

CHARLOTTETOWN AND QUEEN'S COUNTY

It pays to buy in this province.

W. A. Stewart, tailor, Summerside, spent Sunday in this city.

Miss Pearl Fraser, city, stenographer in the firm of Beer & Weeks, has resigned her position with that firm and has accepted the position as stenographer in the bookstore of Carter & Co., city.

Seaforth Acorn of Pownall has received a telegram from South Boston announcing the death of his sister, Edna, Mrs. E. Day, which occurred after a four week's illness of bright's disease. The remains are being interred to this Province for burial in Birch Hill Cemetery and may arrive today or tomorrow. The funeral will be announced later. A husband and two young children are left to mourn.

Quite an enjoyable time was spent by the Boy Scouts of this city in the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening when the City Patrol gave a supper which was served in excellent style by the patrol leaders, assisted by others. There was a large attendance and the boys enjoyed themselves thoroughly. The object was to give the scout work for the coming season a start and judging by the enthusiasm displayed at the supper it has already received an impetus which will have its effect as the season advances. Scoutmaster Riely presided in a capable manner. The first speaker was Col. F. S. Moore, who congratulated the boys on the splendid opportunities they have today which were not to be had at the time when he was a boy. He spoke of the time when the present building was erected and the corner stone laid by Rev. Theo. Cuyler stating that there was no place for the boys in the plans—they were left to the street corners. He urged the boys to make the best use of the splendid opportunities and stated that the scout movement was one of the best that he knew of the kind. He was followed by Ex-Gov'r. McKinnon who made special reference to the trip to England of the part of Boy Scouts from Canada to participate in the review by King George soon after the coronation. He said that detailed plans would be announced in the near future. Two boys in this city had signified their intention of going provided the expenses were within a reasonable sum and he hoped that others would join with them. Major Weeks was next called on. He reviewed briefly the organization of the Scout Movement in Canada and the formation of the provincial council, three members of which were in attendance and he hoped that patrols would soon be organized in other parts of the province and referred to the two patrols now in Summerside which were soon to be affiliated. The Major contributed a humorous sketch and a reading which were greatly enjoyed by those present. The meeting closed with God Save the King.

The pallbearers at the funeral today will be: Samuel Lowe, G. W. Worthing, Henry Lowe, Harry Foster, W. Carpenter and James Kelly.

The special evangelistic services in the Baptist Church will continue this week each night except Saturday, beginning at 8 o'clock. There will be a preparatory prayer service in the vestry each night beginning at twenty minutes to eight. The main service each night will be in the large room. High McLean, the sweet gospel singer and a man of the finest spirit. He is making his mark in the business world, and as a native of this province his many friends feel proud of him. Here is a layman not too much absorbed in business to forget to use his ability for the cause of Christ wherever he may be. It is a very fortunate thing for these services and the city that he is here just now. Rev. E. P. Calder, who has preached so acceptably the past four weeks, will preach each night this week. There is a very deep interest in the services and it is expected that this week will be the best yet.

Last evening in St. James Church, Rev. T. F. Fullerton delivered a particularly strong sermon, dealing with the work of Savonarola, the famous Italian moral, political and religious reformer who was put to death in 1498 at the instance of Pope Alex. VI. The speaker reviewed the life of the famous intellectual in the light of the fifteenth century and the conditions, moral, political and spiritual, of the country during his ascendancy into public life. He dealt more particularly with the efforts of Savonarola towards reforming the political methods of the time, showing that he recognized only the Kingship of Jesus Christ and strove to bring governments under the sovereignty of the Lord and Saviour of man, claiming all legislative bodies should be guided by the spirit of the Saviour. He spoke of Savonarola as the one who first sowed the seed of a reformation which has resulted in perfect liberty in the worship of God. His blood was shed as was that of others later who gave their lives in the great cause of righteousness. In closing he spoke of the dramatic death of Savonarola, who, to the very last expressed his faith in the saving power of Christ and quoted his last words as an evidence of his great faith in his Master. He referred to him as one of the illustrious men of his century. Mr. Fullerton's address was one of great value, spiritually and educationally.

The first schooner to put into this port this year was that owned by Capt. Will Dean, city, which arrived here yesterday from Georgetown.

The Guardian's news staff was shown on Saturday a twig of house plant called the Otheite with two nicely and by no means small oranges attached. This plant is about two feet high with large oval shaped leaves of an extremely pretty deep green shade and owned by John Hancock of Wood Islands North. The plant is now in bloom and has seven oranges attached.

The interest in the special evangelistic services at the Baptist Church was very evident yesterday by the attendance at all the services. In the morning the Rev. Z. L. Fash preached a strong sermon on "The Christian's Commission." Hugh McLean, Calgary, sang most effectively a solo, and the choir repeated the Easter music and did it well. In the evening Pastor Fash preached to a large congregation. His subject was "An Opportunity Improved," and he drove home the truth with telling effect. Mr. McLean sang again with his sweet voice and fine interpretation. The choir repeated the Easter anthem of last Sunday evening and received much praise. There was a special evangelistic service in the Sunday School in the afternoon when Mr. McLean sang and Pastor Fash gave a brief address.

SCHOOL CHILDREN GREET KING AND FRIGHTEN HIS HORSE

LONDON, April 20—When King George was taking his usual morning ride in Windsor Park yesterday, accompanied by Lord Charles Fitzmaurice and Sir Frederick Ponsonby, a group of merry school children lined up in the roadway, waving hats and flags and cheering boisterously. The sudden outburst startled the horses, which commenced prancing. The king, who seemed to be amused, returned the salute of the children and raised his hat to some of their mothers standing in the background.

C., April 20—Arrangements are about completed for the second International Congress on Child's Welfare, which is to assemble here next under the auspices of the National Congress of Mothers. FEDERAL AID LIKELY TO CANADIAN ATHLETES AT CORONATION SPORTS

OTTAWA, April 20—The matter of the participation of Canadian representatives in the Festival of the Empire sports in London, the last week in June, was brought before the government today by the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. The sports are limited in character and confined to teams from Great Britain, Australasia, South Africa and Canada. The programme consists of: Athletics, 100, 220 and 880 yards, one mile and hurdles; swimming, 100 yards and one mile; wrestling, catch-as-catch-can, middleweights; boxing heavyweights.

The sports will take place at Crystal Palace from June 24 to July 1 inclusive, and Lord Desborough, president of the Olympic games of 1908, is chairman of the committee. The ministers interviewed by Francis Weston of Toronto, on behalf of the Union were sympathetic with the proposal which has already been accepted by the Australasian and African athletic authorities.

Hon. Mr. Fisher, who has charge of the representation of the dominion at the festival, promised his immediate consideration and expressed his desire to aid in the extension of amateur sport, particularly on this occasion. The union will be advised as soon as possible of the decision in the matter. The Canadian representation will probably number eight competitors, whose selection will be taken up as soon as the sending of a team is assured. The Canadian Amateur Athletic Association will be asked to deal with its branch.

TAKES TWO TO MAKE WAR

WASHINGTON, April 20—That President Taft is more determined than ever that the United States must not intervene in Mexico became known here this afternoon, following a conference between the president and Secretary of State Knox and a committee of the house of representatives. The president stated that if difficulties must arise out of conditions in Mexico because of the proximity of fighting to the American line, "but," he is quoted as saying, "it takes two to make a war."

Dr. Vasquez Gomez, head of the Mexican revolutionists here, announced today that if all the preliminary details of the proposed armistice were arranged satisfactorily to both sides, he would for Juares, Mex., in the course of a few days to participate in the formal peace conferences that are planned to follow the armistice.

Dr. Gomez declared that the prospects for an armistice were brighter than ever today. He added that for the purpose of peace negotiations no political concessions would be asked. EL PASO, April 20—Francisco I. Madero refused absolutely to grant an armistice as suggested by Dr. Gomez at Washington. He sent in word today that he would talk armistice after the battle of Juares and then only. "They want an armistice to get reinforcements, that's all," Madero said. "We will first fight. My army will win or be whipped at Jerez before we talk armistice."

STOCK NOTES

T. J. Wigginton, Bridgetown, sold his colt ten months old to Edward McDonald, St. George's, for $60.00. This is a good price for a colt of that age. This colt is sired by the fast pacing stallion Oak Leaf, owned by James McDonald, Bridgetown. D. N. McPherson also sold a filly by the same horse to Alexander McKinnon, Forest Hill, for about the same money. This speaks well for Oak Leaf as a stock getter. 4-24drl.

A FORTUNE IN SALT.

James Hodgkinson, a manufacturing engineer of Salford, England, received from his agent in the United States the other day a cablegram saying: "I have sold the American right to an American-Canadian syndicate for $5,000,000 and a royalty." This message referred to an invention of Mr. Hodgkinson, a man about 70, who, after four years of investigation and experiment, discovered a new method for the manufacture of salt which it is said will revolutionize the salt industry of the world, says the Christian Herald. The invention makes a single fire heat salt pans, instead of seven fires for the same purpose, and will produce all varieties of salt and all sizes of crystals simultaneously. The Canadian Pacific railroad bought the patent rights for Canada, and the English salt union has an option on the rights in Great Britain. The inventor says: "The effect of the new process will be felt with great force in the United States, where 4,000,500 tons are produced annually, the packers of Chicago alone using more than Great Britain's total annual production." The inventor claims that his process will save three out of every four tons of coal now used in salt-making. He says that the plant will be smokeless. Mr. Hodgkinson says that his is about the "first improvement in the manufacture of salt since the days of Methuselah."

PLANS FOR MODEL CITY

The Times of Chester, Pa., desires to make that town so admirable that anybody who utters a "kick" will be properly regarded as an unappreciative monster. But, it sadly admits that before the happy state is attained there will have to be a lot of repainting, straightening of front door steps, removal of unsightly front fences, repaving of sidewalks, pruning of trees, etc., etc.
