EDITORIAL NOTES.

It seems to have been demonstrated that the use of X-rays in exploring the interior of the human body is not free from danger to the patient. The Superior Court in Chicago has awarded $7000 to one Frank V Balling for injuries thus received. He had an ankle injured by being thrown from a buggy. A skiagraph was taken to show the nature of the hurt, and this is alleged to have caused decomposition to set in. Several amputations were necessary to save the patient's life.

Some one with a taste for romance started the report that some Irishmen n South Africa and New York were willing to assist President Kruger in the event of war with Britain. Should they do so they will find other Irishmen there well prepared to support the old flag of the United Kingdom. There are now in South Africa or under orders to go thither seven battalions of Irish infantry and one regiment of Irish cavalry, numbering altogether about 8.500 men.

Ontario is obtaining an unenviable reputation for electoral corruption. The latest revelation comes from the election trial in North Waterloo, where it appears that the price of votes at the last contest ranged from $2 to $10, $25 and even $50 a piece. Two electors appear by the evidence to have each received the last named sum in consideration for deserting the party which they respectively favored. When will the conscience of the country be aroused to punish bribers and the bribed as they deserve? The corruption revealed by recent election trials is a shame and a disgrace to Canada.

The late Cornelius Vauderbilt, whose death by paralysis is announced, was yet in the prime of life. He was in his 56th year. He is described as a man who had few amusements and no hobbies. He belonged to the Protestant Episcopal church, and devoted much time to church and Sunday school interests. He was a hard worker from early youth down to the time of his death. Mr. Vauderbilt belonged to the better class of millionaires, and will be favorably remembered by those with whom he was associated in life. His death resulted from a second stroke of paralysis, the first stroke having befallen him in 1896.

Another instance of the defective telegraph system of this province has occurred. On Tuesday evening a telegram was sent from Great Village N. S. to Charlottetown announcing the death of Rev. J. Johnson and asking Mr. Holbrook to go on to meet the body on Wednesday morning. The telegraph office had closed in Charlottetown as usual at eight o'clock and the telegram did not reach this city until the Pictou boat was en route to Pictou the following morning. In consequence of the delay it was Thursday morning before an escort for the body could leave Charlottetown, and the body only arrived last night, twenty-four hours later than it would if we had a night telegraph service.

YARMOUTH, Sept. 13—The W. F. M. S. of the Maritime Presbyterians began their twenty third annual meeting in St. John's church to-day. As Yarmouth is not centrally situated for the eastern section of this church, the attendance is somewhat less than usual. There is no representative from P. E. Island or Cape Breton, and only three from New Brunswick. The Nova Scotia auxillaries are represented by about forty delegates. What the convention lacks in numbers is quite made up in zeal and enthusiasm on the part of those who are present, and the roports of the secretary, treasurer and president show a year of encouraging work for the Master.
