NEW YORK

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels sagged late in the session and led the stock market to a minor decline Friday.

The market dozed through most of the day, taking, according to brokers, a deserved breather after a sharp spring advance. Some felt it might be trying to muster strength for an assault on the historic high of the Dow Jones industrial average.

Sugars suffered another setback on profit-taking and news of a congressional investigation of soaring sugar prices. Airlines and aircrafts were the outstanding groups, holding gains throughout the session. Also up were utilities and oils.

Volume for the day dipped to 4,300,000 shares from 4,400,000 Thursday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average declined .7 to 273.9.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials dropped 0.85 to 720.53 and Standard and Poor's 500-stock index was off .06 to 70.92.

U.S. Steel declined ⅝ and Bethlehem and Republic each dropped ¼. Only Youngstown Sheet escaped the trend, adding ⅛.

Among Canadian issues, Aluminium Ltd. fell a point and Hudson Bay Mining was off ⅞. Down ⅝ were International Nickel and Dome Mines. Walker-Gooderham gained ⅜.

Prices were lower on the American Stock Exchange. Scurry Rainbow Oil and Brazilian Traction were off ⅛. Up ⅛ was Fargo Oil.

History Of RCMP Outlined To Vocational School Staff

Inspector A.S. McNeil of the RCMP was the guest speaker at the annual banquet for the Charlottetown Vocational School staff at the Clover Club. Inspector McNeil spoke on the traditions and history of the RCMP.

He stated that it was 90 years ago Wednesday that the North West Mounted Police, now the RCMP was formed as a result of recommendation from a Royal Commission sent to the west to study the Indian problem and lawlessness. The force originally was made up of 150 men from the Imperial Army stationed in Montreal and Kingston and was sent out to Fort Garry (Winnipeg) and trained there all winter in 1873.

Later in the spring 74 of these men moved out on the longest invasion in history. 2000 miles, he said. The entire company all rode on matched colored horses and wore the scarlet tunics to impress the Indians.

He said that the company eventually broke up into three drafts and each draft established posts on the western plains. After a short time in the west the small police force had signed treaties with the Indians and established law and order on the prairies.

He stated that the early police force in Canada did not have the trouble with the Indians that the Americans did. In 1876 Chief Sitting Bull and the Sioux came to Canada after wiping out two troops of the 7th U.S. Cavalry under General Custer at the battle of the Little Big Horn. The Sioux were in Canada for four years and did not bother the police force.

Inspector McNeil explained how the police force being on friendly terms with Indians saved Canada from a bloody Indian war. In 1885 the North West Rebellion broke out and because of treaties with the Indians, they remained loyal to the crown.

He also mentioned some of the exploits of the RCMP of the RCMP during the Yukon Gold Rush and the two world wars.

Chairman for the evening was J.M Lee and the guests at the head table included Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hubley, Mr. and Mrs. J.H. McLellan, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. J. M Lee, Inspector and Mrs. MacNeil, Mr. and Mrs. W.S. McMurtry, Mr. and Mrs. C. MacPhail and Mr. and Mrs. C. Matheson.
