me, and we have canvassed together a great part of Lots 20 and 21. Our prospects are good. We shall receive support this year from some who last year, voted against us—on the ground of our having been badly used; we have had no trial, and that was and the whole of the opposition to the necessary trouble and expense, for the benefit of a few who are striving to become office-holders and dictators. Mr. McLeod and myself would like to have your personal respects to each of you but we find that will be impossible, in consequence of the indelicate and unconstitutional haste with which the Election has been forced on,—but shall see as many as we can, and hold a few public meetings in several parts of the District, in the hopes of meeting many more.

I find that the self-styled liberals are industriously circulating a number of false reports among you in reference to myself, hoping thereby to prevent you from giving me your votes. Gentlemen, my character is well known to most of you; and that you will be slow to believe that I, who am living almost entirely by my dealings with the tenantry, would do or advocate any measure that would increase your burdens. On the contrary, I am striving to give you far greater accommodation when you come to Town to dispose of your produce, free of any charge.

Gentlemen; You are called upon to exercise your right of Franchise at a very important crisis. The question is, whether you are to enjoy the right of self-government in reality, or to submit to a concealed despotism, and an uncontrolable tyranny, under what is termed Departmental Government.

Believe me to remain,
Your obedient and humble servant,
GEORGE BEER, Jun.

to oblige her to abandon an English merchant brig which she had just previously captured, and was towing for a Russian port. Three prizes were taken that morning by the English: and in order that the night not appear too imposing on reaching Sebastopol, for which the fleets were steering—and by way of enticing the enemy out of his strong hold—the Queen and Marengo, ships of the line, received orders to part company from the rest. On the 28th the offing of Sebastopol was reached; and on the 29th cruising closer in, with a strong breeze, the Sampson and Arethusa (the light infantry of the British fleet) were sent in to reconnoitre, and on their return reported one three decker, ten other sail of the line, four frigates, and four or five steamers afloat. During the day the Tiger and Fury joined, having been back to Odessa for a reconnoitre, and steamed round by the coast of the Crimea, without falling in with a single vessel. At about five p.m. on the 29th, when the fleets were about 25 miles distant from the port of Sebastopol, a steamer was seen coming from that direction, which left no doubt of her being a Russian. The Tiger was ordered down upon her, when she soon went round, and stood back again to port, into which she got by 10 the [illegible]

GENTLEMEN,

HIS Excellency the Lieutenant Governor having thought proper to dissolve the House of Assembly, you are called upon a third time within less than twelve months to choose persons to represent your interests in that branch of the Legislature.

I again offer myself as a candidate for your suffrages, and respectfully request your support. Having been honoured repeatedly returned by you at Eight different Elections in succession, and my political principles not having undergone any change, I deem it unnecessary to recall them to your attention.

I regret that the Bill for the exclusion of salaried officers from the Legislature was rejected by the Legislative Council. Had it become law, it is not likely that you would have been called upon, so very soon, to engage in another General Election. The leading Members of the Legislative Council, however, if their bills for our relief which adopted their holding salaried offices, although wholly irresponsible to the people: they therefore threw out the Bill; and, dreading that it would pass at another Session of the same House, they addressed the Lieutenant Governor in such terms as to procure a dissolution, and thereby to afford an opportunity, during the excitement of a General Election, for office-hunters to misrepresent the object and effect of the Bill, and to make the people believe that it was calculated to destroy Responsible Government. The purport and aim of the Bill, however, Gentlemen, was the very reverse: it was, in fact, a measure upon the same principle as the Act of Assembly lately passed and now in force in Canada.

I have every confidence that your votes will enable friends of Responsible the Bill—and if the constituencies throughout the Island, prove equally intelligent with yourselves, I cannot have a doubt that a majority will be returned in the new House of Assembly, and not only favorable to the measure, but such as,—under the auspices of a new Lieutenant Governor of much Colonial experience, will convince the Legislative Council that they must desist from further obstruction to its becoming the law of the Colony.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your most obed't Servant,
EDWARD PALMER.
