BLOCK-JAKE NUPTIALS
 The Moncton Daily Times June 15 says a pretty June Wedding was solemnized last evening at 6.30 at the Tiferes Israel Synagogue, when Miss Sarah Jake, daughter of Solomon Jake, was united in marriage with Maurice Block, son of Mr. and Mrs. Able Block, of Charlottetown. Rabbi H. Bronstein officiated. The bride who was given in marriage by her father was charmingly gowned in a Parisian creation of brocade white tulle, the skirt falling into a long train. Her tulle veil was caught to the head with a cap of lilacs-of-the-valley. She carried a white Bible adorned with roses, streamers of satin ribbons and lilacs-of-the-valley. Mrs. Joseph Attis, the matron of honor, was becomingly attired in a sheer blue gown with a lace train and wore a matching hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow tulle roses. The attending bridesmaids were Miss Freda Jake, sister of the bride, who wore an attractive dress of flowered tulle with matching bolero fashioned on princess lines, and Miss Sylvia Block of Charlottetown, sister of the groom, who was gowned in a princess-model costume of periwinkle blue marquisette, trimmed with pink lace. The bridesmaids wore pretty contrasting hats and carried dainty, old-fashioned nosegays. The groom's mother was becomingly attired in black Chantilly lace, the skirt falling in a short train. She wore a black lace and boucle straw hat and her corsage was of roses. The synagogue was beautifully and fragrantly decorated with spring flowers and ferns, while the reception hall was gaily festooned with paper streamers and other decorations. The groom and his groomsmen, Joseph Attis, wore formal dress with boutonnières of white carnations. The ushers were Ben Attis, Jake Attis and Sam Selick. After the ceremony, a buffet lunch was enjoyed in the reception hall, after which dancing was enjoyed until the early morning hours to the strains of music from a swing orchestra. Earlier, songs had been sung in Jewish by Kay Giustein, New Waterford, N.S., and Sam Sherman, Sydney. Then the bride and groom danced a bridal waltz to the strains of "I Love You Truly." During the reception a toast to the King was proposed by J.S. Attis and responded to by the assemblage singing the National Anthem. A toast to the bride and groom followed, proposed by Ben Attis and responded to by the groom. Toward midnight, the happy couple left on their honeymoon to be spent in motoring through the New England States. For travelling, the bride was attired in a smart brown tulle, with three-quarter length coat of lawn polo cloth, and brown accessories. On their return, they will reside in Charlottetown, where the groom is engaged in business. Among the out-of-town guests present at the nuptials were: Mr. and Mrs. Abbie Block, the Misses Sylvia and Lilian Block, of Charlottetown; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Plenstein, New Waterford, N.S.; Sam Sherman, Sydney; Miss Kay Giustein, New Waterford; Sam Budovitch, Fredericton; Joe Franshow, Sussex; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Levine, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gilbert, Miss Sophie Shulman, Mrs. T. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lampert and Harry Lampert, all of St. John; Mr. and Mrs. Abe Swetkey, Springhill; Samuel Attis, Montreal, and Mrs. Isaac Berlovitch, New Glasgow.

DISCUSSION ON F. C. A. ACT IN SENATE
 Hon. J. J. Hughes: Next I come to schedule 11 of this report. It is a summary of expenditures since the inception of the Act, and the figures are worth placing on Hansard. As I stated at the beginning, the report does not bear out the contention of my honourable friend from Queens (Hon. Mr. Sinclair) that the great rush of business under this Act occurred in the first year the law was in force. That is true as to some provinces, but not as to Prince Edward Island, to which he was referring. For the fiscal year 1935-36 the expenditure in Prince Edward Island was $21,616.20. That was the second year the Act was in existence. Next year, 1936-37, the expenditure had jumped to $37,192.58. We were getting into our stride then. Let us look at the figures for the other provinces. In Nova Scotia the expenditure was $9,393.58, and the following year the figure dropped to $4,958.76. Indeed, the expenditure fell in every province of Canada but Prince Edward Island. The decrease in New Brunswick was from $30,333.2 to $26,164.22; in Quebec from $134,313.4 to $95,430.27; in Ontario from $122,494.79 to $110,404.86; in Manitoba from $78,083.46 to $67,669.34; in Saskatchewan from $134,231.98 to $97,307.27; in Alberta from $11,194.36 to $80,289.08; in British Columbia from $31,015.40 to $15,792.48. Taking Canada as a whole, the reduction in 1937-38 to 1936-37 is about 25 per cent. The increase in Prince Edward Island in the same period is about 80 per cent, and yet my friend from Queens says the Act was a failure. I shall have a little more to say about that.

While we were in the Banking and Commerce Committee the other day I asked the director, Mr. Gordon, whose duty it is to check expenditures, whether he ever had occasion to check accounts that were too high and he answered "Yes." Then I asked him if he ever got accounts that he considered too low and should increase, and he said that he had never had such an account, at all events, that in some of the provinces the administrators were so stupid that they did not know how to keep their own expense accounts and were cheating themselves.

Some Hon. Senators: Oh, oh.
 Hon. Mr. Hughes: And he had to produce them.

So much for the costs of administration, but the subject is by no means exhausted. In fact, I have scratched only the surface of the question, and other members will perhaps go further into the matter. So much for the costs of the organization, which already amount to more than $2,000,000 for Canada.

Hon. Mr. MacArthur: They amount to $3,000,000. My honourable friend says $3,000,000. They amount to more than $80,000 for Prince Edward Island. My honourable friend from Queens said the figure was $82,000.

I shall now turn to another phase of the subject, namely, the memorandum read by the honourable member from the House on the 25th ultimo—the part relating to Prince Edward Island, which the honourable member from Queens said was that he did not know to be facts. "Now as to Prince Edward Island. The debt situation of farmers in Prince Edward Island differs from that in almost every other province, in that the great proportion of these farmers' debts is to local merchants, who have taken mortgages on the farmers' property."

The honourable senator from Queens said that for one secured creditor there would be on the average five or six unsecured. But this memorandum says, "The great proportion of these farmers' debts is to local merchants, who have taken mortgages on the farmers' property." Both statements cannot be true. I submit this statement is not true.

"The memorandum continues: 'Many of these mortgages have been in existence for several generations, the farmer turning his property over to the merchants, who, in some instances by the officials of the federal department as well. From this will be seen that any merchant who handles any of these products must pay the market price.'

Next, as to potatoes and turnips. The crop is largely exported. These vegetables are largely handled by a province-wide organization of the farmers themselves, of which till a few years ago the Deputy Minister of Agriculture was manager. Since

Purchasing Agents Told Trend Upward
 TORONTO, June 21.—(CP)—The next major movement in business activity, the stock market, employment, purchasing power and commodity prices is upward, Herbert J. McGill, president of the McGill Commodity Service, told United States purchasing agents at their recent annual convention. "The next major move in inventories," he said, "is downward and the real danger for purchasing executives from now on will be in overbuying the short side of commodity markets. Commodity markets must be watched with greater care from now on for three reasons: (1) the bulk of the decline is over; (2) the most important major movement is destined to be upward and (3) as commodity prices are extremely sensitive to economic adversity, likewise, prices will be quick to discount signs of economic betterment as well as the prospective renewal of inflationary measures."

Turning again to the memorandum: "Many cases of hardship have been reported in this connection. The following are two sample cases."
 Just samples.
 The creditor had been charging his debtors 10 per cent interest on his bills, taking cattle, grain or other produce, whether the debtor farmer could spare it or not, and is reported to have allowed these farmers only one-half of the value of such stock and produce as a credit on his bill.
 A woman owned a fair farm and provided a living for her son, his wife and a family of ten children. She owed a mortgage of $650 at 7 per cent interest, and with $32 interest only due the mortgagee instituted foreclosure proceedings.
 There might be such a case on Prince Edward Island, but if so the creditor was a brother farmer. "These cases were adjusted by the Prince Edward Island board of review to the dissatisfaction of the creditors."

We have in these two or three short paragraphs which I have quoted several allegations, nearly all of which are notoriously exaggerated or simply false. To begin with, I shall state in a general way that the merchants and traders on Prince Edward Island, like those in every other agricultural community, are under ordinary conditions have the confidence and goodwill of their customers, the farmers, or they—the merchants—could not continue in business. Now, everyone sees that anybody else who handles potatoes and turnips must compete with this organization and pay the highest market price.
 Hon. Mr. MacArthur: It should never have been read.
 Hon. Mr. Gordon: Whom do you refer to in connection with a memorandum?

Hon. Mr. Hughes: He having failed to take that precaution, this thought comes to me, that the honourable gentleman, whom everybody respects in this House as do many outside of it, owes it to himself and to the merchants of Prince Edward Island who were slandered to make an explanation.
 Hon. Mr. MacArthur: It should never have been read.
 Hon. Mr. Gordon: Whom do you refer to in connection with a memorandum?
 Hon. Mr. Hughes: The Director of the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act in Ottawa.
 On the 19th ultimo, when the senator from Prince and myself were trying to stop, or at least to minimize, this raid on the public treasury and bring about some general improvements so far as Prince Edward Island was concerned, the senator from Queens (Hon. Mr. Sinclair) told us we were powerless; that all we could do was to make a noise. And perhaps he was right. Time will tell. In other words, he told us that he was in such close contact with his relatives and friends, the administrators of the Act on Prince Edward Island, and in such close contact with the head office and the Government here, that he could do as he pleased. This Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act is certainly a great game where it is well worked, and Prince Edward Island is the best field yet discovered.

Had Indigestion Gas and Pains In Stomach and Bowels
 The process of digestion depends largely on the condition of the stomach, and when it is unable to do its work properly there will be rising and souring of food, a gas and burning sensation in the stomach, belching and pressure of gas, flatulency, etc.
 Burdock Blood Bitters starts an increased flow of gastric juice, essential for the proper digestion of food.
 Miss M. C. Weiss, Mapova, Alta. writes:—"For a long time I was troubled with indigestion. My stomach would not digest my food and I would have gas pressure and sour stuff coming up in my mouth. I used Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking one bottle I felt a change for the better, so I decided to keep on, and after the third bottle I could eat anything and not be bothered with the rising and souring of my food."
