...MEETING.—On Friday afternoon Professor Ross addressed a meeting of the Farmers' Institute, in the hall at Souris. Although the roads were very bad the attendance was large, some of those present having driven a considerable distance. The Professor took up several topics in the course of his address viz.—The Seed Fair, The Importation of Good Seed, of not purchasing too close and of applying the stable manure to the best advantage. An interesting discussion followed, taken part in by a lot of the members. A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Rev. Ronald Macdonald and carried unanimously after which the meeting adjourned. In the evening Professor Ross went over the Seed Fair accounts with the Committee and made some suggestions for next year's Fair, which will be considered at a future meeting. Every one present felt the Seed Fair had been a big success and next year's would be still better.

BABIES SORES

Every mother should realize that the skin of her baby is so tender that the secretions of the body often lead to rashes, eruptions, etc., all of which may be removed by Zam-Buk. Scores of restless, crying babies, upon examination, are found to be suffering from some form of skin irritation or "heat." Don't let the little one suffer when Zam-Buk will cure!

Mrs. L. Hood, of 475 Alexander Avenue, W. Va., says: "I have proved the value of Zam-Buk when applied to children's sores. Some years ago our youngest boy had a terrible eruption on his face and body. I tried all the preparations used, but failed to heal it. I took him to St. Elizabeth's hospital and he remained there for two weeks. At the end of that time he was no better, and we again took him home. I was then induced to try Zam-Buk and obtained a supply. The effect of the first few applications was very gratifying, and I continued with the use of the balm. A little perseverance resulted in a complete cure."

Mrs. R. Cooke, of Yorkton, Sask., says: "My little baby girl had a bad running sore all over her little chin. A few applications of Zam-Buk healed the sore in such a perfect manner that no scar was left behind."

Score of similar cases could be quoted. Zam-Buk is absolutely pure—contains no rasping or irritating particles, no coloring matter, no astringent poisons. It is the ideal balm for baby.

Zam-Buk cures eczema, rashes, ringworm, chapped hands, sores, head-aches, cuts, burns, ulcers, discharging sores, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Don't take the risk of using harmful imitations!

WEDDING BELLS.

A pretty Easter wedding and one of interest to a large circle of friends in Calgary was celebrated on Easter Monday night at the Cathedral of the Redeemer, the principals being Mr. William Collett, of Calgary, and recently of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collett, of Toronto, and Miss Viola Jane Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nottley Harper, 324 Fifteenth avenue west, formerly of Charlottetown, P. E. I.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dean Paget before a large number of guests and friends. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mr. Holt, the bridal party entered the church. First came the two bridesmaids, the bride leaning on the arm of her father. The girlish bride looked charming in an ivory duchess satin gown trimmed with rose point and shadow lace and rhinestones, her veil being confined in her coilure with a wreath of valley lilies, a diamond necklace completed the beautiful toilette. She carried a bouquet of mauve orchids and valley lilies.

The two bridesmaids, the Misses Dolly and Mabel Skinner, were dressed alike, both wearing yellow messaline satin trimmed with shadow lace and rhinestones, with picture hats to match. The first bridesmaid, Dolly Skinner, carried white roses, and the second bridesmaid carried yellow daffodils. The groom was attended by Mr. Thom, of Calgary. The bride's mother was beautifully gowned in black velvet trimmed with panels of lace over white satin with a black picture hat trimmed with white plumes. Her aunt, Mrs. Guy Sales, was wearing yellow satin with a beaded net overdress of a pastel shade and a plumed chapeau. The groom's gift to the bride was a princess style diamond ring and to each of the bridesmaids a pearl necklace with a cross set with pearls as a pendant, and to the groomsmen and ushers a scarf pin set with a cluster of pearls and an aqua marine. Mr. W. Harper and Mr. W. Bennie acted as ushers. The service was fully choral from a choir of thirty male voices. The church was beautiful with palms and Easter lilies, each guest new being marked with a tiny bunch of valley lilies. After the ceremony the bridal party and about thirty guests which included relatives and the boy and girl friends of the bride drove to the home of the bride's parents. The buffet supper was served from a table centred with a bed of daffodils with smilax suspended from the electrolier to the four corners of the board. The bride's table had a hand embroidered cover; the handsome cake being embedded in smilax; and finished with a bouquet of valley lilies and ferns in the centre. The appointments of the home were further enhanced with Easter lilies, bowls of white roses and narcissi. The bride was the recipient of beautiful gifts which included a cabinet of sterling silver, a
