IMPRESSIVE ADDRESS.—At Brookfield Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening, Rev. Mr. Laird, representing the Presbyterian Church in Canada in the interests of Home and Foreign Missions, delivered one of the ablest addresses on missionary work ever heard in that community. In forceful and eloquent language he told of the hardships and difficulties that medical missionaries face, and of the foreign mission fields, impressing upon the Christian church at home the grave responsibility resting upon it in this connection. Those present, regretably few in number, went away with a new impulse and a new conception of their duty as Christians in the carrying out of the Master's command to carry the gospel to those who are less fortunate. Rev. J. Hensley Staver, in his usual pleasing manner presided and introduced the speaker. Had the good people of Brookfield known what was in store for them in this service the church instead of being partially empty would have been filled to overflowing.—R. A.

His Last Wish Is To Be Thought A Friend

MOULLELERRON-EN - PAREDS, France, Oct. 12.—I should like before I disappear to formulate as a last wish that everybody should think of me as a friend," said M. Clemenceau, the war Premier at the inauguration of the "soldier's memorial" on his birthday today. "It would be my next reward. I have never changed, life has taught me much. I finished by admitting that certain of my ideas cannot be placed on the same plane as formerly, but I always recognized that there is nothing higher than the brotherhood of all Frenchmen. I have been much blamed during my life. I endured it gallily when I was young. I did not exactly detest strife; but if strife has charms, so also has peace. "It is easy in war to muster all one's forces to dash upon the foe, but it is quite another thing to come back to peace and remain faithful to the new policy of peace and union among Frenchmen. I have passed all my existence in being impatient, but as life ebbs from me I have learned patience, and I think I can assure you that henceforth I will conform to that rule of life."
