ABOUT PLOWSHARES

There are two kinds of plowshares in the market as far as materials are concerned, the special soft-centred steel share and the cast plowshare. It is possible to have the steel plowshare drawn out by a blacksmith and thus to have new its point and edge; but so much of the plow's performance depends on the shape of the point and wing of the share, and so few blacksmiths know just what "suction" in a share the farmer wants in the average share sharpening job. What is more, the companies making steel shares say they will not guarantee their quality after they have once been heated.

All this coupled with the fact that steel shares are expensive to start with, makes us feel that steel shares are not a desirable thing wherever cast-iron shares will do. And cast-iron shares are O. K. in most Ontario soils, steel shares being perhaps necessary in plowing alfalfa which has been down for a number of years.

The cast iron share, when it has good penetration; when it becomes worn the point may be knocked or "chipped" off with a hammer, then ground to a point being on an emery wheel, and the share is good for another spell. So taking everything into consideration, we feel that the cast iron share is the cheaper of the two kinds of plowshares and gives but as good service as the steel share.

Health from Sand.

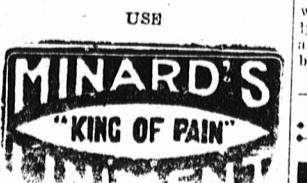

One of the best ways of recuperating tired nerves is to walk barefooted over a long stretch of sand. The nerves of the feet are slightly irritated by the sand grains, and the blood being thus stimulated, circulates more freely.

Doctors say that, apart from the physical effects, the mental powers are greatly invigorated by the exercise. Their explanation is that the long stretches of sand, together with the absence of noise and other distractions, have a soothing effect on the mind, which quickly responds to the treatment.

Are You Sure Your Children's Eyes Are Right?

A responsibility rests upon every parent to give his child every possible advantage in life, to give the child the best of eyesight with which to meet the struggle of the years ahead. Your child's eyesight is the priceless gift that you should have. Remember that poor eyesight means poor concentration and will retard the youngster's progress. Many a child considered dull or lazy in school or music studies has simply been suffering from defective vision. And after correct glasses have changed entirely the record of performance, perhaps your youngster's report-card is reflecting the presence of eye-strain. Perhaps you are not doing your own child full justice. Have an examination made and know. Consult

ROMANTIC STORY RECALLED OF A DEAD NOBLEMAN WHO REVEALED TO HIS FRIEND

It is to Capt. the Hon. Herbert Meade, the youngest brother and second heir of the Earl of Clanwilliam, the command of the battle cruiser Renown, which the Prince of Wales is to make his voyage to India and Japan a couple of months hence. The Renown has already been used by the prince in his trips to Canada and Australia, from New York a couple of years ago, on the conclusion of his American tour. Capt. Meade, whose father was the late Admiral of the Fleet and fourth earl of his line, did extremely well in the great fight leading a division of destroyers in the Heligoland and Light Cruiser Service Order.

An Irishman, he is like his father before him a great favorite of the court. His brother, the present Earl of Clanwilliam is the head of the ancient Irish house of Meade, originally called Meacht, which was also Myagh, some of its members were on record as having held the office of Mayor of Cork in the reign of Henry VI and Henry VII.

The first Meade to be ennobled was James II, but the present earl dates from only child, the heiress of all the Le Poer property, became the ancestor of the Marquis of Waterford, the late Admiral Lord Charles, and Lord Marcus Beresford and of the entire Beresford house.

Nichola Lady Beresford, on her deathbed, many years after this visitation at Gill Mall, recalled to her eldest son and to the spiritual advisor and most intimate friend the reason of her wearing the black ribbon on her wrist. She declared that on the night preceding the arrival of the announcement of the death of the last of the Le Poer Earls of Tyrone, she had appeared to her sitting by the side of her bed. On her screaming with fright, he exclaimed, "Have you forgotten our promise to each other? I died on Tuesday morning at four. I have been permitted to thus appear to assure you that the revealed religion is the true and only one by which we can be saved. I am suffering to inform you that you will seven months hence become the mother of a son, who will marry my infant heiress, and that you will die in your sixteenth year."

After Lady Beresford's death, which occurred precisely as had been predicted, in her sixty-eighth year, her eldest son united the black ribbon and most intimate friend the reason of her wearing the black ribbon on her wrist. HEAVIER TRUCKS COMING.

At a recent meeting of the Cleveland and Detroit sections of the Society of Automobile Engineers, P. D. Litchfield, a factory manager, expressed the belief that the heavy tonnage truck of the future would be some form of the multi-axle freight car succeeded by the single-truck type in the transportation of heavy loads. Experts have been made with the six-wheeled truck of this description, and the results are said to be very gratifying, easier on both the tires and roads.
