MORNING SESSION

Rev. Dr. J. W. Falconer, Halifax, gave a devotional address at the morning session. Dr. W. G. Watson, reported for Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax. In its history 1,200 ministers had been sent into church work, 100 ministers and 25 students were registered during the past year, which had been one of the best in the history of the institution. Reference was made to removal of Dr. John Line to Toronto.

Principal W. C. Ross reported for Mount Allison Ladies' College. Last year 169 students were in residence, the largest in its history of the institution. Two new departments are to be opened next year, a home-makers' course and choir-makers' course. A debt on the institution made larger income essential, he said.

Dr. J. M. Palmer, principal of Mount Allison Academy, reported a very satisfactory year. President G. J. Trueman reported on the University. Increased income was necessary, he said, in order to place the institution where it can fulfill its obligations. He said $1,000,000 were needed. A science building was necessary, he said, and the endowment fund also needed a large increase. He asked that committee be appointed to work with committee with Board of Regents to carry on the forward campaign.

Dr. J. G. Oulton reported for the visitors to the institution during the year.

BOARD OF REGENTS

G. Burchill and J. R. MacGregor, Halifax, representing the Board of Regents, were then heard. Mr. Burchill told of the deep impression made upon his mind by attendance at recent closing exercises of Mount Allison. This institution was the property of the United Church and the church should assume its responsibility.

Dr. John McIntosh, Sydney, moved a resolution committing the conference to campaign of $1,000,000. He said that if the Methodist church had done such wonderful work in the past it would be strange if the United Church could not do better work. Dr. Mount Allison, he declared that Mount Allison was the finest educational institution of the United Church in the whole of Canada and seconded the resolution.

Musical Recital

A very delightful recital was given last night in Zion Church Hall by pupils of Professor Louis D. Thompson. 'DRY' BRANDON GOES 'WET'

Manitoba Centre Recognized as Dry Stronghold Decides Emphatically to Extend Beer Facilities.

BRANDON, Man., June 7.—Brandon City went decidedly wet on Tuesday. Favoring the establishment of beer parlors by a majority of 1267, the voters showed in no uncertain manner that they favored the extension of sale of beer facilities. A record vote turned out for the occasion, and the city thus obtained a true expression of the electorate on this important issue. The result was a considerable surprise even to the most sanguine of the workers for the beer parlors, as the vote was expected to be a close one throughout. The actual results were for beer parlors 3216, against 1949.

ADVANCE INDICATION

An advance poll established two days previous to the regular voting day, gave an indication as to the trend of opinion when it reported 244 for the "wets" and only 59 against.

This vote was largely made up of commercial men and railway men. The centre of the city polled a large vote and here again the business section gave a further lead to the beer parlors. The north side, largely a foreign settlement, was expected, almost solidly "wet". One small poll on the south side gave a majority of five against the extension of beer sale, and this poll was alone in this regard.

There is a total possible vote in Brandon of about 6,000, and of this number 5,165 turned out. According to a decision made some time ago by the Attorney-General, beer parlors may open up within fifteen days from the time that the vote is taken. An appeal may be lodged within fourteen days. But in view of the overwhelmingly big majority, it is considered that no recount will be asked for. One of the features of the voting was the "unlisted" vote.

Brandon in the past has always been recognized as a "dry" stronghold.

S. A. MacDonald Is Speaker At Chamber Commerce Luncheon

(Canadian Press) QUEBEC, June 7.—(By Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press) —Advertising for the future a tunnel under the Northumberland straits joining Prince Edward Island to the mainland with direct railway communications, S. A. MacDonald, President of the Associated Chamber of Commerce of the Province of Quebec, spoke at the convention luncheon of the chamber of Commerce of Canada of the economic problems of, as the speaker termed it "the largest little province of the Dominion."

Prince Edward Island, said Mr. MacDonald, entered confederation under different terms than did the rest of the provinces. It was agreed that suitable transportation facilities would be provided in order to enable the market its products speedily in the rest of Canada. These promises, he said had not been carried out to the letter.

However, the speaker continued, the Dominion Government has lately come to the rescue by providing an additional car ferry service between the Island and the mainland. This added service was urgently needed, he said because of increased production. The real transportation difficulties, however, arise in the winter, he said. Water travel is then difficult and is often tied up completely and the only solution for such conditions which in time will prove more of a handicap will be the building of a tunnel under the straits from the mainland to Prince Edward Island thus assuring an adequate and speedy transportation throughout all seasons.

It would also help conditions in the Island said Mr. MacDonald, if the Canadian National Railways would provide better facilities on the southwest of the Island. He added also that capital was needed for the development of the north shore which could be made into an ideal

FRANCE IS STANDING OUT ALONE

United States Receives Unfavorable Reply to Kellogg Proposals — Other Nations Invited to Sign

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 7.—Probability that the projected renunciation of war treaty will become an accomplished fact at an early date was seen here today when it became known that the United States will soon ask the Great Powers and the British Dominions to sign the original American draft for such a pact.

It was learned a note will be sent to the interested governments within a week which will declare that, in view of their favorable replies to the Kellogg proposal, the United States can see no reason why the treaty should not be signed in its original, unqualified form. France alone of the powers has sent an unfavorable answer.

Signing of the treaty will end the negotiations which began between Paris and Washington a year ago, and which were extended to the other powers on April 13, and to the British dominions and India on May 22. Acceptance of the American draft would mean a diplomatic victory for Secretary of State Kellogg, who throughout has insisted upon a simple and unqualified declaration against war.

Slight Changes

There remains a remote possibility that the final treaty may be slightly altered in language, although not in purpose. It is known definitely that Kellogg will not consent to inclusion in the pact of two reservations sponsored by Great Britain and France, the first recognizing the validity of existing international agreements such as the League of Nations covenant, and the second providing that the signatory states be released from their obligations with respect to any treaty-breaking state.

One or the other of these conditions may be placed in the preamble of the final pact, however, despite strong indications that both would be completely ignored in the American draft.

The State Department "has every expectation," the United Press was informed, that Great Britain, Germany, Japan and the British dominions will sign the treaty in its original form. This hope doubtless is based on a series of conversations held here this week between Kellogg and various members of the diplomatic corps.

It was pointed out the United States would not ask those states to sign if it was known in advance that the signatures would not be forthcoming.

France, it is believed, may hold out for a time, but officials are confident that France cannot afford to appear for very long in the role of blocking the war renunciation idea after other powers have signed.

pleasure resort and holiday playground.

In praising his home province which he said however, was praising Canada, the speaker commented upon the fact that P. E. I. had the largest per capita of production in the Dominion and was the most thickly populated of the provinces. Cattle, potatoes and butter raised on the Island were of the best he said and the cheese ranked second to that produced in Ontario.

Mr. MacDonald replaced the Minister of Agriculture in the Prince Edward Island Government as luncheon speaker, the latter being unable to attend the convention owing to official business at Charlottetown.

Ex-Premier Stewart, the next speaker, referred to the evolution of the hotel system in recent years. This service, he said, has been progressing hand in hand with those other institutions vital to a community and has co-operated with them in making the world a better place to live in. The advances made by this province in the development of the tourist traffic, said Mr. Stewart, were due in a large degree to the excellence of our hotels. Still, the possibilities were far from exhausted and should be exploited to the full. More advertisement was needed to make the tourist traffic what it should be.

Major S. J. Robbins, managing director of the Ontario Hotel Association referred to his first visit to Charlottetown twelve years ago in recruiting reinforcements for the Canadian Expeditionary Force. No, he said, Major Robbins, had returned more in proportion to its resources than had Prince Edward Island. He spoke of the great part which Mr. Brown had taken in the work of the Hotel Association of Canada and urged the necessity of bringing in those hotel managers who were outside the pale of the society.

Major Robbins stated his belief that the sale of light wines and beer in Ontario hotels would eliminate by 50 per cent the amount of drinking in illegal places. The creation of a pleasant environment, he said, is one of the greatest problems which the Association faces. The hotels should be made as much as possible like the home and everything should be driven out that savours of corruption.

Mr. John Davidson of Montreal, manager of the Windsor Hotel in the course of a few remarks also urged the need of the sale of light wine and beer in hotels. He was followed by Mr. Carroll of Toronto, organizer of the Royal Winter Fair, who emphasized the need for good hotels and spoke of the excellence of Prince Edward Island exhibits.

After a few remarks by Mr. Robertson, C. N. R. General Passenger Agent, Mr. Burpee, C. P. R. Divisional Passenger Agent, Mr. M. S. Tompkins of Moncton, Mr. H. C. Crowell, C. N. R. Publicity Agent, and Mr. Reuben MacDonald representing the Press, the gathering dispersed.

Mr. J. A. S. Bayer took a photograph of the party before the members set out to the boat.

Appelle Won The Coronation Cup

(Canadian Press) EPSOM, June 7.—R. McKerrrie's five year old colt Appelle won the Coronation Cup over the mile and a half course this afternoon by a short head from Mrs. C. Rich's Silver Star. Bookmaker was third. Only four horses ran. The betting was 100 to 15 against Appelle, 100 to 8 against Silverstar and two to five on Booklaw. The race first run in 1902, is one of the most important of the year for four years and upward, generally prominent in the previous season's classic fields. The winner this afternoon carried 132 pounds, more than any other starter. Appelle is by Sardanaple-Angelina.
