

FRIDAY ONLY DAUGHTER DIES.—The sympathy of Charlottetown is being extended to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Murley upon the death of their only daughter, Dorothy, aged seven years, who passed away early yesterday morning. The deceased was a bright, lovable child, whose presence will be greatly missed in the home. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock, interment at People's Cemetery.

SAFETY IN MARRIAGE.—When the Masonic deputation arrived in the city last night, the sleuths of the law were on the watch. The majors were able, strapping looking fellows and their claims for military exemption were demanded. One of them (a well known merchant) had a close call, not being accompanied by his wife or a marriage certificate. He was rescued by the Hon. the Commissioner of Public Works who assured the officials that, notwithstanding his youthful appearance, he was a benedict of some years standing.

ISLANDER WOUNDED.—Mrs. J.R. McDonald, Brookfield, has been notified that 712174 Pte. George Miller McDonald, infantry, was officially admitted to 1 Casualty Clearing Hospital, March 21st, suffering from a compound proximal fibula. Private McDonald enlisted in the 105th Battalion and crossed to England in July 1916. Was drafted in the first draft from that Battalion to the 13th, and crossed to France on Nov. 28th, 1916, where he was till the time of his accident. Previous to enlisting in the 105th Pte. McDonald spent six months on garrison duty in Halifax.

INTERESTING SOUVENIR FROM THE FIELDS OF FRANCE.—There is on display in the Victoria Row windows of Prowse Bros. Ltd., a most interesting collection of war time souvenirs that have been brought home by Mr. L. E. Prowse, recently returned from France and England. Included in the collection are two heavy active service revolvers picked up in the battlefield by Sergt. Worth of the 98th Siege Battery, a bomb thrower's outfit, including mask, bomb belt, etc., a bomb of the famous Mills make, a German field water bottle, a German cartridge belt with a full round of steel pin pointed bullets, a map made from a shell by Gunner Joseph Gaudet, City, 98th Siege Battery and a brass ink stand made from scraps by another 98th man, a trench rifle, with periscope, a bleached skull of a German soldier picked up after the famous battle of Red Hill where the French lost some 60,000 pieces of shrapnel and an old sand bag that has been used for barricading a front line Canadian trench. Needless to say, crowds thronged to see the display yesterday as it is one most interesting to all.

The death of Dr. D. McLeod at Kinross on the 3rd inst. demands more than a passing notice.

Dr. McLeod, familiarly called "Dr. Dan," was born at Kinross about 55 years ago, the son Donald (Joiner) and Flora McLeod.

He was educated at Uigg School and at Prince of Wales College and at the age of 20 became principal of the above school, ably maintaining its high standard.

After teaching there a few years he entered Trinity Medical College Toronto, and after four years study there graduated from Trinity University with the degree of M. D., C. M.

He practiced his profession for a short time at Pownal P. E. I., and then went to British Columbia where he practiced at Donald and Nanaimo till the great Klondike rush took place. He was one of the first medical men who hit the trail for that Eldorado and remained there for seven years.

After amassing a considerable fortune, he travelled extensively in Europe, visiting, England, France, Italy, and Germany. He also made several trips to China and finally settled at Vancouver, B. C. where he did a consultation practice for several years, when his health broke down and he came back to his old home.

Since then he has been living in retirement doing gratis and urgent work that was required among his neighbours, whose highest respect and love he won both by his skill, and his kindly and unassuming disposition.

Dr. McLeod outside his professional attainments had a well stored mind. He was a great reader, a free English Gaelic and classical scholar, whom it was a delight to visit.

As a physician he was a good deal above the average.

As a man his kindly nature won for him the love and esteem of all with whom he came in contact, and it may be said of him he died leaving behind him no enemies.

The end came instantaneously as he wished it to be in the midst of his duties.

He was one of a large family of whom there are only two sisters left, his only brother having died two years ago.

To these sisters bowed down with grief the deep sympathy of the whole community goes out in their sudden bereavement. For their consolation let them remember that there was no pain and no "sadness of farewell when he embarked" that he won the respect and good will of all his old neighbors and the love of the circle that knew him best.

MEMBERS VISIT CARFERRY TERMINALS.—About twenty of the members of the Legislature and a number of citizens took a day off yesterday to visit Port Borden and Tormentine, and enjoyed a holiday trip in the Carferry. Leaving the city at 6 a. m. they arrived at Borden on schedule time and made the crossing to Tormentine in forty-five minutes. Both at Borden and Tormentine they inspected the terminals and were greatly pleased with the magnificent work the Carferry is capable of doing. The party arrived in the city at 5.45.

After an illness of many weeks the subject of this sketch passed quietly away on February 12th, 1918. He was the youngest son of Samuel and Mrs. McLeod, Murray Harbor and was only in his seventeenth year. A self sacrificing mother and two affectionate sisters watched by his bedside night and day with mingled hopes and fears and after doing all within their power to supplement the doctor's efforts, they were compelled to see the young life close in its early spring time. An impressive funeral service was held on the 22nd by Rev. E. S. Weeks. Besides the parents five sisters and five brothers survive.

AN ENGLISH MAIL.—A transatlantic liner arrived in St. John Monday. She had on board 168 passengers, of whom seventy-eight were returned officers and men. Her cargo consisted of 2,300 bags of mail and 1,000 tons of general merchandise. Included in the party was Lieutenant K. MacFayden, of Timish (P. E. I.) a member of the Royal Flying Corps. Lieutenant MacFayden went overseas as a member of the 17th Battalion with the first contingent, and shortly after his arrival in England he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps. He said that he was with the British forces in the east. He has been returned to Canada for duty here. Lieut. A. R. Chisholm, of Halifax was in the party, and Lieutenant C. S. Innes, of London (Ont.).

INTERED IN HOLLAND.—The prisoner of war adopted by Miss J. C. Simpson has been sent to Holland, and writes as follows: "I am pleased to inform you that I am now in Holland. I with fifty three more fellow prisoners arrived last Friday. We are lodged in private houses. What a change from being herded together in a stable for three years and a half. We are allowed to wander about the town and it all seems so strange, it is like a dream. I often think I shall wake up and find myself back at Rubben. J. J. Spooner, Richard Martin adopted by the North Milton Red Cross writes, "I am taking this opportunity to thank you for the Christmas card also for parcels which I am receiving regularly through the North Milton Red Cross. Needless to say I appreciate your kindness especially as I am a complete stranger to you all."

AT EMERALD.—On Wednesday evening a celebration in honor of St. Patrick (which had been postponed from March 18 on account of inclement weather) was held at Emerald under the auspices of the local branch of the Benevolent Irish Society, considering the state of the roads there was a very good attendance and those who were present were amply repaid by the production of an excellent program. The first number was an instrumental selection (violin and organ) by Miss Mary Monaghan and Mr. Joseph Mulligan, Kinkora, was well received. A vocal solo was next splendidly rendered by Mrs. Harry Sterns, Charlottetown. Third on the list was a beautiful Irish ballad sung in fine voice by Mrs. J. Cameron, Charlottetown. Mrs. M. T. Lambe, Springfield, sang one of Moore's famous melodies and was vociferously applauded. The feature of the evening was then announced and when Mr. F. J. Nash, Charlottetown, appeared to deliver a lecture on "Sons of Ireland" he received a great ovation. The lecture, a synopsis of which has already appeared in the Guardian, was to say the least a literary and intellectual treat. Mr. Nash's description of some sons of Ireland and those of Irish extraction was admirably done and the great applause by which it was punctuated showed the hearty appreciation of the audience for the excellent handling of the splendid theme. At the conclusion a vote of thanks was moved to the lecturer by Mr. John Sinclair, M. P., and seconded by Mr. P. T. Hughes, Mr. Nash acknowledged the vote of thanks in his own pleasant and eloquent way. A vocal quartette by Mr. and Mrs. J. Cameron, H. Sterns and L. Hughes, Charlottetown, proved very popular and also a duet by Misses L. Hughes and H. Sterns. These numbers were both accompanied by Miss May Sterns, Charlottetown. Those who liked step-dancing received enjoyment in the fullest measure by the performance of Mr. A. E. Kelly, Kinkora. A vocal solo by Mr. Jerry Mulligan, Kinkora, followed. Mr. Mulligan has a mellow tenor voice of fine quality and was heard at his best on Wednesday evening. Mr. J. P. MacInnis, Charlottetown, also sang and was excellently accompanied by Mr. Peter Deighan, organist of St. James Church, Freetown. A dance was held in the hall after the program was concluded. On the whole the celebration was a grand success.

George Jackson delivered a striking charge.

ANNUAL TEA SUCCESS.—The annual Tea and Bazaar held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid of St. James Church yesterday was another successful affair launched by the ladies. Delightful weather tempted young and old to go out to supper and the dainty viands prepared were all heartily enjoyed, the tables being exquisitely arranged with flowers etc. In the main hall the fancy work table were very largely patronized and were well supported with the choice fancy work aprons and articles of apparel. Refreshment table was a boon to housekeepers and everything offered met with quick sale.

J. W. Boulter, of Quimper, died suddenly last Saturday morning at Ponteix. It appears he had come just inside the doorway as he came from the hotel where with Mrs. Boulter they had been visiting since Xmas. Awaiting the arrival of a carload of horses purchased in North Dakota, Mr. Boulter remained in Ponteix. He was apparently in the best of health on Thursday night, but was slightly ill on Friday afternoon. On Saturday morning he went to the Livestock Stable to get accommodation for his stock on arrival, and fell dead just inside of the doorway, where he was found soon afterwards.

The deceased was born at Albany P. E. I., and was 41 years of age. He came to Western Canada in 1911 and took up a homestead in the vicinity of Kinderley, Sask. In 1917 he moved to the Quimper District although still retaining the ownership of his homestead on the North Line. He was married at Swift Current in 1913.

To mourn his loss remains his wife, a mother in P. E. I., and two sisters who reside in the States.

The funeral services were held at Aneroid on Wednesday afternoon. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Pringle at the Baptist Church, a large concourse of friends attending. The local Masonic Lodge attended in a body. Mr. Boulter being a member of the order at this place.

After the services at the Church, the sad cortege, moved to the cemetery where interment was made. The local band was in attendance on the deceased being a South African veteran.

The deceased was a man of estimable character, sunny disposition, and a friend of most all who knew him.

CAPT. BOURDEAU.—Captain James Bourdeau, who died at St. Peter's, C. E. last week for 30 long years sailed the Hazel Dell in the carrying trade along the coast of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. His home was in St. Peter's. He was the true type of grizzled old sea captain, and was known and liked by the master of every vessel operating in these waters. His last trip was from Prince Edward Island to Sydney. His health at this time had begun to decline and leaving his ship docked he went to his home. A few days after his arrival there, he sustained injuries, by a fall, which caused his death at the age of 73 years. He is survived by his wife, and four sons, says the Halifax Chronicle.

The number of entries at the Provincial Seed Fair held at Summerside on March 27th and 28th was not as large as usual. In the class open to members of the Canadian Seed Growers Association the exhibit was very small. One good sample of White Fyfe wheat was shown. In Banner oats, which is always a strong class there were three entries of fair quality. The small exhibit in this class is accounted for by the lateness of the spring and the hot windy weather before harvest which caused the grain to ripen too rapidly.

In the class for competitors in the standing fields of grain competition, the adverse conditions of the past year were again in evidence in the amount of grain entered and also in the quality.

Some very good exhibits of Banner oats were shown, but the average was below the standard. Wheat entries were small in number and the grain was not as well filled as usual. There was a good exhibit of barley and the quality was up to the average. Both two-rowed and six-rowed samples were well-matured and showed a high percentage of purity. A two-rowed barley, C. E. S. number 50, is giving splendid results through the province.

While the potato exhibit was not so large as usual yet the quality was good. Most of the samples were free from disease, uniform and true to type.

The timothy seed was a splendid lot, clean, bright in color and practically free from weed seeds. A few of the samples were slightly hulled.

There was a large entry of beans. Both white and colored varieties were of excellent quality and well ripened. Scarcely any signs of disease injury could be formed in any of the samples.

The excellent exhibit of root seeds clearly showed that these seeds could be successfully grown in this province. There was a large entry of turnip, mangel, carrot and cabbage seed. Every sample was well ripened, uniform in size and color and indications of high vitality. Several samples of turnip seed grown in this province last year have been submitted to the Seed Branch, Ottawa, and have germinated 85 to 100 percent.

The exhibit of handicraft was good. Splendid samples of weaving, knitting and spinning were shown both of woolen and linen goods. A special feature in the women's section was the exhibit of war time cooking. This exhibit attracted the attention of many visitors and amply demonstrated the possibilities in substituting other foods for wheat, beef, and bacon.

Each exhibit of cooking had the recipe attached. Many took advantage of the opportunity to copy the recipe for their own use.

A well attended meeting was held in the afternoon of the 27th, when addresses were given by the Commissioner of Agriculture, Hon. Mr. McKinnon, Mr. J. L. Tennant, Agricultural Representative for Prince County, and Miss Hazel Sterns, Supervisor of Women's Institute.

The officers of the fair are president, Rev. P. C. Gauthier, St. Louis; Secretary, Mr. John Grady, Summerside; directors, Horace Wright, Bedeque; R. Agnew, Wilmot; D. B. McDonald, North Bedeque; Jesse A. Wright, Summerside; Rev. J. J. McDonald, Kinkora, C. McLellan, Arlington; W. H. McGregor, Central Lot 16; T. Ross, Bedeque; J. J. McNally, Summerside; Fulton Simpson, Belmont; Thos. Waugh, Wilmot; J. E. Murphy, Augustine Cove; Alex. McFarlane, Westwood.

A rally of the York district, S. S. Association was held in the Covehead Methodist Church, on March 27. The 2.30 p. m. session was presided over by Mr. James-Matthew the President. After the devotional part of the service reports were called for and responded to from the Dunstaffnage, York, Covehead, Presbyterian, Covehead Methodist, and Union Sunday Schools. Minutes of the annual convention held at Brackley last October were read, followed by an address from Rev. Mr. Wilson. He said, 1st, get the children; 2nd, appoint teachers; 3rd, keep at the lesson when teaching. Never convey to the child's mind that the God of the Scripture is different from the God of today. Later a short discussion on the taking of the temperance pledge in the Sunday Schools followed, showing its sacredness. Then a talk on some of the difficulties of teaching, suggestive helps and better methods of Sunday School work was taken up by the different delegates present. Parents have not the Sunday School work at heart is the reason that some children do not attend Sunday School. "Press Onward," was the encouraging advice given by the President in his closing remarks. Session closed with Doxology and Benediction to meet at 7.30 in the evening.

Evening session and a crowded church, singing and prayer by Rev. Mr. Wilson. President read the 19th Psalm. Miss Boyer then read an excellent paper, followed by an address from Mr. James Essery, in which he said he was thankful for godly parents, a godly training and a godly heritage—for a S. S. teacher and going always to the Sunday School. He said that Dr. Henderson Senr. always asked a blessing on the good old book every time he read its pages. A boy sorry for attending the S. S. was yet to be found. Train the young, put forth yet greater efforts—recruits for King George are needed, but more needed are recruits for Christ. Future workers are to come from the Sunday School. In order to receive the "Well done" we must do well. Singing.

Then an address, by Mr. B. C. Harty, who said that everybody in S. S. work should have something to say about the S. S. work which has such a great influence—an influence derived only from the milk of the word and the study of the same, by which knowledge we are enabled to im part the truth. He also spoke of the influence of the Sunday School as an educator—something not to be despised. A spiritual education is before any other it is an inducement to moral living, it has an influence to overcome when tempted. In it we find an abiding home—a resting place. The teachings given by Jesus to his disciples and other he compared to a Sunday School.

A reading entitled, "The rights of a child," was given by Mrs. C. E. Hughes, followed by an address from Rev. Mr. Wilson. He first referred to the loss sustained by the church here in Covehead, in the home going of Mrs. Hibbert Hughes and Mr. Alfred Boyer and went on to say that the training of the child in a day school is not all the duty of a parent. Public opinion has a powerful influence on every child. Good newspapers, too, have an influence powerful for good. But the home atmosphere is the most powerful. Public worship on the Sabbath has a great influence—reverence being induced which is of great value and infinite. Speaking of Germany, which country led in religion in the time of the Reformation and later led in science—the greatness of the German people as well. Then the press was muzzled under the name of patriotism religion neglected, crime increased—the more enlightenment they had the more sin and vice in police records. German culture is culture with religion left out. Secular education cannot save a people. Neither can legislation. The heart is reached through religion. Guard the heart for out of it are the issues of life. For the child to have a religious training is an absolute necessity. Impress upon the child's mind the importance of serving Christ. To feed the children's souls is the really important thing. The world will attend to the child's training if the powers of evil are ever on the alert to see that the young child's mind is well seeded down with evil thoughts. Give Satan as little ground to sow as possible by filling up the child's mind with good.

The President then made a few remarks on the training of children—also on children as imitators. A hearty vote of thanks for the entertainment provided by the friends of Covehead was moved by Colonel Crocker and seconded by Mr. James Essery. Collection four dollars. Singing and Benediction brought the session to a close. (Patriot please copy.)

A petition signed by ten thousand women teachers, as a protest against a new schedule of salaries, was presented before the London County Education Committee recently. The women teachers were demanding equal pay for equal work for men and women teachers.

To whom it may concern: This is to certify that I have used MINARD'S LINIMENT myself as well as prescribed it in my practice where a liniment was required and have never failed to get the desired effect.
