IN MEMORIAM

MRS. JOHN MCGREGOR

The death occurred at the home of Mr. Fulton Douglas, Savage Harbor, on July 26th of Mrs. John McGregor, formerly of Morell, P. E. I. Deceased who had reached her 78th year was a most lovable woman and was held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. She and her late husband who predeceased her two years were residents of Morell and vicinity for upwards of forty years, and their lives were an inspiration to the many friends in whose hearts their memory will be always treasured. Mrs. McGregor was ill for about two months and was attended throughout her illness by Rev. J. C. Martin of St. Stewart, who also conducted her funeral services on July 28th. She bore her illness with heroic Christian patience and died in the full hope of a glorious immortality. Her remains were laid to rest in Midgell cemetery beside those of her sainted husband who had gone before. Her faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life.

MR. L. A. BRUCE

Lauchlin A. Bruce for more than 30 years a resident of Montana, died Saturday morning at Galen, following complications from influenza. Mr. Bruce was born in Valleyfield, Prince Edward Island, Canada, 64 years ago and came to Great Falls in 1888. After spending a year in Great Falls he moved to Nehart and was there for several years. He was one of the pioneers of a mining camp that has been one of the most widely known silver properties in the state. He was active in Odd Fellow lodge circles there, helping to form the Nehart encampment of the Odd Fellows lodge and later became a member of the Great Falls encampment, being affiliated with the encampment here, at the time of his death. Mr. Bruce became affiliated with the Odd Fellows lodge at its home in Charlottetown 35 years ago and until a short time before his death was one of the oldest and most active workers in that lodge in Montana. For many years he was a traveling salesman for Mark Harris & Co., clothiers of Chicago, with headquarters in Great Falls. He is survived by the widow and one daughter, who live at the family home at 1722 Fifth avenue north. The body will be shipped to Great Falls today. Funeral services will be conducted by the local encampment of the Odd Fellows lodge here at the W. H. George chapel. The late Lauchlin A. Bruce was a brother of D. A. Bruce of this city.

MRS. MICHAEL MOONEY.

The death occurred at Greenvale on Aug. 24th of Mrs. Michael Mooney a highly respected resident of that place. Deceased had been in failing health for some time but no serious thought was taken suddenly worse on Saturday, and sank rapidly till the end came on Thursday. She was attended during her illness by her pastor, Rev. J. C. McLean, V. G., who administered the last rites of the Holy Catholic Church of which she was over a faithful member. Following its teachings most obediently. The late Mrs. Mooney was a Christian in every sense of the term, she made and retained her friends, she delighted in the doing of good, her life had seen its share of sorrows. Death and disaster had not spared her days, but through it all her cheerfulness, and trust in God and her charity towards all, seemed to develop and wax strong until the last. To her husband, children and friends, her Christian character

'John Travers' Sails With Indian Mission

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Mrs. H. Sell, a relative of the late Bishop Hamilton, of Gt. Falls, and other Canadian Hamiltons, and a well-known writer on Indian subjects, under the pseudonym of 'John Travers', will sail for India next month as a member of the special 'bunch of England' mission, composed of the Bishop of Peterboro, and other clergy, and six women. It was Mrs. Sell who carried the King's message of condolence to the widows of Indian soldiers after their war. She will lecture on religious subjects.

Should Apply For Late War Medals

OTTAWA, Sept. 7.—Of the authorized issue of 450,000 British war medals 216,359 have been distributed to date by the honors and awards department of the militia here, and of the authorized issue of 350,000 Victory medals 209,114 have thus far been distributed, according to Capt. A. C. Chadwick in a recent statement on the progress of his work and in reply to the complaint that thousands of veterans had not yet received their war honors.

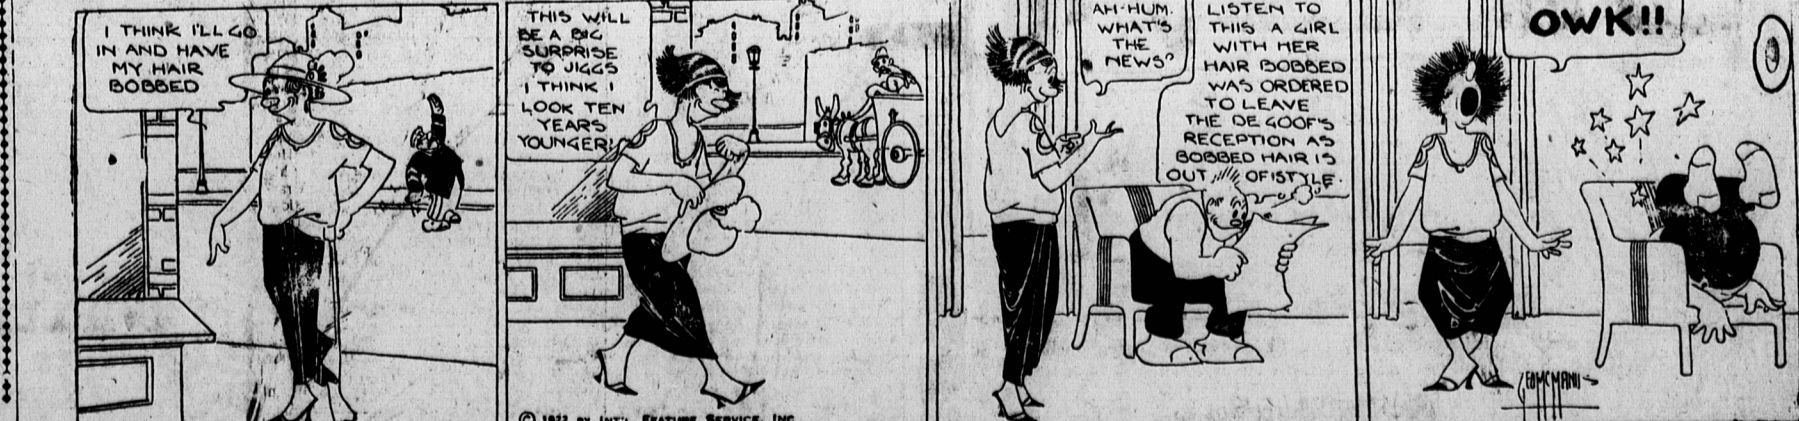

British war medals are issued to those who went overseas on duty prior to Nov. 11, 1918, and the Victory medals are given to all those who served or the establishment of an authorized unit in the theatre of war. There could only be two reasons for failure of veterans to get their medals. The first is lack of supply of these medals from Great Britain where they are being produced and sent to Canada in shipments of 30,000. There has not yet been any scarcity of medals with which to supply the demand from soldiers or next to kin. The other reason is failure of the veterans or next to kin to supply the department with their latest addresses.

Postcards are being sent out to soldiers or to their next of kin at the rate of 1,500 a day. Of these a small percentage come back through failure of the interested parties to supply their new addresses. In June, the percentage of returns of cards uncalled for was a little higher than is usual. In that month 3,736 cards were sent out, 2,132 came back with the desired information, and 1,326 were returned undelivered.

will ever be a valuable heritage; she is some but her memory endures, and will ever be an abiding power to help and strengthen those who are left behind. Mrs. Mooney who was a daughter of the late John Hanley of Souris, is survived by her husband and three children, Michael of the P. E. Island Railway, Joseph of the Mary at home. She is also survived by three brothers, Malcolm, of Little Harbor, Alexander of Milton, Mass., and John of Roxbury Mass. Her funeral which took place on Saturday the 26th was largely attended, a testimony of the esteem in which she was held by her friends and acquaintances. A Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. P. L. McMahon who also accompanied the remains to the adjoining cemetery, their final resting place. May she rest in peace.

Normal Coal Flow In About 30 Days

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—When the anthracite miners begin to dig coal the operators will find plenty of cars on hand to take care of the output, according to L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad, and

E. M. Rine, vice-president and general manager of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. The operators have been quoted as saying that they will be able to resume the normal flow of coal in about thirty days. If the railroads are able to supply the cars, "There will be no difficulty," said Mr. Loree, "in moving all the coal that the operators are able to get out of their mines. In two weeks production should be back to normal, and we will be able to handle it all. The maintenance men have kept at work all during the suspension and there should be no difficulty in starting up the mines as soon as the men start back. "The Delaware and Hudson has 7,000 coal cars available at once. The situation with all the other roads in the anthracite field may be summed up by saying that they have a substantial surplus of cars." Mr. Rine corroborated all that Mr. Loree said. He added that the Lackawanna has a surplus of 2,000 cars that it lent to the Pennsylvania Railroad to help out in moving bituminous coal. Those cars, Mr. Rine said, would be returned within ten days and would be ready in plenty of time to move anthracite when needed. Minors' Limitation for Dandruff
