Opening of Older Boys' Conference

The opening session of the P. E. Island Older Boys Conference was held last evening in Zion Church School Room. The session started with a devotional service led by Rev. W. M. Ryan, pastor of the Methodist Church, City, who gave a brief address on "Friendship". Rev Waldo C. Machum, Boys Secretary of the M. R. E. C. who is conference director then took charge. After explanation of the purpose of the conference, Mr. Machum asked the boys to elect their officers.

This election resulted as follows:

Grand Pretor—Harold Mellish, Montague.

Deputy Grand Pretor—Gordon Coffin, Montague.

Grand Scriptor—Neil Matheson Bradalbane.

After short speeches by the newly elected officers, the address of the evening on "The Four Square Life" was ably given by Mr. H. H. Simpson, Secretary of the Prince County, Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Simpson made a strong appeal to the boys to allow the highest and noblest ideals to have the guidance of their lives.

The conference was then divided into six squares who met and made arrangements for further successful sessions. Everything points to a most helpful conference. About 125 delegates have registered and the boys are entering most enthusiastically into the program.

FRANCE HAS DECIDED TO STIFFEN TARIFF

PARIS, Nov. 21.— The French government has decided to revise its entire tariff schedules. The revision will be upward in duties and co-officients.

The increase, it is explained, was made necessary by difficulties encountered with Belgium and Germany on the commercial treaties.

It has been discovered that the present tariffs are too low to permit the French to make concessions to Germany in order to obtain a continuation of the free entry of Alsatian products into Germany after January 10.

Possibility of West Indies

Higgs as to whether the C. N. R. President had been asked to speak, Mr Higgins stated that he had.

A letter was read from G. W. Smith, Halifax. It suggested that the matter of having a large warehouse now standing at Borden converted into a frost proof storehouse be taken up with Mr. Thornton during his visit. The matter was referred to the Executive Council.

On the proposal of President MacDonald, Lieutenant-Governor Heartz and Premier Stewart were elected members of the organization.

The President spoke of the disappointment at not having Mr. Hance Logan, M. P., one of the members of the British West Indies delegation, present. The Board was fortunate, however, in having at their meeting Mr. C. H. Kinch, a member of the Colonial Parliament of Barbadoes, who would be able to give much valuable information as to the trading possibilities between P. E. I. and the British group.

Mr. Kinch, called upon, stated that he would endeavor to give any information that would result in the mutual benefit of both places. In reviving this trade there are many things to discover, and one of the most important was the question of transportation, which must necessarily be by steamer. The C. G. M. M. seemed inclined to give as good service as possible and should easily be induced to establish the desired trade route. As things stood now all shipments went through Halifax or St. John, and to the resultant delay might be blamed a great deal of the falling off the trade between P. E. I. and the B. W. I., had experienced. There must be no delay in shipping.

The speaker went on to itemize some of the products now finding a market in the West Indies. These were:

Dried Fish, principally from Newfoundland which received molasses and sugar in return.

Potatoes and Oats,—the latter had once been shipped from Charlottetown by schooner in considerable quantities. Shipping losses and the slow transportation had transferred the trade to steamships.

Cheese and Butter:—Now chiefly from Nova Scotia. But the speaker asserted that the Island dairy products were as good as any he had yet tasted.

Salted Meats:—Canadian meats have had the preference.

In Answer to questions Mr. Kinch stated that the population of the British West Indies was about one million; Barbadoes 185,000, of which fifteen percent was white; Trinidad, 360,000, ten percent white. Canned meats sold well, but in fodder the Islands were self-sustaining. Eggs were plentiful, selling at 8 and 10c per dozen. There was a good demand for smoked herring. Dried herring came chiefly from Scotland. Potatoes were shipped entirely by barrel as bruised ones rotted easily an account of the climate. Sugar and molasses were the chief products that could be used here. Bananas were grown in abundance but solely on American owned plantations. A few oranges were grown.

The above speaker was followed by Mr. Higgs who expressed the Boards appreciation of Mr. Kinch's courtesy in conferring with it. He could remember when four or five vessels went every fall to the Indies but all signs of this trade have disappeared. So far as he knew only one vessel had taken produce from here this year. Bermuda formerly took three to five cargoes annually. This latter trade had been lost however through questionable business methods. The potato market in Bermuda had been confined to Garnets, a soggy tuber that was planted on arrival and harvested for the American market about January. Island shippers had mixed ordinary white potatoes with the Garnets and soon had lost the trade, which was now enjoyed by New Brunswick.

A regular steamship communication was badly needed. This would be either a heavily subsidized line or C. G. M. M. Shipments now through other Canadian ports meant additional expenses and the eating up of the entire profit. Steamers from Montreal and Halifax on the B. W. I. should call here at least once a month. The Royal Mail Packets had an enormous subsidy from the Dominion Government and should give a better service.

Mr. F. T. Morrow, being asked what conditions affected the market for dairy products, stated that he had recently found that in size and style of packing, the Island cheese es differed from those of the other provinces. They were larger and did not meet the packing requirements. As far as quality was concerned they compared favorably with those of elsewhere. To be sent to the Indies both butter and cheese would have to be in tins.

Here took place a lengthy discussion on the merits of different methods of canning. Mr. Higgs had a warm word for the local can manufactury, which in his opinion was the only salvation of local canners, otherwise the price of cans would have gone soaring skyhigh long ago.

Mr. J. J. Hughes, M. P., stated that the discussion of the subject in the Federal Parliament this spring had not brought out any details. Mr. Logan had visited the Island and looked into trade matters and on return stated that the United States was getting a large percentage of the trade. The speaker was not certain that Mr. Logan's information in this respect had been quite correct.

Mr. Fraser of Halifax stated that America being closer apparently controlled the trade in meats, but a business might be established on the superior merits of Canadian specially cured.

Hon. J. H. Myers, Minister of Agriculture, on being called upon, expressed his pleasure at being privileged to hear Mr. Kinch who was evidently a good, practical business man. He was somewhat surprised at learning the business was not so extensive as one might have thought. Transportation was needed, and transportation should be asked for. If one did not ask one never got anything. Steps should be taken to see that the Island received equal rights with the other Provinces.

When the speaker learned of the delegation being proposed he had at once wired to Ottawa to learn if the Island was to be represented. The reply was in the negative, and the explanation that the visitation could consist only of those directly responsible to the people. He had doubts as to the question of a market for oats. In his opinion the less exporting of oats the better, as this produce could be best used as fodder right on this Island. If the Indies trade demanded butter in cans, there was no reason that it could not be sent up that way right here.

Anything Mr. Myers could do as representative of the Agricultural Department he would be only too glad to perform at any time.

Mr. S. A. Maconald said that when the Board had first received word of the delegation, a committee had been appointed to deal with the matter. This committee had prepared a brief, which would be read here before Mr. Logan on next Friday night.

Other speakers called upon were: Hon. J. A. McDonald, and Mayor McKenna. The former stated that before the trade would again be established a general feeling of distrust on the part of business men who had already been victimized by unscrupulous buyers in the Indies, would have to be overcome. Direct transportation meant bigger profits and the placing of Island labelled goods before the Southern buying public. Mayor McKenna expressed pleasure in having been able to be present at such an interesting discussion. He took the opportunity of commending the Board on the success that had attended their case with the Railway Commission.

Mr. Gavin Duffy stressed the importance of dealing at once with the proposal of Mr. Myers, an effort should be made to appoint a prominent business man to accompany the West Indies delegation even if it had to be done at the expense of the Provincial Government. Perhaps the Dominion might be induced to bear at least half the expense. By personal representation alone could the Island be assured of satisfaction. It should be impressed on the Federal Government that P. E. I. is a constitutional part of the Dominion. The Board should at once appoint their delegate.

A vote of thanks moved by Mayor McKenna, and seconded by Mr. Duffy was conveyed to Mr. Kinch by the president

The meeting adjourned till November 28th when the Board will confer with Mr. Logan on the same subject.
