Dress up Your Circular Letters--

You would not think of sending a shabbily dressed, dirty-faced boy to your valued customers to act as your dignified representative.

It is even more unbusiness like to address an ordinary printed circular letter bearing a message to your customers, because it is a reflection on their better judgment.

Every letter you send out should be either typewritten or printed by the Multigraph Process, (and you can't tell one from the other.)

A letter produced by the Multigraph Printing Service is identical to typewriting in every respect. It is printed from movable type, printed through a ribbon making the appearance and effect of the finished product the same.

There is nothing more effective than a direct personal letter to your customers. This letter can be produced the Multigraph Way at a very nominal cost. You can have a hundred printed—ten thousand, as you wish. The last copy will be as legible as the first.

Can be printed in most any size or color. Let us tell you more about it. Guardian Pub. Co. Charlottetown

AMERICA TO SEND 3,000 AMBULANCES.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The United States will send 3,000 ambulances and 7,700 doctors and drivers to France, the Council of National Defense announced today. The first unit of twenty-two ambulances and seven men will leave within three weeks. This is in addition to the six medical units, comprising about 1,000 medical men, which will be sent at once to Great Britain. The French commission here has requested that 200 American doctors be sent over each month for an indefinite period. The French and British medical and hospital organization are greatly depleted.

THE U. S. OFFICIALS TAKING EVERY ADVANTAGE OF BRITISH MISSION TO DEVELOP WAR ORGANIZATION.

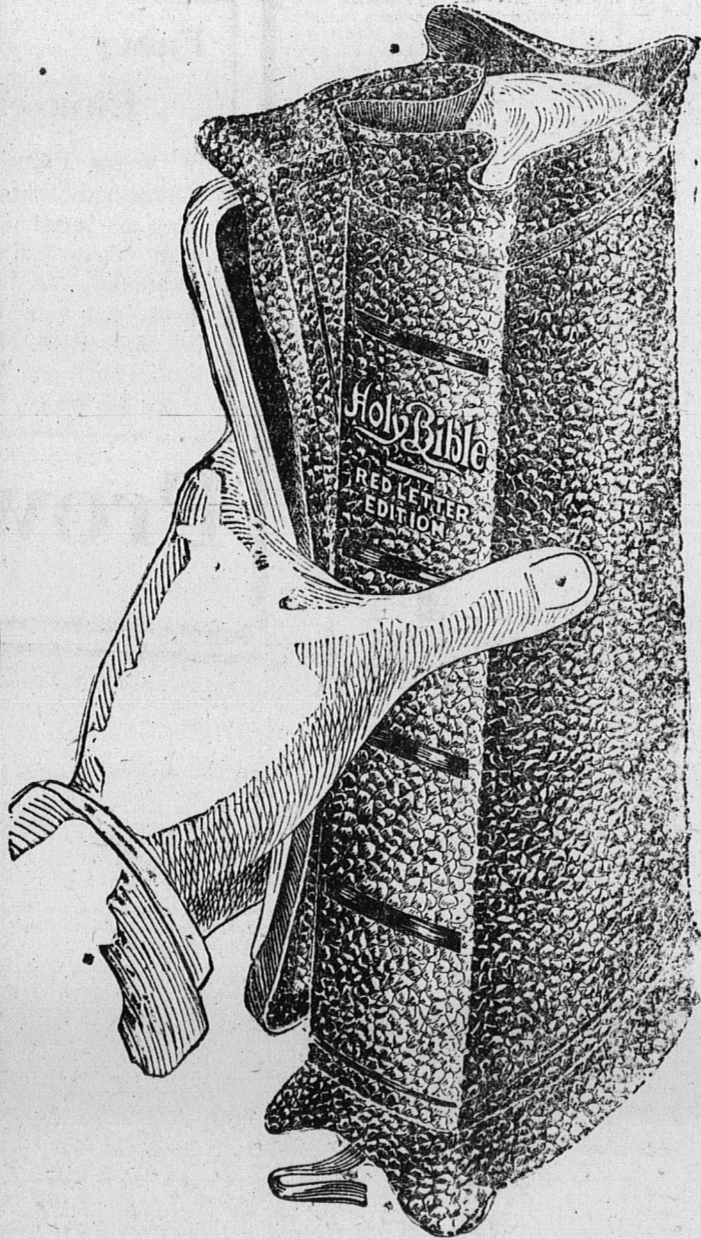

WASHINGTON, The third week of the visit of the British mission began with conferences of eight sub-committees among whom the various questions of America's participation in the war against Germany have been discussed. During the week some committees probably will report back to the main conference, who immediately made announcements of decisions reported. As the conference develops it becomes more evident that all questions are extremely complicated in their various inter-relations to other questions and that the most difficult part of the work consists in harmonizing the various conflicting needs. For instance, the sending of an American expeditionary force, desired by both French and British missions, involved not only military considerations, but also the question of whether it is wise to divert the tonnage necessary for troops transportation from its present work of carrying food and munitions. Likewise it is essential to restrict exports to the material most vital to the Allies. Every day the British mission stays shows increased centralization of power and a marked change of the Government from a peace to a war basis. Much proposed new legislation has been inspired by England's experience under similar circumstances, and American officials are taking advantage of every minute of the stay of the British mission to develop the United States' war organizations. It is along this line that new bodies, such as a munitions board, a railroad office and an export supervision board executive a centralized intelligence have been or will be formed.

THE SONG OF SONGS

Search the pages of lyric literature from Pindar and Sappho to Swinburne and Shelley. Has ten fleet-foot through the centuries from the building of the Pyramids down to this two thousandth Anno Domini—and where will you find another love-song like unto Solomon's? 'Tis a suite of seven lyric idyls, sung by the beautiful Shulamite maiden and her royal lover, with a haunting chorus by the shadowy Daughters of Jerusalem in the background. 'Tis the rapture of human passion glorified and transfigured in the radiance of celestial love.

Its verses are the very soul of music. They sigh like the woods-wind in the silences of the night. They throb with the rhythm of immemorial seas upon the shores of Time. They sparkle like the gems of far-famed Golconda. They are redolent of Sabeian odors from the spicy gardens of Araby the Blest. Our pulses thrill to their compelling cadences. We renew our own youth, with its springtime of love, in their lyric ecstasy, and dwell again in those Elysian fields where music, and moonlight, and feeling are one.

Amidst the jungle of modern verse-making, with its monotonous jingle—how refreshing to turn to the Song of Songs, with its lilting measures, its felicitous frankness of expression, its marvelous imagery. The very breath of the vernal year blows through it with bird-song and ripple of waters; with waving field and verdant vineyard; with frouded woodland and flowery mead.

The Wedding Day; the Bride's Memories; the Day of Betrothal; the King's Meditations; the Bride's longing for her old Home in Lebanon; the Renewal of the Vows in the Vineyard—these make the seven lyrics that contain poetry enough to furnish forth seven times seven volumes of modern verse. Small wonder that the Ages call it the "Song of Songs"!
