Donald Montgomery, Traveller's Rest. There are left to mourn their loss her mother, Mrs. E. T. Webster, of Freetown, and two sons, Ross Wilkinson, aged 14, and Auldin Davis, better known as "Jack," aged 12 years, of Cleveland, Ohio, to whom all extend deepest sympathy. The pall bearers were as follows: Wallace Reeves, Elmer Reeves, Preston Reeves, Cecil Reeves, Clarence Reeves and John Reeves, six of her cousins. The interment took place in the People's Cemetery, Freetown, in a plot donated by her uncle and Mrs. Webster's brother, Hubert Reeves, in one of the loveliest spots possible in the shadow of Birch Grove. Her mother, Mrs. E. T. Webster, wishes to express her most cordial thanks to all both here on Prince Edward Island and Cleveland, Ohio, for their interest in her daughter and for all the sympathy shown her in her time of need. Beautiful flowers were sent from friends in Cleveland to be laid on the grave.

How to Keep Young at 70

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 19.—George Ade, the humorist, today told how to be young at 70. "Live only in the present," he said. "That's the secret." "I caught myself reading the obituary notices yesterday before I turned to the sports page, and that's a sure sign of ossification," Ade mourned. "But I won't let myself become a mossback and a has-been, so I keep the old bean in touch with the latest news, the latest plays, the latest movies and the latest books." Will Rogers' death saddened Ade. "That's one fellow this country is going to miss," he commented.

Scout News and Notices

"I have no doubt about the future of Scouting so long as the standard is kept high, and so long as Scouts mean what they say, and do what they set out to do."—Dr. Cyril Norwood, former Headmaster of Harrow.

As a result of the success of the big Scout Jamboree near Melbourne over the last year-end, South Australian Scouts are planning a big "Corroboree" for December 26, 1935 to January 4, 1937. It will be held on a 200 acre site in the Mount Lofty ranges ten miles from Adelaide. Scouts from all other countries will be invited.

Proving its citizens still forward looking, the ancient port of Plymouth, from which sailed the venturing Pilgrim Fathers, will next August hold a big "West Country" Scout Jamboree. Lord Baden-Powell will attend, and Scouts from other lands will be invited, including American Boy Scout descendants of the Pilgrim "scouts" who first settled New England.

"I claim that the Boy Scout Movement has taught our country a great educational lesson which will never be forgotten, which is far-reaching; namely, that the physical side of our nature requires careful education as much as our mental side."—Dr. Cyril Norwood, President of St. John's College, Oxford, and former Headmaster at Harrow.

Indicating that the tenacity displayed by Scout Jack Cornwall, V.C. (posthumous), at the battle of Putland, is a family characteristic, Scout Tim Cornwall, 15, a younger cousin of Jack, performed an unusual feat of endurance in Scotland this summer during a "Train Cruise" of England Scouts. Returning in the evening with a party of 80 from a climb to the summit of Ben Nevis, he learned that his Scoutmaster's hat and coat had been left behind in the snow at the crest. Early next morning Tim Cornwall organized a party of Roveres, repeated the climb, and returned with the lost articles.

IN MEMORIAM

MR. KENTFORD K. SCOTT. There passed away at the P. E. I. Hospital on Nov. 14th, Kentford K. Scott of Scott's Mill, also his father, at the age of 52 years. Mr. Scott was the son of Mr. John Scott and the late Mrs. Scott of Clyde River, and lived for a number of years in Meadowbank, near the school house on the farm now occupied by Mr. Ivan Clowe. On August 2, 1916, he was married to Katie May McLean of Canoe Cove.

There are seven children living, viz., Fred, Louise, Marie, Ruby, Letha, Christina and Brenton. He leaves not only a large family and sorrowing widow, but also his father, now over 80 years of age, of still hale and hearty; also four brothers and three sisters survive: Seymour at Cornwall; Peter at Meadowbank, Cecil at Charlottetown, Harold in Clyde River. The sisters are: Pearl, Wildblood and Mrs. Gordon MacInnon. One brother, Brenton was killed in Scott's Mill a few years ago.

Kentford Scott was a quiet man, kind and thoughtful in the home, beloved by all his children and honored and respected by all who knew him. He was a good millman and did excellent work, both in the grist mill and saw mill, and will be greatly missed by his customers. About a year ago he began to fail in health and failed rapidly in the last three months. He kept going all too long and sought medical aid only when it was impossible to do much to relieve his sufferings.

He passed peacefully away to the Father's House above on the morning of Nov. 14th and the funeral was held from his late residence, Clyde River, on a Saturday, conducted by Rev. D. K. Ross, B.A., of Cornwall, assisted by Rev. J. W. S. Lowry, D.D., of Canoe Cove. The address on the theme "The Unsearchable Riches of Christ" brought comfort and hope to the bereaved and was listened to with the large gathering with deep interest. The choir largely of male voices rendered sweet music. The hymns used were: "The Lord Is My Shepherd," and "Forever With the Lord." A special selection very dear to the heart of the deceased was also sung, "This So Sweet To Trust in Jesus."

The pall bearers were: Messrs. Geo. Dixon, Geo. Beers, Frank Boyle, Lemuel Drake, Fred McGregor and Hazen Howard. The interment was made at Cornwall Cemetery under the direction of Mr. N. D. McLean of Charlottetown. (Patrol please copy)
