

Trinity United Church

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21
3 to 5 P.M.—Donations of clothing for Western Canada W. M. S. Social Hall.
3.30 P.M.—Explorers—Social Hall.
7.00 P.M.—Chambrade Ladies Chorus—Social Hall.
7.30 P.M.—Donation Party Fancy Work, etc., for Ladies Aid—Ladies Parlor.

The Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a new nature may be inserted at a cents a word strictly payable in advance.

TODAY is the day for St. Paul's Tea and Sale. L-3115

JUDGING AT WINTER FAIR—The Toronto Globe reproduces photographs of three Maritime young ladies attending the Canadian Convention on Boys and Girls Club Work at the Toronto Winter Fair, which includes Miss Marion Wood, aged 16 of Mount Herbert, P.E.I., and says she is an authority on beef cattle, being a member of the Beihel Shorthorn Club.

DELICIOUS TEA and many attractive tables at St. Paul's today. L-3115

POLICE COURT—At the Police Court yesterday a motorist appeared on a charge of driving to the common danger. He pleaded guilty and was remanded one week for sentence. The defendant in a common assault case was fined five dollars or in lieu of payment ten days in jail. A vagrant was dismissed, a drunk who failed to appear had his five dollar bail bond forfeited, and another drunk was sentenced to pay a five dollar fine or spend ten days in jail.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Delaney, Malpeque, were in the City yesterday visiting their son.

Mr. Robert Walton left for his home in New Glasgow, N.S. Tuesday morning, being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. Boinser for the past two weeks.

Friends and relatives of Master Jackie Murnaghan, Prince Street, who underwent an operation in the City Hospital yesterday morning for appendicitis, will be pleased to learn that the operation was successful, and the little lad is doing as well as can be expected.

Liguorian Players Score In Musical

Rollicking song hits, humorous jokes and a clown act were combined in a splendid performance presented at Holy Trinity church yesterday afternoon. The performance was staged for school children.

Two "extended" entertainers, the renowned Jed Maddigan and his able assistant Bob King put on a clown act which produced gales of laughter from the large number of children present. It was a specialty put on for the enjoyment of the children.

In the musical part of the program, which was also warmly applauded by the children, the following songs were given, the entire ensemble joining in the chorus: "Pocoletto," Mr. Art Moran; "Top Hat, White Tie and Tails," Mr. Danny Wedge; "Sugar Plum," Mr. Wm. Morgan; "Swanee River Blues," Mr. Oliver Pineau; "Roll Out of Bed With Smiles," Mr. Arthur Doucette; "Paris in the Spring," Miss Yvonne Arsenault; "Little White Gardenia," Miss Melvina Richard; "In a Little Gypsy Tea Room," Mr. Severinus Arsenault.

In this number a setting of a Gypsy in the form of a playlet was arranged at the rear of the stage.

Solos were also rendered by Mr. Plus Callaghan, who sang "I Was Lucky," and Miss Mary Moran, who sang "Tiddling Along With You."

Mr. Alfred Doucette was the accompanist.

The end men, Messrs. Wm. Morgan, Art Moran, Danny Wedge and Wally Pineau contributed numerous very humorous jokes. Mr. Ivan Reddin was the interlocutor.

The programme concluded by the entire ensemble singing "A Tavern in the Town" and "Good Evening."

A similar performance, in addition to a playette "Dumb Waiter" will be presented this evening and Friday evening at 8:30.

"Since lice are abundant in Ethiopia typhus is a particularly deadly foe of the foreigner, who can recover from it only with heart stimulants and good nursing care."

"Often an impaired heart, a psychosis that lasts several months, and gangrene of the feet and legs are post-convalescent complications."

"The infected lice also cause relapsing fever, which has a dramatic rise of temperature, headache, general malaise, nosebleed, and hiccoughs. Often in this fever the temperature rises and falls for long periods of time and in many cases death results. The treatment is neosalvarsan, given intravenously when the temperature is high."

Dysentery Permanent—Miss Willoughby found that the number of sufferers from dysentery was truly appalling, particularly among foreigners, whom it attacked with a special speed and whom it disabled to a far greater extent than it did the natives.

"As a matter of fact, the foreigner in Ethiopia seldom entirely rid himself of dysentery," continued Miss Willoughby. "It lies dormant for months, only to crop up again. Even though one may drink nothing but boiled water, yet he still contracts the disease, which is

To Citizens of Prince Edward Island

The Charlottetown ROTARY CLUB is holding its annual ROTARY RADIO AUCTION over CHCK on the evening of Dec. 5th next. This, as usual, is in aid of Crippled Children and other charities.

We thank the public for the support they have given us on the nights of the auction in the past and ask it again for the 5th December.

We also thank all those who have donated. We regret that last year we omitted calling on some parties who later advised us they would have liked to contribute. We have endeavored to make no such omissions this year but if you have unfortunately been overlooked we would very much appreciate if you would call N. D. McLean, phone 149, chairman of the Auction committee, prior to Nov. 25, and he will gladly attend to the matter.

(SIGNED) A. B. Fisher, President. THE ROTARY CLUB OF CHARLOTTETOWN

Horrors Of Ethiopian Disease Told Graphically

Nurse Describes Deadly Maladies In Land Of Haile Selassie — Italy's Greatest Fear

If they expect to conquer Ethiopia, Mussolini's soldiers must learn to dodge not only the long sabres, the sharp knives, and the piercing spears of the natives, but also the mosquitoes, lice, fleas, ticks and other insects which infest the country and leave disease, distress and death in their wake.

White men who have lived in Ethiopia have succumbed to a variety of illnesses. These range from malaria, typhus fever, relapsing fever, tropical ulcer, dysentery, contagious jaundice, dengue fever, elephantiasis, leprosy, ringworm and scabies to tapeworm and venereal disease. "What is more, these diseases appear in such virulent forms and carry with them such high temperatures that though the native Ethiopians by some inborn resistance, seem able to withstand them, foreigners can not possibly battle them. This is the opinion of Agnes Willoughby, who spent almost five years as a nurse for the United Presbyterian Board at the American Hospital just outside Addis Ababa.

Today Miss Willoughby, who served through many an epidemic when not only the 90 beds in the hospital were full, but patients were lying on the floor and on the porch. At her home in Philadelphia, hoping that she will be able to return to Ethiopia as a nurse with the Red Cross.

Strikingly exemplifying the accuracy of Miss Willoughby's statements is the French report of Italian casualties after the first week of the fighting. "When I first went to Ethiopia in May, 1929," Miss Willoughby said, "I did not believe the temperature charts in the hospital. They showed fevers of 106 degrees as an everyday occurrence."

"But after I had native patients who walked in with fever at 106 degrees, I realized that even a temperature of 108 was nothing extraordinary; as a matter of fact, Dr. Alvin Orr, one of our physicians reported 108 when he fell fatally ill with typhus."

"There is no doubt in my mind that the Italian invaders will have a difficult time escaping the Ethiopian germs, which will cut into their vitals as quick as the arm of an Ethiopian soldier and as relentlessly as steel."

"First there is malaria, which comes from the bite of the anopheles mosquito and gives the patient a terrific chill, abdominal pain and a high temperature. We used quinine in large doses, but since mosquitoes abound in Ethiopia there is practically no way for the white man to escape malaria."

Typhus Deadly Foe—"More dreaded than malaria is typhus fever, an epidemic disease occurring once and sometimes twice a year and caused by the bite of an infected louse."

"Since lice are abundant in Ethiopia typhus is a particularly deadly foe of the foreigner, who can recover from it only with heart stimulants and good nursing care."

"Often an impaired heart, a psychosis that lasts several months, and gangrene of the feet and legs are post-convalescent complications."

"The infected lice also cause relapsing fever, which has a dramatic rise of temperature, headache, general malaise, nosebleed, and hiccoughs. Often in this fever the temperature rises and falls for long periods of time and in many cases death results. The treatment is neosalvarsan, given intravenously when the temperature is high."

Dysentery Permanent—Miss Willoughby found that the number of sufferers from dysentery was truly appalling, particularly among foreigners, whom it attacked with a special speed and whom it disabled to a far greater extent than it did the natives.

"As a matter of fact, the foreigner in Ethiopia seldom entirely rid himself of dysentery," continued Miss Willoughby. "It lies dormant for months, only to crop up again. Even though one may drink nothing but boiled water, yet he still contracts the disease, which is often fatal if not immediately given proper treatment, for the germ is found in meats, vegetables and on the hands of the servants who do the cooking.

Other Dread Diseases—"Another disease transmitted through hands of native cooks is tapeworm. Due to the complete lack of sanitation, the entire native population is afflicted with it; the egg of the tapeworm finds its way to the hands of the natives and thus is transmitted to the food and the mouths of foreigners."

ST. PAULS Tea And Sale Today

The Central Guardian

This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising of a new nature may be inserted at a cents a word strictly payable in advance.

HAVE YOUR tea and meet your friends at St. Paul's today. L-3115

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. Geo. J. Smith, Saint John, N.B., announces the engagement of his only daughter, Margaret Robin MacKay, to Mr. Nelson Rattenbury (Lieut. R.C.N.R.), son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Rattenbury, Charlottetown, P.E.I., the marriage to take place next month. L-3118

COLLIDES WITH TREE—Early this morning a coupe proceeding east on Sydney Street by Connaught Square ran over the curb and into a tree. The driver left the car with the motor running and disappeared. People living near-by heard the racing engine and seeing smoke thought the car was on fire and called the police. They came and took the car and are looking for the driver. The car was badly damaged.

SECOND B. I. S. TOURNAMENT OPENED—There was a large attendance last night at the opening of the second auction tournament under the auspices of the B. I. S. Keen competition was a feature of the evening. In addition to regular tournament prizes there are special prizes each night. The winners last night were: Mrs. Arthur Richard, Mrs. George Bell, Mr. William LeClair and Mr. Leo Murray. The door prize was drawn by Mrs. William Larter, who was absent. At the conclusion of the card game some old time dancing was enjoyed by Messrs. McGillivray, Flood and Doucette.

CHIEF DAIRY INSPECTOR HERE—Mr. W. C. Cameron, B.S.A., who has recently received the appointment of chief inspector of dairy products for the Federal government, arrived in Charlottetown last night. Today he will sit in on a meeting of the creamery operators and butter makers of the province. He came east to get familiar with the industry in the Maritimes. Mr. Cameron said in an interview last night. He has been connected with the dairy industry since his graduation from the University of British Columbia in 1926. Accompanied by Mr. W. J. Davies of New Glasgow, dairy inspector for the Maritime Provinces, Mr. Cameron plans to remain here a day or two.

The many friends of Mrs. Earl Carmody, Charlottetown, will be pleased to learn that she has returned to her home much improved in health following an operation in the Prince Edward Island Hospital three weeks ago.

and was written during the composer's "second period," which also was the period of the great Fifth Symphony and of many other justly popular works. Reviews of his earlier string quartets showed marked influence of Haydn and Mozart; his later ones, regarded as the grandest of all, are obscure on first hearing and it was a happy choice which resulted in the performance, last evening, an example of his less difficult but no less typical, middle period style.

The quartet, in four movements, opens with a brilliant Allegro, passes to an Adagio of serene beauty, thence to "Allegretto" with fascinating trio passages for second flutist, viola and cello introducing a "traditional Russian tune, and concludes, "Presto," with an effect as refreshing as a cold shower after strenuous exercise.

Preference in music of this kind is of course a matter of individual taste; but to this reviewer at least "Molto Adagio," the second movement of the Beethoven quartet, played as it was last night under the superb leadership of Mr. Levey, was the high-water mark not only of last night's concert but of any thing heard in Charlottetown for many years. It would be useless attempting to describe its effect. "The words of Mercury are harsh after the songs of Apollo." Sheer loveliness, humbles, as well as elevates, the spirit. It remains only to treasure the memory of one's initiation into such an experience, to give thanks for the genius of its creator, and for the artistry of its interpreters.

Of the remaining programme pieces, "Cassanetta," from one of Mendelssohn's string quartets, was also in the nature of "classic," and was thoroughly enjoyed.

Representative of the moderns were the compositions "The Lonely Shepherd" by Joseph Speaight, from the libretto in three parts inspired by Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream," which was played as an encore, on request—and "Red Murdoch," a humorous Scottish tune by Sir J. B. McEwen, Principal of the Royal College of Music, London, England.

"The March of the Little Folks" also by McEwen, from the same suite—the former an impressive piece of programme writing—were played as encores, in addition to "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes," the beautiful "Andante Cantabile" of Tchaikovsky (on muted strings), and "Molly on the Shore" a rollicking Irish reel by Percy Grainger.

Altogether, a musical feast for the pocket

Notice of Appreciation—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harvey and family, Crapaud, wish to thank friends and neighbors for their kindness in their recent sad bereavement. Also those who sent floral offerings and messages of sympathy. L-3106-11-21-11.

Ross-Drug-United SAINT JOHN-FREDERICTON-MONCTON AMHERST-CHARLOTTETOWN
KRUSCHEN SALTS — 69c IRONIZED YEAST — 98c
ENOS FRUIT SALT 1ge. — 79c ABSORBINE-JR. — $1.19
MINERAL OIL 32 oz. — 98c PINKHAMS COMPOUND—98c
Dr. Chase's NERVE FOOD Special 49c
Dr. Chase's OINTMENT (antiseptic) Special 49c
New PEPSODENT TOOTH POWDER only 50c
SPECIAL! 3 Cakes of Cashmere Bouquet Soap with Perfume Both for 29c
CAN YOU IMAGINE! Laura Secord CANDIES The freshest candy in town Assorted and family packages Pound Box 60c
SPECIAL! 3 cakes of GARDENIA SOAP and bottle of GARDENIA PERFUME Both for 29c

INTERESTING LECTURE BY REV. DR. MCKAY
A large audience in Zion Church Hall listened with rapt attention last night to an illustrated lecture by Rev. James MacKay, D. D., describing the missionary efforts of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in China, Manchuria and Japan. Dr. MacKay, who for several years has been the chairman of the Board of Missions, has just recently returned from the Orient where he visited the various mission stations supported by the Canadian Presbyterians. He was thus able to describe most vividly the conditions there, conditions which are, as he pointed out, in many cases nothing short of appalling.

Germany Mixed On Food State
(BY THE CANADIAN PRESS)
BERLIN, Nov. 20.—What really is the food situation in Germany today?
"German agriculture is sound once more," Minister of Agriculture Darre proclaims. Rationing of butter was ordered by Darre at the beginning of November.
The consumers' own experiences may be at variance, even with the published accounts. Housewives stand in line for hours trying to buy a pat of butter. They may be told no pork or pork products are available in all Berlin. They read glowing accounts in the morning papers of good fruit harvests, but

MARCH OF EVENTS
DIAL TO 630 KILOCYCLES
THURSDAY NOV. 21
12.30 Fry Storyette.
5.30 Moore & McLeod. Out-ports.
6.25 Wright Shoe Co.
6.45 Merchants' Quarter.
7.00 McLean Co. Stock Quotations.
FRIDAY, NOV. 22
6.00 Pickard Fireside Melod.
6.30 Watching the World.
6.30 Henderson & Cadmore.
7.15 S. A. McDonald.
SATURDAY, NOV. 23
12.15 Frowse Bros.
12.30 McLean Co. Stock Quotations.
5.30 Moore & McLeod Ltd.
6.00 Bramford Carriage Co.
6.00 Bedtime Story.
7.30 Canadian Radio Comm.
10.00 D. 50 General Motors Hockey Broadcast.
MR. K. S. ROGERS SAYS: "Every radio should be checked at six month intervals for worn tubes, which spoil reception. By putting in one or two new Westinghouse Radiotrons you insure improvement in performance as assured."

Westinghouse Genuine RADIOTRONS

FRED W. BEATTIE
Of Bridgetown, N. S., Grand Chancellor, Knights of Pythias, for the Maritime Domain, who will officially visit Empire Lodge No. 19, Charlottetown, on Thursday, November 21st.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JOHN MEIKLE
The death occurred in this city on Tuesday evening of Mrs. Mary Teresa Meikle, widow of the late John Meikle, who predeceased her about forty-five years ago. She was 87 years of age and was born at Vernon River, daughter of the late Cosmas MacMillan. She was a semi-invalid for many years past, was a woman of fine character, and her memory will always be held in loving remembrance by her family and friends. She leaves four sons, Charles A., steward of the car ferry "Charlottetown," Fred, in Trenton, N.S.; Thomas and Jack, in Charlottetown; also four grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She will be laid to rest today in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, after service in St. Dunstan's Basilica.

Reardon-O'Donnell Nuptials

The marriage was solemnized in St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River, at eight o'clock yesterday morning when Miss Helen Lucinda O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis O'Donnell, Avonville, became the bride of William Earl Reardon of this city. Rev. F. D. McGuigan performing the ceremony and celebrating the Nuptial Mass. As the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away, the Wedding March was rendered by Mrs. Joe Dougan, organist at St. Dunstan's Basilica, city, who also accompanied the soloists, Messrs. W. J. Brown, S. P. Doyle and Miss Mary Moran, Charlottetown, who rendered appropriate solos during the service. The bride, who was becomingly gowned in a brown velvet dress trimmed with gold, with accessories to match and wearing a handsome corsage bouquet of Talsman roses, was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mary O'Donnell, who wore a matching dress with accessories to match and wore a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses. Mr. Fred Eggar supported the groom. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home at which were present about fifty guests, relatives and friends of the contracting parties, together with the officiating clergyman. At the conclusion Mr. and Mrs. Reardon left by motor amid showers of confetti and good wishes for Charlottetown, from where they proceeded to Borden for a honeymoon trip by motor to the principal centres of the Dominion. The large number of wedding gifts, which included linen, cut glass, china, furniture, etc., testified to the popularity of the bride and groom. The groom is a member of the office staff of the Maritime Electric Co., and the bride a former employee of Hoyt's Beauty Salon. Previous to her marriage, the latter was the guest of honor at several matrimonial showers. The Guardian joins in extending hearty felicitations.

BIRTHS

BRYANTON—At Kensington, Nov. 13, 1935, to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bryant, a daughter, Shirley Pauline.

MARRIAGES

SEWTER-STEWART—On Nov. 20th, in St. Paul's Rectory by Rev. H. D. Raymond, Austin James Sewter of Loyalist to Olive Isabel Stewart of Brookfield.

DEATHS

PANTON—At Pinette, Nov. 20, Mrs. Nettie May Panton, aged 78 years, widow of the late William Panton. Funeral Friday afternoon at 2:30 to Belfast Church.

N. D. MacLean

UNDERTAKER
EMBALMER
Charlottetown and North Wiltshire Phone 149

Too Late to Classify

WANTED TO RENT, 8 L O 12 acres of land near Charlottetown. Write "AB" Guardian.

L-3117-11-21-11