

Breeding Alone Will Not Produce a Champion In Any Branch of the Livestock Industry.

Your Final Success Depends on Your Management and Selection of Feed.

Fox meats are expensive and may be difficult to obtain. Don't be alarmed. Last fall MR. REYMOND had the champion adult silver male of the Charlottetown Live Fox Show, this fox being fed only on PURINA FOX CHECKERS and an ample supply of water throughout the summer and fall, as were all his adults.

Production is a direct result of your feeding schedule for months previous to the breeding season. The Raymond ranch, being one of the oldest and most consistent users of PURINA FOX CHOWS in this province, has obtained the following results:

- (a) PRODUCTION—Over 3 pups per vixen per year. (b) LOW MORTALITY—Minimum losses at birth, also throughout growing period. (c) QUALITY Excellent quality as demonstrated by the following winnings at the 1941 Live Fox show:

The grand championship, 4 championships, 10 first prizes, 6 seconds, 6 thirds, 6 fourths, 3 fifths prizes, and 6 other ribbons. A total of 42 prizes.

Contact your local PURINA DEALER and inquire about our reduced prices on PURINA FOX CHOWS, and take advantage of the additional 15c bag rebate by booking your order in advance.

FRUIT JUICES AND SYRUPS

(Experimental Farm News) Fruit juices make appetizing, refreshing and healthful beverages. Moreover, fruit juices provide a simple means of preserving surplus and under-sized fruit. Such Canadian fruits as apples, grapes, strawberries, raspberries, cherries, currants, apricots, prunes and peaches yield attractive and palatable juices. Fruit syrups may also be made from these fruits; berries being the most suitable for this purpose so far as home manufacture is concerned. Berry syrups may be used in the household preparation of fruit punch, certain dessert, or cake fillings, says C. C. Strachan, Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland, B. C.

The fruit, following sorting and washing, is placed in a kettle and heated to about 180 degrees F. If no thermometer is available this where the fruit starts to boil around the edges. Small quantities prevent scorching, cherries, following crushing and mixing the juices is obtained through a jelly bag, or by straining in a small press. The resultant juice may be cleared by further straining or by placing in a tall, narrow jar or crock and allowing to settle for about twenty-four hours. The clear liquid may sediment. The juice may be preserved as is or it may be sweetened or diluted with water and the product heated to 180 degrees F. or incipient boiling, and filled immediately into bottles, jars or cans. The containers should be sterilized and promptly sealed. The bottles are filled with the liquid to cool, while the cans are inverted for a few minutes, then cooled in water.

Fruits such as apricots, prunes and peaches make excellent sweetened pulp type of juice. The fruit is cooked with a little water until soft and pulpy, then while hot it is passed through a small sieve as quickly as possible. This puree or "juice" is diluted with an equal volume of water and sweetened to taste, or it may be sweetened and diluted at time of setting. Whatever method is adopted, the product is bottled or canned in the same manner as described for the berry or grape juice.

For the preparation of berry syrup, the fruit should be thoroughly ripe. The juice is extracted as previously described. Sugar is then added to make a syrup. For strawberries and raspberries about 6 cups of sugar are required for each quart of juice. Because of a great tendency to form a jelly slightly less sugar is used for loganberry, currant or sour blackberry juices.

PERSONALS

Salvage is collected—Approximately 10 tons of scrap was gathered in a house-to-house canvass of the city Saturday afternoon. Included in the lot were about six tons of paper, quantity of rubber, including old tires from flower gardens, rags, metals etc., completed the collection. Ladies of the Women's Motor Transport and boys from the army and navy did the collecting.

Funeral today—The funeral of the late Mr. Victor Shaw will be held from his late residence this (Monday) afternoon, service starting at 2 o'clock.

To attend conference—Messrs. D. J. Bonnell, chairman of public relations of the National War Finance committee for this province and P. W. Turner, chairman of sales, left Saturday to attend a meeting of the provincial chairmen of the Dominion in Ottawa. They will be absent from the province several days.

Misses Mary Morrison and Hazel Millar, East Point, spent the week-end in Charlottetown.

Pte. Patrick Clarken of Veterans Guard has returned to his unit after spending a pleasant vacation with his wife and family in New Wiltshire.

The many friends of Mrs. John E. Hagan, Millvale, will regret to learn she is a patient in the Prince County Hospital and hop. for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bell of Desable spent the week-end in Amherst, the guest of the latter's sister, Miss Winnie MacWilliams.

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Bell have returned home to Desable after having spent a short vacation visiting friends in Nova Scotia.

Mrs. F. H. Stanley, City, has received a telegram from her nephew Willie Archibald of Saskatchewan, telling of his safe arrival in England. Mr. Archibald visited his aunt, Miss Agnes Drake, Mrs. Stanley and uncle, Mr. Roy Drake for a few days before leaving for overseas.

TRINITY UNITED CHURCH

"All hail the power of Jesus name" was the opening hymn for the morning service and was heartily sung by the congregation. Mr. S.W. Beard of the R.A. F. was heard with pleasure in his solo "Just for Today" and the choir was listened to with reverence and approval in the Anthem "God is a Spirit".

The weather was delightful, the attendance was good and the flowers gave beauty and fragrance to the worship of the people. Rev. H.F. Kemp, D.D., of San Fernando, B. W. I., was the guest preacher and gave an interesting account of the work of the United Church in the West Indies and the need for many more workers and missionaries and for greater financial aid to continue the work among the Indians transplanted by thousands from British India, and who are now the landed peasantry of the Island. Dr. Kemp has been 30 years in the British West Indies and has performed by the late Dr. F.J. Coffin, so well known here.

In the evening Rev. Dr. Miller took as his text, "Timothy 4-13" and spoke as to "Things left behind." The failure of electric power put our organ out of commission but under the direction of Prof. Kendall the choir and congregation were able to carry on.

Special Intimation was given of the July-August meeting of the W.M.S. which is to be held on Thursday next and at which Miss Flora McDonald will give the formal address. It is expected all members will arrange to attend.

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

At the morning service of worship the Rev. E. A. Kinley of Wolfville was the preacher, supplying for the Rev. I. Judson Levy, B.A., who as Moderator of the P.E.I. Baptist Association was presiding at Bedeque. Mr. Kinley as a representative of the Maritime Baptist Convention, taking as his text Ezekiel 37:14 "And I will put my spirit in you and ye shall live," presented some of the plans and programme and challenge of the Convention in the Maritimes. In these, Evangelism takes a foremost place, the Church must proclaim the Gospel of Jesus Christ or perish. Stewardship of life, time, talents, spiritual resources and material possessions calls for the consecration of all these to God. The financial plans of the Convention give us the privilege of making definitely effective our stewardship.

The morning anthem was "Psalms 139:1" "Come Holy Ghost." Mrs. John Inch sang very expressively "God Hath No Promises." The Church School met with good attendance at 10 A.M.

At the evening service the Rev. I. Judson Levy was the preacher, taking as his subject, "Jesus of Nazareth Preach By." Handel's "O Lord We Trust Alone In Thee," was the evening anthem. John Inch, Mus.Bac., organist and choirmaster was in charge of the music of the day.

No Gas, Police Use Wheelbarrow

YARMOUTH, N. S., June 28—(C P)—Bereft of gasoline coupons, the Yarmouth police force got down today to that sturdy old fundament of transportation—the wheelbarrow. Back in the day when gas rationing was coming in, the department decided to go in for conservation and applied only for an "A" category for its automobile. But then the Maritime coupon value tumbled from five to two gallons, and so a week ago the police car sputtered through the last pint of its last coupon.

The police cheerfully took to their feet and were getting along fine until today. Then, someone called in about a drunk who needed moving to headquarters.

Sergeant Herbert Davis and Officer Clyde Robbins hopped it to the scene, a half mile from headquarters. There, they put their heads together and agreed it was too long a carry to the jail.

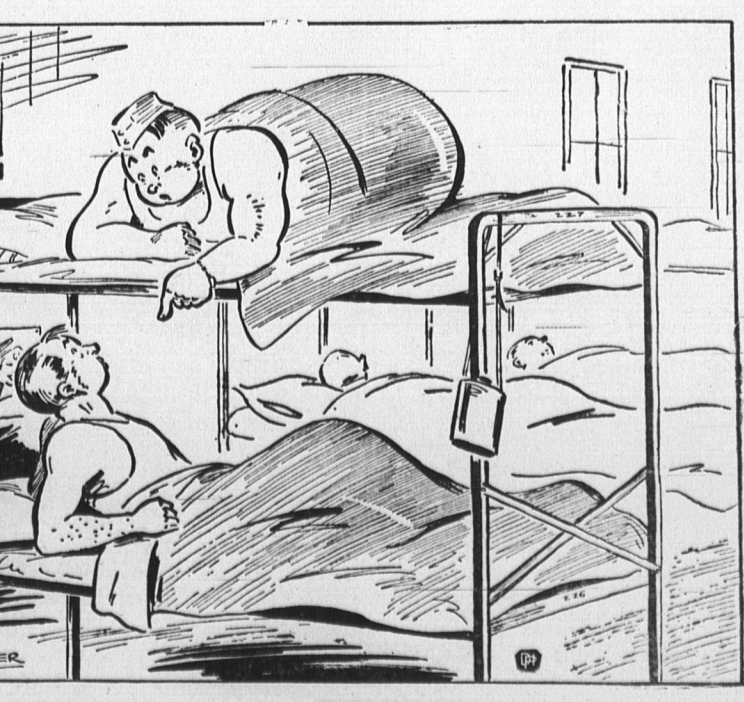

When the three next appeared, the drunk was snugly laid out on a wheelbarrow with a couple of cushions beneath him and, with Sergeant Davis at the controls, was trundling blissfully jollard, all unaware of his major role in the renaissance of the wheelbarrow.
