Plan to Explore The Ocean's Depths

Seventh International Zoological Congress Arrange For Big Excursion to Bermuda—An Interesting Lot of Results will Reward Plan.

ITHACA, N. Y., August 20—"There is no place I know of anywhere in the world that is so well adapted to biological study and research as the Bermuda Islands to which I have made several visits," said Professor Simon Henry Gage, head of the Department of History and Embryology in the Cornell Medical College. In the waters which surround these coral islands may be found a greater variety and complexity of animal and vegetable life in the short space of a few hours than can be found in as many months in the United States. Out over the reefs where the water is shallow one may look down on the ocean bottom and behold a scene teeming with so much life and color that it is almost beyond the power of words to describe.

"Realizing the great possibilities these islands present for scientific work the Seventh International Zoological Congress which will be held in Boston, August 19 to 23, has arranged for an excursion to Bermuda in order to give the members of the Congress an excellent opportunity to get a glimpse of this most interesting Zoological region and to become acquainted with the manner in which the work is conducted. The local programme of the trip will include several collecting and dredging trips so that those who go there will have an opportunity to collect and preserve much valuable material.

"A laboratory for biological work has already been established in Bermuda, and I understand that it has made commendable headway. I think that the idea of increasing and extending the power of this station for work will greatly further the cause of science and that it is one of the most worthy objects in the field of science to which any one might contribute. The sistematic way in which the classification of the animals and plants which exist on the island and in its waters has already been started, and the progress which the investigators have already made shows what a fruitful mind it is, and how greatly will the store of human knowledge be increased by the great many forms of life which can be carefully studied there in such a limited compass.

"Since visiting Bermuda Mr. E. L. Mark has published an article on 'The Bermuda Islands and the Bermuda Biological Station for Research,' in which, I think, he expresses the feelings of the man who for the first time gazes down into the wonderfully transparent waters over the coral reefs, about as clearly and striking as possible. He says:

"I recall with pleasure not only my own fascination, but all the expressions of delight which involuntarily came from the lips of all who, with water glasses in hand, peered down into the fairylike gardens of the sea. It seemed sacrilege to touch with violent hands a picture that showed such harmony of form and color.

"There was only one consideration that would reconcile me to the wanton work of collecting those beautiful things and robbing them of all their native charm; that was the fact that, work as diligently as we might, we could not deface one in a thousand of those fascinating spots. I think there is no single experience I would be willing to exchange for this."

SWEPT WITH A RAIN OF LEAD

PARIS, Aug. 20—The correspondent of the Matin at Casablanca speaks in loud praise of the 75 millimetre gun, fourteen rounds of which he says put fifteen hundred Arabs to flight. In attacking the center of the camp on the right, Arab horsemen galloped to within four hundred yards of French positions where two rapid-fire guns had been mounted on the roof of a farm building. These guns opened each with five hundred shots per minute, swept the ground with a rain of lead, and covered it with the dead and dying.

WORLD'S RECORD AT READVILLE

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 20.—The world's record for three year old trotting stallions was reduced to 2.09¼ by General Watts at the Grand Circuit meeting today, both heats of the American Horsebreeder futurity going to the son of Axworthy in that remarkable time.

The victory of the colt was a surprise to the talent as twice this season the filly, Bell Bird had taken his measure at the Buffalo track. Today however, he was clearly master of the situation after having passed the quarter pole in the initial heat, though at the finish of the second heat Bowerman lapped the colt a couple of times to stall off Bird's rushes through the home stretch, when the latter got to General Watts neck.

MADE GALLANT FIGHT FOR LIFE

SYDNEY, N. S., Aug. 20.—All hope for the safety of Joseph Ford was dispelled this afternoon, when it became known that the boat in which he was last seen was discovered late in the day bottom up in the vicinity of Cape Dauphin. The unfortunate man's coat was found lashed to the mast, where it had been used, it is thought, as a signal of distress.

Ford was an excellent sailor, and this coupled with the fact of his having been known to have clung to the boat for at least five hours, all points to the gallant fight he made for his life. The Government steamer Tyrian returned to port this morning, after having searched all night near the scene of the accident for the capsized boat and its unfortunate occupant. Ford had been married but two months to the day of the accident.

SONOMA GIRL DISTANCED

READVILLE, Mass., Aug. 21—Sonoma Girl, the famous trotting mare that yesterday was sold to Lotta Crabtree, of Boston for $30,000, was distanced in the first heat of the Blue Hill Stake in the Grand Circuit meeting today, the honors going to Tempus Fugit, making the third victory for Ed. Geers since the institution of this race in 1896.

At the eighth pole Sonoma Girl was seen to suddenly waver and jump out of her stride, which compelled McHenry to pull her to a stand still. After catching her McHenry made a desperate effort to get inside the distance, though a furlong in the rear. She was separately timed the last three quarters in 1.31½, the middle half in 59½ seconds. With Sonoma Girl out Tempus Fugit had little trouble, but lowered the record of the stake from 2.08¾ to 2.07¼.

TUNNEL RESOLVE IS RE-AFFIRMED

A Third Time By Maritime Board of Trade After Eloquent Address by Father Burke, Supported by Logan M. P.—Other Resolutions, Officers Elected.

ST. JOHN, August 22—(Special)—The Maritime Board of Trade closed today one of the most important annual meetings ever held.

Considerable time this morning was spent in discussing the connection with the Island and a resolution was passed reaffirming the resolutions passed in 1905 and 1906 asking for the speedy construction of the Tunnel.

In proposing the resolution Father Burke dwelt eloquently on the claims of the Island, showed how trade had been seriously hampered owing to the lack of communication which isolated the people for a period of sometimes two months in winter while the Island was the cradle to Confederation.

He said that if the greater partners did not do their duty to the smaller in the way of adhering to the terms of union there must be made a united and vigorous protest and failing relief, they would have to withdraw from the union.

"I hope it will never come to that" said Father Burke.

"But something must be done and the question is now one of practical politics".

H J Logan spoke in favor of the scheme.

It was, after all, he thought a question of cost.

We have spent millions for the construction of railways in other parts of Canada.

Could we not make an appropriation for this purpose, as the Tunnel scheme seems to be the most practical solution of a grave difficulty?

Among other resolutions passed were favoring landing of mails at Sydney.

Granting to the C. P. R. running rights for the mails and passengers over the Intercolonial.

Favoring Intercolonial absorption of the branch lines.

Favoring the improvement of grades and curves on the Intercolonial and an increase of rolling stock.

Favoring the abrogation of the recent postal convention.

Favoring Government intervention in the Coal-Steel dispute.

The following officers were elected:

A. M. Bell, Halifax, President.

G. E. Hughes, Charlottetown, Vice President.

W. B. Snowball. Chatam, second Vice President.

This afternoon the delegates had a delightful sail up the St. John River.

EMBARRASSING FOR THE KING

LONDON, August 20—The plan of Premier Botha, of the Transvaal, to present the Cullinan diamond to King Edward meets with much criticism, both in England and in the Transvaal.

The finances of the colony are in bad condition, and many persons think that the expense is unnecessary. Moreover, the magnates of the Premier Diamond Mining Company have found the Cullinan diamond to be a white elephant. There is no market for such huge stones.

The Premier's people are political supporters of General Botha's party and critics say that if the stone belonged to the Deber's Company, which is an opponent of General Botha, there would have been no thought of presenting the diamond to the King.

THE WEATHER.

TORONTO, Aug. 22 (Special)—Light to moderate variable winds, fair and a little warmer.

MONKS' CHAPEL A CONCERT HALL

PARIS, Aug. 20.—The Hotel Canadian and Colonial, in the rue de St. Peters bourg, Paris, which belonged three years ago to the monks of the Sacre Coeur and was founded by a religious sect, the Oblates, has just been put up for sale at public auction, owing to the separation of Church and State. It has a large, shady garden, with two great chapels on each side.

The Credit Foncier bought in the whole estate and resold it to the Societe des Immeubles Parisiennes, which resold the finer of the two empty chapels to the Archbishop of Paris, who opens it for public worship next October.

The other large chapel will be converted into a concert hall with six English billard tables. The main part of the ancient monastery is now run as a hotel. A small Gothic chapel off the hall, with colored windows and vaulted roof, is used as a salle a manger.

ORANCEMEN HAVE GRAND OUTING

LUNENBURG, August 20—Over three hundred excursionists arrived here at noon today for an outing from Halifax.

The excursion was under the auspices of the Orange lodge of Halifax and Dartmouth, with Wm. Dunbrack in charge, who looked well after the comfort of the party. The Orangemen were accompanied by the 63rd pipe band, led by Robert Thompson. Lunenburg people were given a rare treat on the arrival of the train when this fine band played through the streets to the drill shed, where a most entertaining concert was held in the evening. The music of the band, the recitations, sword dance and highland fling were very popular numbers on the programme.

Correspondents should remember that to ensure early appearance of correspondence all matter sent in should be cut down as much as possible. Every attention is paid to correspondence but it is impossible to get anything in as written, especially when as of late many communications are being received each day.

DURNING'S PARTY OF EXCURSIONISTS

T. H. Durning the well known tourist agent and newspaper man of Lowell Mass., add his big party of tourists arrived last night in Charlottetown, and all report a very delightful voyage. This is the tenth annual cruise of Manager Durning to this Port, each year, making an epoch in his successful career as a conductor of Provincial tours. The Guardian extends a hearty welcome to Mr. Durning and his party of New Englanders, and we regret as we always do that their stay is so short. However every thing worth seeing will be shown the sightseers this morning when a carriage drive through the capital of "The Garden of the Gulf" is one of the features of the annual visit. This part of the program is under the supervision of W. L. Robbins the well known liveryman assisted by his son Dr. T. E. Earl Robbins who have cared for Mr. Durning's tourists ever since he first came to Prince Edward Island.

When the ship was docked last evening a Guardian representative met Manager Durning and renewed old friendships as did other citizens of the city, and all were loud in their praises of the voyage since they left Boston Tuesday last. Captain Alfred Ellis and his officers including Chief Steward, F K Parker receiving the highest encomiums from the list of tourists for the excellent service rendered, and by which they made the voyage one long to be remembered.
