Friend From New York Told Him About Sargon

THOMAS STACK

"When a friend of mine from New York visited me recently and told me about this new Sargon medicine, I had no idea it was going to mean the end of suffering that had made my life miserable for years. "Stomach and intestinal disorders go hard with a man of my age and I sure had a time of it. Chronic constipation poisoned my whole system and a kind of rheumatic condition developed in my back with pains and aches practically all over my body. I got to where I couldn't sleep and became subject to weak, dizzy spells and finally had to give up driving my car altogether. I couldn't even drink a glass of milk without having heartburn and indigestion, and some times the gas on my stomach was so awful that the pressure would seem to almost choke off my heart action. "I'm situated so that I can live comfortably the rest of my days, but there was little consolation in that thought when I suffered such misery. None of the medicines I tried did me any good and I had given up in despair—just decided I might as well 'tarry along' to the end as best I could—when my friend from New York told me about Sargon. He said that the medicine was making a big hit in New York and seemed to be doing everybody good that tried it, so I went down to Tamblin's Drug Store and bought a treatment, along with the Sargon Pills. "I had only used about half a bottle of Sargon and the same quantity of the Pills, when I noticed a big change for the better. I quit having indigestion and gas on my stomach; the rheumatic pains began to loosen their grip, and a feeling of new strength and vigor came over my entire system! I got out my car the other day and can now drive around as much as I please without being afraid of those dizzy spells. I'm eating heartily, sleeping well and enjoying life in every way. "The Sargon Pills are the finest thing in the way of a laxative that I ever used. Instead of purging, they seem to work on the liver with a stimulating action that has a lasting effect and keeps the bowels regulated perfectly. "Everyone I've recommended Sargon to tells me that it's doing them a world of good and I honestly believe it will help anyone suffering with troubles like mine, if they'll take the treatment faithfully. "The above statement was made by Thomas Stack, well known retired business man of 36 Beulah Ave., Hamilton, Ont. Sargon may be obtained in Charlottetown from Hughes' Drug Co., Ltd.

ter holding a meeting in Sydney on Wednesday night he will leave for St. John's, Newfoundland, returning the first week in June to complete his tour of the Maritime Provinces and the province of Quebec.

Further Trouble on S.S. Winding Gull

Further trouble on the freighter Winding Gull loomed Saturday night created by the strong racial sympathies of the mixed crew over the killing of the boatswain for which Posselt and Anti were on Friday charged with murder at the preliminary hearing. Quick action by Captain Johnson who telephoned Chief Birtwistle possibly averted a mutinous outbreak.

The unrest was increased by an order of the captain forbidding shore leave, which was cancelled later. Chief Birtwistle immediately had Motor Cycle Patrolman Anderson proceed to Georgetown and that officer remained aboard the steamer all night. His presence had a calming effect.

Sunday, the Chief accompanied by Police Officer Higgins motored to Georgetown to take precautionary measures. Inquiry revealed the fact that the American-born portion of the crew were siding with the prisoners in the affair, and the remainder of the men, composed of several Spaniards, a number of Portuguese and some Portu Ricans were thought to feel resentment over the death of Rodriguez.

Other complaints said to have been made by them, took exception to the flying of the Stars and Stripes on the ship for the deceased, and a protest when another man said to have been of Spanish descent was put to work on the job Rodriguez had not completed when he was shot.

It was believed by the Americans that this signified that a friend and countryman of the deceased was to be promoted to boatswain.

Dougal Piffeld, (sworn), stated that he knew Rodriguez, who was a good seaman. Regarding Anti's confession he stated that they had not made any threats nor offered any inducements to gain a confession. He stated that the boatswain had made at him with a marlin spike, and gave that as the reason for the shooting. He had thrown his gun overboard.

He first asked, if there were any complaints, and when none were made by the men openly, advised them to conduct themselves carefully while in a Canadian port, or otherwise action would be taken to handle the situation without hesitation.

Other measures taken to calm the men, were the removal from a Spaniard, referred to above, of a small clasp knife and a long safety razor. It was thought advisable too, that he move his sleeping quarters to another section of the ship. Usually, all of the hands occupy berths in the same part of the boat.

A check-up on the information regarding the preliminary quarrel shows that Posselt was not present at that time. Anti when he went to the forecastle in the morning for paint was accompanied by Leroy Hall, another member of the crew. This new angle of the case became known yesterday. Hall will appear as a witness, it is expected today.

The End of the Week Saturday's session of the House of Commons began at 11 a. m. It was the first morning sitting; and these will continue until the close of the session. There is a general expectancy that this will come towards the end of the present week.

With dissolution in the air and all groups pledged to the duty of expediting the business of the country, legislation was rapidly advanced and a great deal of work accomplished. The tariff items were practically completed, only a few contentious ones remaining to be disposed of. The resolutions dealing with taxation changes for the most part cleaned up, and the House proceeded to tackle the estimates.

Public Works Estimates Completed Generally those for the department of public works run into considerable opposition but, while there were a few discussions on Saturday, the House approved of many millions of dollars. Appropriations for public buildings in Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia were passed, the total amounting approximately $5,000,000 in round figures. Repairs, and furnishings for public buildings in Ottawa amounting to over $6,000,000 with $2,800,000 additional for new structures in the capital were approved. Of the last amount $1,200,000 is allocated to the new Confederation block, now approaching completion while $1,500,000 will go towards the construction of the National Research Laboratory.

Public works estimates were completed, and the House began consideration of those of the Department of Labor. Hon. Peter Heenan, encountered some criticism directed at his personal expenses. He informed the House that he had travelled 44,000 miles last year, and his travelling expenses totalled $2,700—about seven times the amount of his salary.

Cross examined by Mr. Matheson the witness stated that Anti was one of the firemen. He had been sent for paint, and it was necessary for him to go forward, which was permissible if sanctioned by a command. Witness had heard about shooting between 10.15 a. m. and 10.30 a. m., and saw Anti between 11 a. m. and 11.15 a. m. standing on the midship deck. The captain, the witness, Mr. Delano, and the police officer Mr. Hobbs were there. Anti said that he did not go forward to fight with Rodriguez.

Richard J. Small, second officer, (sworn), stated that he knew the parties involved in the case, as members of the crew. At 8.20 he heard the men abusing one another. He saw Rodriguez come down the steps. The prisoner was sitting on the rail, and when he saw the boatswain he jumped off the ship. The boatswain made a pass at him but was not within striking distance. The witness did not see the boatswain disarm, but when the former went up to the saloon deck he heard Anti say "Come down on this dock. I'll fix you." The boatswain then went down the ladder with a knife in his hand. The accused picked up a piece of scantling four or five feet long. The boatswain rushed at him, and, when in reaching distance struck at him, stabbing at him several times. Anti dropped his stick and ran, and the boatswain came back on board. The other prisoner (Posselt) went on the dock, and the two stood talking. Somebody asked Anti where he was going. He answered, "I'll fix him when I come back."

The witness claimed that he did not see the two coming back, and that he did not see them again till the time that he was standing on the saloon deck with the second officer, when the men passed going aft. He was then called forward, and saw the boatswain lying on the deck with a hole in his head about two inches behind his right ear.

Cross-examined by Mr. David Matheson the witness stated that the boatswain was about twelve feet from the prisoner when the latter was sitting on the rail. When the boatswain came down he reached over the rail and "made a swipe" at his antagonist. The witness had never noticed the prisoners together. Referring to the fight on the wharf Mr. Small stated that after the knife was drawn Anti ran away, but the witness could not state whether he had been stabbed or not. He could have been struck in the waist.

It was decided by the attorney-general and the Counsel for the accused that the evidence taken in the case of Anti, as far as it is applicable to the accused Posselt, be allowed, the counsel, however, reserving the right to object to any evidence not applicable to Posselt.

The attorney-general asked that the case against Posselt be adjourned till the same time as the case against Anti—till Tuesday at 1.30 p. m.
