TIGNISH

—ELOQUENT SERMONS.— Both Tignish and Palmer Road Catholic Churches were crowded with worshippers at Mass, Sunday, and listened with great attention to the well delivered sermons by the celebrating priest in both edifices, Rev. A. J. McDougall, in the Tignish one, with great emphasis spoke in English from the Gospel of the day, taking as his text "Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert to be tempted by the devil, and when He had fasted forty days and forty nights, He was hungry from the Gospel of Matt. IV. 1-11. He laid great stress on the merits of this lesson and all through his sermon elucidated the mystery of this wonderful part of the history of our Lord, telling his hearers that every sacrifice made during Lent, either by fasting, praying, doing charity or abstaining from worldly pleasures, was following in the footsteps of our Saviour who fasted for this length of time previous to going to death on Calvary. Seldom do the worshippers of this the largest parish on the island, fail to learn something new and advantageous when the well known orator enters the pulpit and today that a new line of thought to lead a better life was grafted in, each and every one's mind, is a forgone conclusion, viewing the situation by the devout attention given to the speaker all through the wonderful deliverance of this appropriate sermon. Before the Palmer Road congregation Rev. P. C. Gauthier in French, taking as his text a part of the Gospel of "Ash Wednesday" delivered a sermon that will long be remembered. He dealt largely with the meaning of "the distributing of ashes on that great holy day," saying that the mortal body was nothing but dust and as such would return to that element some day. That our sojourn in this world was only a transitory one and that all the riches one would accumulate in this world were nothing compared to the riches of Heaven, after leaving this temporary home to enter into the everlasting one.—Z.

—CULPRITS DELIVERED.—The citizens of Waterford, Lot one, were shocked last week to learn of the robbery committed to one of their farmers' hen coops. Not only had nine beautiful laying Plymouth Rock hens been stolen (at the time when eggs are almost as precious as gold nuggets) but the door of the said coop having been left open the other inmates had nearly frozen to death. In the morning when the robbery was discovered all efforts to trace the thief proved useless. Some were to send away for a detective, others to go from barn to barn and investigate the neighbors' hen coops, while some more went as far as to point the finger of suspicion on a poor, unsophisticated hard working man and his wife. Matters stood thus for nearly four days when, while hauling manure from one of the sheds near the deserted coop, the owner of the stolen property himself found the bodies of his dead hens—some with their heads eaten off, others only the eyes and more only the blood had been removed. At this turn of things the farmer saw his mistake in thinking that his loss had been at the hands of human culprits or mischief-makers and at once asserted that the real culprits were weasels. To prove his assertion he caused a watch to be kept over the body of another hen (killed for the occasion) and to the great surprise of all those who kept vigil Mr. Weasel came around and in a very short time had opened the dead hen and drank its blood and quickly vanished.—Z.

—FRISCO EXHIBITION.— His friends here are elated to hear that Captain Joseph Bernard, of Nome, Alaska, formerly of this part of the Province will have a splendid exhibit at the Exposition to be held in San Francisco, Cal., this spring and summer. This exhibit will consist of costly furs, curios and native made goods of the "savage tribes of the frozen North." Captain Bernard is one of the few men who traveled in that part of the unexplored world who had the great luck to return. In some of the grand books written by Arctic explorers his man's name appears, which is evidence in itself that he must have travelled as he says he did.—About two months ago the Captain was on the island visiting his people and while here entertained nightly large crowds with his exploits while several years among tribes who knew nothing of the civilized world and who looked upon him as something supernatural.—Z.

—TO BE PROUD OF.—Everybody here feels proud to be a friend of the two young heroes who are at this time on the eve of entering the real war zone of the battlefield. That they are heroes to sacrifice home, family and friends to go to the front and fight for their country well knowing what great misery and privations they are sure to encounter is putting it in a mild form. When we had them in our midst they were simply to us Kenneth McFadyen, quiet, polished and unassuming, and Alfred E. Murphy, athlete, lover of outdoor sport and a friend to everybody. Now that they are exposed to such dangers and have shown so much bravery and valour in this cause, they are a credit to any country and deserve to be set down as heroes who answer their country's call, ready to lay down their young lives if need be for freedom and liberty. Kenneth McFadyen is a son of the late Alexander J. McFadyen, a member of the firm of J. H. Myrick & Co., Tignish, after enlisting by his splendid traits as a soldier and by his demeanor among his superior officers and comrades, was made sergeant of the 17th Battalion of the Royal Nova Scotia Highlanders for the last four months his regiment has been in England training and from the last heard of him his regiment was expecting daily to embark and sail for France and be assigned with the allied forces to repulse the Germans, at every time they venture to break through the lines of the allied armies. Alfred E. Murphy is a son of Senator P. C. Murphy, of Tignish, and when he enlisted was sent to Sydney Mines and while there soon saw the opportunity to go to the battle front before the spring by joining the Second Canadian Regiment. By this time he is in Europe, so the writer is informed and will go in training with his regiment. Everyone hopes that both of these young men together with Claude Murphy and Guy Kinch, also in training, will return home when this great war is ended and that they will show them that they have never been out of their minds all the while they were exposed to so many dangers, too numerous to give a graphic description of same.—Z.

—GOOD WORK.—The Red Cross Auxiliary of Tignish have sent $84.00 to the Treasurer of Charlottetown, making $184.00 cash, besides three cases of sewing, three cases knitting and four cases clothing for the Belgians. Many thanks to Mrs. A. J. McFadyen for $3.50, Mrs. A. N. McLeod, $2.00, Mrs. J. W. Green, $1.00, Miss A. Platts, $1.00.

—THE VALENTINE SOCIAL given by the Women's Institute of Graham's Road, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 16th, at the home of Mr. William Campbell, was a decided success. The house was tastefully decorated with flags and bunting and valentine hearts. Mr. Thomas Wigmore, who is always willing as well as competent, acted as chairman, and a splendid programme was carried out in every way. The solos and Victrola selections. The ladies who served the refreshments were becomingly decorated with Red Cross bands and valentine hearts. Several valentine games were played by the young folk. The affair was well managed in every way, and those who looked after the arrangements are to be congratulated upon the success which attended their efforts. A silver collection was taken in aid of Red Cross work and a good sum was realized. Success Institute met one hour before the social. Twenty-one members were present. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Edward Williams, Wigmore Road, on the evening of March 16th, 1915.

—PATRIOTIC MEETING.— On Thursday, Feb. 18th, a large and representative meeting was held in Town Hall, Alberton, for the purpose of getting recruits to join the third contingent, which is being mobilized at Charlottetown. Mr. James E. Birch occupied the chair. The meet was opened with a chorus entitled "Soldiers of the King." Excellent speeches were delivered by Colonel A. E. Ings, Rev. F. G. Gordon, Rev. Geo. Miller, Col. Moore, Lieut. Gov. Rogers, and last but not least, Rev. Dr. Fullerton. They showed clearly Canada's duty in helping the Motherland after having protected us for so many years. During the time a solo very appropriate to the occasion was ably rendered by Mrs. Dr. Emerson McNeill. Their efforts were rewarded by one young man in the person of Zonas Lewis, Alberton, joining.—A.

—HOCKEY.—The Montrose boys had their heart's desire fulfilled on Saturday last when they met their Elmsdale opponents on Leard's mill pond, and in a fast game of hockey defeated them by a score of 5-1. Geo. Agnew refereed the game, while Mr. Harry Pridham judged the play in a most praiseworthy manner.—A.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection" says Dr. J. W. Ray of Brockton, Minn. Continuing he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One taken every two or three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, and particularly the headaches of women. When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than 'Actoids', and when he feels the least sign of an oncoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs" because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach distended. When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give the delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one — if full of cold, or sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, had breath, remember a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig syrup. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.'
